GREEN SEEKS ALIBI FOR GIVI. EDDY FLOOR AT A. F. OF L. ML.

By J. LOUIS ENGDAHL.

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 10. — Five officials of the American Federation of Labor were addressing audiences in local churches today, as the guests of dollar-subsidized religion, while the bitter controversy still raged as to whether Dr. Sherwood Eddy, international secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association, had broken away from an alleged gag that President Green claims was imposed upon him here last Thursday before he was allowed to take the platform and tell of his recent trip to Europe, which included a visit to the Union of Soviet Republics.

Open Shops Relent—A Little

Altho the local Y. M. C. A. was closed against President Green, hardboiled capitalism locally relented sufficiently to make it possible for Green, Frank L. Morrison, secretary of the A. The labor addresses were arranged by the Federated Churches of Christ of America, buffer institution between the classconscious workers and mammonized eligion.

Free Speech, But Not Too Free! While enjoying this semblance of ree speech at the hands of the employers' religion, the A. F. of L. officials continue to let loose new attacks against Eddy's attempt to tell the delegates a little of the truth about the Soviet Union.

President Green still persists that ne merely invited Eddy to address the convention on the former's ouster from the Y. M. C. A. because it had received huge sums of money for its building program from open shop inerests and did not want to endanger hese sources of income.

Contributions to the Y. M. C. A. ouilding fund made public today inlude the following: Henry Ford, 700,000; Edsel Ford, $750,000; Fisher Brothers (auto body manufacturers), 500,000; S. S. Kresge (5 and 10 cent tory king), $500,000; Mrs. Hannan (Hannan Real Estate Exchange), 500,000. Other large employers, all nostile to union labor, also contributed huge sums.

Dr. Eddy has wired his version of the whole affair to Detroit as follows:

"Progressive Shortening" Sole Demand

By J. LOUIS ENGDAHL. (Special to The Daily Worker)

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 10 .-- Vice Presidents James Duncan and Matthew Woll are whipping together the eport of the resolutions committee that goes to the American Federation of Labor convention here today as a special order of business at the openng of the afternoon's session.

Chief among the resolutions are those demanding recognition of the Union of Soviet Republics, opposing the league of nations, the world court and the so-called international labor office attached to the league, seeking an investigation of the latest developments in the Sacco-Vanzetti case, attacking race discrimination in the unions, opposing Citizens' Military Training Camps and rejecting the fascist theory of government.

"We expect our report to cover at least two days," announced Chairman Duncan, of the committee, "as there are several very important matters before it."

The convention adopted the report f the committee on shorter workday, which refused to take a definite stand for the five-day week, instead favoring a "progressive shortening of the

We can say now, however, that the response made during the week together with the funds that will reach The DAILY WORKER Monday, have made it possible to meet the urgent debts due on Monday and save the situation for another week.

But this has not put The DAILY WORKER out of danger. We told the party and the sympathizers with its work at the beginning of the campaign that $10,000 must be raised within two weeks to carry The DAILY WORKER thru. Our campaign, however, has been slow in getting under way. The total thus

AND SYMPATHIZERS TO SHOW THE NEED OF PUSHING THE WORK OF COLLECTING THE KEEP THE DAILY WORKER FUND WITH EVEN GREATER ENERGY.

The contributions to the Keep The DAILY WORKER Fund last week were as large as for the previous three weeks. The amount raised during this week must be as large as for the

ON MONDAY, OCTOBER 18, AT THE LATEST, WE MUST REACH THE $10,000 MARK IN ORDER TO PULL

That means that the pace at which the collections and contributions are made must increase during this week at even a greater ratio than during last week. Those party units which have not gone into action must take up the work in earnest. Thus far about 10% of the party membership has responded. The remaining 90% must join the fight to raise The DAILY WORKER fund.

THE PARTY, WITH THE HELP OF ITS SYMPATHIZERS, CAN MAKE THE $10,000 MARK BY OCTOBER 18, IF IT GOES TO WORK IN EARNEST.

Mobilize every resource of the party. Let every member purchase a $5.00 book of Keep The DAILY WORKER certificates. Sell the coupons among the sympathizers with the party.

