

BRITISH LEFT WINGERS FIGHT FRANK HODGES

Black Friday Betrayer Put on Gridiron

LONDON, Feb. 18.—Frank Hodges, civil lord of the admiralty in the MacDonald government and former secretary of the Miners' Federation of Great Britain was recently appointed at a secret session of that organization the post of international secretary of the International Miners' Federation.

The British T. U. E. L., the British minority movement, which corresponds to the Trade Union Educational League in the United States is circulating the minutes of Great Britain calling attention to the reactionary character of this notorious lackey of the employers.

The miners are urged to raise the question of Hodges' appointment at a national miners' conference to be held on February 27. The secretary of the National Miners' Federation is not W. A. Watkins. The following circular is being distributed among the members of the miners' union:

Follow fellows in the mines of Britain! According to a report in the Daily Herald, January 26, Mr. Frank Hodges was elected, by a secret vote of members of the International Miners' Federation, to the post of international secretary of the International Miners' Federation. This vote was actually a minority vote, Hodges having only 21 or 25 several members of the mine who voted when the vote was taken.

Will the miners stand for this? So far as our knowledge of the affairs of the executive committee goes this is the first and only questionable method has been adopted in the appointment of any official to an important position and the increasingly important position of international secretary. We therefore ask you to challenge the right to put this decision into operation, and utilize every legitimate means at your disposal to prevent the election of Hodges, unless the question has been raised and discussed at a national conference and the British miners elected by ballot vote.

Britain's Quota Towards Unemployment of Miners International Unions? Will the British miners alienate acquiescence in the payment of $2,000 annually in creating a position for the man of black Friday fame? The man who made possible the notorious agreement, following the disastrous week of 1921: the "political carver" who professed the "right" of appointment of civil lord of the admiralty to the secretaryship of the Miners' Federation of Great Britain? The associate of royalty and their hangers-on, whose trip in an aeroplane to Vienna in 1924 cost the British Miners' Federation £35 or £40 when he was in receipt of his ministerial salary, which hundreds of thousands of the miners were struggling to pay their contributions to their respective unions out of 40 p per week.

Let every intelligent miner in the British coal field raise this matter at his next branch meeting and demand that a resolution be sent to its respective union, urging them to press for the matter to be taken up at the national conference on February 27 with a view to securing a ballot for the position.

Remember that the position of international secretary is the most important position in the miners' movement and you have the right to elect the nominee for Britain.

Building Before Students NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 18.—Plans for assisting poor students through college instead of donations for more expensive buildings is the advice of Robert M. Hutchins, secretary of Yale University to prospective benefactors of the college. "Yale costs an underdog about twice as much now as in 1916," he claims. If help is not given this year who must carry their way through college wholly or in part the school will become a college of rich men's sons exclusively, he warns.

COMMUNIST CHARGES THAT McVEY "PROGRESSIVE" OPPONENT HAS NO PROGRAM TO AID WORKING CLASS

"Machinist by trade—born in Riga, Latvia," supported by Communist Party stands for a program, however, Doseberg's opponent for reelection, was declared by the league to have very bad record.

On the matter of the traction line Brooker explains that the Workers' (Communist) Party stands for: (1) Public ownership of public utilities. (2) Elected, it will work for the immediate removal of all public utilities from ownership of private capitalists and confiscation of franchises, direct public management with workers' control, service for use, not profit.

"As a Communist, I stand for a unified surface, "L" and subway, municipal ownership, with operation through special workers' committees and general transportation unions of employees, reduction of fares, and better service, and a program for a general scheme which aims to deliver into the hands of capitalist politicians and bankers the profits and even control of the surface lines, "L" structures and prospective suburbs.

"McVey's platform he speaks about taxes and profit, neither of which concerns the workers, for the problem is not wages and the general level of the job and political power of the workers. As a self-styled pro-union, McVey stands for unionism for municipal ownership."

Brooker then stated his program for the Workers' (Communist) Party for February 24. In the 34th Ward of New York City, he said, he would like to see a platform of "L" structure and a candidate endorsed by the Workers' (Communist) Party for the position of international secretary of the Workers' (Communist) Party.

