HANDOUTS STRAW TO LIE IN, RAGS FOR BEDS IN CAMP

It has just been disclosed in the hearing before Commissioner of Accounts Higgins that the street cleaning department of Al Smith's Tammany Hall maintains a snow removal office during the summer. All possibility of a traffic tie-up due to a sudden flurry during July and August is thus eliminated.

When Stanley Baldwin, slow-witted British premier, was recently told by the International Transference Board that 200,000 jobless miners must be driven from their homes to seek work elsewhere or be doomed to starvation, he offered as his immediate solution of the problem the following optimistic buncombe: "I don't believe this country is played out or is going to be played out." Baldwin and the other capitalists will continue to eke out an existence by clipping coupons, which is the hardest work they do, as long as labor accepts starvation without a fight. If, however, anything should happen to the scissor snipping business, the capitalists will make use of their one panacea for all ills, "War."

The above article, that looks like something you throw peanuts to, is Johnny Raskob. He is trying to make the gullible believe he quit as head of General Motors to be chairman of the democratic committee to elect Al Smith president. What did he ever do around General Motors. He never put bolts on Chevrolet cars. The workers made the automobiles and will do. All Johnny did was to keep the plants open-shop and not let the men organize. He feels he can still do that, for a few months, by telephone. He claims he's quit for good. After the elections he's just as liable to keep away from General Motors as a thirsty cow from a water hole.

Unconventional means were resorted to in Blairstown, N. J., to obtain a new schoolhouse. The old school was without proper washrooms and ventilation facilities. The town council refused to appropriate money for a new one. The other day the old schoolhouse was burned down. Whoever did the deed left a 40-quart milk can which was once filled with gasoline. Asked who did the job, William Penn Vail, president of the board of education, said: "We suspect everybody big enough to carry the can."

Eastern Cow Outfit

When society only provides a percentage of its population with jobs the rest will be found at singular activities to keep from starving. Above is Miss Alice May Sisty, wearing a cowgirl costume made famous by Tex Rickard. She rode all the way from Reno, Nevada, on the above brave charger to invite the city officials of Boston to attend the rodeo at Cheyenne. A rodeo is an event where a placid steer is given a shot of dope and kicks his heels up in grand style and a horse is taken off the livery run, given a charge of electricity, and bucks prettily so that the rich easterner can see the wild seal.

Charged With Killing Longshoreman

Because Leo Boice, a longshoreman, had two pints of whiskey on his person, James MacGuckin, a coast guard, is alleged to have shot and killed the worker. MacGuckin, at right above, was released in $10,000 bail after he failed to appear in court.

MILL HANDS STARVING

No. Carolina Girls Work for $5 Weekly

GREENSBORO, N. C., Aug. 9.—At a mass meeting here, called to discuss the low wages, especially in the textile industry, workers took the stand and declared that the only solution is organization and a fight against the textile barons, in spite of the danger that they would lose their jobs as a result. The movement of the workers to fight against the terrible conditions here is becoming general throughout the central and western part of North Carolina. The 60-hour week is still the rule in most of the mills, and often children of eleven or twelve work ten hours daily for a miserable wage. A fresh labor supply is recruited from the rural sections where the farmers have been unable to obtain the necessities of life from the farms. Local chambers of commerce, in appeals for northern mill owners to come to the south, have pointed out that "labor here is American and loyal," meaning that there is no organization of the workers and that exploitation is practically unlimited. Although the American Federation of Labor will take no steps to lead the workers, a spontaneous movement of the employees in the mills is developing in North Carolina.

"Daily" to Have Articles on South. A series of articles on the textile industry and conditions of the workers in the south will be written for the Daily Worker by Paul Crouch, a native of North Carolina, who is going to make a tour of that section. "I am glad that you were stimulated enough to put out such a marvelous editorial, and when that reaches 60 Wall Street (the H. L. Doherty Company offices) there ought to be something doing. Something like a 100 per cent in the salary of the manager of the City Light and Traction manager, together with a nice block of stock. If I wish we could stimulate other editors in Missouri to write editorials like that."

