Washington, D. C., July 20.—Away out somewhere in the Atlantic ocean is the seat of all trouble with the weather these days.

According to the weather bureau with a high barometric pressure there, approaching the unusual, winds have floated shoreward and laxily enshrouded the country east of the Mississippi in which territory the atmosphere has been burdened for a week with a humidity that borders on a record. TENTH NAVAL VICTIM DEAD

FOR SEVENTY LONG YEARS JUDGE WOOD PLAYS INTO HANDS Women, Disappointed in Youth, OF MINE OWNERS' CONSPIRACY

The Mine Owners' conspiracy has shown that it reaches even to the dicial bench.

Judge Wood ruled that the evidence of the Haywood defense regardthe conspiracy be ruled out, but admits the entire rambling story of Orchard, which includes crimes in half a dozen states, not relating to the murder of the Idaho governor.

The decision means that the fury is practically told by the presiding dge that the state has proved its case and that Orchard's story is true. Le prevents attorneys for the defense from using the horrible occurtees in Colorado and the Bradley gas or powder explosion in their ad-ch of which had nothing to do with the murder of Steunenberg. More than all else, it gives the jurymen, already prejudiced against miners, an excuse to ignore the glaring facts in the case. Indications are that the working people must prepare to fight the case several years to come through all the expensive courts.

Evidence submitted at Boise has shown that it is not Haywood that they are after, but the organized working class.

President Small Believes Just Settlement Is Made: Wire Corporations Say Operators Have Surrendered Unconditionally

Nally's Statement.

Vice President Edward J. Nally of the Postal Telegraph company also issued a statement to the effect that he had received word from L. W.
Storer, general superintendent in Sas Francisco, that in a meeting held in San Francisco yesterday afternoon the striking operators voted 162 to 4, practically unanimously, to return to work, they having been notified that the terms upon which they returned would be that they should make individual application for re-employment, and all who were not objectionable to the local management would be re-employed.

Small Hopeful. Small Hopeful.

"The terms of settlement are entirely satisfactory to the telegraphers," said President Small last night in Oakland.

KOREAN PRINCE WHO Yi Attended School in This Country and Took on American Habits.

Prince Fi Cheung Tong, one of the sons of the emperor of Korea, whose name is mentioned in connection with the throne following the abdication of his father, is pretty much American. At least he says:

"I like American ladies very much."

This decinration of oriental regard for the amenities of life in this country was made a few years ago when the prince was a student at Ohio Wesleyan university, where he fell in love with a fair coed, the daughter of a Methodist Episcopai clergyman, Dr. C. B. Graham of Wheeling, W. Va. The prince saw the girl at her home on a number of occasions after the announcement had been made of their engagement, a development that neither the girl nor her parents would confirm of deny.

Later, investigations of the situation led to the gentle insinuation on the part of the prince that he merely was exceedingly fond of the young women of the country.

exceedingly fond of the young women of the country.

Prince II belongs to what might be called the progressive Korean party.

He has embraced Christianity, or had, although this fact does not figure in the talk as to who shall succeed his father in the royal chair. The prince is a swell dresser, to use a term of the street, and when traveling in this country carried as much toggery as the summer gle, on an Atlantic City trip.

It is hoped, however, that the wire men will not have to face a situation like this, but the reputation of the companies and the conflicting state-ments of the two sides make it appear that something crooked is afoot.

SWIFT & CO. REFORM: ARE KIND

What it Means.

Now, isn't this nice. It sounds so well to Swift that he wipes the tears of charity from his eyes and unfolds the lacest plan, the formation of the Swift & Co.'s Employe's Benefit association.

This association is expected to be joined by every one of the 26,000 employes of the company. They will turn over to the company for the privilege of being permitted to enjoy this boon from 15 cents to 51 per week as prevalum, the money to remain in the hands of an advisory committee. Of which Laurence A. Carton, treasurer for Swift & Co., is ex-officio chairman. But this great?

The company, or Louis F. Swift, acting for it, will appoint seven members of this committee, and seven others to be appointed from each plant representing the employes.

Swift at this point almost collapses under the strain of good sentiment and the warmth of the cackles of his heart, and will difficulty dries more tears and unfolds 2's tenderest part of the whole proposition—the part that the

Another "Blight" Fee.

The plan concludes with some statements to the effect that members must pass a medical examination, and in case of surgical attention being required a "slight" fee will be charged.

The scheme is so lovely—considering that perhaps $20,000 a week will go back into the coffers of the company—that it is worthy of serious attention—on the part of the employes.