GREENWOOD, Miss., Feb. 18.—

Casey, in Holmes county, near here, was reported quiet today following a wild scene of disorder last night when Hal Winters and his brother, Negroes, were taken from authorities and hanged by a mob which charged them with murder and attempted murder.

The negroes were taken from county officers after they had been captured in a swamp to which they had fled after Hal Winters was said to have shot and killed Wesley P. Martin, 45, a plantation manager.

Washington Senators Urge Humphreys As U. S. Attorney General

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 18.—Democratic Senators Dill of Washington and Mayfield were active in behalf of William P. Humphrey, stippling lobbyist and lumber trust lawyer, when Humphrey's nomination to the federal trade commission which he had just been elected to control by that body by the trust—was favorably reported from the senate committee on interstate commerce, on Feb. 15.

Nomination of Thomas Woodcock, former editor of the Wall Street Journal, was held up by agreement with other congresses, because the Democrats said that a southwestern man be least selected to that commission.

State Cossack Bill Hangs Fire In Legislature

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 18.—Introduction of the state police bill, which was scheduled for this week, may be held up by the legislature, Senator Harry Dunlap declared, because members of the house have asked that the bill be considered simultaneously in the house and senate.

BOOTLE PRISONER 'LOANED' DEFUSE $5,000 FOR ICE BUSINESS

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 18.—Another case of a bootlegger in the United States pentagon here was placed in the record today at the plea of a bootlegger, William Warden and L. J. Fletcher, his chief deputy on charges of conspiracy to smuggle and transport liquor.

Mannie Kessler, New York bootlegger, serving a sentence at the prison here, was sentenced to L. J. Fletcher $5,000 with which to further plans to enter the ice business in Miami, Fla.

When the chairman of last Tuesday night's meeting of Local 39 of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America ruled that charges against one of the members of the local must be made in writing in order to be held, the meeting broke up in a riotous manner and falling to do this called on those present to leave the hall.

When the reactionary business agents and their henchmen left the hall, a committee was selected with instructions to draw up charges against the disruptiveists.

Moscow and Chicago— City of Communist Dawn, City of Capitalist Decay

By J. LOUIS ENDOHAHL

TODAY, it is definitely stated that within a short time the population of Red Moscow, capital city of Soviet Russia, and at present the home city of the Communist International, will reach the two million mark.

On July 15, 1924, the population of Moscow numbered 1,772,000 inhabitants. Its rapid growth will soon place it on a par, so far as population is concerned, with Berlin, Paris and Chicago.

Thus another fable of the counter-revolutionary propagandists is shattered. They have been trying to tell the world, these past years, that Bolshevism had destroyed Russia's great cities. It is true that in the early years of the revolution, many workers returned to the land, due to the temporary collapse of industry. But they quickly returned with the revival of industry, following the liquidation of civil war, counter-revolution and intervention.

These facts were never pointed out by the anti-Sovietists, they only pointed out the populations of the cities, especially of Moscow as decimated by plagues and famine. Utter nonsense.

The influx of new inhabitants into Moscow from the provinces has now practically ceased. The increase in population now is almost exclusively due to the birth rate which is higher than that of the populations of the cities.

LET THE WORLD KNOW THAT, AT THE PRESENT TIME, THE DEATH RATE IN MOSCOW IS LOWER THAN THAT OF LONDON, PARIS, BUDAPEST AND WARSAW.

THE FALL OF THE DEATH RATE HAS BEEN PARTICULARLY SHARP AS REGARDS MORTALITY AMONG CHILDREN. IT IS SHOWN THAT BEFORE THE WAR INFANT MORTALITY IN MOSCOW AT 250-280 PER THOUSAND, BUT IN THE PAST TWO YEARS IT HAS BEEN 160-180 PER THOUSAND.

IN THE PROVINCE OF MOSCOW, WITH ITS 2,250,000 POPULATION, THE DEATH RATE HAS ALSO DECLINED. IN 1914, THE YEAR THE WAR STARTED, OUT OF EVERY 10,000 THERE DIED 301 PERSONS. IN 1923 THIS RATE FELL TO 172. ALMOST ONE-HALF UNDER THE OLD RULE OF WHAT IT HAD BEEN UNDER CZARISM.

