

IMMUNITY BATTLE COOK LIVES IN READY FOR C. & A. A BOX STALL

Government Will Divert Public
Clamor by Stink-pot Attacks on Beef and Oil Trusts

The program of the federal authorities is to make the announcement in Judge Landis' court Tuesday at 10 a. m. that immunity has been granted the Chicago & Alton railroad from prosecution for giving the Standard Oil Company rebates.

This decision will carry with it commitments of the government to make later announcements of pledges of immunity to all other railroads guilty of the same offense.

The administration has postponed the announcement in order to prepare for its reception. Much adverse criticism was aroused when it was known that eight big railroad systems and their half a hundred officials had been pleaded immunity.

Not Kicking, for the 'Missus'

Lives in the Cow Pen

They don't "keep the pig in the parlor" out at Russell D. Hill's new summer home at Highland Park, but they do keep the cook in the box stall.

All the "house servants" (as the leisure class are accustomed to call their domestic employees) were greatly aroused when they heard of this latest indignity to be heaped upon a member of the working class. A hasty investigation, however, proved that affairs at the Hill's place in Highland Park had not come to quite so bad a pass as had at first been imagined.

The cook was not sharing the box stall with the family carriage horse; neither was she compelled to sleep upon a pallet of straw, nor yet upon the cold concrete floor.

A horse had never occupied the stall. The concrete floor was covered with rugs and the stall contained a bed, washstand and dresser, and the windows were neatly curtained.

Now was the box of the Russell D. Hill family found to be much better comparatively speaking than that of the Russell D. Hill cook. The cook's family is living in the stable pending the building of their house on the brow of the Skokie valley.

The carriage room has been turned into a dining room and living room. According to the only party. Her kitchen, while an ordinary stall serves as a pantry.

Hill, although a real estate dealer, and therefore open to suspicion as reasonably hard hearted, is a lover of music and an organizer of no mean ability, according to his friends.

He has moved his pipe organ out to Highland Park and put it in the stable, turning the hayloft into an organ loft for the purpose. The family bedrooms are also on the second floor, in the hayloft. As the family, however, consists only of Hill, his wife and their little daughter, there is plenty of room.

TWO MEN BREAK COUNTY BASTILE

Desperate Effort to Regain Liberty Is Successful Strange Delivery From a Gibraltar

As a result of what is believed by some to have been a desperate plot to liberate Frank J. Constantine, who was found guilty late Saturday night of the murder of Mrs. Louise Gentry, Cook county authorities are making for two escaped "desperadoes" and Sheriff Strassheim and his deputies are suffering under charges of incompetency and mismanagement. William Rogers and Stanley Weschke, the former of whom is said to have escaped once before, are at liberty.

The escape occurred at 1:45 p. m. Sunday, while most of the prisoners were in the cell block. They got out by locking up Guard Bloomberg, who violated the rules by entering the bull-pen carrying his keys, then dashed to the Illinois street side of the jail and with improvised "bull saws" cut out two bars.

They were crawling through a hole when a passerby saw them and gave the alarm. Then the force found Bloomberg cowering in a cell, a man which he had been thrust and guarded while the men sawed their way out, leading to the ground, a distance of fifteen feet.

According to the best information the men had been in jail ever since July awaiting trial. No wonder they vanished.

WASTE OF AMMUNITION.

The critics say the waste of government munitions has been enough to bag at least ten railroads and a hundred prominent traffic managers and other officials.

To counteract the unpopular reputation of the immunity promises it is said additional prosecutions of cases against the Standard Oil and urge collection of the fine of $39,240,000 immediately after the coming of the next campaign. An early prosecution of the unpunished members of the furniture trust may be used to occupy public attention to the exclusion of doubt, that the anti-trust campaign is going to have further real results. The beef trust investigation may also preclude unpopular views.

HAD AN AFFINITY NOW HE'S DEAD

(Mail Correspondence.)
Sheldon, Iowa, Sept. 22.—Yesterday a man calling himself Robbins and having a woman with him, who he calls his wife, was found at the Arlington hotel by the real Mrs. Robbins. A stormy scene followed, after which the wife left her husband and went to another part of the city to stay until she could return to her home at Skourney.

Later, it is alleged, Robbins followed his wife up, and on finding her he made an attempt to throw acid in her face, succeeding only partially. Her clothes were torn and she was badly hurt. Robbins called a physician for Mrs. Robbins. The doctor learned from Mrs. Robbins that her husband had taken a dozen morphine pills after he attacked her. Investigation at the jail proved this to be true, as Robbins was found to be in a comatose condition from which it was impossible to arouse him. He died in a few hours.