If the receipts are $20,000—they may be less by far—the result in one year would be:

News for Unionists

The Ice Wagon Drivers' and Helpers' union, one of the most progressive unions in Chicago, is among the labor organizations which is beginning to see its own strength. At a recent meeting of that organization the Chicago Daily Socialist was declared to be the only paper in this city that represents and defeads the interests of the working class. Resolutions adopted to support the paper in every way possible were promptly followed by action. The union voted $100 with which to buy stock in the Daily. In addition to the buying of ten shares of stock the union was many af its members on the lier as subscribers to the workers' daily, and according to statements from officials more and more subscriptions will pour in. The ice men want a paper to represent their interests as the other dailies represent the interests of the employers. Washington, D. CARRIED UNCLE TO RUSSIA IN AN URN

How a Devoted Niece Managed to Get Remains Into Czar's

By John B. Askew.

(Special European Mail Correspondence.)

Derlin, July 6.—A somewhat curious story comes to hand of an old Russian who recently died in Nice. For some reason or other his niece determined that her uncle must be buried in Russia. But how to get a corpse conveyed over so many frontiers and through so many customs houses, to say nothing of the regulations issued by the various railways?

many customs houses, to say nothing of the regulations issued by the various railways?

She took him to Paris and had him cremated and started then on the journey to Zurich with the remains in an urn, but here began her difficulties. French law, which dates from a time when cremation was disknown, has, it would appear, special regulations where bodies are taken out of the country. She had to give the urn, scaled, over to the care of an official, who took it in charge and traveled with it to Zurich, where he handed it over to a public official.

All at the expense of the niece—naturally. After further processes had been gone through the remains were finally handed to her to do what she liked with. Then arose the question how 'n get the remains through either Germ, yor Austria with all their special regulations, but, worse still, how to persuade a Russia customs official that the powder was really her dead uncle and not an explosive.

Moreover, there was the great probability that, while, 'they were sampling him, the greatest part of her dead uncle would be scattered, not by the winds of heaven, but on the ficer of a very dirty heaven, but on the ficer of a very dirty customs house. She was in despair. When she suddenly thought of a plan. She did the remains up in two bundles and carried them on her person. Then she got through, but even then the funeral charges were heavy enough.

Guard Consulates.

The consulates in Seoul are under heavy guard. Troops are patroling the state and all gatherings are broken up as soon as they are discovered. Despite these precautions there is no doubt many secret meetings being held to plan for a general uprising.

The situation is more serious outside Seoul than in the city itself. No troops can be spared from here, the interior garrisans are few and small and the coople will meet with practically no opposition in case of an anti-foreign outbreak.

TUNNEL MEN STRIKE FOR BETTER THINGS

Work Hard All Day and by the Time They Get Mud Scraped Off They Are "All in"

Three hundred tunnel miners are o strike in an effort to get better con-ditions and a little bit more out of life than they have been getting.

According to reports a tunnel miner

According to reports a tunnel miner has to hustle to get very much out of the passing days. By the time he has reached home and scraped the mud off as is about "all in."

In many sections of the city these tunnel miners are disging in mud and muck. Somebody has to do this work, for things are so thick on top of the ground that a lot of pipes and conduits must be buried.

The men who went on strike are members of a union. On certain nights in the week they hold meetings, many of them being too tired to change their work clothes and they go to the meeting with the dried mud upon them. They have had a union and it has paid them. They have been paid all the way from $2.50 to $4$ a day. There was no limit to their days work, however. If they got into a tight place aney often worked more than ten hours a day without extra pay.

They saw that the companies which n it occurred to the tunnel miners that they would charge a certain no statute cover amount for their work. They decided that the old rate of pay is the price for eight hours work. If the employer wants any more than eight hours on f any one day he must pay extra for it. Also, the employer must recognize the union as he does the cement company.

This plan was submitted to the employing company and it was refused. The workers now are idle, coasting on their stomachs, as it were.

The hoisting engineers and the firemen, who have a good union and fix the price of their labor, are talking about going out in sympathy.

WHY, HARRIMAN, YOU HAVE NEVER FIBBED?

Believe You Did, Will They?

Has E. H. Harriman, railway octopus nd financial buccaneer, perjured him-

Preliminary reports on the operation of the Union Pacific and the Southern Pacific in the year ended June 30 show remarkable increases in the earnings of the companies. The figures as given in the reports are enormously larger than the estimate of the earnings given by Harriman a few weeks ago to the interstate commerce commission. So large, in fact, that the difference has amounted to proof that Harriman juggled the accounts.