But this is only the beginning. Soviet Russia has only begun to fight disease. Soviet Russia has only been able recently, to begin grappling with the problems of its great municipalities. But progress will be more rapid henceforth.

Contrast Moscow with Chicago. Moscow is doing everything it can to solve the housing problem for its workers. Chicago perpetuates its slums. Chicago looks first to the gilded palaces of its "Gold Coast."

Its least care is the housing of the poor. Moscow has taken the palaces of the once rich and is using them for the benefit of the many; usually for the children. Chicago sees great profits in the parasites few and then permits them to be boarded up most of the year while the owners are away in Florida, California, or at the fashionable watering places of Europe.

In the meantime Chicago's workers continue to huddle in their shacks and tenements. Moscow is solving its transportation problem. It plans its transit system to benefit its population. Chicago's street and elevated railways and its bus lines operate for the benefit of the bank accounts of the transportation profiteers.

Moscow is being rebuilt. The scars of czarism will disappear. A city beautiful will arise. It will develop into an ideal municipality under Communism.

Chicago will continue to grow with the one object in view of making money for its capitalist overlords. It will continue to be known as the White Star Motor Coach Lines of Illinois.

These are some of the things for the workers of Chicago to think about. They should study the issues in the present municipal political struggle.

Only support of the Workers (Communist) Party and its candidates in this campaign will aid in hastening the day when workers will terminate and rebuild in their interests the city of Chicago, as labor is now doing in Red Moscow.

COMMUNISTS WIN FIRST PLACE AT SOCIALIST BALL

"She Ain't What She Used to Be"

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Feb. 18.—"She ain't what she used to be" Such was the general opinion of observers at the sixteenth annual "Socialist masked ball." This is an institution in Milwaukee which brings back fond memories of bygone days when the Milwaukee workers, mistakenly in thought that Victor Berger and Edna Hean were racing revolutionists.

Better, Edna was alive revolutionist. But, as stated, "She ain't what she used to be." Though the old socialist "leaders" were these except Victor, who is enjoying a trip to Panama at government expense and tried to make things look natural. The crowd also saw many girls and few boys and all that. But, nevertheless, "She ain't what she used to be."

The anti-Sovietists, they only pointed out the populations of the cities, especially of Moscow as decimated by plagues and famine. Utter nonsense.

For there, in the forefront—in fact, the only one—of grand marches, building much else was to be seen, were Communist banners borne by a "Left Wing" of the "Socialist Party."

Strike of 2,000 Street Cleaners May Last Many Days

(Continued from page 1) The department of public works called in Alderman Woodhull, chairman of the city council finance committee, to determine whether the strike might last a week or more and grant an increase in the labor agreement. Gulligan declared the strike might last a week or more and said that strikebreakers would be hired if the strike lasted more than a few days. Carozzo predicted that the strike would last some time.

Carozzo, telling of the unbearable conditions imposed on the street people by the union, declared that they are not given steady work.

"We are asking for more money," he said. "But the real trouble is our members are not given steady work. Some are allowed to work only two or three days a week and since they are mostly men with large families, it is impossible for them to make a living."

Carozzo answered the charge of Commissioner of Public Works A. A. Sprague that the strike was called without notice by declaring that Sprague tried to repair fenders in violation of the verbal agreement with the union.

TEXTILE CAPITAL, NORTH AND SOUTH, IN UNITED FRONT

Labor Must Approach Problems on Big Scale

During which 40 per cent cash dividends and 100 per cent stock dividends were the routine of life of New England textile stockholders—that it was these golden floods which attracted the south with capital and made cotton mills grow there like mushrooms.

No Labor Unions in South
The power that this gives to the monster textile combine is immeasurable. And the combine is using every means of that power. A peculiar feature of it is seen in the fact that if the south the textile industry specifically a virgin field in the eyes of labor.

For example, the Standard Daily Trade Service said last December: "Resistance to wage reductions in the south is not expected to be strong, inasmuch as THIS IS A NONUNION SECTION, but in New England the workers will in all probability unite to oppose them..."

