SOCIALISTS CONTROL MILWAUKEE

MILWAUKEE VICTORY

As Seen by Prominent Socialists Who Struggled for Success

BY VICTOR BERGER

(Secured especially for the Daily Socialist.)

(Secured especially for the Daily Socialist.)

At this moment of victory we appreciate our duty towards the national and international Socialist movement. We have gone through a campaign of villification by the Republican and Democratic parties, mainly directed against the red flag, against the international Socialist movement and against the revolution as has never been known in this city.

We must now show the people of Milwaukee that the philosophy of international Socialism can be applied and will be applied to the local situation, and that it can be applied with advantage to any American city of the present day.

On the other hand, we want to show our comrades all over the country that our principles will lose nothing of the revolutionary energy by being thus applied to a local situation.

Our party is by necessity a city party, first and forement.

Our party is by necessity a city party, first and foremost.

We have to win our cities first before we can win in a state, and then in the country at large. I know of no city where the Socialist movement is so thoroughly enlightened and so class conscious as in Milwaukee.

Years of continuous literature propaganda has made it so. Therefore I am day, admitting that Emil Seidel, Social-glad that this first victory came to Milwaukee, as I am sure we will take care ist mayor-elect, would make a good of the situation to the credit of the city and international movement.

BY EMIL SEIDEL.

Socialist Mayor-elect of Milwankee.

(Secused especially for the Daily Socianse.)

The city of Milwau'ee has vindicated those men who have worked, suffered and frught for this victory for the last twenty years. The werkingman does not want to be fooled any longer.

This is not a personal victory, but a victory for the principles of the Socialist parties was foreordained because they stood upon wrong principles. The success of myself and my, associates is an expression of the dissatisfaction of the people with the way the old parties have administered affairs in the city hall.

The victory is the result of long years of education carried on under great affairs in the city hall.

The victory is the result of long years of education carried on under great and Republican disruption.

"If one man is to be credited with it more than another it is David S. Rose, whose protracted gang rule, subservition that as mayor of Milwaukee in the principles of the Socialist victory is the fruit of the long years, of Democratic missrule and Republican disruption.

stood upon wrong principles. The success of myself and my associates is an expression of the dissatisfaction of the people with the way the old parties have administered affairs in the city hall.

The victory is the result of long years of education carried on under great difficulties by our party. I think the success of our ticket in this election marks the beginning of the true labor party, the party which in the years to come is to lead the common people, the working class, into power and give them some of the rights which capitalist rule has taken from them.

The sentiment of the common people has been crystallized in Milwaukee, and the good work started this day will spread to the far corners of the land.

We shall take up the task of carrying out our principles as soon as we enter into office. Personally I shall be at the command of the people of this city, trying to the best of my ability to be the servant of all, without regard to party, creed or race, and doing my best to serve them. I bear no ill-will toward any man, but I would like the people of this town to believe and realize that our party stands for the best that there is in American institutions.

I hope the people will stand by me in my endeavor to make Milwaukee a place where, indeed, the citizen, every citizen, may find it possible to attain the highest expression of that right to "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness" for which the fathers of this republic fought so well.

I want to see Milwaukee a city where every man can bring up his children in peace and comfort and make them good citizens and good men and women; where the common man and the rich man may find happiness and the enjoyment of the things which go to make life worth the living.

Our chief object will be to make good in the administration of the city of Milwankee. It is very certain now that we will greatly increase our representa-tion in the state legislature. This is very important, as we must fight the battle of the city in the state legislature because of the lack of home rule. Never in the history of Socialism in Milwankee have we been so furiously attacked on account of the red flag and our into intional Socialism, and never have we won such an overwhelming victory.

Re-elected alderman of the Eleventh ward by a plurality of 1,342 votes and Socialist campaign committee.

(Secured especially for the Daily Socialist.)

At no time in this campaign within the last two weeks could I see anything shead but a victory, for with our grand organization at work and millions and millions of pieces of literature distributed within the last ten years we have trained the working class of Milwaukee to that extent that neither the Republican nor Democratic party, as an individual party, could ever have an opportunity condition of process and individual party, could ever have an opportunity we still further build up our organization. We will make a streamous effort to send two representatives from Milwaukee county to congress next fall.

