The K. K. K. Fears the "Daily"

Our enemy recognizes that the Daily Worker is a powerful weapon for the workers.

"The Daily Worker, central organ of the Communist Party of the U.S. (and acknowledged Section of the 3rd International of Moscow, Russia) has raised over (an earlier amount stated) within the last few weeks. Each day since the new drive started, a list of contributors and the amount contributed has been published in the red periodical. The fact that the contributions have been in small amounts from 50c to $25 makes the success of the Communist Drive more significant."

The above quotation is taken from the "Kourier," organ of the Ku Klux Klan, published in Atlanta, Georgia. The "Kourier" appeals to its readers not to contribute to the Daily Worker.

Previously the K.K.K. has claimed that "Moscow Gold" has supported the Daily Worker and the Communist Party. Now the K.K.K. become more truthful. Yes, it has been the nickels, dimes, fifty cent pieces and the dollars of the workers that has kept the "Daily" alive. The K.K.K. admits that the American masses support the "Daily" in the hope of rousing mass opposition to the "Daily."

BUT THE PRESENT DRIVE, comrades, is lagging behind. By now we should have collected about $20,000 of the $40,000 quota; we have received less than $5,000.

workers' nickels, dimes and fifty cent pieces that made our last drives successful. The reason our present drive is far behind is because the nickels and dimes of the workers have not been coming in. They have not been coming in, because you, comrades, members of the Party, members of mass organizations, units, sections, sympathizers, have not gone after these nickels and dimes.

Our enemy is wide awake. It will do everything in its power to destroy the Daily Worker and other revolutionary publications as a step to impose more bitter, more devastating slavery upon our class.

ONLY BY REACHING THE MASSES CAN WE SMASH THE K.K.K. SWASTIKA IN THE UNITED STATES! Only with the support of the masses can the revolutionary movement triumph.

The "Daily" can continue doing this ONLY if the nickels, dimes and fifty cent pieces of the workers keep it on its feet. DONATE YOURSELF! GET YOUR FRIENDS, YOUR FELLOW WORKERS TO DONATE! GET YOUR ORGANIZATION TO CON-TRIBUTE! RUN AFFAIRS TO RAISE FUNDS! Let the Ku Klux Klan froth; let it fear us. ANSWER IT'S ATTACK NOW!

and be glad of it. Nothing so crude and harrowing as revolutionary working class politics should be allowed to disturb this Utopia of monopoly

This is clear enough, but this is not all. Ie remained for Miss Perkins to describe in unmistakable terms the route the Roosevelt regime with the aid of the A. F. of L. leaders and the camp-follower professors, has mapped out for labor to travel:
"The fifty-third annual convention of your organization," said the patroness of the American labor movement, waving her lorgnette in the hest Boston Back Bay manner.

the best Boston Back Bay manner, thanks to the vision and courage of President Roosevelt in making pos-sible the National Recovery Act, sees labor as an integral part of the modern state."

"The modern state," for Miss Perkins means, of course, the capitalist-imperialist state which the United States is today. Not even the hardened reactionaries in the A. F. of L. Executive Council have dared openly to voice such a fascist conception of the role of labor organiza-tions under the N. R. A. Possibly their theoretical arsenals are not equipped for such far-reaching forays into the future.

Bulwarking her theory of the subordination of labor organizations to the exigencies of capital and government in "national recovery," the Secretary of Labor reiterated in sharper form the conception of gov-ernment as an entity standing above classes—the impartial arbiter of class conflicts. "The direction of this administration will be in the joint interest of wage earners, industry and the general public and not to favor any one group or class at the expense of another."

Since the economic conditions of workers can be improved only at the expense of the capitalists, it becomes still clearer what Miss Perkins, in her capacity of spokesman for the Roosevelt administration, meant when she said that "wage earners are to be permitted to make constructive contributions to solving the economic

Miss Perkins cannot truthfully be accused of inconsistency. The same note—that of subordination of the interests of labor to "the general good," that is, to the present form of society with the capitalist class in the saddle, the middle class clinging to its stirrupleather, running over labor and leaving it to gather e dung scattered along the road— struck throughout her speech.

Speaking of her own department the Secretary said it "was created in the interest of the welfare of all the wage earners in the country, whether organized or unorganized.' Her definition of workers' "welfare' was made clear in the next sentence:
"It (the Department of Labor)

must be administered in fairness be-tween worker and employer, between employer and employer, and between each and the public as a whole if it is to accomplish its set purpose.

The best comment on this state-nent was made at the convention press table by a correspondent of one of the big news services. He said: 'The lady used the word 'worker'

once and the word 'employer' three times in that short outline of the policy of the Labor Department." It is the intention of this article shatter the fiction that Frances Perkins has any conception of the role of the working class and its orsince she was appointed to give color to the fiction that the Roosevelt administration is "for labor."

