

DELINEATOR STARTS SHAM RESCUE WORK

Sends Letter to Woman's Trade Union League and Receives Rebuff in Caustic Missive

Smarter under the repeated blows that have been dealt them by the unions of the country...

The Woman's Trade Union League of Chicago received from the Delineator Publishing company the following letter:

"We beg to call to your notice the Delineator child rescue campaign. Our Magazine is lending every effort to bring the child without a home and the home without a child together..."

Mrs. Raymond Robins, president of the Woman's Trade Union League, when seen today, said, concerning the action the Trade Union League has taken toward the Delineator's request:

"Let us ask you to consider whether it is not fairer, as well as wiser, to protect the home of the child rather than help him find another home after his own has been taken from him?"

"The present system of selecting an executive," said Professor Drake, "is attended by many political complications. Therefore, I favor burning all bridges and giving a free hand to Theodore Roosevelt."

"I think that one of the follies of the nation is to suppose that its present industrial efficiency can be maintained without the great corporations. Their destruction would be the ruin of the nation."

Hitherto it has been an ironclad rule of the union to insist upon cash for the payroll, but it was considered that present conditions call for an exceptional ruling.

Labor's Stand "As long as the industrial conditions result in the child without a home, as well as the home without a child, we can only meet our responsibility by refusing to countenance such conditions and by allying ourselves with the organization of trade unions which, above all others, are trying to rectify these conditions."

The Roc Island Railroad company has adopted a new style of steam motor car. "Auto car" is the name applied to the new coach.

The Indianapolis branch of the Rock Island, running from Des Moines to Indianapolis, is a distance of twenty-two miles, will probably be selected as the line where the car will be given a thorough test.

New Castle, Pa., Nov. 9.—Five hundred Italian railroad laborers here are on strike because two gangs of their comrades had been laid off without apparent reason.