I have nothing further to say for the victory outside of this, that we have other campaigns. The Socialist party of Milwaukee will go on with the grand that leads of the states and disinfects cars every day, then the lose-tongued hotheads who clinks was rranged for in Rose. whill. I have nothing further to say for the victory outside of this, that we have other campaigns. The Socialist party of Milwaukee will go on with the grand that and we will be the first ones as doubt to carry the entry of the states and finally to the capture of the nation.

This victory is not only a victory for Milwaukee, but I hope it will help to spur on the working class of America to far grander battles in the states and finally to the capture of the nation.

BUILDING STRIKE SEEK TO ROB IN GERMANY

Berlin, April 6.—The greatest building trade strike in Germany is imminent. Delegates, representing the Socialist federation of trades unions, comprising 300,000 brick layers, carpenters, masons, builders and laborers unanimously rejected the wage scale proposed by the master builders' union.

Such a strike would affect at least 350,000 men, spread over the entire country. About 35,000 members of the Christian trades unions in the same branches also have decided without a discenting voice to join in throwing out the employers' proposition.

The workers demand that the tariff shall be drawn up by an equal number of representatives of the workers and employers. The latter up to the present have declined such a method of reaching an agreement. The men express themselves as determined to remain firm. They have been agitating for a considerable period for shorter hours and increased wages, pointing out the great rise in prices of the necessities of life.

The employers appear equally firm.

This success is looked upon as the entering wedge of the Socialist party of the United States as a fighting factor in the interests of the working class of this country. The Socialist movement of Milwan's e is pebuliarly a working class movement. Its candidates are working men. The men it elects to office are working men. The men it elects to office are working men. The brillant triumph that has just been made a reality after the struggle extending over a score of years will mean that the next victory will be the capture of the state legislature of Wisconsin. In the meantims it will also mean that at least one, gad probably two, representatives will be sent to Washington, D. This scene more than duplicated the one that occurred only a short time before, when the first special election extra of the Milwaukee Sentinel was brought to the hall, shortly before 3 o'clock, in which the capitalist newspaper, bitter foe of the Socialists, conceded the election to the Socialist, Making History

Making History

Alderman E. T. Melms held the pa-per aloft from his position on the stage and the Socialists cheered as they re-alized that they were making history for the Socialist party of the United States, the earlier reports showing a strong tendency in favor of the Social-ist ricket. It was all so easy the Soist ticket. It was all so easy the Socialists wondered how it had failed to happen before.
"This is the first large American city to be carried by the Socialist party," said Berger in addressing the gathering. "I want everyone of you to stand by Seidel and help us make good."

After speaking to this gathering Berger and Seidel went to the Frei Gemeinde Hall, where another large number of Socialists were considered.

"We must not grow tired," said Seidel, speaking again, "we must not grow weary. The work we have done thus far is nothing compared with the work we must accomplish in the future. In about six months we will be in another campaign. This will be the state campaign. You have smashed the ring at the city hall. It is now up to you to smash the ring at Madison. Get a home rule charter for Milwaukee and give to Milwaukee what of right should be hera."

There was a pathetic side to the tumult and good cheer of the excitement following the victory. In the throngs was one young man who, with tearr in his eyes said: "I wish my father was alive." There were many other sons who were thus reaping the fruits of the efforts exerted in the past by their fathers, veterans in the Socialist movement in this country as well as in foreign lands.

One of the warriors in the Socialist movement of Chicago who could not contain himself was Signsund Schlesing, of Chicago, who hurried to a telegraph office and sent a telegram to the Socialist Mayor-Elect Seidel as follows:

"I rejoice to see you elected. The Socialists of Wisconsin should celebrate this victory. I am the happlest man in the world."

"It is just as I expected. The workers are awakening; they are becoming enlightened and are gaining confidence in their ability to manage their own affairs. The great victory in Milwaukee will give great impetus to the Socialist movement."

Hopefulness is high in Chicago as a result of the Milwaukee election. The feat of capturing a big city by the Socialists so near Chicago, workers here feel convinced, is proof positive of the ripeness of the middle west for the doctrines of the party and the acceptance of them by the metropolitan city itself.

