

Dedication

To the faculty, administration, students, employees, and their families of Cornell University for the years of 1977 to May, 1980, especially the students and their families from countries other than the United States and the Cornell University African-American student population;

To the Indian and African-American people in Upstate New York;

To my family, relatives, and friends.