The campaign to Keep The DAILY WORKER is now really on. The crisis of The DAILY WORKER has awakened the party. Carry forward the work with greater energy.

LET US WRITE A VICTORY FOR OUR MOVEMENT THRU THE RAISING OF THE FIRST TEN THOUSAND DOLLARS. LET US SHOW THAT OUR PARTY IS ALIVE TO ITS RESPONSIBILITIES AND ABLE TO MEET THEM BY PUSHING THE TOTAL TO $10,000 THIS WEEK.

THEN WE CAN TAKE A NEW BREATH AND GO FOR-WARD TO THE COMPLETION OF THE $50,000 FUND WITH THE CERTAINTY THAT WE WILL KEEP THE DAILY WORKER.

WATCH THE REPORT OF THE CONTRIBUTIONS AS THEY APPEAR IN THE DAILY WORKER FROM DAY TO DAY. THEY WILL SHOW HOW HARD WE MUST PUSH FORWARD TO COMPLETE THE FIRST $10,000 AND MAKE SURE WE WILL KEEP THE DAILY WORKER.

The Sacco and Vanzetti CAPPELLINI IS FIGHTING HARD Case Is Before A. F. of L. FIGHT IT OUT Convention at Detroit

By J. LOUIS ENGDAHL.

THE fight for the lives of the class L war prisoners, Nick Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti, is before the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor in Detroit.

That is not saying very much, of course. This struggle has been before every A. F. of L. convention since the United States government first put its bloody clutches upon the throats of these two courageous militants of labor. It often entered as an uninvited guest. It was never welcome.

Last year the effort to keep the Sacco-Vanzetti case before American labor, thru securing repeated action by the A. F. of L., resulted in a severe rebuff from the stolid reaction. In the words of Vice-President Matthew Woll, reporting for "We the resolutions committee, have adopted similar resolutions several years in succession. We are on record in this case. These resolutions should, therefore, not be brought in here year after year in this way." And the Sacco-Vanzetti resolution introduced last year at Atlantic City was forthwith consigned to the waste basket.

This year, however, the powerful fist of the Sacco-Vanzetti case, demanding attention, crashes its way upward thru the floor of the A. F. of L. convention hall.

Last year the resolution was introduced by the delegation of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union, but not a single member of the delegation raised his voice in favor of it.

This year the resolution is presented by Delegate Samuel Squibb, of the International Granite Cutters' Union, one of the most reactionary organizations in the whole A. F. of L. Its chief spokesman, James Duncan, is first vice-president of the A. F. of L., perhaps the staunchest supporters of the late Gompers' regime. He felt himself the logical successor of Gompers, but Green got the job. Thus even this wing of the A. F. of L. recognizes that "The case of Sacco and Vanzetti has again come before the public." Every worker in the land should read the resolutions which are as follows:

"Where, after six years of imprisonment those who take an interest in this case are now more convinced than ever that Sacco and Vanzetti are not guilty of the crime they were charged with and convicted for, and

"Whereas, the motion for a new trial based on newly discovered evidence, primarily on the confession of Celestino F. Madeiros, is now be fore the court of Massachusetts, and "Whereas, on this motion for a immediate assistance. International new trial, affidavits of former agents of the department of justice of the United States have been produced that show there are records on file in the office of the department of justice, establishing the fact that there was collaboration between the department of justice and the district attorney of Norfolk county to convict Sacco and Vanzetti on charges of a crime, of which the department of justice did not believe them guilty, and held in secret. that would so clearly show the innocence of Sacco and Vanzetti, that even a capitalist judge, time-server of his class, would not dare rule against the demand for a new trial.

It is, of course, good to know that the A. F. of L. convention will be told that the case of Sacco and out to bury John Barleycorn. Vanzetti is again before the public. very class conscious worker knows and feels that it has been before the whole working class clamoring for attention, since the day more than six years ago that saw the arrest of these two workers. It must stay there, for all the world to see,

"Whereas, the attorney general has refused access to the records in the case to the counsel for the

"Whereas, a large number of the international unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor are deeply interested in the case of Sacco and Vanzetti and have by resolutions adopted at their conventions, expressed the sentiment of their members on this matter, be it

"Resolved, that copies of this resolution be sent to the president and congress of the United States."