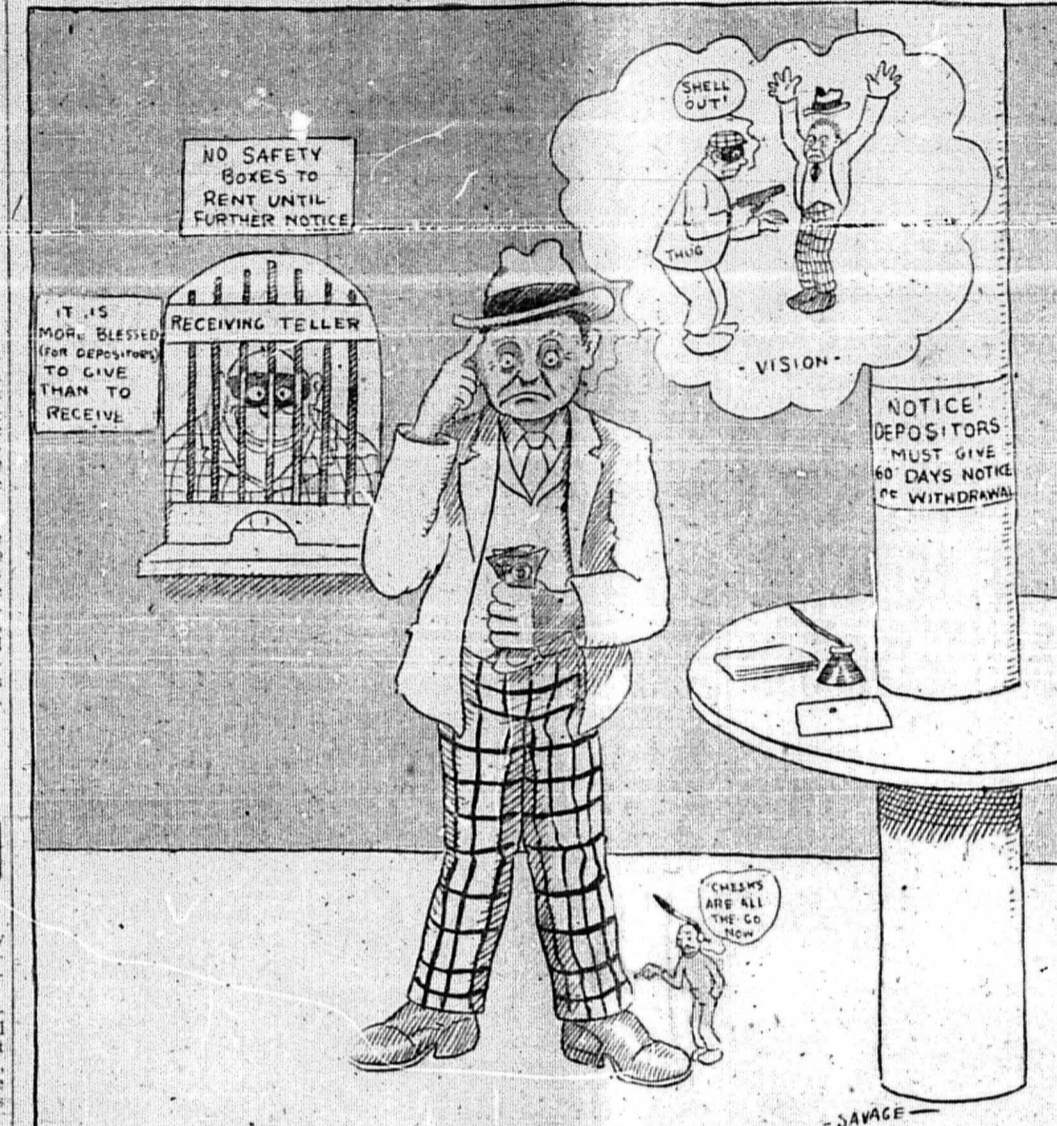

Judge Peter S. Grosscup and his associates in the acrobatic maneuvers of the Mattson City railway are now the defendants in charges of graft and outright robbery, a $60,000 grab being cited against them in one item.

The petition sets forth that these men are guilty of executing fraudulent mortgages for the purpose of making the company appear insolvent, so that it would not be liable for certain damages incurred by a wreck on the road; that they succeeded to the extent of throwing the company into the hands of a receiver; that they organized a construction company to build one of their own lines, then charged the stockholders $1,000,000 for a job that cost them $350,000; that they then pocketed the difference between the charge made for the work and the actual cost of it.

A duplex elevator system, by which two elevators can be run in the same shaft, has been invented.

The key to the invention is the operation of two elevators in one shaft. With the practical devices to be used as equipments for the cars, the running of two elevators in one shaft appears to be just as safe as the running of one elevator car at present in the great skyscraper buildings of the world's most progressive cities.

8-HOUR LAW TEST IN NEW YORK

Brooklyn, N. Y., Nov. 9.—Contractors doing city work and organized labor cannot agree upon the construction of the eight-hour law and have agreed upon a test case to decide certain points in connection with it.

The law provides for an eight-hour day and also has a clause relating to the payment of the prevailing rate of wages. It provides that payments can be withheld from a contractor doing city work who violates these two provisions of the law.

There are not enough shops in New York to supply the materials for all the buildings which are being erected in the five boroughs. In many instances the contractors have to get these materials outside of the city and even out of the state.

CALLS SITUATION ALARMING. Controller Metz said today it was rather alarming situation. "I would not be surprised," he said, "if the courts sustain the claims of the labor organizations that it will be impossible for the city to get contractors to erect city buildings. It will place us in a position where we will have to get contractors to erect buildings on their own responsibility and buy the buildings from them after they are completed."

FIRE IN GHETTO IS FATAL TO ONE

A fire which had its start about 2 a. m. in the tailor shop at 399 West Fourteenth street and burned through several upper stories of the tenement above brought death to one 15-year-old young man and rendered fourteen families homeless.

The fire took place in the heart of the congested ghetto district and for a while threatened to spread to the numerous frame buildings in the section. The boy who was killed, Abraham Gallett, was sleeping on the third story of the building at the time and his frantic attempts to escape while the flames were licking through the window could be seen by the people on the street below. His body was recovered at 2:30.

Mrs. Mary Caplin, whose husband owned the tailor shop, made a jump with her 12-hour-old baby in her arms from the second story to the ground, a distance of twenty feet. She is probably fatally hurt.

The fire caused quite a panic in the ghetto district and great crowds of people congregated about the scene, while the half-clad victims came rushing from the building.