The man was no Socialist, but some way this did not prevent him from having an "affinity."

DESPERATE EFFORT TO REGAIN LIBERTY IS SUCCESSFUL STRANGE DELIVERY FROM A GIBRALTAR

As a result of what is believed by some to have been a desperate plot to liberate Frank J. Constantine, who was found guilty late Saturday night of the murder of Mrs. Louise Gentry, Cook county authorities are making for two escaped "desperadoes" and Sheriff Strassheim and his deputies are suffering under charges of incompetency and mismanagement. RADICALS MAKE UP THIRD DUMA

(United Press Associations Cable.)
St. Petersburg, Sept. 22.—The returns received today from the elections for the third duma indicate a sweeping victory for the radicals. It is expected that the complete results will show that the radicals will have a controlling power and there is every indication that the new duma will be even more irreconcilable to the government than the last.

A hard struggle is predicted today between the duma's advisers and the radicals and it is believed the third duma will be the scene of stormy demonstrations if the government tries to force the issue.

Despite the unprecedented precautionary measures taken by the radicals and popular organizations many persons entitled to vote were afraid to cast their ballots.

CONSTANTINE'S CELL

The escape was made from the same cell in which Constantine had been imprisoned until a few hours before he is charged he, with nearly a score of others, were implicated in the delivery. The jail authorities knew nothing of the escape until notified by guards from the street.

The two men had overpowered Guard Michael Bloomberg, whom they locked in a cell. They then leaped from the gallery across an air well five feet wide and about fifty feet deep, into a room through the window, where they peeped while sawing on the iron bars. Sheriff Strassheim himself is responsible for the statement that Constantine was the man whom it was intended to add in escaping. He declared there would be a thorough cleaning up about the jail.

Constantine became morose and ugly after the escape and refused to talk to reporters. It is charged that his friends had distributed money among the prisoners during the trial.

JUDGE KAVANAGH HAS BEEN INFORMED BY THE POLICE THAT HIS COURTROOM MIGHT HAVE PROBABLY BEEN BURNED INTO A SCENE OF A DESPERATE BATTLE BY MEMBERS OF A SECRET SOCIETY TO RESCUE CONSTANTINE HAD THE VERDICT AGAINST THE LATTER BEEN DEATH.

Frigo, to the conviction the police received information of a plot by the society to surround Constantine and battle with the bailiffs to deliver him from the clutches of the law in case a sentence of death was handed by the verdict. The escape a few hours later of two prisoners who were in the tier in which Constantine had been confined and the evidence of a plot to free the inmates of all the cells in the row verified by knowledge procured today convince the authorities that the unexpected removal of the murderer to another wing of the jail just before the hour for the consummation of the plot is all that prevented his delivery. The presence of 200 low-browed, dark men of sinister aspect gave color to the information obtained. The secret society is believed to have furnished funds and given the prisoner material aid in his trial. The latter will quickly rid himself of his undesirable prisoner by sending him to Joliet.

Hard Feelings for Strenuous

(By United Press Associations.)
Washington, Sept. 22.—Reports of a concerted anti-Taft-Roosevelt movement on the part of the negroes of the country are causing alarm among the supporters of the Ohio candidate in this city.

Recent mass meetings in cities have, it is said, developed into a permanent organization among the blacks. Ultimately it is to spread to all parts of the United States. Organizers have been already secretly formed in St. Louis, Philadelphia, and New York.

The leader of the movement is W. Calvin Chase, prominent among the negroes as a lawyer and editor of a colored Republican newspaper, The Bee, of Washington.

And this after Br'er Booker had lunch at the White House!

AMBASSADOR GREEL JOINS WAR ON LABOR ORGANIZERS

(Mail Correspondence.)
Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 22.—Unless the working people of the United States take a hand, the mine owners of Mexico, most of whom are citizens of the United States, will accomplish a judicial murder of three Mexican labor organizers already in California and in the persecution of these men brings to light the same men and influences that were in pursuit of Haywood, Meyer and Pettibone. The conspiracy shows already the desperate and unscrupulous character of the men behind it.

The following is a summary of the situation to date:
Mexican labor organizers—Antonio Villarreal, Flores Magun, Modesto Diaz, Librado Riveras and—Sleberia.

These men published a labor paper in St. Louis and mailed it to Mexico.

