

WOMAN THOUGHT TO BE LA PORTE GUNNERS CAUGHT

Captured by Syracuse Detective on Train; Answers Murderer's Description

Laporte, Ind., May 8.—Authorities here received a telegram early this morning notifying them of the arrest of a woman supposed to be Mrs. Belle Guinness, the Indiana arch-murderess, at Syracuse, N. Y. The message was sent from Utopia, N. Y., and stated that Detective Niess and Donovan of Syracuse arrived there at 1:40 o'clock this morning on the New York Central with the woman, who answers the description of the Laporte assassin. She was arrested on the train as it was leaving Syracuse, and the men brought her on to Utopia to await identification.

Bloody Ax Is Found Discovery yesterday of a blood-covered ax and a trunk containing important letters that may shed light on the mystery of the Guinness murders and connect Ray Lamphere more directly with the crimes followed the examination of the trunk body from the soil of the murder farm that now occupies the shocked attention of the nation.

The trunk, the property of Lamphere, accused of the latest murders in the wholesale laundry, was found yesterday in a barn at the Wheatbrook farm near Springfield, where Lamphere had been employed since Feb. 8, after his quarrel with Mrs. Guinness.

Many Other Letters Are Found Many other letters were found which the prosecuting attorney refused to make public. In the trunk were found a number of women's gold rings, some of them jeweled. Whether any of them were the property of Mrs. Guinness or possibly belonged to a woman in a question of the authorities to determine.

Will Seek to Free Lamphere Hours after this message was delivered to Lamphere's attorney detectives had found the trunk and had brought it here. More important revelations are expected after the contents of the trunk have been examined.

Shows Desire to Talk Told of the accumulation of evidence against him, Lamphere for the first time since his arrest showed a desire to talk of his relation to the woman and the knowledge he has of the crimes charged against her. At his request his attorney, W. H. Worden, was sent for to consider the extent of his confession, and went to the county jail.

Had Planned to Bury Pang; "Underaker" Failed to Come The Illinois Manufacturers' association, which, among other things, makes a practice of fighting laws for the protection of the lives and limbs of the workers, has started out to see what it can do to revive "prosperity."

Ornate Funeral for Pang The Illinois Manufacturers' association had planned to give the "recent" financial crisis, which through an error in the booking of its advance agent is still playing to capacity houses, a very ornate funeral.

Was Burke Intoxicated? In announcing the absence of Governor Burke, President Upham said: "Governor John Burke of North Carolina, I mean Burke—was to have been the speaker here today, and I can explain his absence only by saying that he probably met the governor of South Carolina."

Giving Mark Twain Twist The following promise with the resolutions, which might well have been written by Mark Twain, were presented:

TUNNEL STRIKE ON IN EARNEST

Trouble "Settled" by Lorimer Comes to a Climax Today

At 4 o'clock this morning a strike of the employes of the Illinois Tunnel company took effect. Nearly 300 men, employed as motormen, trainmen and switchmen, are involved, and about 1,200 trains daily, some of them carrying United States mail, will be tied up.

Company Broke Promise It seems that the company did not keep the promises it made to treat the union men fairly, and last night a meeting of the employes was called and they voted to strike, notifying the day shift, which goes to work at 4 a. m. not to report for duty.

RIOT AT ANN ARBOR COSTS STUDENTS $1,208 Ann Arbor, Mich., May 9.—The charges of rioting preferred against fifteen University of Michigan students as a result of the student outbreak here March 16, when a mob of 2,000 students attacked and wrecked the Star theater, were dismissed in the Washtenaw Circuit court after the students had reimbursed the county to the amount of $208.50 for expenses and paid $1,000 for division among persons whose property was destroyed in the outbreak.

LABOR IS GROWING MORE HAZARDOUS IN ENGLAND London, May 9.—The number of deaths from industrial accidents in the United Kingdom reported in the year 1907 was 4,696, an increase of 241 over the year 1906 and of 277 on the average for the five years 1903-1907.

PANIC TO FORCE CHANGE IN COMPULSORY EDUCATION LAW

The board of education has been confronted with a serious problem. Superintendent Bodine has realized that the present Illinois compulsory education law, which provides that children between the ages of 14 and 16 must be in school or at work, will never do under the present hardships of the panic.

What Resolution Says

"Whereas, in certain sections of our city the educational work in the public schools is greatly hampered and the progress of all the pupils is seriously retarded, because of the impoverished condition, mental and physical, of some of the pupils, due to want, lack of nourishment, and the absence of proper care;

"RED FLYER" IS COMING LOADED WITH SOCIALISTS

Kansas City Visitors Engage Special; Californians Coming in a Body; Gossip

The eyes of Chicago Socialists will be delighted when the Milwaukee "red flyer" arrives in Chicago Sunday with a carload of enthusiastic Kansas City, Mo., Socialist conventioners.