HEROIC ESCAPE FROM BURNING , SCOW'S PIT

(By United Press Associations.)
New York, July 20.—Ludwig Albu, a young Norwegian boatman, is master of the tand scow Minnie, which was lying near a dock in Brooklyn when fire broke out in the cabin, where he was asleep. His only way of escape was a steep companionway, which had aiready caught fire. He was half up when the burning woodwork collapsed under him and he was precipitated into the flery pit. He made a tremendous leap, caught the edge of the hatchway and pulled himself up. His clothes were burning. He plunged headlong into the water, but was so healty burned and so exhausted that he would have drowned if two boatmen had not rescued him. At the hospital it is said he will recover.

During her talk on "Socialism and Education," during which she attacked the capitalists and their greed for gold, she said:

NEW PLAN TO SOLVE WOES OF THE FARMER

How the Small Section Tenants Might Be Interested.

Might Be Interested.

Connersville, Ind., July 20.—A wealthy Rush county farmer discusses the problem of farm labor, which is growing more serious year by year. He said that good hands when wanted most were hard to get, and naturally commanded a higher price than if given regular work, which the farmer now, with improved machinery, cannot afford to pay, as they are only needed at stated periods.

He advanced some ideas that are rather new, but would probably result in an effective remedy. As well as his friend could recall his statements ran about as follows:

The large land owners have overdone things by gathering in all the land and jeving little or none at all for the real amer as Webster defines him, the real tiller of the soil.

His plan in brief would be to sell a portion of each section, say eighty acres, divided into four twenty-acre in cts, to farmers of limited means and give them an actual foothold. They could build homes on them suitable to their means. These little farms would enable them to live comfortably and contentedly. While only a portion of their time would be occupied on their own farms, the remainder could be soid to their large farm neighbors who could afford to pay them well for it.

guarded about every business is the report of receipts and expenditures. But the Daily Socialist is not like any other paper. It is owned, managed, financed and directed by the working class and that class is entitled to know its exact condition at all times. Arrangements are now being made to install a complete job plant. It is expected that within the next ten days the Daily Socialist will be ready to announce its ability to handle any form of job printing, from a visiting card to announce its ability to handle any form of job printing, from a visiting card to announce its ability to handle any form of job printing. That should end the deficit forever, as there are enough Socialist and labor journais and general printing done in Chicago to more than meet the present deficit, if the profit flows into the Daily Socialist instead of into the coffers of private capitalists. Just now there is danger that the tremendous exertions of the ast week will be followed by a reaction.

Over and over again the statement has been made by those asked for all that they would help if they only knew that others were doing their share. In this case there is no doubt but what the others are all doing their share, and there is no excuse for anyone holding back.

His talk, begun yesterday afternoon, has consisted in part of a summing up of the evidence introduced in an effort to establish Haywood's complicity in the Steunenberg murder in part of a denunciation of the miners' federation and in part of an argument that Orchard's story is not only true, but is amply substantiated by other witnesses.

Attorney Richardson will follow Hawley, speaking for the defense. It is expected his talk to the jury will not be finished before Monday. Hawley stated that the state's theory of the case was that there existed a general conspiracy to commit crime—to accompilish certain purpose, by unlawful methods, by the officers of the Western Federation of Miners, and that the murder of Steunenberg was merely an incident in the conspiracy.

But it was a blow for liberal hopes and scoffers began to ask, after he had been some months in office, what reforms had Herr Dernburg brought into the administration of his office? And the question was very hard to answer. Now we know the truth at last. He works—just think of it—in a white linen jacket, instead of remaining in his official coat, and speaks with his very own voice through the telephone. Further, he dictates his letters to the officials, who cannot write shorthand and now wish they could. It is clear the revolution is come. One peculiarity of the rottenness of the Illinois legislature has been remarked by careful observers. It has become so corrupt, and this proposal is the invention of Assistance so systematic in its corruption, that new members are compelled to be honest. The "boodle" is all monopolized by a close and long established corporation, who have such perfect control of the lawmaking machine as not to be compelled to admit any new members into the division of the spoils.

A Disreputable Ruling

There has been much harping upon the "fairness" of Judge Wood in the Haywood case. He has carefully cultivated this reputation wherever it cost the prosecution nothing.

On the one occasion where he could serve the Mine Owners' association best, the choosing of the jury, he showed himself completely subservient, and assisted in as deliberate a packing of a jury as was ever carried through by a Chicago street railway company. Further than that comparison fails.