The paper urged the miners and free mine workers to unite and secure better wages, pointing out the slavish conditions under which the Mexican working class lives.

American capitalists hire detectives with the aid of the United States government bar the paper from the mails.

Detectives make cases against the men and have them jailed on charges of fraud, attempted murder and libel. They are unable to prove the charges.

Sleberia, one of the editors of the paper, went to Douglas, Ariz. He was arrested there on complaint of pursuer-detectives and placed in jail. In the night he was kidnaped and rushed into Mexico. He is now in prison for life, having had no trial that was worthy of the name.

His friends reached Los Angeles and were immediately arrested on charges of jumping bail in Missouri and committing libel in the same state. When their trial came they proved they were not in the state at the time the alleged crimes were committed.

The governor of California refused extradition papers.

The Mexicans immediately were re-arrested for killing "John Doe" in Mexico at some time not stated. This charge was sworn to by Mexican Ambassador Greel, who was in California attending the irrigation congress.

Ten thousand organized working people here, including the Socialist Party, has rallied to the defense of these Mexicans, pioneers in the organization of Mexican laborers.

The influences of the conspiracy to hang these organizers are reaching up toward the White House. So far the United States government has kept its mouth shut to the conspiracy only in a small degree, but as the case grows desperate the administration that tried to hang Haywood will bear watching.

United States capitalists are making fortunes out of the exploitation of Mexican laborers and they are determined that agitators shall not disturb their profitable enterprises. So keen are they for profits that attempted judicial murder is not too big a job for them.

LITTLE WORKER'S STRANGE DEATH

Henry Werheim, a 16-year-old boy living at 153 North avenue and employed by the Stern Clothing Company, 256 North avenue, fell from a first floor balcony down a flight of stairs and into a glass paneled door at the bottom, severing his jugular vein, Saturday afternoon.

The accident occurred at the store and was witnessed by a number of employees and patrons. Young Werheim lived but twenty minutes.

Conflicting theories as to the cause of the accident are given by the boy's parents and the store management. The former maintain that the youth was tripped on a board nailed across an aperture at the top of the stairs. The Stern company denies this, claiming there was no obstruction of any sort and that the young man merely slipped and, falling to catch himself, was thrown into the glass door at the bottom.

A coroner's jury returned an open verdict yesterday, placing no responsibility on the store. The boy's parents say they will carry the case into court to recover damages.

HELENA WORKERS READY TO ACT

(By United Press Associations.)
Helena, Mont., Sept. 22.—If the order of the Helena Trades and Labor assembly is obeyed a general strike will be started late today in every factory, plant, office or store where the Rocky Mountain Bell telephone instruments are installed. This will mean a general paralyzation of the city's business.

An order is the result of a long-drawn-out fight against the telephone company and follows the refusal of a large number of business men to stop using the company's instruments until the strike is settled. Officials of the company claim that assembly's demands will not be complied with.

IS POLICEMAN A ROBBER?

Another scandal has broken forth in the police department. Miss Emma Manake, 45, Peoria street, asserts that Friday night as she was passing along Curran street near Madison she was pounced upon by a policeman in full uniform and knocked down and dragged into an alley and robbed.

The entire police force of the west side is searching for the officer who is alleged to have robbed the girl.

8-HOUR LAW TO HIT TELEGRAPH COMPANIES HARD

(Mail Correspondence.)
St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 21.—In reference to the state eight hour law enacted at the last session of the state legislature, in addition to the national nine hour law passed by congress last winter, L. W. Quick, grand secretary of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers, gave the following information:

"As near as I can remember, ten states passed an eight hour law for railroad telegraph operators, in addition to the nine hour law passed in Washington at the last session of congress."

These states are Maryland, Missouri, Arkansas, Nevada, New York, Wisconsin, Connecticut, West Virginia, North Carolina and Texas. Perhaps I have overlooked one or two.

"These laws are now in effect in all of these states except New York, Connecticut and Wisconsin. The New York law goes into effect the first of January and the Connecticut and Washington laws the first of January, 1908."

MANANCE DISLOYAL TO KING ED

(Mail Correspondence.)
Berlin, Ont., Sept. 21.—Aided somewhat by the opposition of reactionary bankers, the Socialists here have been stirring things up.

A. W. Manance of Chicago for a week addressed from 60 to 1,200 persons in the streets each night. The crowds stood for longer than an hour listening to the working class' political proposition.

Manance was notified that he could not speak Friday night. The complaint was that he had uttered sentiments disloyal to the dominion government in criticizing the militia.