A special rate has been made to the Kansas City Socialists by the railroad company. A special feature that deserves mention is the fact that the "red flyer" has been painted a bright red, a color to the delight of the conventioners, who expect Chicago Socialists to sit up and take notice when the "Kansas City Red Special" arrives.

Special from California Californians Socialists have also made arrangements for the using of a "special" for the convention, on any secured on stopping at various places along the coast and picking up all the delegates intending to visit the convention.

With Banners Fluttering Chicago the southwest delegation struck town this morning. They did not have a permit for a parade, but they made a fairly good showing in that they were appointed on the Daily Socialist office, which they saluted with a ringing cheer that brought the police officers, who are domiciled across the street, to the windows to see what had happened.

There is a strength and virility about that "practical" movement, the promises good things. All the Oklahoma delegates unite in the statement that the state will surprise the country when the election returns come in.

Canadian Delegates Here A. W. Mance and Ernest Drury, fraternal delegates from Canada, have arrived for the convention. Both are good things. All the Oklahoma delegates unite in the statement that the state will surprise the country when the election returns come in.

LOCAL ERECTS A LABOR TEMPLE Ironwood (Mich.) Finnish Socialists Celebrate Completion

BY W. J. ROBERTS. (Mail Correspondence.) Ironwood, Mich., May 7.—From May 1 to 3, inclusive, the Finnish Socialists held three days of festivities in the dedication of their new hall to the emancipation of the working class.

On entering the building the slightest observation reveals the fact that much pains have been taken to make everything safe and comfortable. The interior is very excellently arranged for entertainment purposes.

Everything Shows Harmony. Everything from the cellar up shows the same feeling of brotherhood and peace to detail, reflecting nothing but credit upon the energy and ability of those whose hearts beating in sympathy with their fellow men have successfully reared a home for the edification and education of the working class in Ironwood.

With the same degree of thoroughness local members had prepared a good entertainment program. Some of them had trained themselves into a variety of well adapted and original songs and recitations, and others had learned poetry and prose recitations, comic and otherwise, which were rendered between songs both from the sexes and individuals, all with good effect.

Editors Make Speeches. Speeches of intellectual breadth and deep feeling were delivered by Alanne, a graduate of Wainwright University and present editor of the "Lighthouse," and Loukka, a former editor of "Työmiehen," now attending college.

Speeches from J. Korpi and others were received with much enthusiasm. From among themselves the comrades had also formed a regular theatrical troupe, and on the evening of the last day they put on a play of Schiller's entitled, "The Robbers." The lesson of the play they had in mind was very clearly brought out in sharp contrast to the very best and the very worst sides of life, with a strong appeal to the better instincts of mankind.

A full orchestra was in attendance with good music. It was very noticeable that the members worked in entire unison, each one fitting himself into the place for which he was best adapted, working with a vim to do his level best.

"Stars and Stripes." At the top of the flagstaff the "Stars and Stripes" floated to the breeze and no one complained of its red being an indication of anarchy. True Americans know that the red bars of the "Stars and Stripes" are but the price of our liberty, in the defense of which we shall be ever ready with the mighty red.

Let us labor on with love and patience for those who in their ignorance misunderstand us, but ever standing valiantly in defense of truth and a better civilization, until finally all mankind will be united into one bond of brotherhood, with the universal red as a symbol of universal peace and the time when war shall be no more.

Ironwood Should Be Proud. Ironwood should be proud of such citizens who, out of unselfish motives, give unlimited time and energy to building up a better civilization. The building itself is a credit to the town; and the balance of the working world should not disparage such noble efforts, but rather the opposite—to turn in with united will and render every possible assistance to the building up of the social commonwealth.

Iron Heel of Trusts. The time has come when the American people must choose between the iron heel of centralized wealth and trusts on the one hand, and the equal opportunities of the co-operative commonwealth on the other.

It has taken the child six weeks to complete his 11,000-mile voyage, and in that time he had not seen a face that he knew until his father greeted him on the pier here.

Warren is Guilty If Warren is Darrow Contends That Kansas Officials Violate Same Law

(Special to the Daily Socialist.) Girard, Kan., May 9.—The counsel for the defense in the Warren case, Fred Warren, managing editor of the Appeal to Reason, has secured evidence to show that any sheriff in Kansas and elsewhere have violated the same law which charges Warren with inflicting when he caused to be published the offer naming a $1,000 reward for the arrest of ex-Governor Taylor of Kentucky, at the time of the kidnaping of Moyer, Haywood, and Pettibone from Colorado to Idaho.