In spite of the widespread notoriety of the administration and the unfitness of both Democrats and Republicans to carry on the affairs of the city; in spite of the depredations of the gray wolves and the looting of the city hall by corrupt politicians; the numerous grand fury indictments and the still more numerous "near" indictments of the men who control the affairs of the city and the management of public utilities; in spite of the fact that politicians have united with corporations and the big business interests of the city, the people of Chicago have not yet realized that the only panacea is to be found in the proper manipulation of the ballot. The returns yesterday, however, in-dicate that they are beginning to awaken. The Socialist vote as given below compared with the returns from the last aldermanic election show steady in-

Penton, secretary of the Merchant Marine league of the United States and editor of "The American Flag," was placed under arrest, accused by Congressman Steenerson of Minnesota of criminally libeling him in an article. The magazine, published by the Merchant Marine league and edited by Mr. Penton, has been charging that foreign influences are at work to drive the Am-erican flag off the seas. Foreign cor-porations, "The American Flag" asserts, have approached members of congress in an attempt to influence them against a bill now before congress, the purpose of which is to boycott all ships built in American ship yards of American materials and manned by American crews of which is to boycott all ships built in American ship yards of American materials and manned by American crews and not flying the American flag.

Caught by Coup

A special house committee had called Mr. Penton to Washington to testify and immediately on his arrival he was arrested. His ball was fixed at $500. The article which started the trouble was headed "Steenerson Soon to Have a Chance," and reads in part:

"If Congressman Steenerson has any real solicitude for American labor, if he is in truth not throwing dust in the eyes of his constituents by declaiming against coolle labor, he will soon have an opportunity to show his sincerity. If he desires to supplant coolle labor with American labor he may follow President Taft, and the loyal members of the Minnesotz congressional delegant.

Total Presence to the cab. The employers at a meeting in the Congress hotel decided to suspend operations, as they cannot get reliable men to operate the machines.

Owen H. Fay of the Owen H. Fay Livery company stated that he would send out some old machines for a while to run the gantlet of the pickets, strikers and sympathizers, but there was no activity in automobile "row" today, in spite of this announcement.

Lyle McArthur, organizer for the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, with which the chauffeurs union is affiliated, declared that the auto strike could not be averted, as conditions for the chauffeurs had become intolerable.

Other articles say that Mr. Steener-son "is dishonest and an enemy to his country and his country's best interests, and that he, and men like him, are constant menaces to American prog-ress at home and abroad." Counter charges of lobbying and attempted intimidation are brought by Congressman Steenerson and his sup-porters. James McCleary has been revesied as a lobbyist for the Merchant Marine league. He made speeches for the ship subsidy in the pay of the league, through Penton, and appeared on the floor of the house. The ship subsidy bill supported by

The demands conceded to the Painters' Conference board are:

To return the charters of the insurgent locals, which were revoked some time ago; to revoke the charters of locals 521 and 101, organized in this city in the fight on the insurgent locals; to recognize the Painters' Conference board as the central body of the organized painters of Chicago; to revoke the charter of "Skinny" Madden's Painters' District council and to aid in the reorganization of the painters of Chicago along the lines already laid down by the Painters' Conference board.

There were more than thirty delegate from the Chicago locals at the La Fayette meeting.

By a vote of 96 to 3, Local 265 voted to leave Madden.

Rev. Eugene Hannon Says Roosevelt Can't Intimidate Statesmen Abroad

Washington, April 6. — "Theodore Roosevelt, the politician, has met his Waterloo," declared Rev. Father Eugene Hannon, pestor of St. Martin's Roman Catholic church in this city, in discussing the vatican controversy. "Like a bull in a china shop, he has attempted to jump into the vatican and override the etiquette of the most august court the world has ever known. The court of Rome is not given to assisting in political exploitations and has surely let Roosevelt know it in no uncertain manner.

"Roosevelt is the greatest press agent the world has ever known, but the people of Europe haven't much use for the press agent in politics. He may swing the big stick in this country to his heart's content, but it is folly for him to attempt to ride roughshod over the vatican."

Progress toward an advance in the freight rates on many commodities on the part of the railroads running west of Chicago which has been feared by the shippers for several weeks, was make, it is believed, at a meeting of the presidents and chief executive officers in charge of traffic of the western lines yesterday afternoon.

Those present were rejuctant to discuss the result of the conference, beyond declaring that nothing definite had however, that the principal subject of discussion during the hour and a half seession was the question of advancing many of the special commodity rates in carloads from Chicago to Missouri river points and St. Paul. The railroads are agreed that many of these rates, which originally represented special concessions to large shippers, are

The Hustlers' Column Celebrate Milwaukee.

