

BIG SOCIALIST GROWTH SCARES GREAT BRITAIN

Politicians Who Said That Movement Was on the Ebb Awake to the Danger

(Mail Correspondence.) London, July 2.—The following review of Socialist progress in the United Kingdom, written by W. Lawlor Wilson, is featured in the current issue of the London Daily Express, as a warning to the opponents of Socialism to get busy.

"In spite of all warnings to the contrary, some short-sighted politicians announce that Socialism is on the ebb. It is difficult to convince those who do not wish to see, but the facts in the present case are so conclusive that there is no room for doubt, and so serious withal that failure to understand them might well rob the Unionist party of the fruits of its present career of victory.

Between Three Parties The struggle for political supremacy is now and henceforth between three distinct parties, each independently bidding for the support of the electors—the Unionist, the Liberal and the Socialist-Labor, but some newspapers and politicians still seem to cling to the old engraved idea that the fight is now and ever between two parties alone—the Liberal and the Conservative. The sooner this idea is dispelled the better.

"If nothing else will open the eyes of the ancients to the revolution which has come over politics, the following figures should do so. They set forth in the columns the actual votes obtained by Unionist, Liberal and Socialist-Labor candidates in eleven by-elections held in the north since the summer of 1905.

By-Election Vote Table. The table of by-election votes is as follows:

These are remarkable and disquieting figures. They show that in eleven by-elections the Socialist vote has increased from 1,422 to 12,564. The Liberal vote has decreased from 1,740 to 1,194. The Unionist vote has decreased from 4,099 to 2,399.

Consolidation Seems Certain It was announced that the Socialist and Liberal candidates have been face to face, no Liberal competitor intervening. These are as follows:

Unionist Socialist. N. E. Derby 5,915 6,844 Belfast 5,021 4,194 N. W. Sligo 5,047 7,286 Liverpool (Wirral) 4,900 8,330