Attorneys Darrow and Boyle for the defense contend that if Warren committed an offense in sending the paper through the mails as another first-class matter, so did these sheriffs, and that if the sheriffs did not commit an offense, but simply followed a recognized practice, Warren cannot be made an exception and prosecuted.

Court Cannot Enjoin Police

New York, May 9.—The appellate division of the supreme court passed itself on record yesterday in six separate decisions as being of the unanimous opinion that the courts are powerless to enjoin the police from taking such steps as may seem necessary to enforce the criminal law. Granting injunctions against the police before they have committed any overt act is condemned by the appellate division as illegal and improper.

The decisions deal with the Sunday laws relating to theaters, music halls and moving picture establishments. Many injunctions have been obtained at the special term by proprietors of such places when the question was raised some months ago following Justice O'Connor's decision that the Sunday performances in the Victoria were unlawful.

Russian Army to Exclude Jews

St. Petersburg, May 9.—An anti-Semitic demonstration broke out in a duma last night during an executive session devoted to the debate of the question of terms for 1908. Lieut. Gen. Rudiger, the minister of war, and Minister of Foreign Affairs, Lelewel, both were present. During the course of the debate M. Zaslavsky, in a rapid speech urging the exclusion of Jews from the army, dwelt on the pernicious influence of the Jewish anti-government propaganda with the rank and file of the army.

M. Rodicheff, the constitutional democratic leader, in an impassioned denunciation of the Jews, also ridiculed the treatment of them. During his speech he was interrupted constantly by angry rejoinders. M. Rodicheff said the congress in the ghetto palmed the blame on the Jews for the Jewish centuries were the criminal causes of Jewish bodily defects. The sole remedy, he declared, was to lift the disabilities and to impose upon them the complaint that the Jews were responsible for Russia's catastrophes.

Schneider's Order Ends the War on Vaccination

"Please do not exclude any children from school on account of lack of vaccination," was an order, President Schneider of the board of education, sent to all the principals of the schools yesterday. This marks the close of a long contest between the parents of some of the school children and the board of education over the subject of compulsory vaccination. The defeat of the board appeared recently in a decision of the Supreme court of Illinois, which upheld the contention that the board has no right to exclude children because they are not vaccinated.

Ties Thread to Milk Bottle; Traces the Thief

New York, May 9.—Henry Kulowitz of 315 East One Hundredth street has been missing bottles of milk from the rear stop of his flat the last few days, so he got up early yesterday morning and tied a white thread to the bottle and put the spool beside his bed. A little while later the spool began to move, and finally was pulled out of the window. Henry lives on the ground floor and he hopped out of the window after it.

Hungry Man Tries to Jump from High Bridge

New York, May 9.—Pedestrians on the Brooklyn bridge here saw a shabbily dressed young man climb the rail on the south side of the promenade, near the Manhattan tower, with the apparent intention of reaching the roadway and jumping to the river. He paid no attention to their shouts and continued to climb over the girders.

Underwriters in Row over Body

A row that reached three undertakers yesterday afternoon at the police station resulted yesterday in the body of Dr. J. Sanderson Christian, who was found dead early in the morning, was ordered taken to a morgue at 22 North Clark street. Two policemen had carried the body to the ambulance from the room lately occupied by the physician at 24 Walton place, when A. Arntzen, an undertaker at 247 North Clark street, appeared. He refused to allow the body to be taken to the morgue, but reached the house in an automobile.

What Socialists Want.

We are constantly asked to explain the philosophy of Socialism in a few short, simple words that can be read in a few minutes and easily understood. This is impossible. Socialism is an elaborate system of thought that touches every phase of human life. It has a literature of tens of thousands of volumes, and has spent years on single phases of Socialist philosophy which have still not touched its depths.

Dump Jobless in Northwest Harriman Line Carries Idle Over Route Free From California

(Special to the Daily Socialist.) Tacoma, Wash., May 9.—Hoping to make the Pacific Northwest the dumping ground for from 10,000 to 20,000 unemployed laborers and vagrants who have been feeding at soup kitchens in California cities for several months, the municipalities of Los Angeles and San Francisco have reached a tacit understanding with officials of the Harriman line looking to the free transportation of this modern "Coxey's army" to Puget Sound, it is said.

Plenty of Work There

It was also intimated that there was plenty of work to be found about Portland, Seattle and Tacoma, and that men had only to find an empty box car in a northbound freight on the Puget Sound, and get a free ride to Puget Sound.

Police Watch All Trains

Officials of the Northern Pacific have been notified of this effort to rid California of the unemployed, and although the police are to be officially notified, admitted that orders have been given to keep strict watch on all freight trains leaving Portland for tramps and men stealing a ride.