SMALL STICKS FINGER IN TRACTION LINE PIE

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 18.—Governor Len Small took a hand in the traction situation today, serving notice on Mayor Dever that the traction ordinance will be investigated by the Illinois Commerce Commission before the end of the week.

Small is anxious to boost the political prestige of William Hale Thompson, who wants to be elected mayor in 1927. Small plans to conduct a state investigation, discredit Dever's traction plan, and then ring in one of his own.

Into the mill he eagerly brings himself, his wife and his children—these cotton manufacturers have been ferocious in their opposition to the child labor amendment—ready to work labor amendment—ready to work a matter of course from sun-up to sun-down in the Hut-laden air for just a little more sobriety and common labor unions—Some strange, exotic words akin to the dread word, Bolshevism.

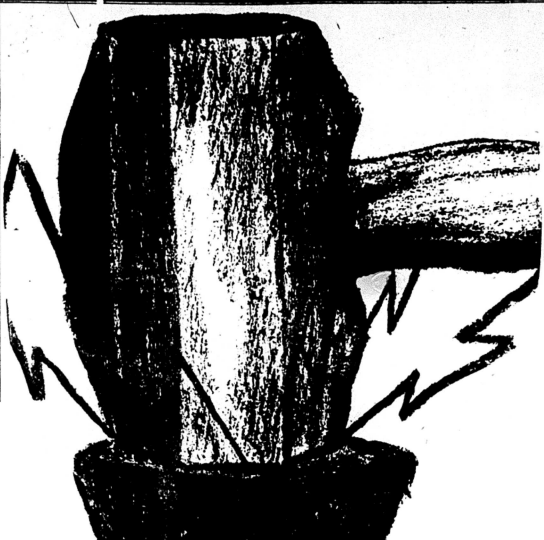

Put Up Own "Leaders."
"Furthermore," continues the publication, "the southern mills have been remarkably free from labor trouble owing to the fact that unionism has been practically no headway in that section."

A study of the recent utterances of various textile barons leaves no room or doubt that it is their concerted plan to hold the south by means of "welfare" frauds, trickery, force and violence, or any other means against the introduction of labor unions, and to use any and all of the same means in the present wage-cutting, open-shop drive to reduce the New England textile workers to the same basis of collaboration which they establish in the south.

See 25 Per Cent Cut
We judge the probability as to how we cannot escape the conclusion that the objective of the New England drive is at least 25 per cent cut and increased open shop. Textile manufacturers' references to the necessity to "compete with their own southern mills which have the advantage of newer machinery" give even some basis for the suspicion that they intend to have New England take out more than the 25 or 30 per cent.

Use This Spike just as the DAILY WORKER uses capital-ism-KNOW IT. His eye captured the headline. It is bold-headed, too-like capitalism. It needs firm blows. It needs to be BURIED—not just to be buried. And like capitalism, it calls for CLASS ACTION. An army of blows to bury the spike!

How many blows can each branch of the Workers Party give?
Take the Yukon, Pa. One branch, for instance. On Dec. 25 there came $100 to the DAILY WORKER from its former secretary, Mike Gralich. He wrote as follows: "The mine there the rest of our comrades 'bowed and scraped' 9 months ago, and now our branch doesn't exist any more. But I send you all I can for myself, but I don't live in Yukon any more, tho' my family does. I had to get a job in East Pittsburgh."

Exploits Eager Desire for Capitalist "Success"
By CARL HAESSLER, (Federated Press Staff Correspondent)
The open shop college of business success, the La Salle Extension University, is making a soft thing out of its eager customers who seek by mail to become financiers and executives and experts in getting something for nothing. It is declaring a 100 per cent dividend on its closely guarded shares which have regularly paid up a year's dividend since its inception.

BECAUSE we have not appealed for funds until the recent insurance drive, many of our readers may be justified in thinking that we get our funds from heaven or from some other place. We don't. We are now making a serious appeal for support. We want to make a real united front with our readers by asking them to join with us in driving home the spike on this page down, until its head disappears. Just imagine you are driving a nail in the coffin of the capitalist system and you will get that thrill that comes once in a lifetime.