FIGHT SHARK AGENCIES. Because theatrical employment agencies have charged actors as high as 10 per cent of their wages during the period of their contracts for securing jobs through them, the Actors' Equity Association has started a war against the agencies.

COTTON CROP. WASHINGTON, Aug. 8 (UP).—The condition of the cotton crop in August was 67.9 per cent of normal, indicating a production of 14,291,000 bales, compared with 12,955,000 bales last year, the agriculture department announced today.

PLUMBER BOSSES FAIL TO SCARE YOUNG HELPERS

Must Resume Fight to Strengthen Union

(By a Worker Correspondent)
The officials of the United Association of Plumbers, Steamfitters and Gasfitters have been dodging all questions concerning the recognition of the American Association of Plumbers' Helpers.

The officials of the Plumbers' Local 463, of Manhattan and the Bronx, came out more openly, lately, against the plumbers' helpers, helping by saying, "We will do their last statement is to scare the away with the helpers completely from the trade." Of course, we all know that such words are pure nonsense. It is only thrown at us in order to prevent us from organizing the plumbers' helpers into a union. Local 463 is supposed to be the mouthpiece of the 300 plumbers' locals all over the country.

NEWS IN CONTROL OF POWER TRUST

NATIONAL CENSORSHIP OF PAPERS
WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—An undercover censorship of newspaper editorials and news matter, carried on through an interchange of reports and influence among state propaganda directors of the electric power interests, was disclosed in Federal Trade Commission records today.

The evidence consists of a number of letters sent by propaganda directors of the power trusts to the editors of different papers. One letter, from J. B. Sheridan, Missouri propagandist director, to a company manager in Missouri, reads:

"Many thanks for your favor of April 14 with that wonderful editorial from the Sedalia Democrat attached.

"I am glad that you were stimulated enough to put out such a marvelous editorial, and when that reaches 60 Wall Street (the H. L. Doherty Company offices) there ought to be something doing. Something like a 100 per cent in the salary of the manager of the City Light and Traction manager, together with a nice block of stock. If I wish we could stimulate other editors in Missouri to write editorials like that."

Four of the F-14's crew were drowned when it sank after collision with a destroyer in the Adriatic, it was found today. Gas generated from the batteries killed the other 27 aboard. The tragedy occurred while the fascist submarine was engaged in militaristic maneuvers.

4 Drowned, 27 Killed by Gas in F-14 Tragedy

POLA, Italy, Aug. 9.—In the pocket of the uniform of Captain Wiel, commander of the submarine F-14, there was found today a brief note, written as he was in the last agonies of slow asphyxiation. It said: "Poor mother, be strong, as mothers of—" and ended there, as if Wiel had not the strength to continue.

Russian Films Cast Magic Spell in Europe and America

THOSE who have followed the development of the film industry in Soviet Russia the past five years and have noted the remarkable progress made, not only in the type of films, but in the direction, will find the following article by Ivan Narodny taken from the current issue of Musical America, both interesting and informative.

"Like the Russian music and the Russian drama of a decade or two ago," says Narodny, "the Russian film is now casting an irresistible racial spell of attraction over the outside world. The Soviet motion picture is a tantalizing novelty to audiences in the Far East and America.

"This is a strange phenomenon at a time when the motion picture production of other countries is going through a crisis in which it seems in danger of losing its original attraction and when all kinds of additional devices, such as movietones, vitaphones, etc., are introduced in order to fill the theatre. Arthur James, veteran American film critic and editor of Motion Pictures Today, explains the situation as due to 'the raw Russian bear meat served in the barbaric splendors.'"

"American and European audiences—apart from those of the Soviet republics—have seen but a 'rem fraction of the vast variety of the latest Russian kinetic art, and thus jump at the hasty conclusion that it 'is all a propaganda stuff.' What they have seen of the Soviet films are 'Potemkin,' 'Ivan the Terrible,' 'The End of St. Petersburg' and 'The Station Master'—pictures that truly belong to the class of historic revolutionary plays. Such cinemas do not by means deserve to be called 'propaganda' films any more than Wagner's operas are propaganda for German nationalism or 'Aida' for Egyptian.