Not a very militant resolution, to rise and demand more.

With the passage of the above resolution thru the A. F. of L. convention, the protest should grow so big over the land that the department of justice will be forced itself to disgorge the documents, now

The reorganization of the grievance committee is a sign that the miners are ignoring the opposition of Rinaldo Capellini and his district board, who are hostile to any attempt on the part of the miners to take the initiative in solving their problems.

Delegates from the grievance committee of the Glen Alden Coal company are urging the organization of a general grievance body made up of lelegate from all collieries.

All thru Pennsylvania thousands of the best herds of cows have gone down under the T. B. and area tests. doing the farmer a favor by buying milk that they do not need.

Well, that is the whole fight, and a damn serious fight, as most of these get along on the milk checks that they get, as even in the so-called "garden spot of the world" half of the farmers work on the half basis. Now they are killing their cows and skinning them on the milk price. All in the name of the public, and at the same time the price of milk has gone up here already because they called it 'tuberculin tested" on their milk bottle caps, and all such bunk. You should see the milk-water-like-20 cents a quart. This is some showing for the farmer to make him think. and they are on the right road if they will just stick and combine with the city worker and carry on a general fight against capital and the profiteers in general.

That will help us along on the organization of society on a sound basis for the honefit of those that produce, and not a small number of drones that have usurped the government power and keep the rest of the people slaving for their lust.

Russians Peasants Seek Information on Great Britain

The following is a letter to the Peasants' Gazette, and forwarded to The DAILY WORKER, written by I. Bunin of the Ozerensky Village Council of the Tulsky Gubernia, Union of Soviet Russian Republics: To the Peasants' Gazette:

Please send my letter to any English paper that is supporting the workers' and peasants' movement.

When I read the paper before peasant audiences questions and discussions inevitably arise. They are interested in what is going on in England, and in events connected with the strike. I told them that letters may be sent abroad. They were very enthusiastic about it and asked me to write abroad requesting the English farmers to reply on the following points, which they are interested in:

Conditions in England, farmers' attitude towards the strike, farmers' conditions, land questions, schooling, taxation, conditions of miners and their families, army's sociological composition, its attitude, the farmers' ability to keep up correspondence on these subjects. Will the censor of the government allow it?

The Soviet peasants wish to inform their English comrades that they are now free from the property owners' oppression: that the land, forests and orchards belong to them now; that the late land owners' estates now have Soviet farms, schools and homes for homeless children and orphans: that

WORKERS' SCHOOL PUTS STRESS ON ENGLISH CLASS

Being Prepared

NEW YORK, Oct. 10 .- An important part of the Workers' School this year will be its classes in English. There will be classes in Elementary, Intermediate, Advanced English and in Public Speaking.

Such well-known English teachers as Carl Brodsky, Eli Jacobson, Sonia Ginsburg, Ray Bennet, Max Rock, Sonia Waldey, Pauline Rogers and Sonia Winett will be the instructors. Classes will be limited in size to twenty-five thus making it possible for each student to receive more individual instruction.

Evening Classes.

As many evening classes as are needed will be formed as well as an English class in the day time for night workers. From registrations already handed in, three elementary, two intermediate, one advanced English and one public speaking classes have been formed. Each class will have ing 1 hour and 15 minutes long. Foreign-speaking comrades and workers who wish to concentrate this year on English can do so by registering for two English classes.

Special Textbooks.

An interesting feature of the English classes this year will be the use of two new textbooks being prepared by the Workers' School. For years the workers and foreigners in this country have lacked a simple and interesting book that could be used as a basis for their learning how to read, how to express themselves, to spell and write correctly and yet not be full of capitalist propaganda and childish, nonsensical and dry in its nature. Themes based on the life of workers, containing vocabulary that workers must use, interesting and realistic in approach are the center around which the different lessons are based.