EVERY reader of this paper is invited to send in a dollar. One dollar will not make the spike sink very much but "constant dripping wears away a stone." We can get dollars coming from all directions, from over the United States, as if they were wings, coming as fast as letters from vegetarians when the DAILY WORKER was a kind word for roast beef. We expect to publish some very interesting letters in a few days from our dollar brigade. And their names will appear in the Roll of Honor in our March 5 edition.

LOEB TO TELL STORY OF THE DAILY WORKER

Public Invited to Look Behind the Screen

Would you like to be initiated into the mysteries of our country's "labor daily to bed"? No doubt you will. It should understand that "going to bed" is shop talk for getting in foreign mine unions.

Before the writer penetrated into the mysterious career of newspaperman, he was an advertiser in the upstairs level to an editorial room as a stage Johnny in the part of the theatre that is behind the footlights, particularly when the asbestos screen is down.

When you pay three cents for a copy of the DAILY WORKER on the news stand, or when you get it thru the mails, I hope you do, you know very little of the myriad movements that go into producing it. Daily Manager to Speak.
Moritz Loeb, business manager of the DAILY WORKER will speak next Sunday at the Workers Party Open Forum on "How a Labor Daily Goes to Press." Contrary to Loeb was the chief revolutionary mil-lieu who officiated at the birth of the DAILY WORKER. As an advertiser he has few superiors, and the continued growth of our daily is a great measure due to his capable management. Formerly he undertook his present task, he was secretary of the Friends of Soviet Russia in Chicago, and organized one of the most successful tag days ever held in the city. Later on, he was appointed secretary of the Labor Defense Council and started the campaign that raised $100,000 for the defense of the Communists in Michigan.

More Evidence of "Stability"

Two events of major importance feature the news from Europe.

First, the deportation of Germans and the confiscation of German property by Rumania, actions that are usually understood to mean a declaration of war.

Second, the friction between the Polish government and the nation.

These two events are the most eloquent testimony possible to the growing chaos of European political affairs, a chaos that cannot be concealed by labored optimism of the imperialist press and which coincides with the end of the period of social pacifism.

Rumania and Poland are both tied to the chariot wheels of French imperialism. Poland, although nominally a catholic country, is forced to make concessions to the anticlerical policy of the Herriot government and thus shatters the dream of the catholic church of a catholic state in central Europe to replace the vanished Austro-Hungarian Empire.

Rumania has in all probability been induced—not a hard task—to take the offensive against Germany as a reminder to the weak German government that the hand of French imperialism is on the job in the event of default on reparation payments.

Great Britain, who wants and needs stability in western Europe, looks jealously at these evidences of French influence. She takes them—and rightly so—as indications of the hell that the French imperialists will raise if British pressure on the franc and in the matter of armaments becomes too strong.

The league of nations looks on helplessly and sends out bulletins of the "progress" made by various countries about as large as a good-sized North Dakota farm—progress marked by the murder of all the leading members of the Estonian Communist Party.

Yes, the Communist International declares that the conflicts between the national capitalists inevitably prevent any real unity and recuperation of world capitalism, it says a mouthful.

City Authorities and Street Cleaners

The strike of the 2,500 Chicago street cleaners and garbage department workers whose tasks are of the greatest value to the whole community, is the most important in the city's history.

The wages of the great majority of these men are about $2.00 per week and they are asking an increase of about fifty cents per day.

The city authorities claim that they were not notified of the intention of the union to strike and we hope that this is true. If it is, it indicates that some progress is being made in an industry where prolonged negotiations which allow the authorities to make full preparations to break the strike are the rule.

The statements of city officials published by the capitalist press mention the fact that the union is available and covertly threaten the employment of scabs, with the additional information calculated to line up the little taxpayers against striking workers, to the effect that the wage raise asked would cost the city $400,000 per year.

A city which can afford to turn out its police and fire departments to greet the representatives of the pope and labor haters like Brigadier-General Brien, to march the dozens of other class enemies of the workers for whom we have been stazed, can easily afford to give the very moderate increase asked by the workers who job is to save the lives of the population by keeping the streets clean.