A Cultural Message.
"According to Soviet terminology, the above named pictures are called kulturfilms, which means, films with a cultural message. It is perhaps correct to call the preachy proletarian pictures—according to the view that Communism is a religious cult. The ideas of propaganda is even taboo among the most devout Communists, as the period of propaganda making is considered long passed.

"However, the so-called kulturfilm of the Soviet output is only a part of the total productions of the country, and the term is rather vague. First of all, the Soviet films are not produced by the central state concern in Moscow, but by several, all over the country. And besides, nearly all the different nationalistic states forming the federal union have their local motion picture studios, either maintained by the government or by a private company, supported by the state.

"Thus to my knowledge there are at least six or seven different local state film companies—goskino—which all work in their own independent way, as for instance, the Georgian Goskino, the Ukrainian Goskino, the Central-Asian Goskino, the Chuvashkino, the Tartar Kino, etc. All these state film companies work very much like some municipal theatres, each in its own way and style.

Individual Liberty.
"The outstanding feature of the Soviet policy is to give each of the nationalistic state administrations liberty to manage its affairs in the spirit of its folk lore and racial traditions. Thus an Armenian goskino produces pictures in the spirit of Armenian traditions, and a Siberian goskino does it in the spirit of Siberian folk lore, etc. The Tartar goskino is at present at work in Mongolia on the production of a film called Genghis Khan, with one of the distant descendants of this historic Tartar ruler playing the heroic role, and natives cast for the Golden Horde.

"Some time ago a magnificent Central Asian motion picture was produced by the Central Asian State Film Company, Uzebekgoskino. This was called 'Kryty Furgon' (Covered Wagon), and showed the unknown life of different Central Asian natives. It was also a powerful drama conceived in a true racial spirit. To my judgment a far more powerful picture was 'Sar Pige' by Churashkino—dealing with one of the Tartar races inhabiting the plains between the Volga and the Ural rivers.

Depict Life of People.
"Pictures all depict the lives of the different nationalities which form part of the Soviet Federation; they are performed by local actors and managed by native stage and art directors.

POLICE BREAK UP PASSAIC MEETING IN NEW CAMPAIGN

Arrest Chairman and Disperse 400

Police last night broke up an open air meeting of the Workers (Communist) Party, in Passaic, N. J. held for the purpose of furthering the election campaign of the party, and arrested N. Katz, chairman, after having brutally pushed him off the stand. Four hundred workers, gathered at the meeting place to hear the speakers, were dispersed when a squad of police arrived on the scene.

Katz was taken to the police station, charged with disorderly conduct, and released after a few minutes. He was ordered to appeal in court this morning. This was the first time that the police had broken up a meeting in Passaic for a long time. Up till four weeks ago, meetings had not been held in a Passaic, police censorship having been exerted on the workers ever since the great strike in 1926. The last three meetings were not disturbed, but the police finally decided to "break them up once and for all," workers said.

N. Y. Stock Brokers Get Illegal Interest

(By United Press.)
Interest rates on time loans on the New York Stock Exchange went up to 6 1/2 per cent today, the highest rate quoted for time money in seven years. Under New York laws any rate of interest on time loans over 6 per cent is illegal as usury. Conflict with the law was avoided by brokers offering 6 per cent interest and 1/4 of one per cent "commission" for their loans.

Solidarity of 4,500 Barbers Strikers Forces 760 Shops to Recognize Their Union

WORKERS STILL PICKET THOUGH SEVEN ARRESTED

Complete Unionization Is Goal

The strike of the International Union of Journeymen Barbers, called three days ago by locals 752 and 900 of the organization, had by yesterday succeeded in enforcing 760 shops in the borough of Manhattan that were non-union before the strike, to agree to recognize the union.

The capitulation of the 760 barber shops and their agreement to recognize the International Union of Journeymen Barbers was made possible by the wholehearted support of the strike by the workers in Manhattan, who two days ago walked out 4,500 strong to force complete recognition of the union by all the non-union shops in New York.