The instructors of English in the Workers' School, unlike those in the public or private schools, who are either hostile or indifferent to the struggle of the workers, are themselves members of the Workers (Communist) Party and a part of the labor movement and therefore interested in helping the students as much as pos-

Michigan District Convention Adopts Election Platform

DETROIT, Oct. 10 .- The Michigan state convention of the Workers' Party was held in Detroit Saturday, Oct. 2, with delegates representing Wayne, Oakland, Kent, Genessee, Muskegon and Saginaw counties. The convention adopted the following platform:

Revision of workmen's compensation, workers injured in industrial accidents to be paid compensation equal to their wages; against the use of injunctions in labor disputes; all public work to be done by union labor; repeal of criminal syndicalism act; abolition of the state police; rigid enforcement of safety laws; for amendment to the United States constitution prohibiting child labor; against exploitation of prison labor; unemployment compensation; repeal of the 18th amendment; nationalization of the coal and iron mines and the other natural resources; nationalization of the railroads and means of transportation; for the McNary-Haugen bill providing relief for farmers.

The following candidates were nominated for the state offices for the coming election:

Governor, William Reynolds; secretary of state, Sarah Victor; state treasurer, Arnold Zeigler; attorney general, Cyril Lambkin; auditor general, Aaron M. Katz.

Mass meetings have been arranged in five different cities and noon-day meetings in front of the factories. The delegates to the convention were certain that thousands of workers would be reached with the Workers' Party propaganda and would register and vote for the Workers' Party candi-

Urges Organization to Bring Druggists From Slave Condition

By a Worker Correspondent.

Oct. 10 to Oct. 20 has been set aside s pharmacy week. Pharmacy week vas inaugurated by one of the big wholesale drug supply houses, Johnson & Johnson. During this week, and before, millions will be spent in advertising, extolling the characters of the neighborhood druggists.

It will be pointed out that the drug- land. gist is one who has spent much time and money in learning his trade, and that the public should think more of them and patronize them more.

But they will not point out the slave conditions under which the druggist works. They work for a measly wage and are forced to work hours longer than those engaged in other trades. The average druggist must work nine hours a day, Sundays, holidays, late at night, and receive about 50 cents an hour for his labor.

The young boys who work in the stores are even more exploited. Many work six or even seven hours a day after school for $5 a week. I know of one, 13 years old, who works for $2.50 a week.

If a druggist doesn't like his job ing to take his job, so the boss doesn't

Fight for Demands

NEW YORK, Oct. 10-(FP)-Four thousand paper box workers are their standards of living. This striking in New York for a $5 weekly was clearly demonstrated at their wage increase, 44-hour week, time and membership meeting, where all like a half overtime, double time Sunday pay. About 65 per cent of the workers are girls and women. Men do the scoring and cutting as well as driving paper box delivery wagons.

All are in the Paper Box Makers Union, an independent industrial union. Open shop workers are employed for long hours at as little as half the pay of union workers. Union shops have the 46-hour week at present. Cops and Dicks Fight Strikers.

The paper box industry is of considerabe importance in New York, where great quantities of the boxes are used in both wholesale and retail trades, especially in garment industries and by department stores.

At least one detective agency is known to be attempting strike-breaking by supplying nonunion drivers and chauffeurs for manufacturers to job is the most dangerous. The workdeliver stock on hand. The agency gets $10 a day per man. Police are acting as guards on the wagons.

BIG CO-OPERATIVE APARTMENT IN GOTHAM WILL BE READY FOR TENANTS EARLY IN NOVEMBER

By ESTHER LOWELL, Federated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Early in November the first group of workers and their families will move into the big new co-operative apartment house they have built as the first unit of a co-operative colony in Bronx borough, New York City. #### Co-operators Make Big Success at Waukegan

There are few finer co-operative soieties in the country than the Co-operative Trading company of Waukegan, Ill. The society was organized 15 years ago by a few Finns for the cooperative purchase of groceries. Tolay there are 1.000 members, many of them American, Swedish, German and of other nationalities; and the concern is operating two grocery and neat stores and a large milk plant. The members started the business with a capital of $630. Today they have invested in the business nearly deposits. During 1925 the sales of all kinds of foodstuffs amounted to almost exactly half a million dollars, on which "profit" or surplus of $21,658 was made. This means that every member gets 6% paid back to him on his capital investment, and an additional 4% of the amount he spent with the co-operative.