When time for the meeting came the electric lights were turned out, but the committee provided oil lamps. Manance at once asked for the name of the man who had "complained."

"Banker Scott" was the reply, and the meeting went on.

Manance remarked that opposition from bankers was the cheapest kind of advertising a Socialist speaker could hope for.

U. S. AFTER PACKERS WHO DIVIDED WORLD FOR PELS

Grand Jury May Be Asked to Indict the Big Six Recently Organized, Who Have Since Allotted
the Meat Part of Trade to Themselves

Indictments against men whose names are a paper in the financial world are predicted by those who ought to know how much evidence United States Attorney Sims has obtained against the beef barons.

The following ten millionaires have been prominently mentioned in connection with the investigation of the federal grand jury:
J. Ogden Armour,
L. F. Swift,
Mrs. A. W. Moore,
Edward Morris,
E. F. Swift,
T. J. Conners,
Arthur Meeker,
Thomas M. Wilson,
Lawrence A. Costen,
S. A. McRoberts.

These men are directors of the National Packing Company of New Jersey, the owners of the Chicago and Port Huron to be a general packing business.

They are also principal owners of the big six packing companies that control the largest part of the world's meat supply. The owners of these companies are forbidden to meet as companies to "fix prices, control the market or act in any manner in restraint of trade."

However, they have the legal right to meet and hold in the National Packing Company.

Should they choose to convert a meeting of the directors of the National company into a secret meeting for the purpose of obtaining the federal injunction it is doubtful if the entire detective force of the government could get any information of their deliberations.

The department of justice might get subsequent facts relating to concerted action by the six packing companies through increasing the price of meat.

RAILROADS VIOLATE LAW.

District Attorney Sims has in his possession evidence that the railroads are daily violating the interstate commerce act by favoring the big packers. Their freight and trains are given preference, while the shipments of competitors are held back and delayed until through increase of cost through Morris and Ogden's charges meat cannot be sold in competition with the meat of the big six.

Sims is alleged to have reports which he is seeking to verify to the effect that the packers have divided the world among themselves.

THE FAVORED ONES.

These arbiters of the price of the world's beef, the men who shall say how much the workingman shall pay for his meagre piece of pork with fancy ribs and his tough beef with half its weight in solid bone are:
Armour & Co., Swift & Co., Cudahy Packing Company, Nelson Morris & Co., Hammond Packing Company and National Packing Company.

This division is said to give Germany and France to Armour, Swift and Cudahy, Great Britain to Nelson Morris, Armour and Swift, British colonies to Morris and Ogden, Canada to all, Russia to Armour and Swift, and other countries to referred corporations. Each country is given advantages in its respective territory which enable it to win the war and to come to the aid of interests, which reach a point almost as great as Standard Oil and from twice as mean a source, are said to be held in secret whenever the spirit moves them.

NEW STORY OF U. S. MILITARISM A GREAT EXPENSE

For five years Fred Fenner has been living cleanly and trying to forget that some day he might have to answer the charge of being a deserter from the United States army. He has been married and has three children, the oldest about 4 years of age. His never told them that before he met his wife had "escaped" from the guardhouse at Fort Logan, where he still had eleven months of a sentence to serve. But forgetfulness refused to come, and so he has delivered himself to the price here, with the request that they turn him over to the authorities at Fort Sheridan. The Fenners are poor and his friends will try to get the government to release him on the grounds that his life in the army before he was put in the guardhouse and his wife since his escape justify recognition.

MRS. LEITER ILL; A GREAT EXPENSE

Chicago Family That Cost the Working People More Than the Cost of Dunning

(United Press Associations Cable.)
Paris, Sept. 22.—Confessing at last that she fears she will not survive her present illness, Mrs. Levi Z. Leiter, widow of the Chicago multimillionaire and one-time partner of the late Marshall Field, has sent messages urging her children to hurry to her bedside.

Her son, Joseph Leiter of Chicago, has been unwilling to come to her aid; his sister, Mrs. Colin Campbell, is on her way from Scotland, and a second sister, Lady Suffolk, is momentarily expected.

Mrs. Leiter's family come to the Hotel Itlix has been fairly besieged by visitors asking concerning her health, but the patient's condition is so serious that none has been admitted.

The Leiter family come to the working people of Chicago more than $1,000,000 a year. From Chicago comes money to keep two "noblemen" and one British army officer. The death of Mrs. Leiter will in no way lessen the burden on Chicago working people. This family costs more than all the paupers in the great city.

