Iceland: Opportunist «KFI(m-l)» Broke Up

"KFI(M-L)", the so-called "Iceland's Communist Party (M-L)" broke up in January, and a great many members have split out. Among these are two previous editors of the "party" paper.

The "KFI(M-L)" originated in elements from the semi-trotskyist Swedish group "KFML(r)" in 1972. These elements opposed all the big struggles of the Icelandic workers and people: the struggle for the 50 mile fishing limit, the struggle against the US base at Keflavik, the struggle against class cooperation in the unions, etc.

In 1975 the group was so isolated it had to adopt some of the positions of the Marxist-Leninist organization of Iceland, the EIK(m-l), Iceland's Communist League of Unity (M-L). The group established its party in 1976 completely ignoring the EIK(m-l)'s correct and principled line in party building.

The two previous editors of the "KFI(M-L)" paper state that the only way to strengthen the communist movement on Iceland is to strengthen the EIK(m-l), and that all discussion on unity between Marxist-Leninists must be based on the unity program of the EIK(m-l).

MAMMOTH DEMONSTRATION AGAINST NATO-BASE

In May, a demonstration was held against the NATO base at Keflavik and Iceland's NATO membership. 7000 to 8000 people took part. Similar demonstrations have been organized in Iceland every year since the beginning of the sixties.