$65,000 of share capital and savings

The company has 38 employes and dozen delivery rigs for distributing groceries, meat, milk, cream, butter and cheese. For the past three years the increase in sales have averaged $100,000 per year.

And the most interesting feature of this co-operative is the attention it gives to educational and propaganda work. Courses of lectures for employes, evening classes, summer picnics for the members, propaganda parades thru the city, mass visits to co-operatives in other cities—these are few of the activities.

SOVIET TRADE UNIONS TELL OF -PARTICIPATION OF MEMBERS IN GROWTH OF THE CO-OPERATIVES

The following article on workers' co-operatives in the Soviet Union is sent out by the Central Council of Trade Unions of the Soviet Union in their Trade Union Bulletin, and shows the participation of the labor unions of the workers' and peasants' republic in the co-operative move-

Workers' Cooperatives in the U. S. S. R.

Prior to the revolution the workers' cooperative movement was in an embryonic state and represented a negligible quantity, both from the point of view of membership and business turn-over.

Since then the movement has developed on a large scale. Thus on Oct. 1, 1925, the workers' cooperatives had a membership of 3,666,703. This does not include the transport (the transport section has an autonomous standing) which on that date had a membership of 1,025,560 (including temporary workers.)

The total number of workers affilia ted to the movement was therefore 4.692.263. The total trade union membership at that time was 7,800.000 (in round numbers); so that the percentage of trade-unionists organized in the cooperatives was 59.8. In the more industrial regions the percentage was much higher.

Increase 100 Per Cent.

The turnover at the workers' cooperatives has been rapidly growing. While the annual turnover (exclusive of the transport section) in 1923-24 the cooperatives. was 648,146,000 rubles, that for 1924-25 was 1.231.355.000 rubles, showing an increase of almost 100 per cent. The share capital of the workers at the end of last year was nearly 15,000,000 rubles. The shares are rather small being equal on an average to a little over 4 rubles each. On January 1, 1926, there was a total of 1,461 primary cooperatives with 13,044 stores in the country employing 92,580 persons (exclusive of industrial establishments).

cooperatives (exclusive of transport)

percentage of the workers' purchases is made thru the cooperatives. Here the picture varies in different parts of the country. In many of the industrial centers, for instance, the percentage is as high as 70 and 80, sometimes even going up to 100 per cent. In the less industrial sections the percentage is smaller. On the whole about 50 per cent of the goods and foodstuffs consumed by the workers is supplied by the cooperatives. In a number of places the workers' cooperatives have developed to such an extent that they have completely replaced all private trade (Tula, etc.)

Aided by Government.

The workers' cooperative movement continues to grow under favorable conditions of development. The government has granted the cooperatives a number of privileges in the form of reduced taxes, priority in the receipt of goods from the nationalized industry and easy terms of payment. The cooperatives are granted large credits both by the state and the cooperative banks. In addition interest-free loans have been granted to them on a numer of occasions.

The movement constitutes a part of the general system of cooperation in U. S. S. R. but it enjoys a high degree of independence and is controlled by the Central Labor Section attached to the trade unions. The connection between the workers' cooperatives and the trade unions, however, is purely voluntary, though the unions naturally exert considerable influence over

The Coal Miners—Shock Troops of the British Workingclass

The stern struggle of the British miners challenges the admiration of every working man and woman in the world.

After five months and a half of battle with starvation gnawing at the vitals of the miners and their families, these workers hurl back the lies of the capitalist class, the capitalist press and the treacherous reformist leadership by voting to pull out the maintenance men and continue the strike.

The vote of 767,000 to 42,000 for these propositions nails fast the lie that the miners are breaking ranks and going back to work in any considerable numbers.

That this action was taken after the Bournemouth Trade Union Congress, dominated by the same officials who deserted the miners, had refused to allow the question of the general strike or the miners' strike to be discussed, is doubly significant.

It means that the miners realize their responsibility to the rank and file of the labor movement, realize that they are the shock troops of the British working class and are going to fight without thought of surrender. The miners ask no quarter.