HAGUE "CON" A BIG FIASCO

The Hague, Sept. 23.—After having been in session over three months and with adjournment probably a month in the distance, it is recognized generally and even by the most optimistic in the peace movement that the second international peace conference has been and is leading to permanent measures of benefit to the peace of the world.

Thus far the only project which does not regulate war but tries to prevent it, and which was passed by the national conference, was that concerning the forcible collection of contractual debts. The remainder of the work will keep the conference busy until the middle of October.

It is easy to foresee that the only success will be attained by Germany, which prevented the adoption of projects to which it is opposed, and by the small states which have prevailed that it is impossible to reach a world agreement without their support.

It is estimated that the conference has cost altogether $1,200,000.

The greatest disappointment to the delegates is the failure of the conference to have established a permanent court of arbitration, which appeared to be the nearest of realization of any of the practical projects put forward.

DICK SOLDIER LAW IS HIT

The national committee of the Socialist party has endorsed the proposition to conduct a campaign against the Dick soldier bill, deciding affirmatively by the motion presented by Committee-man Hull at the request of Local Bridgeport, Conn.

The meetings authorized in protest against the so-called military law will be held for educational purposes continuously from Nov. 1, 1907, to May 1, 1908. In discussing the question National Committee Secretary J. Mahlon Barnes said:

"If those meetings were conducted with the same vigor as characterized the Moyer-Haywood meetings we estimate that at least 2,000,000 people would be in attendance during the proposed six months. A large percentage of these (and others) would sign the petition which if not successful in securing a repeal of the bill, would certainly attract attention our way and help to make us a conspicuous party in the approaching presidential campaign."

"If this law" was really understood by the great mass of wage workers there is little doubt that they would wake up and do things. It is the function of the Socialist party to make them understand."

LEONARD OF KENNETT, CAL. WANTS JEW TO TOWN

L. E. Leonard of Kennett, Cal., was in today to look over "our plant." He comes from a mining town. Last May he organized a Socialist local. They have twenty-two members and are spreading the gospel by means of lectures. Street speaking has not yet been tried. "It would do you good to drop into our postoffice about next time and see twenty-five or thirty miners draw copies of the Daily Socialist, one of their best," he said. "How can they help liking the paper?" Leonard is a sheet metal worker and is touring the east on a vacation. He lived in Chicago twenty-two years and was closely connected with the city. He does not find the working class in much better condition than it was in the old days.

LIFE OF A MAN WHO SELLS FOR STATE ST. BARONS

How Expense for Night Delivery by Bundle Boys Is Juggled Back into Coiffers

BY H. G. CREEL. "I have worked in one Chicago department store for eighteen years. My salary is $14 a week. I work nights, Sundays and holidays, whenever told to. I know better than to refuse."

"When I first came here the superintendent promised me the ultimate position of buyer for the department. I was to be in charge of the line. When it became known I was supporting two other people and was practically tied to the store all talk of advancement ceased. I was told if I didn't like the position I could quit."

"I recalled to the superintendent... 'We don't ask our employees what to do or what they want us to do—we tell them what to do and if they don't do it there are a hundred men waiting outside for the positions. Shall I send for them?'"

"My health is broken, my eyesight ruined. I work in the basement under the constant glare of electric light; initiative has been utterly destroyed; ambition lost and hope a mockery."

"I'm a poor, decrepit, worn-out old man. No newspaper in Chicago will tell the truth about how department store clerks are treated. I don't believe the Chicago Daily Socialist will."

"But if you do print what I'm telling you, please make the plain: 'My case is a sorry one. My life is about run, and I wouldn't change now if I could. But warn young men and women against giving themselves into the clutches of the department store; it's death. Goodbye.'"

PHONED. This conversation came over the telephone this morning. It was directed to the office of the Chicago Daily Socialist. The informant would give neither his name nor place of employment. He is familiar with State street the story is an old one. The victim is one of many whose experiences will be published in the Chicago Daily Socialist.

BUNDLE BOYS. The department stores' practice of delivering bundles of goods through cash boys and bundle boys is a doubly vicious custom. It keeps the boys out late at night, gives an incentive to theft and lays the boys liable to assault."

On the Golden Archives of State street department stores is any record kept of boys set upon and robbed of their bundles by hoodlums and high-collared rascals."

At the last meeting of the Central Labor Body A. Young, G. Wallace and Louis Marple were appointed a committee to confer with a committee from the farmers' union to outline plans for installing a union exchange warehouse in Paducah.