One of the first visitors to the Daily Socialist office the morning Italian Socialist Is Visited per 100-lb. sack. after election was Comrade W. J. Schaeffer. He works in Miller's cigar shop on Halsted street, near Belmont. When the possibility of the election in Milwaukee was under discussion a few days ago the Republicans and Democrats were bragging of what their parties would do after election and how their victory would be celebrated.

Comrade Schaeffer had been watching the appeal in the Daily. He had wanted to help. He had listened to the call for help at the Garrick lectures and had wanted to make a pledge, but did not feel able to spare the money.

Now an idea was suggested to him. He said: "If the Socialists carry Milwaukee I will give a dollar to the Daily Socialist." There brought to light today for the first time were some other Socialists in the shop and they quickly agreed to make the same "bet" with themselves.

Thus the names of Henry Schumacher, Charles Namos, "Papa" Siegel and Abe Siegel were added to the list.

By this time the interest had spread, and I. Long, Democrat, announced that he was willing to "bet" two dollars on that game. Others came in, feeling sure that they would not need to redeem their

As a result, Comrade Schaeffer brought in $10.50 the morning after election with which to purchase subscription cards on the special offer. With these he is going to "celebrate the Milwaukee victory."

Try this in your shop. Tell them what it would mean with fifty cities in the hands of the working class. Show them the Daily Socialist. Tell them that the victory in Milwaukee and the whole Socialist movement depends upon the distribution of literature.

Then say that instead of celebrating in the usual capitalist politician method that you propose to celebrate by making more Socialists. Ask them to join you in that "celebration."

Try this TODAY, WHILE THE ENTHUSIASM IS HIGH. A week still remains in which to raise the remainder of that $2,000. We can raise it by "celebrating Milwaukee."

The Daily Socialist is going to have a regular correspondent in the city hall at Milwaukee and will publish full accounts of the work done. This will help to secure "celebrators" for this occasion.

BY JOHN M. WORK They have state wide prohibition in Oklahoma.

That is, it is as much of a success as the other laws against crime. They have a law against murder. Present conditions frequently lead or drive ple to commit murder in spite of the law. Yet no one advocates its repeal. The prohibitory provision is also frequently violated. Persons who are willing to commit crime in order to procure liquor are able to get it.

But, after giving the Devil his due, the fact remains that prohibition has vastly decreased the consumption of liquor. I have traveled in many states and have kept my eyes open. I can testify with certainty that the liquor conditions under prohibition are far and away better than under high license and open

Prohibition reduces the danger for the boys and girls to a fraction of that which exists under open saloons

It relegates the saloon to the criminal position where it belongs-along with ts twin sister, the brothel.

And it preserves and increases the aggressive and defensive power of the vorking class.

Every Socialist knows that the Equor evil can only be completely cured by cialism

But it can be remedied to a considerable degree under capitalism. Such remedial legislation redounds distinctly to the advantage of the working class, Therefore, we should give it our hearty support.

I made several talks in the country districts of Oklahoma and found large numbers of the farmers dead ripe for Socialism.

Most of them live in log houses or in board shacks with the boards running up and down and guiltless of paint. Save for the fact that these huts are loosely built that there is no way to keep out flies and mosquitos, I did not find myself deploring their primitiveness. I am not so sure that our alleged modern houses, with their so-called modern conveniences, are an improvement upon them. It may be that we will all be compelled to go back to living in tents in order to egain and retain our health.

But I do deplore the diet of these people. It consists mostly of pork, grease, molasses, hot biscuits, and coffee. They make hot biscuits for each meal. They eat few vegetables and extremely little fruit. The fact that the houses are loosely built is the only thing that prevents them from keeping all the bad air shut up in their bedrooms to use while they are sleeping. Of course, it naturally follows from all this that they have a great deal of sickness. They buy patent medicine by the harrel. the barrel.

But the most deplorable thing about their condition is the fact that it takes so much time to make a living that they have but little time to read. They read very little except papers. And I am glad to say that a great many of them are reading Socialist papers. They are as intelligent as the average workingman of the cities. They catch on to the truth more readily. They are kind people. They are very hospitable. They would share their last crust with a wayfarer.

These people are coming into the Socialist movement in droves. The more the merrier. We need them.