Now comes his second chance to serve the Mine Owners and Pinkertons. After the defense had shown by a swarm of witnesses from every walk of life that the Mine Owners and Pinkertons had been guilty of almost every form of crime known to the law, of deportations and train wrecking, and assaulting women, and destroying property, of mayhem and murder and false imprisonment, the judge orders that all this evidence be stricken out and the jury be instructed to disregard it. At the same time this "fair judge" permits the retention of evidence concerning crimes alleged to have been committed years before Haywood was an official of the Western Federation of Miners. He admits all of Orchard's purchased perjury, no matter how thoroughly contradicted, or how utterly immaterial to the case. THIS ONLY SHOWS THAT THE CONSPIRACY IS NOT YET COMPLETED.

It shows that the lust of blood in the nostrils of capitalism is not et satisfied, and that in spite of evidence, in spite of justice and truth, it proposes to make one more effort to carry the murderous conspiracy to a finish.

But, fortunately, the jury that will really decide this case is not sitting in the courtroom at Boise. Poth sides have recognized this. THIS EVIDENCE CANNOT BE STRICKEN OUT OF THE MINDS OF THAT LARGER JURY.

They have heard the story of the Mine Owners' conspiracy. They have read the proofs-of the complicity of the Pinkertons and the Citizens' Alliance and the Mine Owners' association and the governments of two states and a nation, joining together in order that profits might be high and flesh and blood cheap.

The men and women who have heard that story have yet to return their verdict. THEY CARE NOTHING FOR THE IN-STRUCTIONS OF JUDGE WOOD.

They have made and unmade courts and governments in the past, and can do it again, and when once they have come to know their rights and powers and duties they have never asked instructions from kings, or presidents, or courts.

Whatever the verdict of that jury may be concerning Haywood is certain what the verdict of the future will be of Judge Wood. It will be the same verdict that has been rendered upon Jeffries, and Taney, and a host of others who have dragged the ermine of their office through the mud of class rule.

ABOUT THAT JOB PLANT

By Arthur Morrow Lewis

No greater disaster could overtake the Socialist movement of Amerthan the suspension of the Chicago Daily Socialist. There is no need to argue this point; it is generally conceded.

The one obstacle in its path is the problem of finances. Two or three of our western weeklies have solved this problem and I am persuaded their method would emancipate "the Daily."

A bourgeois government is obliged to spend large sums of money its various undertakings and it must therefore have a large income.

Wherever there are "spending" departments, there must be "revenue" departments. In England municipal governments increased their revenue by "municipal trading" and the Socialist Party of continental Europe raises immense sums by its "Co-operatives."

The publication of a Socialist paper is mainly a spending department at least for some time. Is it possible to connect with it some revenue department that will meet the loss. I believe it is. The Los Angeles mmon Sense was always in deep water and on the verge of suspensi UNTIL IT PUT IN A JOB PLANT. The Western Clarion broke everybody connected with it UNTIL IT PUT IN A JOB PLANT. The Oakland Daily, I believe, is made possible largely by income from A JOB PLANT.

The Chicago Daily Socialist will see the end of its troubles when it gets working with a good job plant.

The average business man makes money job printing, and he is obliged to build up a business by slow and expensive methods, which would not be the case with "the Daily." Look at the volume of fine business waiting at our doors.

The national office and the Illinois state office are both in Chicago and spend much money on job printing. There are over thirty ward organizations and there are always some of them spending money for printing. The Daily itself is now obliged to send out some job printing. There are many unions favorable to us who would be glad to give us their work.

Ther are Socialist locals all around Chicago that would have their work done and sent by express.

In fact, we have lying at our very doors, anxious to come to us, a volume of fine business that would make a small capitalist's mouth water.

And here is also the final solution of the financial problem.

Many Socialist papers have suffered heavily because they had managers, editors and the rest of the staff selected because they had managers, editors and without regard to their qualifications for their particular work on the paper. "The Daily" has escaped this handicap.

It has become an integral and indispensable part of the Socialist movement of America. It MUST go on. All it needs is a steady revenue to meet its DECREASING deficit. And that we can get by PUTTING IN A JOB PLANT.

2 Baby's Exercise

Baby's Exercise

Exercise is as important for an infant in arms as is his food. Kicking and screaming are essential aids to his growth and development, and his clothing should never be so tight that it interferes with these movements.

The muscles must have free play, and it is wise provision of nature that as on as he becomes strong enough to make efforts to crawl and stand he has become so fat that he does not feel his tumbles, and his delicate bones are so sheathed and encased in layers of flesh that he is in no danger.

Nevertheless, before he displays such marked activity, his little legs should be unhampered in their kicking exercises.