This unshakable determination of the miners changes the situation. British capitalism has staked all on a quick defeat of this workers' offensive. But the British ruling class and their agents in the labor movement underestimated the fighting spirit and the endurance of the coal diggers, their wives and children.

Last week the news came that 400 textile mills have reduced their working schedule to one week in three. Coal and other fuel is being rationed. Heavy industry is paying suicidal prices for coal. British coal markets are passing into the hands of German and American coal concerns.

In other British markets the customers refuse to wait longer for the commodities whose manufacture has been held up by the

The Russian trade unions have made it possible for the miners to fight as long as they have. From the workers and peasants of the Soviet Union has come the greater part of the financial relief sent to the coal fields. This, too, is a glorious record.

Contrasted with this is the shameless and shameful conduct of the Trade Union Congress leaders and those of Amsterdam. They have joined hands with the British government and if the miners to reach these workers and in some are beaten they and they alone must take the blame.

But will the miners be beaten?

We do not think so. They may not win all their demands, but ficialdom, saturated in craft unionism it is certain now that they will save their union and they have dealt and tied to the bosses by the machintheir enemy, British imperialism, a blow from which it will never

Only a few short years ago there was great rejoicing in the G. O. P. camp because the old stalwarts of all that was most conservative in republicanism won out in Indiana. Today there is get action from the officials of the weeping and gnashing of teeth.

It seems that the Hoosier voters had as little to do with the election of Governor Jackson and his machine as J. P. Morgan had to do with winning the war. The job was done by D. C. Stephenson, The strike itself was an inspiration protector of pure womanhood, defender of the Volstead law and to anyone except an old line trade half a dozen other worthy and laudable causes. But when the quilts were lifted Hoosierdom did not see much purity, or sobriety for that matter.

Now it will be told. Because in the G. O. P. of Indiana, there are worthy persons whose needs have not been satisfied. No matter how susceptible graft may be to the spreading-out process, there is a limit, and so the murder is coming out.

Concisely, the present government of Indiana owes its existence to that infernal organization known as the ku klux klan. Stephenson, head of the K. K. The beneficiaries of Stephenson's klan in the official of the Amalgamated Street fluence are now willing that the ex-dragon should stew in his own & Electric Railway Employes first in juice. But unfortunately for the present officialdom, Stephenson was able to get in touch with a number of dissatisfied persons, with the result that some of the truth is being told and the governor of Indiana and the prosecutor are beating a retreat to shelter.

The K. K. K. represents fundamentally the rotting heart of capitalism. It is based on graft and corruption, just as capitalism is based on robbery. Klanism is passing, for the time being. THE gap between the unorganized semi-skilled and unskilled workers in the basic industry and the organized workers is growing wider-not only in the sense that the wages, working conditions and the extent of job control of the unorganized workers are less favorable, but the trade unions have lost a good deal of their former influence among them for two reasons in addition to those already

The workers had broken with the company union, they had struck without any guarantee of support from any section of the labor movement, the New York police had been mobilized against them, but the strikers were the last to acknowledge that they had tackled too big a job without adequate preparation.

TNSTEAD of taking charge of the strike and giving it organizational direction, placing it under the auspices of the recognized union and appealing to the labor movement for support formed the strikers that they would have to be split up into separate local unions in accord with the sacred constitution and by-laws of his union.

The strikers quite naturally looked upon this proposal as a method of weakening the strike and particularly were they unable to understand the powerful corporations in New York

CHAPTER XI THE REBEL

At Southern Pacific University the class lines were tacitly but effectively drawn, and in the ordinary course of events a man of Bunny's wealth, good looks and good manners, would have associated only with members of fraternities and sororities. If some Negro boy were to develop eloquence as a debater, or if some one taking a course in millinery or plumbing were to display fleetness as a hurdler, the hurdler might hurdle and the debater might debate, but they would not be invited to tea-parties or dances, nor be elected to prominence in the student organizations; such honors were reserved for tall Anglo-Saxons having regular features, and hair plastered straight back from their foreheads, and trousers pressed to a knife edge and never worn two days in succession.