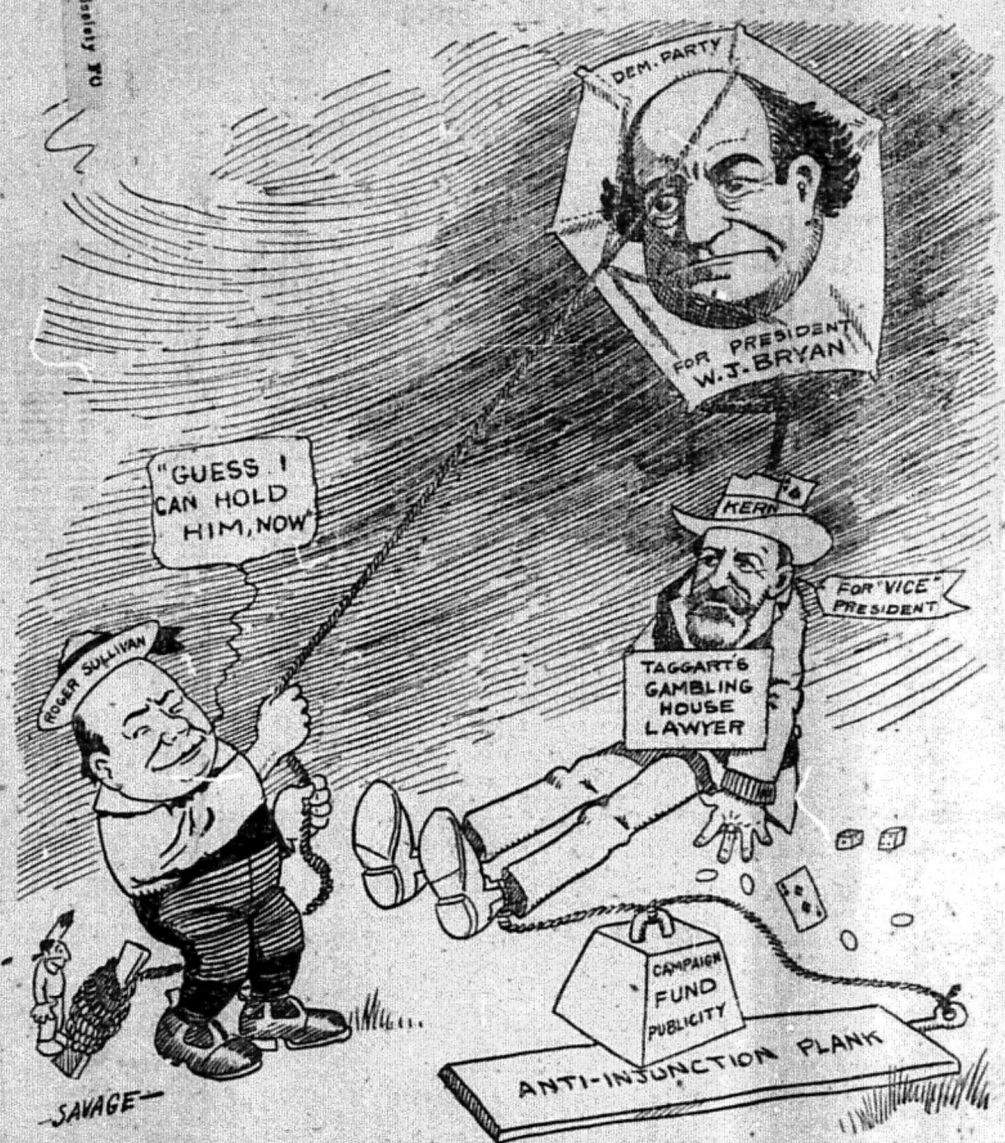

"If we add these votes to those already given, we find that in fifteen representative industrial constituencies of the United Kingdom the by-election vote has been as follows:

Unionist Socialist Labor. 52,897 12,564

These remarkable figures show that the hereditary Radicalism of the northern working class centers is breaking up—one fraction going to the Unionist side, a larger fraction going right over to Socialism.

Strides Made in 1908 The following short chronology of events records the great strides which have been made in the past year.

MINERS' UNIONS TO CONSOLIDATE

Western Federation and United Workers Lay Plans at Gathering

Denver, Colo., July 14.—There are indications that plans will be completed at the sixteenth annual convention of the Western Federation of Miners, which opened here yesterday, for a consolidation of the Western Federation of Miners with the United Mine Workers of America.

Consolidation Seems Certain It was announced that the Socialist and Liberal candidates have been face to face, no Liberal competitor intervening. These are as follows:

USES A CUDGEL ON ROOSEVELT

Phelps Stokes Makes a Stinging Reply to Attack on Socialism

Stamford, Conn., July 14.—J. G. Phelps Stokes and his wife, Rose Harriet Stokes, took up the cudgels yesterday in defense of Socialism. They criticized President Roosevelt sharply for his attack on Socialism at Oyster Bay on Saturday, accusing the president of "gross and unpardonable ignorance of the subject." Mrs. Stokes is particularly outspoken in her criticism.

Ignorance Is Astonishing "It is astonishing," said Stokes, "that a man possessing such facilities for securing accurate information as President Roosevelt has should continue to permit himself to be so grossly misinformed as to the tenets and principles of Socialism. It seems to me that as a matter of common fairness he should exercise even more than ordinary care in his public utterances, since by virtue of his exalted position his words command an unusually wide hearing and an error asiduously promulgated by him is more than ordinarily productive of harm.

"The principles labeled Socialism by President Roosevelt are diametrically at variance with the tenets and principles and utterances of every Socialist body in the international Socialist movement.

In Lunatic Asylums "I venture to suggest that if President Roosevelt were to investigate the views of inmates in our lunatic asylums he would find a large share of these inmates considering themselves Republicans or Democrats, and regarding their respective personal theories as entirely consistent with orthodox Republican or Democratic doctrines.

GOMPERS WILL GO ON STUMP

Federation Head Will Work for the Election of W. J. Bryan

Fairview, Lincoln, Neb., July 14.—Samuel Gompers told W. J. Bryan today that he would take the stump to ask union men of America to vote the Democratic ticket.