At the meeting of the proposed arrangements, it is thought, get more money for their products and the prices to buyers will be less because of the commission merchants, the middlemen's profits being eliminated."

In an interview today with A. M. Lewis, the first arrested, the ten speakers now on the criminal court docket for jury trials, he said: "I consider our cause won already. Never in all my experience of police interference have I known the police to have so weak a case."

SANDUSKY LOCAL PLANS CAMPAIGN

How It is Expected to Train Socialists to Speak Readily—Program Arranged

(Mail Correspondence.) Sandusky, O., Sept. 23.—For some time it has been the practice of the Socialists of Sandusky to invite some well known citizen to speak at their hall on some topic of public interest, the address being followed by a general discussion participated in by all present who feel so disposed. These meetings are held for the enlightenment of the public, being free to all who care to attend, and have been very interesting.

Such meetings are a good thing and should be largely attended by the public, for they not only provide for the public discussion of public questions and their relation to the Socialist movement, but they offer all the advantages of a debating society in teaching the timid citizen to think on his feet and face his fellowmen in public address.

WILL CONTINUE MEETINGS. It is the purpose to continue these meetings from time to time, and for every speaker the following rules shall be observed: 1. Non-Socialist speakers invited to speak at the meetings of Local Sandusky shall be allowed forty minutes for their address.

SEWER GRAFT MENACE TO LIFE. The sewers in some parts of Chicago show evidence of graft and neglect, but the complaints come mostly from districts where houses are erected by real estate sharks, to be sold to working people.

TOWN AND RURAL WORKERS UNITE. Paducah, Ky., Sept. 23.—Farmers of McCracken, Marshall and Vallard counties have formed unions to affiliate with Paducah unions and open a warehouse.

SOCIETY OF EQUITY. In Marshall county, the farmers' union is known as the Society of Equity, but in McCracken and Ballard counties it is known simply as "farmers' union." The three will combine and bring all sorts of farm products to Paducah for storage in the warehouse.

SOAPBOXING WILL BE SAFE. In an interview today with A. M. Lewis, the first arrested, the ten speakers now on the criminal court docket for jury trials, he said: "I consider our cause won already. Never in all my experience of police interference have I known the police to have so weak a case."

PUBLIC PRINTER SPITTED BY INDIGNANT LABOR ORGAN

New York, Sept. 23.—Organized labor has started a movement against Public Printer Charles A. Stillings and his methods of conducting the government printing office.

In advance of official action by certain labor bodies the Trades Unionist, the official organ of the Central Labor Union and the Trades Council of Alexandria, Va., demands the elimination of Stillings from the public service and gives its reasons for the demand, besides making strong editorial comments.

When you took charge of the government printing office—not "works"—you succeeded to an office which had been held by men of high standing in the affairs of this country; men who held the esteem and confidence of those who made pages of glorious history; men who made dignified the high office of public printer to the greatest government on earth.

SMALL PREDICTS END OF STRIKE--WILL ARBITRATE

S. J. Small, president of the Commercial Telegraphers' union, predicts that the telegraph strike will end within ten days.

Nearly 2,000 strikers crowded the hall to hear the president of the union, who has been east for nearly a month and just returned to Chicago Saturday.

Small said that twenty men in New York knew of Roosevelt's plans, and believed the telegraph companies, though they claim to be satisfied, are praying that a third party will intervene and stop the strike.

Others who spoke at the meeting were: General Secretary Russell, Editor Will C. Long, Mrs. Nannie Parker, M. J. Reidy, S. J. Konenkamp, G. J. Fraenkel and H. J. Wiesel.

Pastor Says Mob Killed Charter Boozing Women, War Renewed--Hearst's Ailment

"IRON MAYOR" HAS RUSTED? Is Busse Only a Wooden Indian Painted to Look as a Steel Statue?

What has happened to Busse, the "Iron Mayor?" Has he rusted out? You recall that a few weeks ago Busse announced that if the United Societies did not stop their fight on the charter he would "cross every saloon in Chicago on Sunday."

The teachers will read the paper. Now and then a bright saying from a teacher or good school joke will be mingled with the news.

More correspondents are desired, and it is hoped that by October with the beginning of the basketball season, every high school will be covered.

Socialism, the disturbing specter to both church and state, is undoubtedly growing all over Europe.

Twenty high school and university students met at the office of the Chicago Daily Socialist Saturday afternoon for a study of "School Department," which begins today in this paper.