QUICK MARRIAGE FOR CONDUCTOR

Ottumwa, Ia., Nov. 8.—The record for a speedy courtship and marriage has been broken by a conductor employed on a Minneapolis & St. Louis freight train, who meets, woos, wins and weds a girl passenger in a little less than two hours.

Laura Patterson of Easterville and George M. Vail of Fort Dodge are the two record-breakers. Miss Patterson was a passenger on the train and Vail, conductor. Time seemed to drag slowly for the young woman, and Vail engaged in a conversation with her. Shortly afterward the other occupants of the caboose—three traveling salesmen and a brakeman—noticed the conductor lean toward his pretty companion and confide something in a low tone. She blushed, her lips moved perceptibly and then she became interested all at once in watching the flying prairies.

The happy conductor drew the three salesmen aside, conversed with them, then resumed his seat by the side of his blushing companion. When the train reached Humboldt two of the salesmen hurried after the marriage license, while the other sought for a justice of the peace. The magistrate arrived all out of breath about the same time as did the license. The couple were married in the dimly rattling caboose just as the train was moving out of the city.

REITMAN ON THE WANDERLUST.
Wanderlust, I have you know, lives for eighteen years. You have led me for a merry 'round the world. One day, amid combs and pleasures, another day surrounded by misery and desolation. Of you I saluted, Wanderlust! You taught me to smile when in pain or pleasure. You robbed me of the desire of home life. You have never allowed me to know content or even discontent. You made me lonely when in the city among friends and when in the desert with only thoughts for company. I am your slave, O Wanderlust. I cannot resist your wiles even though I tried. Do with me as you may, for I am your legitimate prey—hardly a man—only a tramp.—Written by Reitman, while a stowaway on an ocean liner.

NEWS REEL BY Bill Wells

THERE'S NO PLACE LIKE JAIL.
A handsome maiden named Haines. Her freedom scornfully disdains.
She says, "Let me stay in jail for always—For my relatives give me pains."

Miss Rose Haines, a good-looking girl from Mellen, Wis., pleaded guilty to the charge of larceny in Judge Gibbons' court yesterday. Immediately after entering her plea she asked the judge to have her returned to the county jail.

"I have a good time there, judge," she said, "and I don't want to go back to my relatives under any circumstances. There is a piano and many good fellows there, while there's nothing doing at home." She was returned to jail.

Miss Haines, who recently fell heir to $40,000, lost it all in speculation on the board; it was alleged, to retrieve her losses, it is alleged, stole diamonds from several prominent stockholders.

One of the Socialist members of the Milwaukee Metropolitan Park commission, C. B. Whinnall, has suggested some capital ideas for the improvement of the park system. One is a system of neighborhood parks of about ten acres each, every park to contain a library, or a day and evening, reading rooms, gymnasium, bathing facilities, clubrooms and auditoriums.

CRIME REIGN DURING PANIC

DAYLIGHT "L" HOLDUP IN CITY.
A highwayman armed with a revolver held up the ticket seller in the Addison street station of the Northwestern Elevated railroad, early today and after threatening him with death, escaped with $20. Arthur Schuster, the victim, was balancing up his receipts when a man passed through the turnstile. Almost immediately the man turned and, pointing a revolver at Schuster, said: "Come, unlock that door and get out of there so I can come in and get the cash!"

Schuster obeyed and the robber hurriedly accepted the currency into his pocket and fled.

Canover, S. D., Nov. 8.—Seven armed bandits blew open the safe in the interstate bank here early today, terrorized the town for an hour, riddled a hotel and several private residences with bullets and finally escaped with $5,500, leaving no clew to their identity.

Every cent of money in the safe was taken, except $1,000, which had been placed in a secret compartment and was overlooked. In spite of this the bank opened for business as usual, several wealthy citizens coming to its aid and putting up cash to cover the temporary embarrassment. The robbers, it is thought, escaped on a hand-car.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 8.—Safe blowers last night blew open the safe in the accountant's office of the University of Minnesota. Upper Sandusky, O., Nov. 8.—William Rapp, station agent of the Port Wayne & Hoeking Valley railroad, went to sleep in his office this afternoon. When he awoke a robber entered chloroformed him, ransacked the safe and stole $100.