"I am not a partisan," he said, "but from the day the Republican party repudiated everything that had a heart-throb or aught of human justice in it, I have turned against the Republican ticket.

"The Democratic party declared for justice and I am with the Democratic ticket. I shall not only vote for Bryan and Kern, but shall make every honorable effort to bring about their election. I believe and hope that Bryan may be elected. I am for the man and the platform."

Other Laborites There. Gompers came from Denver on the same train with John W. Kern, the Democratic candidate for vice president. He was accompanied by James Duncan, first vice president, and F. Morrison, secretary of the A. F. of L. The three called on Bryan and were given a most cordial reception by the master of Fairview.

Formerly a Republican. Gompers formerly was a Republican. Since he became president of the American Federation of Labor he has abstained from taking part in politics.

WOMEN BRAVE DISEASE TO AID FREE SPEECH

Socialist Speaker, in a Cell With Dissolute Character, Denied Antiseptics

(Mail Correspondence.) Los Angeles, Calif., July 8.—Confined in the same cells with women who seek to improve on the miserable pay accorded to them in legitimate occupations by seeking a living by soliciting on the streets, the three socialist women arrested are exposed to all sorts of contagion. In the same cell with Mrs. Cloudeley Johns was a woman who suffered from a contagious and loathsome disease, which Mrs. Johns, having experience as a trained nurse, recognized as that disease which in its latter stages is like leprosy.

Refuse to Accept Bail The trials of the three women arrested in the fight for free speech, has been set for October 7 and the women have refused to accept bail.

Text of the Petition The petition which the Socialist women presented and which was signed by the police commissioners reads as follows:

"This open letter is addressed to your honorable body by the women who will go to jail tonight in the cause of equal rights of free speech in this city. In the hope that our beloved city may be spared the disgrace of incarcerating women in their filthy jail because of an exercise of their constitutional rights.

"The Socialist party of this city, in the hope that our beloved city may be spared the disgrace of incarcerating women in their filthy jail because of an exercise of their constitutional rights.

Socialists Keep Order "But now you have seen in defying your absurd ordinance in defending our constitutional rights we have kept order as no other street speakers ever have succeeded in doing and kept the sidewalks clear. This we have done in spite of rough tactics employed by a few of your patrolmen—very few, we are glad to state for the credit of the city, for Los Angeles is not yet Chicago.

"We have won something of your respect in keeping order under difficulties which would have made your patrolmen despair. At least we have won the respect of the public who have sworn to serve.

"We hope you may be ready to correct your former error and redeem our fair city from the stigma of being almost entirely given up to the rule of the United States where rank discrimination in the matter of free speech is practiced against the Socialist party.

Let Persecution Cease "But we urge you to wipe the stain from the fair fame of the Angel City. We demand the release of our boys who have lain in your wretched jail so long. We ask that this persecution of the Socialist party and its members shall cease.

"We do not want to speak on the crowded thoroughfares, as others are allowed to do, for we do not believe it right to interfere with the rights of others. The only non-meeting we propose to hold will be at Main and Railroad streets and at Seventh east of Central avenue, where there can be no interference with anyone's rights. Our evening meetings will be held at Fifth and Los Angeles streets; Grand avenue north of Seventh; Winston, east of Main; Eighth, east of Main; Hill, north of 5th; and, wherever the business of the city would be interfered with. These meetings will not begin until 8 o'clock and will end before 8:30 if the police will let us alone.

"You have absolutely nothing to fear from us, unless you fear to have our message of deliverance from the rule of exploitation and graft carried to the people on the streets.

"We ask for justice, fair play, and we demand it.

DAUGHTER OF CHIEF SHIPPY THROWN FROM HORSE; HURT

Miss Georgiana Shippy, daughter of Police Chief Shippy, figured last night in a spectacular runaway accident. She was cut about the head and barely escaped with her life.

Miss Shippy, who is accustomed to riding in the evenings, was on her father's saddle horse Captain, when the animal bolted and ran with the girl clinging to his mane. Pursuit was started by a policeman in a automobile, but at Halsted street and Webster avenue the horse shied and Miss Shippy was thrown to the ground, striking on her head. She was picked up and taken to the Augustana hospital, where the gashes in her scalp were dressed. Then she was taken home. At the hospital it was said that none of the wounds were serious.