But here was Bunny Ross, persisting in fooling with "dangerous thoughts," that made his friends angry. Of course, as anyone would have foreseen, there were "roughnecks" and 'goats," anxious to break in where they were not wanted, and perfectly willing to pretend to think that our country ought not to intervene in Russia, if by so professing they could get to know one of the socially elite. So Bunny found himself on talking terms with various queer fish. For example, there was Peter Nagle, whose father was president of a "rationalist society," and who seemed to have one dominating desire in life—to blurt out in class that what was the matter with the world was superstition, and that mankind could never progress until they stopped believing in God. In a university all of whose faculty were required to be devout Methodists, you can imagine how popular this made him. Peter looked just as you would expect such a boor to look, with a large square head and a wide mouth full of teeth and a shock of yellow hair which he allowed to straggle round his ears and drop white specks onto his coat collar—his coat did not match his trousers, and he brought his lunch to the university tied

And then there was Gregor Nikoliaeff. Gregor was all right. when you got to know him, but the trouble was, it was hard to know him, because his accent was peculiar and at critical moments in his talk he would forget the English word. He had jet black hair, and black eyes with a sombre frown above themin short, he was the very picture of what the students called a 'Bolsheviki." As it happened, Gregor's father had belonged to one of the revolutionary parties whom the Bolsheviks were now sending to jail; but how could you explain that to a student body which dumped into one common garbage-can Socialists and Communists and Syndicalists and Anarchists, Communist-Anarchists and Anarchist-Syndicalists, Social Revolutionaries and Social Democrats, Populists, Progressives, Single-Taxers, Nonpartisan Leaguers, Pacifists, Pragamtists, Altruists, Vegetarians. Anti-vivisectionists and opponents of capital punishment.

Also there was Rachel Menzies, who belonged to a people that had been chosen by the Lord, but not by the aforesaid student body. Rachel was rather good-looking, though in a dark, foreign way; she was short—what feminine enemies would have called "dumpy"—and made no pretense at finery, but came to the university in black cotton stockings and a shirt-waist that did not match her skirt. There was a rumor that her father worked in a clothing factory, and her brother was pressing students' pants for an education.

And here was the discoverer and heir-apparent of the Ross Junior oil field, letting himself be seen in public with these people, and even trying to introduce them to his fraternity brothers; excusing himself by saying that they believed in "free speech." As if it were not obvious that they would, having everything to gain and nothing to lose! Proletarians of all universities unite!

Poor Bunny got it from both sides. "Look here," said Donald Burns, president of the sophomore cla troduce met to any more of your Yid fairies." And then, "Look here," said Rachel Menzies, "don't you introduce me to any more of your male fashion-plates." Bunny protested, he had the idea that all kinds of people ought to know one another; but Rachel informed him that she thought too much of herself. "Probably you've never been snubbed in your life, Mr. Ross, but we Jews learn the lesson early in our lives—not to go where we aren't wanted.'

Said Bunny, "But Miss Menzies, if you believe in ideas, you've got to teach people--'

"Thank you," she said; "I believe in my ideas, but not enough to teach Donald Burns."

"But how can you tell?" Bunny protested. "You're teaching me, and I don't belong to the working class." He had learned hat this girl was a member of the Socialist party, and it was 'class consciousness," as well as Jewish consciousness.

Rachel insisted that Bunny was one person in a million, capable of believing what was contrary to his economic interests. But Bunny had no awareness of anything extraordinary about himself. Instead of being a conspicious and shining leader as his high destiny directed, he was always looking for some one he could lean to, some one who was positive, and whom he could trust. He found some of this in Henrietta Ashleigh, who knew exactly what was proper; and he found some more of it in Rachel task of civilizing America. Send a Menzies, who knew exactly what was true, and said it with energy and frankness that were like flashes of lighting in the twilight of Southern Pacific culture.

The only trouble was, the contradiction between his two authorities; it appeared almost as if what was true was not proper and what was proper was not true! For Henrietta considered Rachel an impossible person, and was cold as a corpse in her presence; while Rachel's idea of being insulting was to tell Bunny that it was with Henrietta he really belonged, his Creator had made him to take her to church.
