All Power of the City to Be Used Against Strikers—Frank Announcement of Plan to Break Union's Ranks

Mayor Busse, through his chief of police, George M. Shipley, has determined to bring the wire strike to a close if the police or any other department of the city can accomplish that result.

HOW THE POLICE AND COURTS TREATED ONE OPERATOR

George Stryker, the young man who suffered unduly and distinction Sunday night as the first person to be arrested in the strike trouble, tells an interesting story of his experience in the hands of the officer, in the cell and in the "bull-pen."

POSTAL ADMITS IT'S WHIPPED

The Postal Telegraph company, through its western superintendent, Welcome I. Capon, has practically admitted that it is defeated and it is sending out piteous appeals to the strikers to return to work at once.

PICKETS ALL CARRIED COPIES OF SOCIALIST

Saturday night 176 pickets were on duty for the telegraphers, and the more interesting part about it is, every one of them carried a copy of the Chicago Daily Socialist in his pocket, and had the paper too.

STOCK MARKET IS UNEASY

(By United Press Associations.) New York, Aug. 12.—The stock market went to pieces, partly as a consequence of the operators' strike.

FEED POLICEMEN AT EXPENSE OF PUBLIC

Oh, 'tis pleasant to be a policeman doing strike duty.

The stopping of persons in the congested loop district by strikers or other persons I consider a diversion tending toward a breach of the peace, and I therefore consider even peaceful picketing against the best interests of this community.

BLUFF FAILS TO STAMPEDE

Striking telegraphers of the Western Union company called today to receive their pay for the time worked from August 1st up to the time of striking Thursday night.

STORY OF A W. U. VICTIM

Apparently the strikers have lost none from their ranks, for the big hall in the Western Union building was again entirely filled yesterday and enthusiasm seemed to be as strong, speeches as fiery and assurances of winning as great as ever.

GROUCHY OCTOPI IN HARD ROW

The commercial telegraph companies need not expect to receive any aid from the present office holding politicians, local, state or national.

SOUGHT DISCHARGE ON NOVEL GROUND

A brother of the well known telegrapher, Chairman Frank Likes of Chicago, is working for a railroad not far from Chicago.

NATION TO BE ISOLATED FROM WORLD WHEN 25,000 WORKERS QUIT; ARBITRATION SCHEMES TO BLOCK STRIKE.

It is reported on good authority that the railway companies are to begin to antagonize their operators. It is said the Burlington and the Chicago & Northwestern have ordered their operators to handle commercial telegrams.

BUSSE'S WAGONS FURNISH COAL

It remained for a Busse coal wagon and its driver to do what no other set of coal men have yet done—deliver coal to the Western Union offices.

BISBEE MINERS STILL IN LINE

Bisbee, Arizona, Aug. 8.—The strike situation here shows but little change. The local papers have come to the conclusion that the best way to defeat the miners is to ignore all strike news and to send nothing concerning the doings of the camp to the outside.

BROKERS GRANT ALL DEMANDS

Representatives of the brokers and firms operating leased wires visited union headquarters and notified the strikers of their acceptance of the new schedule demanded for service in their offices.

RUSSELL ON GENERAL STRIKE

General Secretary Russell at noon issued the following call to all operators' local unions to meet immediately preparatory to arranging for a general strike.

STRIKE IS A SUCCESS; COMPANIES TIED UP

Following are the offices tied up and the number of strikers, not counting messenger boys, checkers, electricians, janitors and clerks (wherever strikes have been called the walkout practically is complete):

SOLIDARITY MARKS UNPRECEDENTED RISING OF SKILLED WAGE EARNERS; COMPANIES BREAK CONTRACTS AND BRIBE.

The strike of telegraph operators has now spread from coast to coast. The Associated Press practically is tied up, hitting most of the big capitalist newspapers in the United States, Canada and Mexico.

HAYWOOD AT PRESS CLUB

W. D. Haywood is compelled to eat, so he accepted the invitation of Seymour Steadman yesterday to go to lunch. Steadman is a member of the Press club, so he took the big miner up there to take a little food.

NEW YORK QUILTS

New York key men walked out late yesterday afternoon in the main office and the strike is spreading rapidly and automatically to all branch offices. Officials of the companies in New York ordered the main office operators to come in to the main office and act as strike breakers.