CONFESSSION IS RULED OUT IN ADAMS TRIAL Judge's Decision Practically Ends Last of the Cases Against the Western Miners

Grand Junction, Colo., July 14.—The defense has rested in the case of Steve Adams. After producing eight witnesses, who testified that Adams was playing cards at Mrs. Kennam's boarding house in Ophir on the November night in 1902 when Collins was shot in Telluride and was still there when a man brought news of his murder, Jack Griffin gave particulars of the card game and his testimony was not shaken on cross-examination. The prosecution announced that it would close the rebuttal evidence by noon today and the case will probably go to the jury Wednesday.

Notch that has not been equalled in years. And the outlook is that things will mount still higher. Hogs and bacon are now at the highest of the year. Live hogs advanced to $7.10 yesterday, the highest price since last March.

Corn Is Now 75 Cents. Now corn is 75 cents and higher, and hogs are scarce. Bacon, which sold at 20 cents per pound on the decline in hogs, is up to 35 and 50 cents at retail and is higher than mutton. The advance in hams of 4 cents and of bacon of 3 cents per pound in the wholesale market has turned consumption to mutton, and it too, is advancing. Everything in the way of eatables is high except peaches and other fruits, which are low at the wholesale market, but the retailer adds 25 to 50 per cent profit to the wholesale price.

DEBS IN SPEECH AT MILWAUKEE PILLORIES TAFT

Appeal for Votes on the Anti-Injunction Plank Insult to Workers' Intelligence

Taft more almost than any other single man has served the master class faithfully and ably in its efforts to destroy organized labor.

Thus Eugene V. Debs spoke of the career of William Howard Taft, famed as "Injunction Bill," the Republican candidate for president of the United States.

They were about 5,000 people massed about the pavilion at Pabst park and Debs was forced to speak in competition with the noise of a shouting, gaily and a motor railway which were in full operation.

Speaks to 8,000 People The presidential candidate was introduced by Alderman Adams, who very briefly outlined his services in the struggle of organized labor.

It seems that labor has no rights which the capitalists and capitalist courts are bound to respect. When the great A. R. U. strike was on in 1894 the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers issued an order enjoining its members from handling the cars of the roads on which the strike was in progress.

Lennon Sent to Jail There was an engineer named Lennon on the Detroit, Cleveland and Michigan. Rather than obey the order of the Brotherhood Lennon quit his job.

The man who fined Lennon and sent him to jail was William Howard Taft. Taft thought that whole strike more almost than any other man served the master class in its effort to destroy organized labor.

Chicagoans Left Behind By this time the noise from the near-by shooting gallery and scenic railway had proved a severe test for Debs' voice.

On the way to Chicago about an hour before the boat reached the dock and just as the band had completed its program there was speaking in the cabin by Rodriguez, Franckel and Hardy.

A Woman with Titian Hair Just as Rodriguez began a young woman with Titian hair and glasses leaned over to her companion and with a look of political wisdom adorning her smile said:

"Hardly" and Debs on the same ticket. "Hardly" came the reply, and the explanation: "Debs is running on a separate ticket."

BAR CONFESSION IN ADAMS CASE (Continued from First Page.) That those promises and those threats, or either the promises or threats, may induce the defendant to make a confession which does not coincide with the truth.

Testimony in Examination He further testifies, under cross-examination: "Q. Now, as I understand, you told him also in that connection that the state advised fairly toward those that acted fairly with them?"

Many States Bar Them "Much more evidence has been adduced concerning the circumstances under which this confession was obtained, which, in my opinion, taking into account the material for the determination of the question now presented."

Was Made Under Fear "I am therefore constrained to hold that the confession made by the defendant in such circumstances as might have excited his hopes or fears, and that the confession should not be admitted in evidence, and do so rule."

Was Forced to Confess Captain James McParland, the Pinkerton detective, admitted that the promise of immunity had been the price at which he had procured the alleged confession of the murder of Arthur Collins from Steve Adams.