At the same time, and quite spart from the general servitude involved in the wages system, the working class ought not to exaggerate to themselves the ultimate working of these every-day struggles. They ought not to forget that they are fighting with effects, but not with the sauses of those effects: that they are retarding the downward movement, but not changing its direction; that they are applying palliatives, not curing the malady. They ought, therefore, not to be exclusively absorbed in these unavoidable guerrilla fights incessantly springing up from the ever-ceasing encroachments of capital or changes of the market. They ought to understand that, with all the miseries it imposes upon them, the present system simultaneously engenders the material conditions and the social forms necessary for an economical reconstruction of society. CATHOLICISM VS. SOCIALISM

BY ROBERT HUNTER

Three years ago I visited the West of Ireland. I had heard of the misery there and I went to see whether it was worse than misery here. By chance I fell in with a Royal Commission which was taking testimony on lition of the poor.

Commissioners were very kind to me and I went about a good deal with The Commissioners were very kind to he to the commissioners were very kind to he officials on their journeys of inquiry.

I spent one day with two exceptionally interesting and intelligent Irishmen.

One was a passionate nationalist. He was a dreamer and a poet who knew one was a passionate nationalist.

One was a passionate nationalist. He was a dreamer and a poet who knew and worshiped all that is Irish.

He belonged to all the patriotic societies and spent his leisure in reading of the golden days when Ireland was the foremost country, intellectually, industrially and socially of Western Europe.

The other Irishman was a practical, hard-headed official.

He held, perhap., the most important, if not the most ornamental, position

We were in the midst of an interesting discussion when we noticed from our car the ruins of an ancient castla.

We stopped for a moment to look ower the rine old monument, and then the idealist and the official began a heated controversy.

The official infuriated the idealist by saying he would tear down the ruins and build fences and barns and houses out of its materials.

The idealist resented such talk as a sacrilege and said that he would preserve those ruins with all love and care to the end of time.

He said that they were an evidence of the time when Ireland was a great nation.

Those ruins awakened in him and should awaken in the Irish people. the precious memory of the time when the Irish elected their lown rulers, lived in a state of democracy and owned all things in common.

'In that day,' he said, 'these fields were divided up each year among the people; they belonged to no individual, and into a common store was placed all the products of this community.

The Idealst then spoke of the well being of Ireland in those days, of the rich fields, the plentiful harvests, the great houses, the fine roads.

The Irish colleges and universities then drew scholars from all the more backward countries of Europe, and the Irish industries were famous.

At last he spoke of the rise of tyranny, the inclosing of the common fields, forcing of the people into slavery, and the rise of individual ownership and landlord said the practical official, "but those days are no more and the "Yes, yes," said the people are NOW in need.

Ireland when it was rich and prosperous and great?

I wonder if they have forgotten or ever knew of how Communism was destroyed in Ireland by tyrants that took the land and all the natural resources and wealth and made of Ireland the home of famine and of desolation?

And I wonder if they see no parallel betweeen the rise of big landlords in Ireland and the rise of big capitalists in America?

The fine Irish idealist may have overdone the peace and plenty, the learning and democracy of early communistic Ireland, but he did not overdo the crimes of Landlordism.

In any case, we venture to ask these anti-Socialist Catholic bishops and priests if they can really afford to attack Socialism and defend Landlordism and

That was rich. They asked me to go picketing. I'd like to see myself. It made me real mad, just the same, when little Ray was arrested, as if a body can't talk to a body nowadays. And the outrageous part of it is their saying that she tried to hit Moe—that big ruman. The poor kid, she's had a hard lot as it is—almost the whole family on her shoulders, when she scarcely makes enough to keep her own soul and body together. But talk about bravery, why there is none to beat her! I really like her nerve. I just wish I had some of it myself. When I think of meeting Jim my heart goes 'way down into my boots. And yet—I'm pretty well fixed as compared to Ray. Ma don't take anythin' for my board, and whatever I make is my own. But a body needs so much these days.

Was to see Minnie; she was hurt last night while on picket duty. God, how they live! It looks to me as though they couldn't afford a single day of idleness. Her brother Mack is out of work, her father never works, Sarah and Minnie are striking.

I—I really think that this strike business takes hold of you like measies or chickenpox. You catch the fever and no matter what happens you can't get rid of it until it's over.

Only one short week ago I would have laughed at the idea of my going down on strike, and today—sittin' there with all those that's got it—I was as bad as the rest of them.
