Labor Must Dispossess, Not Attempt to Buy Out Thieves of Capitalism

By J. LOUIS ENGDAHL

TODAY, the treasury department at Washington Informs the nation that 67 persons reported net incomes of more than $1,000,000 during the year 1922. This information is now to the series of the year part of the series of the year of the workers who engaged in the big strikes of the year on the workers who engaged in the big strikes of the year on the workers who engaged in the big strikes of the year on the workers who engaged in the big strikes of the year of the workers who went bankrupt. But these facts are revealing just and the workers are not million-dollar class since the war profit year of 1916. It far eclipses the 15 super-incomes reported for 1921.

Andrew W. Mellon, secretary of the treasury, the Pitts-burgh millionaire, is himself one of the top notchers among these multi-millionaires, which also Includes the two Rock-efellers, "John D." and "John D., Jr." with the two Fords, Henry and Edsel, heads of America's two richest families.

These figures help put a crimp in the widespread pro-

These figures help put a crimp in the widespread propaganda of the subsidized press to the effect that the masses, with their savings, are popularizing the control of grat corporations. The post-election Wall Street financial boom is still being halled as a great movement on the part of the millions, investing their money in the stocks of the great trusts not merely a gambling proposition. Not only the lower middle class, but also workers on a large scale, are urged to invest. Thus the banks of the Brother of Locomotive Engineers urge their depositors to tut their off Locomotive Engineers urge their depositors to tut though the proposition of the prop

It was in the year 1915 that the Commission on Industrial Relations made its report showing how helpless the masses are in the financial grip of the Wall Street money oligarchy. This was the year prior to the greatest number of incomes in the million-dollar class. This commission found that:

The control of manufacturing, mining and transportation industries is to an increasing degree passing into the hands of great corporations thru stock ownership, and control of credit is centralized in a comparatively small number of enormously powerful financial institutions. These financial institutions are in turn dominated by a very small number of powerful financiers.

On this basis, supported by facts, this commission de-clared that the final control of American industry rests, therefore, in the hands of a small number of wealthy and powerful financiers powerful financiers.

Thus, in the case of the United States Steel corporation, the final control rested in a single private banking house. This in spite of the fact that this steel trust had, in 1911, approximately 100,000 shareholders. It is shown that one and one-half per cent of these stockholders held 57 per cent or a voting majority of the stock of Similarly in the American Tobacco Co., the tobacco trust, 10 stockholders owned 60 per cent of the stock. This is true of every other great trust.

It might be well to restate some other facts for the benefit of those workers who are boing lured by their officials into believing that they can buy out the trusts. Ten years ago, before the wealth of the nation was doubled, six financial groups and affiliated interests employing 2.6514 wage earners, had a total capitalization of $19,975,200,000. These six financial groups controlled 28 per cent of the total number of wage earners engaged in the industries investigated. The Morgan-First National Bank group alone controls corporations employing 785,499 wage earners.

The lives of the men, women and children of the whole The lives of the men, women and children of the whole working class are therefore subject to the dictation of a relatively small number of men. This group gets smaller and smaller, as the power of the money oligarchy grows. Wall Street does not mind selling stock to wage workers, and white collar slaves of the middle class, during "good times" at high prices, and then buying back this same stock at low prices during "bad times." That is part of the minory-making blood-sucking business.

But even the most elementary study of the capitalist system must convince the uninitiated of the impossibility of "buying out" this money power. Only the complete dispossession of these capitalist thieves, who have already plund-red labor too long, will suffice. The exploited workers and poor farmers must come to power thru their own Soviet State that will completely obliverate thru the might of the proletarian dictatorship, the whole capitalist system.

tion of the discussion of the immediate tasks of the parry, and calling for the cooperation of all the members in the task of organizing the workers for the struggle against the capitalists. The resolution follows:

The party discussion has now come to a close and the membership meanings had recorded littict 8 has in the membership meatings had recorded benefit to the party. It has served to clarify the conception of the role and function of a Communist Party and its immediate manifestation in this District has been to draw the whole membership more actively into party work; price Executive Committee, District 8 calls attention to the need of our party more energetically than ever taking the lead in the fight for the solution of all the burning issues confronting the working class.

We call upon our membership of District 8 to unitedly take up this tremendous task and on the basis of comradely cooperation work unceasingly for this object. United action of our party is the first necessity for the victory of the working class.

The Anthracite Rebellion

The coal diggers of District No. 1 are in a stat of rebellion against the employers and also against their treacherous officials who have proven them selves now more than ever before to be the loya agents of the coal barons.

Sixty thousand miners threaten to strike today. and if the strike takes place, 94 local unions in-volved are threatened with a revocation of their charters by Rinaldo Cappellini, the renegade presi-dent of District 1, acting under the orders of John L. Lewis, international president of the U. M. W.

arons have brought to the front every agency at their command in an attempt to drive the rebellious coal diggers back to work. But they have signally failed. The miners have reached the limit of their patience. They grew tired of ap-pealing for redress of long standing grievances, so they finally decided to act under the leadership of the joint grievance committees originally used by Cappellini in his fight against his rivals, but now branded by the traitor as outlaws.

A very delicate situation exists in District 1, a situation that calls for very careful handling on the part of the rank and file leaders. to split their ranks, expel the radicals and drive the demoralized coal miners back to the pits under whatever terms the bosses and their labor lieuten ants see fit to give them. The miners are fighting two wings of the enemis army, the coal barons and the labor fakers. But there is another enemy in their midst; it is the secessionist, the dual unionist, who, taking advantage of the rebellious spirit among the members, urges a split policy. Of the three, the splitter is the most dangerous. The miners of District 1 should take a lesson

The miners of District I should take a lesson from the strategy followed by their contrades in Nova Scotia, who defeated John L. Lewis and his stophignens by strying with the union and ghtting on the inside for control of the district. This is on the mode for control of the district. This is and the Progressia Muraes Committee. It is the winning policy. It is the policy that Lewis fears most.

There was a disarmament conference held in Washington in the year 1921. The representatives of the principal capitalist powers coced like pigeons. The pacifists likewise. They thought a new cra had set in. Berhaps it had, but not in the direction of universal peace.

Lenin

The first anniversary of the death of Nikola Lenin will be observed tonight with appropriate exercises in the Ashland Auditorium, Chicago.

Workers who glory in the greatest revolution in uman history, in the establishment of the first workers' government and its successful struggle thru seven years of civil war, famine and blockade, will gather to pay tribute to the leader of the great revolution and the master mind who founded the political party of the workers and peasants that is the directing force behind the Soviet government, the Russian Communist Party, and the Communist International, the leader of the world proletariat.

The Workers (Communist) Party of America does not call on the working class to mourn Lenin's death. Rather it urges them to rejoice in the great contribution he has made to the task of emancipating the working class and calls on them to join the constantly growing millions all over the world, who are determined to carry on Lenin's work until the banner of Communism flies over every city, town and hamlet in the world as a symbol of the complete victory of the prefetariat and the death of capitalist class rule and exploitation.

The DAILY WORKER urges its readers to tend the Lenin memorial meeting and suggests that the best way for a class conscious worker to honor Lenin's memory is to join the Workers (Communist) Party, the party of Leninism, and help or anize the masses for the final victory over cap