The strike is to continue, according to statement given out at the union headquarters late yesterday, until all the shops in Manhattan are unionized.

Detectives Attack Picketers. The strike, which has been on now for several days, got off to a sudden start when seven strikers, picketing before the non-union shops on East 33rd St. in an effort to induce fellow-workmen to join them in their strike, were arrested by detectives under the command of Detective Lieutenant John Broderick. They were charged with disorderly conduct, and with street-fighting. The arrested picketers, however, maintain that the fighting started when the detectives assaulted them as they waited to cross the street.

Strike on West Side. A strike on the west side of Manhattan was forecast by Abraham Greenwald, manager of local 752 of the union, as soon as the east side of the city is unionized.

The strike is being carried on solely for the purpose of forcing all shops in the borough to recognize the union. Other demands will be taken up as soon as the present strike attains its successful completion, a statement at the union headquarters said.

LABOR 'LEADER' LANDS IN JAIL

'Tootsie' Earns Nearly $4,000 a Week

Labor leader as a side line, leader of gangster crew for a boss' association as his main vocation, Arthur Herbert, better known as "Tootsie," was hauled into court yesterday charged with violating the Sherman anti-trust law. He denied the charge.

For being a labor faker, a truck driver's union which he had organized and of which he was the head, paid him $125 a week. For terrorizing retail poultry dealers and forcing them to submit to the dictates of the large wholesalers, "Tootsie" received, it is estimated $3,800 per week.

"Tootsie" was employed by the Poultry Chamber of Commerce, an organization composed of practically all the wholesale poultry dealers in the New York area.

It was "Tootsie's" business to make sure that none of the retail dealers strayed from their assigned percentage. Working with him, "Tootsie" had a young army of gangsters, it is charged.

Other arrests are expected to follow. But—you don't expect anyone making $4,000 a week and useful to the bosses to go to jail, do you?

Ghost of Jugend Club Wakes to Donate $100

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Aug. 9.—The ghost of the famous Jugend Club came to life today, when the treasury of the disbanded organization was donated in its entirety to the National Miners Relief Committee.

The club was organized in 1921, but the membership scattered to every corner of the earth, until in 1926, the club was finally dissolved. One hundred dollars has remained in the treasury since then. The executive committee and the board of trustees communicated from distant parts of the country, and decided to turn over the fund to the relief committee, to help feed the hungry miners' families.

TRY UNION BREAKING.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 8.—The Miami Chamber of Commerce has at heart the interests of smashing unions, it is evidenced in its willingness to provide labor at its union scale for a hosiery concern here and also to give it a free building site.

TO TAKE MOVIES AT I. L. D. OUTING HERE TOMORROW

Expect Thousands at Big Affair

Continued from Page One An appeal has been issued by Rose Baron, secretary of the New York section of the I. L. D. to all workers to attend the outing en masse.

Support Outing.

"Now more than ever," the appeal states, "it is necessary for all workers to support to the utmost the organization which fights for them against the attacks of the capitalist courts. The International Labor Defense outing tomorrow will furnish funds which we need at once for our important work. The Mooney-Billings campaign must be launched on a huge scale in New York and the many cases now in the hands of the I. L. D., in which workers are being threatened with jail, deportation and other devices of capitalist 'justice' must be fought to successful conclusion. For all this work immediate funds are necessary.

"And funds are needed—large funds—in order to make the Sacco-Vanzetti Memorial Meeting which the I. L. D. is arranging in Union Square Aug. 22 at 5 p. m., a huge demonstration of working class solidarity and protest at the murder of our two comrades.

All Out! "Workers, the I. L. D. outing offers an opportunity for every worker to enjoy himself and strike a blow at the legal instruments of the capitalist class at the same time. Let the slogan be: every militant at the I. L. D. outing!"

Tickets for the affair are 35 cents and are on sale at the office of the I. L. D., 799 Broadway, room 422, and at the Workers Center, 26-28 Union Square.