THE HUSTLERS' COLUMN

By H. G. Creel

WHAT THE SUBSCRIPTION HUSTLERS DID YESTERDAY.

New out-of-town subscriptions 82

New city subscriptions 8

Total for the day 100

"Why don't you raise the subscription price? Tack another dollar onto the rate. All the Hustlers will 'hustle' just as hard and just as successfully for $3 subs as for $2 subscribers. I will."

That's the way most of you Hustlers have written me during the past year. NOW'S YOUR CHANCE. By the time this reaches most of you there should be a big stream of $3 subs on the way to the Daily Socialist office.

Much depends upon the START. YOU'LL work all right, fair weather or foul. Of course you will! But there's a timid Hustler on the other side of town who is going to be mighty watchful of the Hustlers' column for the next few weeks.

I want you to dig in and SHOW that Hustler. Show him that the new rate will not interfere with YOUR enthusiasm and start himing them up.

Get to work in earnest. Work hard, because it was upon your suggestion and promise that the subscription price was raised; work harder to show the less aggressive Hustlers that the subscribers may be had in increasing numbers at $3 a year; work hardest because the Daily needs every ounce of energy you can muster in its behalf.

Start NOW and everybody boost for that $3 rate.

Little drops of water. Little grains of sand. Make the mighty trust wealthy. And the grocers grand.

"Long live the Daily. It's giving us the right kind of stuff. Savage is hitting the enemy hard. That cartoon of Miss Democracy in a director's gown showed up the old girl and her snafu fund."

This from William Brown, Sheridan, Wyo. The release is bound with heavy cord, one for three months and makes a one-dollar donation.

Want to know how to test the real oil? Page 121 in that prize book of trade secrets gives a sure test—such as the dealers use. Maybe you're buying water. Find out. Three dollars' worth of secrets of the same amount of sub. cards brings the book postpaid.

Five subs. come in a bundle from A. G. Rogers, Santa Barbara, Cal. Rogers checks the Hustler Editor's heart with this: "Another small bunch of name-ware to be sent you this week. Somebody else make the Hustler Editor smile."

And the eggs were laid this morning! That's because somebody failed to consult page 127 in the book of trade secrets.

Chas. A. Cox, Vancouver, Ky., boosts the literature department by ordering a copy of "Toilers and Idlers." Then he slips 50 cents onto his subscription and goes his way rejoicing.

Another foxy Hustler renews for eighteen months to come. His name is A. T. Henchy and he lives at Dudley, Idaho. Also he boosts the literature department for $15.

Now comes the sub. card brigade. These Hustlers are arming themselves with class-conscious ammunition and attacking the enemy in its stronghold—the un-awakened workers. Orders for cards and prepaid subscription blanks—turn to the Daily a much needed fund, and cards can always be paid for their face value. Today's orders are as follows:

FINANCIAL

I AM CONNECTED WITH THE ORGANIZATION of a new company whose headquarters will be in Chicago and which will be organized in the near future. It has a guaranteed dividend of 1 per cent per annum, but judging from the experience of other companies engaged in this business, it will probably pay from 20 to 100 per cent each year. One company is reported to have paid 100 per cent on the capital invested and the company engaged in this business has ever failed. The investment is safer than any bank stock and fully as profitable as any investment you can think of. Provision will be made for the withdrawal of any part of the money invested on 60 days' notice if the subscriber should need it. You can invest a few dollars, a few hundred dollars, or a few thousand dollars. Shares are 25 cents. Most of the stock will be taken in Chicago. Five party members here, all workers, have already bought nearly three thousand dollars' worth of the stock and you can understand that it is pretty good when I say that one capitalist offered to take the stock—$10,000. This offer was declined because there are good reasons why a company should be owned by the workers of the country. If you have some money to invest write for full particulars. I am sure you will be interested.

BOOKS OF MARXIAN SOCIALISM

"The Socialism that inspires hopes and fears today is of the school of Marx. No one is seriously apprehensive of any other so-called Socialist movement, and no one is seriously concerned to criticize or refute the doctrine set forth by the school of Socialists."—Prof. Thorstein Veblen in the Quarterly Journal of Economics.