Trying Old Tricks

(NOTE—This editorial was published in the Chicago Daily Socialist, June 21. It is re-published by request of striking telegraphers.)

A strike is essentially a battle. It is one of the moves in the great war of the class struggle.

All the tactics of the battlefield are employed. There are certain general rules, called laws, that are supposed to restrict the fighters, just as nations at war have agreed by international convention not to use certain methods.

Consequently there are well-defined tactics in a strike as there are in military movements.

In each strike many of the same methods are used by both sides that have previously been tried.

The progress of the telegraphers' strike to the present time shows that the employers are trying tactics that have frequently been tried before, and that, because they have proven successful, will frequently be tried in the future.

These tactics depend for success largely upon the fact that they are not recognized by the workers as hostile moves. Yet it would seem that laborers must be almost blind not to begin to grasp the methods of their enemies.

One of the things for which both sides play is "public opinion." Partly because of the effect which this public opinion has upon the minds of the fighters, partly because of very real effects in bringing or withholding financial aid, both sides seek to secure this "public opinion."

The employers are especially clever in manipulating "public opinion." This is because it is, after all, largely manufactured by them, through the organs which they control.

There is a trick which the employers have played over and over of late years which has proved very effective in securing the right sort of "public opinion."

After having invited a strike and brought affairs to a point where it is inevitable, some supposed "third party," some government official, or some professional intermeddling agency like the Civic Federation appears upon the scene and frames up some sort of a fair sounding concession, accompanied by an apparent offer to arbitrate.

If the union stops the preparations for a strike, or calls off the strike which has perhaps already been ordered, the men are disorganized, the first enthusiasm is dampened, the workers are more or less confused and perhaps disheartened, and when the matter is settled it is found that nothing has been gained. The union soon begins to disintegrate and the weary work or organization must be gone over again.

If, on the other hand, they proceed with their strike all the organs of capitalism take up the cry that the men have been called out by designing leaders on the eve of concessions—that they have refused arbitration, that they are mere trouble breeders, that they are disturbing industry that leaders may gratify a sense of power or worse, and all the other stuff that serves so effectively to build up "public opinion" hostile to the strikers.

This game has been played many times. IT HAS JUST BEEN ATTEMPTED IN THE TELEGRAPHERS' STRIKE.

United States Commissioner of Labor Neill, one of the cleverest of these official stalking horses, came in with some sort of a proposal to arbitrate. At the same time the company made an indefinite offer to arbitrate something, although just what no one seems to know.

The telegraphers refused to bite at the thinly disguised hook. They struck and are now in the midst of the fight.

At once the machinery of "public opinion" was set in motion. A lying dispatch appeared simultaneously in nearly every newspaper in the country telling of quarrels between officials of the union and of disaffection among the men.

THE WISH WAS FATHER TO THE THOUGHT. THERE WERE NO QUARRELS, NO DISAFFECTION, BUT IT WAS HOPED THAT THIS REPORT WOULD CAUSE THESE THINGS.

Happily the scheme so far has failed. The men have now refused to be fooled. They are still standing firm and are ready for battle at every point.

The next step will probably be to offer some other form of meddling by outside parties. If any nominal "third party" owned and controlled by the employing class can interject itself into the conflict it will do so under the name of arbitration or mediation.

BOOST THE SOCIALIST PRESS

BY JOHN M. WORK

I know the Chicago Daily Socialist capitalist papers, not getting any news of the world except what he gets through them, does not possess the necessary information with which to come to a logical conclusion on any public question.

The day after Haywood was acquitted a small capitalist who had read my interview in one of the Des Moines dailies regarding the verdict and was itching to let me know what he thought about it seized me by the arm as I was passing along the street and said: "So you think Haywood is innocent, do you?"

I replied, "Certainly." And he replied: "Well, I believe he's as guilty as hell."

I did not do injury to his anatomy, nor even give him a round cursing. Seeing what a benighted and really pitiable state of mind the man was in I stooped and calmly and seriously explained to him the class divisions as they exist and the manner in which the capitalist papers poison the minds of the people regarding the working class and its representatives.

He soon realized that he had butted into a subject on which he was not posted, and when I parted he acknowledged his ignorance.

He is only a sample of millions of persons whose minds are continuously poisoned by reading the capitalist papers.