BANK SAFE BIFFED.
Marshall, Ok., Nov. 8.—Robbers last night dynamited the safe of the Farmers' State bank here, but secured only $200, being frightened away before they had time to ransack the inner compartments of the vault.

BLOW POSTOFFICE SAFE.
Hume, Ill., Nov. 8.—The safe in the postoffice here was blown open early this morning, but the robbers escaped after a revolver fight, but got no booty.

SAFE BLOWERS POILED.
Lacon, Ill., Nov. 8.—Three bandits blew open the outer door of the large steel safe in the bank at Lacon, Ill., from here, last night, but were frightened away by a citizen, who was badly beaten by the bandits. The robbers got no booty.

MISS GOLD SHIPMENT.
Butte, Mont., Nov. 8.—Two masked men today held up the Salomon stage on the mountains, expecting it to be carrying a big consignment of gold. The gold shipment was delayed, however, and the bandits got little of value.

EMPLOYER ASS'N CUTS EXPENSES

Teamsters and other laboring men who are not constantly within hearing of the voice of a boss, will hereafter have but five "traveling agents" of the Employers' association to watch them.

It is not because the Employers' association feels that the workers can be left alone, but a traveling agent is expensive, and the financial troubles make it necessary to cut down expenses.

Since the teamsters' strike ended two years ago twenty agents were appointed to look after the interests of non-union teamsters. It was part of the duty of these agents to report teamsters who stopped in front of saloons or caused any trouble which would involve nonunion teamsters.

Between fifteen and twenty have been continually at work, but yesterday ten were dispensed with.

SCHOOL DAYS Snappy Student Stunts as Told by Special Correspondents on Field and Campus

NEWS FROM JEFFERSON HIGH.
Will the star debating team which ranks as first among the high schools vanquish all its rivals which will dispute its right to be called the king among high schools? Will it manage to hold its own against all competitors? These the question of supremacy will be settled. Those who have marveled at the ability of Miss Sipe and "Hayseed" Chaff are certain that they will outlive all the debating teams among the Chicago high schools. There are numerous challengers this year, however. The success of Miss Sipe and Chaff is attracting many rivals.

In an address to the literary society "Hayseed" Cillian said: "If the rest of the society will show as much nerve as Eldrid did then our success is assured. But I fear that school spirit is lacking. Just put a little more nerve, push and spirit into your work. By doing so you will make this society so interesting that your enrollment will increase."

Who will debate for Medill? This question has been finally decided. Frank Romolette and Sarah Chaves, who were to debate, resigned. Sarah Chaves is the brother of Edward Chaves, who resigned to debate for Medill.

WHO IS EDWARD CHAVES?

WIRE MEN STILL IN LINE

Telegraphers who have been turned away by the telegraph companies in Chicago should not take the matter too seriously, for in many places the strikers have not returned to work at all, and there is just now on that account very little business.

Not enough locals have yet voted favorably on suspending the telegraph strike to warrant the general executive board in officially giving notice that it is suspended.

Dayton Votes Against
The votes of twenty-five locals have been received, and the only one voting against the suspension is Dayton, O., with a membership of about ten telegraphers.

Pittsburg local voted to suspend the strike next Monday, and all strikers pledged themselves not to apply for work before that date.

Several locals, before taking any vote on the suspension, had their members pledge themselves to not leave the union, and with very few exceptions the strikers all did so.

A member of the general executive board said this morning that some time ago several of the locals had requested that the strike be suspended, but the board took no action until Chicago and New York made the request.

Panic Blamed
A majority of the locals will vote on the proposition today, and it is expected that tomorrow it will be possible to officially call the strike off for the present.

The financial panic is generally blamed for bringing the strike to a sudden end.

M. K. & T. R. R. GETS $2,000 FINE

Galveston, Tex., Nov. 9.—The Missouri, Kansas & Texas railroad was assessed a fine of $2,000 for violation of the full crew law, after a test trial here yesterday.

A crew, short by one man, was the cause of the proceeding. The law specifies that each train shall have a fireman, an engineer and two brakemen was introduced into the senate by the action of the trainmen's union some time ago.