The Socialist Program

III—THE TRUST QUESTION.

There are two ways of meeting the trust problem aside from the "let-us-alone-to-rob" policy.

They propose to smash the bad trusts and make the good ones behave. They have been trying this plan ever since the first trust appeared.

IT CAN HARDLY BE CALLED A SUCCESSFUL POLICY.

Yet it is all Taft or Bryan have to offer as a reason for asking for votes.

The Socialist does not make any distinction between "good" and "bad" trusts.

The good things about the trust are that it does the work of the world with less labor than many competing firms.

The bad thing about the trusts is that they are instruments for exploitation of the workers.

To put this another way. Everyone will agree that the trusts are a good-thing for their owners.

The trust is a bad thing for those who do NOT own it. It compels them to pay higher prices for the product.

The Socialist, seeing that the trust is a good thing for the OWNERS and a bad thing for the NON-OWNERS.

So the Socialist party platform demands—

The collective ownership of all industries which are organized on a national scale and in which competition has virtually ceased to exist.

If the trusts were collectively owned by everyone through a working-class government.

When you stop to think of it, you will see that this is the only possible solution.

We cannot "bust" nor "regulate," and IT IS A GOOD THING THAT WE CANNOT.

The Socialist demands that we TAKE AND USE this new tool for the BENEFIT OF ALL.

Idiocy or Worse

If President Roosevelt had stated that all astronomers agreed that the moon is made of green cheese.

If he had stated that physicists taught that gravitation is caused by the hypnotic influence of the stars.

But the president is supposed to be a sociologist.

He is not in a position where his ignorance or personal vagaries on astronomy can work any great injury.

Yet he has just made a statement with regard to Socialism, a philosophy and a movement believed in and supported by over forty million people.

"There can be no grosser example of privilege than that set before us as an ideal by certain Socialist writers."

The president is a student of books. Will he kindly state what "Socialist writer" ever set forth such an ideal?

Why did he not take the platform of the Socialist party if he wished a basis for criticism?

Such statements can be based upon no other foundation than the supposed ignorance of the people of this country.

From the mouth of the president such drivel is an insult to every man, woman and child in America.

It will make a mark on that tree with this chalk.

A STORY FOR THE PROHIBITIONISTS

BY LEWIS G. DE HART.

Howard and Molly Jenkins had been engaged for three years.

"Of course, Howard," he said, "you understand that it was pure carelessness, your getting caught in that belt."

"Hello De," he said, half shamefacedly.

"I don't look rough like I did when I thought I was going to be foreman, do I?"

"Where's the wife and baby and the old folks?" I queried.

"His face sobered, then he laughed, a hard, reckless laugh that told of worlds of past misery."

"And you," I continued, "I suppose you don't care now?"

"Not while there's a drink of whisky left. If it wasn't for Old King Alcohol I might. And say, De, can you let me have the price of a few?"

"I gave him what he wanted and left him. It was all I could do."

"Did drink make Charlie Howard miserable, or did misery make him drink?"

"He'll get well," said the surgeon.

A STORY WITH A MORAL

BY AN EVANSTONIAN.

Several days ago a powerfully built man of about 26 stopped me as I was walking through the train.

"Yes, sir," he went on, "about three or four months ago you left a copy of the Chicago Daily Socialist on the seat when you got out."

"Now for the moral—is it necessary? Comrade what do you, yes YOU—what do you do with YOUR paper when you have read it?"

"I take the Appeal, too, now, and your uncle gets in a big fat ballot for Gene Debs about next November—and you're to blame!"

"Where is a Woman Safe?"

BY ERMA VIVIAN JOHNSON.

She was a pale, delicate girl whose work and experiences had caused her to hold herself aloof from strangers.

By some circumstance we dropped our mutual antipathy to each other and became friendly.

"One day while discussing the outlook for girls to overcome the evils constantly besetting them I remarked that office work was the most degrading work for a young woman and that no girl of mine should ever experience the contemptible features with which I was familiar."