This is the time for the workers in the sanitary department of the city of Chicago to make their importance felt.

Let the strike of garbage fillers all the tax payers and the bosses of the Chicago rich who look upon a garbage man as the lowest thing in creation.

The "Forward" of the Bosses

The Daily Forward, in refusing to carry news of the strike of New York laundry workers because it received publicity and support from the Communist and Communist press, is using an excuse that does not hold water.

A few days ago we told of the support of a scab economy in Los Angeles by the Forward and the sabotage of the strike of the laundry workers by the Forward.

It is prepared to flatter the workers when they do not fight, but let them begin to wage war on the boss and his government and the Forward shows its colors—the black and yellow flag of the capitalist counter-revolution and its middle-class supporters.

The Forward is against the class struggle in its very expression whether it be the Russian revolution or a little strike of laundry workers.

TEXTILE BARONS CUTTING WAGES THRU BAW STATE

Workers Get Publicity Instead of Wages

By A. ALDEN.
 EASTHAMPTON, Mass., Feb. 18.—In line with other textile mills of New England the largest of which is the West Boylston Mfg. Co., have cut wages 10 per cent.

In normal times this mill employs over 3,000. At present it runs on a 50 per cent basis.

The workers are acutely discontented and grumblings are heard on every side, but as this mill is a scab mill they can't do anything. In fact all the mills in this town such as the Glendale Elastic Fabric Co., Colton Mfg. Co., Hampton Mills, etc. are all scab mills.

The only strike this town has ever witnessed was in 1918 at the West Boylston Mfg. Co. The U. M. W. Local was organized, but due to poor leadership on the part of the union organizers, the strikers were defeated and soon after the U. M. W. Local also died.

The present wages of male workers here are $12.00 to $13.00; female, $9.00 to $10.00.

Some of the inspecting and shipping departments have regular school sessions after hours in the evenings on burlesque (telling inspecting that in the morning they can't work for their money) and in the afternoon the girls that have the largest number of letters on the part of the union, the star opposite her name. The girls who have their names on the posters are the first ones to be laid off.

The West Boylston Mfg. Co. and other mills in this town. They are related to their respective employees and they have taken out of pay envelopes.

It is made in a convenient pocket size. You can carry it around with you and spend many useful moments in giving this collection of Communist classics a really pleasant "once over."

Every book and pamphlet listed carries a brief description of its contents to advise you if it is exactly that missing link in the chain of your knowledge. And if you want to brush up on a subject you feel somewhat "rusty" about, why you are sure to find it here.

But there is a special value in it that we must remind you of. When you take up your stopwatch, you soon find that there is one subject at least in which he is interested. You no doubt have often said to yourself: "I wish I knew of a book on that subject from a different point of view, I'd lend him my branch!" If you have had this experience—write for a catalogue!

The hands of the Communist propagandist has a card-board cover and between these covers you will find a book for yourself, your friends and for every new in your branch educational work. Write us and you'll get it!

HINDOO REBEL IS DEPORTED BY HERIOT

France Took Orders from Britain

PARIS, Feb. 18. (By Mail.)—The expulsion of M. N. Roy, the Indian Communist, from France is the latest example of the operation of the political secret police of different countries.

Before the war it was the czarist "okhrans" which, thanks to the Franco-Russian alliance, was allowed to maintain an office and agents in Paris for the watching and harrying of political reformers.

Since the war it is the British government which has adopted this practice. It is a fact not generally known but none the less a fact that an inspector of the special political branch of the British secret service is permanently stationed in Paris, where his agents act upon any persons or institutions disapproved by the British secret service.

Roy has previously been a victim of the same outrage. From his arrest in the Kirov from America in 1922 he was deported to Britain. He was arrested in London in 1923 and after a short stay in the British prison of Brixton he was deported to the United States.

He succeeded, however, in escaping from the Kirov from America in 1922 and he was deported to Britain. He was arrested in London in 1923 and after a short stay in the British prison of Brixton he was deported to the United States.