The union objected to having negro porters on trains entrusted with the care of the rear of their train, as has been the custom of the road. As negroes will not be admitted to the union, the difficulty could not be surmounted by admitting the porters.

Choosing to bring the case to a head and settle it, the "Katy" deliberately violated the law and brought it to the attention of the court. After the case had been decided against it, the road presented exceptions to the finding and made arrangements for an appeal to a higher court.

The Huslers' Column

Words From the Field at Home and abroad

Hundreds of hustlers have said they wanted an eight-page paper. All agreed that they want the Daily to be self-supporting. Both of these will be possible if the ten thousand new names are added before the first of the year. The new subscribers will bring the circulation to 100,000 and make possible the enlarged paper and the receipts from increased subscriptions and increased advertising will wipe out the deficit.

The legion of hustlers are moving to the west in splendid form and if those who have stood back and said, "We will help when there is a general effort," will at last realize that the great mass is moving into line and each holding his own share of the burden the task will be accomplished.

Here is another old German society, the "Liedertafel Freiheit" of Chicago, coming in with needed help. A long list of members each contributed their share and the total is $10.75.

K. Kellenthal, Chicago, gets in with a dollar on the "States" fund.

Medill's debating squad has been for the last year the Chaves family. It has become a habit at Medill to have some Chaves on the team and all prospective candidates feel an inevitable defeat for the position of Medill's debating team. Make room once more for Chaves.

The students of Lake View are aroused to the highest pitch of enthusiasm with visions of banners coming to them from all directions.

The first that they see is from the debating platform. Kraus and Blaw, who won three out of four contests last year, being the orators. The characters see no loophole for any other candidate to capture the honors.

The next banner is from the basketball field. Twelve candidates, any of whom can play on an all-star team, is the number from which a five is to be picked. Therefore the students are seeking, but success for their alma mater.

As to indoor baseball, they think there is nothing to it but Lake View, Manager David has assured them that a winning team is now in the pocket from the hundred or more candidates.

Where will the Crane boys get girls. Tonight is the annual dance. Every Crane is desperate. The more outrageous cry of the brawny machinist is "My kingdom for a girl." No girls attend the Crane high. It is a hard problem to secure one girl for each boy in a co-educational school like Medill or Chicago.

Woe unto the Craneite. His misfortune is double. To get a girl when no girls attend Crane high. The brawny machinist are trained to overcome difficulties and will not give up the search for such a frail thing as a girl. The Craneites will dance, no matter if each one will have to stay in line to obtain a chance to stay politely. "May I have the next dance with you?" The West Side Woman's Club house will be the scene of this peculiar dance.

OCCUPY PUBLIC SPACE; NO RENT

An onslaught is being made on certain concerns and corporations who are and have been using public space in the city and county buildings free of charge. The leader of the attack is Attorney John A. Brown, partner of Jacob Kern. Brown states that these private interests which are enjoying free privileges in the county building should be ousted at once.

Following are the concerns and corporations against whom the attack is made:

Chicago Telephone company, Chicago Title & Trust company, Walton, James & Ford, Chicago Law Institute and the City Press association.

Stating that these firms are unlawfully and illegally occupying space in the public building, the attorney made a formal demand on President Busse of the county board to have them immediately removed.

Attorney Brown is sustained in his action by a number of other lawyers and citizens who have received arrogant treatment at the hands of the corporations in question.

IRON MOLDERS ARE DENIED TRIAL BY JURY

The twelve iron molders charged by the Employers' association with interfering with the trial of an injunction were denied a jury trial by Judge Barnes.

Attorney Schreider for the men argued that workmen are accustomed to talk in a language which is intended to be forceful and persuasive, but to more educated people it would sound threatening.

Judge Barnes said that he could not guarantee that bankers and business men would not get on the jury, and for that reason would deny a jury trial. Judge Barnes thought he was better able to determine the facts in the case.

The Employers' association will present affidavits to the court, which are expected to show that the union pickets, by using threats and intimidation, caused many nonunion workers to leave the Ornamental Iron Works foundry.

The case will take several days to hear.

Free Legal Advice for the Workers

The Chicago Daily Socialist has no other reason for existence than to serve the working class.

A plan has just been perfected by which these services can be extended into a new field.

At the present time law is made, interpreted and enforced by the capitalist class.