"This statement had been uttered frequently by me, but heretofore had never been taken exception to."

Morse Technical school," continued the manager. "We intend to introduce some up-to-date methods in shop work."

NOISE

By Robert Hunter.

On the Fourth of July in a small town near New York city the bishop of a great church lay near death's door.

It was a worthy act that everyone will commend.

On the same day some man, some woman, some child, in every group of a few hundred people in every city, town and hamlet of this country, lay in agony.

The coming of the Fourth was to them a nightmare. They knew that that precious quiet so necessary to the sick would be interrupted every minute during the day and night with violent shocks.

Mothers were giving birth to children. Fevered parents were praying for sleep.

But for a day the nation became hoodlum. They cared not to celebrate that great day with thought or study.

There was no time for thought. The giant Demos was freed from his slavery for one day, and he must spend it in riot and madness.

Had he tried to understand what that day meant he would have thought of all who suffer and are heavy laden.

He would have thought not only of the great bishop near death's door, but also of the multitudes made sick and sad and weary by age-long injustice.

JOURNEY OF A SOCIALIST

BY C. F. LOWRIE.

On a recent railway trip to central Montana I fell into my usual habit of "uncovering" as many Socialists as I could.

The first Socialist I uncovered was a well known Chicago comrade whom I unexpectedly met at the gates of the Union Station as I was boarding the train.

I quote one remark he made to me: "I have made considerable money during the last few years and expect to be in a position soon where I shall be able to devote most of my time to the Socialist movement."

Next to be uncovered was in Miles City, Montana, where we were delayed about eighteen hours on account of a poor road which had been robbed to swell the Harriman dividends.

I asked a clerk at the hotel if there was any Socialist organization in the city.

"Of course that's the proper place!" said I. "Why didn't I think of that before?"

Surely enough, the first policeman of whom I inquired said: "Go to the man that has charge of the city scales."

Here I found Comrade Wetzer, secretary of the local recently organized by ex-Mayor Chase of Haverhill, Mass.

Comrade Boomer of Washington had also held a street meeting on his way to the convention and incidentally galvanized the police department into activity.

While talking with Witwer a bronzed and grizzled veteran of the plains, a man of about fifty years of age, approached us.

He was introduced as one of the staunch comrades of Billings—a common sheep herder but an uncommonly good Socialist.

PROBLEMS OF THE SOIL

BY CLYDE J. WRIGHT.

You all remember that a few years ago the organized farmers made an outcry against that "lynx-eyed bluff for good butter, oleomargarine."

At that time the Grangers boasted that they had engineered a law to a successful issue imposing an exorbitant tax upon the artificial product.

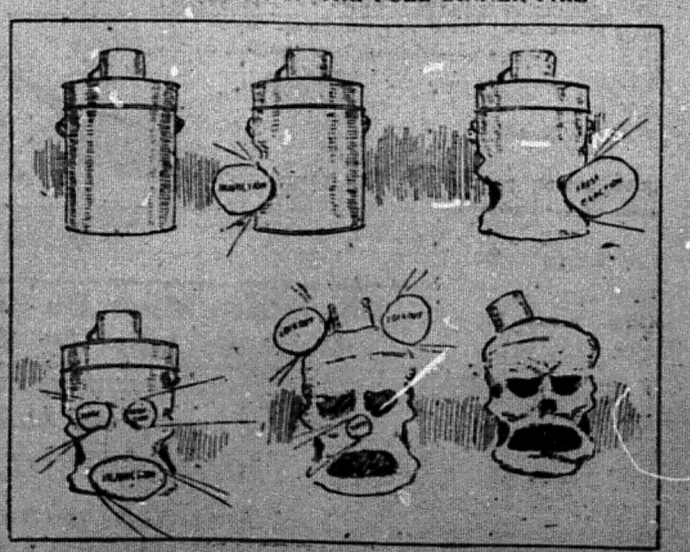

Now you will also remember that the farmers were somewhat bitter at the city working class buyers because they would not boycott oleomargarine and use pure butter instead.

The masses are hunting for something cheap, not from choice but because a wage system forces them to it.