Never a strike occurs anywhere but the capitalist dailies report the matter as if the wage workers who are making a manful effort to gain a small portion of their rights were disturbers who must be watched carefully lest they break out in riot and anarchy.

In the Idaho case this prostitution of the capitalist press in the interest of the capitalist class has been painfully evident. The capitalist papers persistently refrained from giving the public the outrageous facts regarding the way in which these three workmen were stripped of all their legal and constitutional rights.

On the contrary, they published all the stories against the men prepared by Detective McParland. They tried to make the unspeakable McParland appear as a hero. They tried to make it appear that he was about to bring three red-handed assassins to justice.

In other words, they did just what the mine owning capitalists wanted done. It is necessary to read the Socialist papers in order to get the truth about anything that directly or remotely concerns the working class.

A man who confines himself to the capitalist papers, not getting any news of the world except what he gets through them, does not possess the necessary information with which to come to a logical conclusion on any public question.

Haywood and Pettibone, the capitalists adopted a policy of physical violence and committed hundreds of ruffianly outrages against the workmen and their wives and daughters.

But did the capitalist papers which you read at the time of the strike give you the impression that the capitalists were lawless?

Not at all. They gave you the impression that the workmen were lawless.

Take another illustration. During the great 1894 strike some old freight cars and other railroad property were destroyed in Chicago.

But it was afterward proved on the witness stand that the railroads themselves hired men to destroy the property in order to create an excuse to call out the troops, and in order, also, to alienate public sympathy from the strikers by charging them with the crime.

THE ROCKY MOUNTAIN WAR

Being the Closing Speech of Clarence Darrow Before the Jury Which Acquitted Haywood

He has heard Orchard's testimony. He was familiar with that case. Orchard told you upon the witness stand that he arranged for the man in the district whether he was there or not, that they put every one of them in a bullpen.

Now, gentlemen, I am not going to discuss to this jury whether his method was right or wrong. He has been called in by me to help you. I don't believe any lawyer can defend the right of any human being to indiscriminately take his fellow men without any criminal charge whatever.

THE BULLPEN. Now, gentlemen, I am not going to discuss to this jury whether his method was right or wrong. He has been called in by me to help you.

It is not strange that at that time large numbers of miners and workmen, that honest lawyers, ministers, Congressmen, and all classes of people, protested against this as being an outrage, a crime against the liberties of man.

Let me illustrate: The Western Federation in 1890 established the Miners' Magazine. It was an obscure, unimportant number of articles about Steuenerberg and about the Coeur d'Alenes. These articles condemned Governor Steuenerberg, as others did publicly over the length and breadth of the land.

What had Haywood to do with it? What had Moyer to do with it? What had Pettibone to do with it? Yet, gentlemen, they are brought into this case for the same reason.

Booyed by But One. It is a strange thing, isn't it, gentlemen? Here is Haywood, the secretary-treasurer of the Western Federation of Miners. Here is Moyer as president. They have been leading a strenuous life, God knows.

World Against Him. They have the world against him, the world of wealth, the world of power, the world of influence, the world of officialdom, and they have produced Harry Orchard, and he has produced another line or another letter or another word or another look or another glance or another breath or another thought.

Hands Red With Blood. His hands are red with the blood of two of his fellow men; but he has escaped and would escape again unless he was caught out somewhere on the prairie when the game law wasn't working, and then he would be in danger.

What's It Getting? Where you sleeping when you let this murder go back untraced, or is this prosecution from the beginning to the end a wicked, damnable conspiracy to pick up the president and the secretary of the Western Federation of Miners and swing it by the neck for the benefit of the mine owners of Colorado?

Some Objections. As between a chance to go and explode some dynamite and a chance to get it back untraced, or is this prosecution from the beginning to the end a wicked, damnable conspiracy to pick up the president and the secretary of the Western Federation of Miners and swing it by the neck for the benefit of the mine owners of Colorado?

Let me illustrate: The Western Federation in 1890 established the Miners' Magazine. It was an obscure, unimportant number of articles about Steuenerberg and about the Coeur d'Alenes.

What's It Getting? Where you sleeping when you let this murder go back untraced, or is this prosecution from the beginning to the end a wicked, damnable conspiracy to pick up the president and the secretary of the Western Federation of Miners and swing it by the neck for the benefit of the mine owners of Colorado?