One of the features of this class law is its purposely intricate and obscure character.

The laborer is at a constant disadvantage because he does not understand the technicalities of the law under which he lives.

The Daily Socialist proposes to put the services of an expert attorney at the disposal of its readers.

Beginning next Monday, all questions of a legal nature will be referred to an attorney.

This Legal Department is especially offered to the consideration of organized labor.

These facts have been considered of such great importance in many countries that "Labor Secretariats" have been established.

The Legal Department of the Daily Socialist will, as far as possible, perform the functions of such a Labor Secretary.

In order to make this department of as much value as possible the following rules are suggested for the guidance of those who wish to make use of it.

1. All inquiries will be answered through the Daily, and in no other way.

2. Letters must be addressed to the "Legal Department, Chicago Daily Socialist, 180 Washington Street, Chicago."

3. State the FACTS in the case on which you wish advice as clearly and concisely as possible.

4. The services of the attorney will extend no further than to the replies for publication.

It is hoped that the readers of the Daily Socialist will give this matter as wide publicity as possible.

The Coming Reign of Crime

It is an old story that the amount of crime rises and falls with the thermometer.

A poor crop will send more men to the penitentiary than a new criminal code.

These well known principles of criminology are receiving an excellent illustration just at present.

In this particular instance this may be exaggerated somewhat because all the bank controlled press is anxious to make it appear as dangerous as possible to keep money anywhere except in the banks.

But it is nevertheless true that this industrial decline will send hundreds of men to the penitentiary.

Not a Socialist

There were two cases at the Harrison Street Police Station court yesterday that revealed a rottenness of character.

The only daily paper in town that dared to tell the truth about either of these cases was the Daily Socialist.

Had either of these men at any time in their lives been even most remotely connected with the Socialist movement.

But they were only cases of powerful capitalists and politicians preying upon the daughters of the working class.

Besides, one of these men has the disposal of a large amount of advertising.

Children Illegally Employed

It was announced at the Albany N. Y. department of labor.

Two of these were under 14 years of age and the other under 16 years.

The youngest found was 10 years of age. A penalty of $20 was imposed in each case.

It would be more correct to say that Socialism is a church than to say it is against the church.

But they were only cases of powerful capitalists and politicians preying upon the daughters of the working class.

Besides, one of these men has the disposal of a large amount of advertising.

SOME UNIQUE FEATURES OF THE SOCIALIST PARTY

BY ELLIS O. JONES

To those who are accustomed to the methods of political parties in this and other countries.

The Socialist party has long heard others speak of "government of the people."

In the first place, the Socialist party is not so much a party militant as an organization for the study of political economy.

The Socialist party is not endeavoring to establish classes, but to abolish them.

Recognizing that class lines do exist under our present system.

Accordingly the Socialist party takes an entirely different view of the trust from that of any other party.

It claims that in the evolution of industry the trust is the natural and inevitable thing.

The intelligent Socialist does not blame the capitalists for what is going on in the industrial world today.

Any man can belong to the party who severs his connection with other parties.

While the capitalists and the politicians are worried about the growth of Socialism.

right of kings. It opposes, not the church but is prepared to defend its faith against any man.

The Socialist has long heard others speak of "government of the people."

It, too, believes in government of, by and for the people.

The Socialist party does not discriminate between the sexes.

It believes that woman is as much entitled as man to have a voice in the affairs of state.

The Socialist party is unique in that one can tell the substance of its political platforms as well before as after they are adopted.

ORIENTAL IMMIGRATION

The reason American working men desire the exclusion of the Japanese workers from American soil is to prevent the Japanese workers from competing for the jobs which the workers must have to live.

The Japanese will hasten that day. They are bright, apt, and already they know how to utilize the common good.

That machine will produce very much over its cost of maintenance.

The Socialists look forward to the day when, from machinery better method and higher organization of industry, there will be a great surplus.

In order to reach an understanding of how to meet the Oriental immigration problem, we must arrive at it by an understanding of the immigration problem.

The Socialist hopes for the day when he shall be able to stand upon the edge of the world.

But what a fix he is in! Everywhere he is in the midst of ignorance, weakness, confusion, discord, opposition, resistance, oppression, calumny, hate and intolerance.