Constabulary and Capitalism

"Law order" is again the topic of discussion in the Illinois legislature as the employers' association, the chambers of commerce, advertising clubs, the Illinois manufacturers' associations, the board of knights, lions and rotary clubs press for the enactment of the constabulary bill—a bill creating a state police force like the steel trust's Pennsylvania cossacks whose bloody record of violence against striking workers is too well known to need detailing here.

The capitalists have the national army, the state militia, the municipal police forces, sheriffs and their deputies of the various counties—a formidable and well trained array of agents hostile to the working class and its organizations. But the capitalists are not satisfied.

Not a day passes but the necessity of a further increase in all the instruments of the capitalist power is urged by the capitalist press. The hunting down of actual criminals is a minor part of the duties, it is their social camouflage, of those armed groups—standing outside and above the masses. They are kept to the front strikes, demonstrations and results of the workers.

The capitalists know that their system breeds suffering and discontent like a rotten carcass breeds maggots. They feed ignorance and poison even in periods when there is very little political agitation. They are worried over their stolen wealth and in their dreams they see the working class reaching for the good things of life that have been stolen from them.

It is a very innocent and uninformed person who, in spite of the innumerable acts and utterances of the capitalists that prove to the bill the Communist contention that their rule rests on force, can continue to believe that capitalism can be killed by love and kindness.

Against the constabulary bill organized workers of Illinois are a unit and the bill will probably be defeated. The conditions which prompt the Illinois bosses to introduce the bill will remain, however, and unless the workers of Illinois enter into a united front on all other problems of the working class they will wake up some day to the knowledge that Illinois capitalism has strengthened itself by the creation of another organization of professional thugs and murderers.

The way to fight the constabulary bill is to organize the working class on the basis of the class struggle and to contest every salient of the capitalist system. To trade and buckle, to yield on other vital points, to compromise the position of the unions in relation to the capitalist parties, to mouth the same respect for capitalist law and order that the capitalist class and its middle class hangers-on indulge in, in short, to conduct the kind of a campaign that the officialdom of the Illinois labor movement does in its fight against the constabulary bill, is to confuse and weaken the working class movement and deprive it of its greatest asset—confidence in its own strength and the knowledge that it must separate itself from all other social groups in its war for freedom.

Workers and poor farmers, white and black, constitute the working class. These are the only revolutionary elements in society and these are the only groups that can and will wage an uncompromising war on constabulary bills and all other forms of capitalist aggression.

The International Struggle

The French government needs at least $200,000,000 more to stabilize the franc, says Loucheur and this is more good news for the House of Morgan.

There is an apparently insatiable demand for the gold of the international bankers in Europe these days and they are able to dictate their own terms.

It was less than a year ago that $100,000,000 was loaned the French government by the House of Morgan—a loan made to pay the gold of the previous loan of $100,000,000. Then by the latter part of 1921 another loan was negotiated to save the franc, which at that time hit the toboggan and was sliding to the bottom.

Now comes the initiation of still further obligations that must be entered into to prop up French currency.

All of these massive simply pile up a burden of debt that mortgages the French working class and generations in company with the German workers, to the House of Morgan and its allied subsidiaries.

The French, German and American workers now have the same ruse—their financial domination capital with its headquarters in Wall Street.

Against this ruler a common struggle must be waged and international finance capital itself lays the basis for the internationalization of the struggle of the working class.

Manly Organizes T. U. E. L. Committee in Stamford, Conn.

(Special to The Daily Worker) STAMFORD, Conn., Feb. 18.—Comrade Joseph Manly, organizer for the Trade Union Educational League, spoke at the Jewish Workers Party, Local Stamford, Conn., on the Trade Union Educational League. A general discussion followed his lecture. Questions were asked on labor conditions in the neighborhood.

Comrade Manly is certainly a fine lecturer, from start to finish he kept his audience in a state of attentive mood. His talk was scientific and logical. He squared every statement with facts and figures, and proved that a Communist should be more than a theorist or a dues paying member of the Workers Party. That the real essence of Communism takes place at the point of production in the mill and factory and not in the rural workers state is shown.

The opportunity to work to this end is given in the Communist Party. A committee was organized.