Her convention speech brought her out into the open—mainly because in great waves of strikes in basic inworking class are fighting for their against the state-managed domination the oficial leaders and the government would force upon them.

Just two more pieces of testimony from the Perkins' lips: "For the influence of the wage workers of America for good goes L. We merely regway beyond the ranks of the workers got a big ovation.

A. F. of L. Officials Provide Scabs in Painters' Strike

140 Shops Settled With Union Conditions

NEW YORK .- As the Alteration Painter's strike increases in strength and more shops are being settled, A. F. of L. officials are making energetic efforts to break the strike and destroy the union. Not only are they planting pickets at shops settled by the union but are sending scabs to man the jobs of workers on strike. A number of rank and file painters have refused to aid the officials in their strikebreaking activity.

In Harlem where 30 Negro painters are on strike against the Sun Leasing Corporation, scabs sent by the A. F. of L. were repulsed by the militancy of the Negro and white pickets. The corporation is sending dispossess notices to the strikers who occupy their apartments. A rent strike is being organized in support of the de-mands of the strikers in Harlem.

About 1,100 painters in 140 shops have returned to their jobs under union conditions according to reports of the Alteration Painters Union.

The Brooklyn Bosses' Association after negotiations with the Union found that the Union would not yield an inch to the proposals of the bosse to lower the union scale of $9 a day. The bosses cancelled negotiations when the Union rejected any lowered scale but 15 bosses in the Association signed up individually conceding all union demands.

Two pickets were arrested for dis-orderly conduct when Jake Wolner, business agent of A. F. of L. local 102, Brooklyn, put scabs to whik under police protection at a shop on strike. Police arrested the pickets when they were pointed out by Jake. All painters are urged to attend the trial of the pickets at the Coney Island Court, Wednesday, October 11, at 8th St. and Surf Ave.

themselves and all groups-farmersinvestors-bankers-educators, etc., will benefit from this kind of a contribution. Their responsible relation to the modern state and its great in-dustrialism is taken for granted." Miss Perkins is nothing if not respectable. Were she to be accused of consorting with gangsters and racketeers, of aiding and abetting union corruption and racketeering as a private individual, doubtless she would have her attorney file criminal libel charges against the vicious per-sons or publications guilty of such

But as Secretary of Labor, in her official address to the A. F. of L. The result is that the price of bread, milk, wearing apparel and other necessities of life has gone soaring sky high, making life ever harder for even those workers and farmers who still have a few inflated dollars. On the other hand, bankers, and food trust and marketing speculators have made ever greater profits under the New Deal. For the great army of unemployed workers and penniless farmers, from whom even meager relief has been cut out, the New Deal means "new starvation."

Southern cotton growers, who a few months ago compelled their share-croppers to plow under 10,304,000 acres of cotton on the basis of advice from Roosevelt's "Brain Trust," have now come to Washington, demanding from Roosevelt a new inflation of the dollar

Worker Tells of Piece Work Slavery Under Dress Code

By a Needle Worker Correspondent

BRONX, N. Y.-I wish to bring to your attention the existence of slave conditions still existing in the very heart of the needle trade district, in spite of the fact that the N.R.A. and the right wing union has signed up on a wage scale with definite minimum limits.

To my mind the so-called strike has not remedied conditions much, Not the N.R.A. but real workers's union settlement will abolish the the next place we find sometimes sweatshop conditions.

My work is fine in quality and I can work as fast as any, but because I am not an old hand, the bosses I am not an old hand, the bosses shop, 260 W. 5th St., 6th floor, seven operators and two finishers, mypay me less and exploit me more.

This is what I have seen in the past week. I worked in I. Bernstein's dress place, 362 W. 35th St., 13th floor. There are about a dozen operators, mostly Italian, Negro, Portuguese. I annot say definitely about the rates of the operators, but as a finisher we got 6 cents a dress for sewing two buttons, tack down front part in dress, snaps on sleeves, snaps on side at waistline, buckle on belt, hook on neck loop. The girls worked like mad, did not dare to raise their heads.

Swears at Workers

A forelady with a filthy tongue swore and scolded the girls and wom-en if they did not sew so fast. The forelady sneered at the Italian and Negro women and made fun of them in Jewish. I am Jewish myself and I understood all this well. These work-ers are so glad to be working, they are so thankful for the job, that they consider it a kindness to receive 6 cents a dress. This must not be.

Many workers in shops like this work only a few days, sometimes a few hours, and go migrating to look for better jobs. At 6 cents a dress a must finish 73 dresses a day to

When I saw I could not make anything I asked to be paid off, so I could look for a job. My wage was 66 cents for almost a half day's work. The forelady, after telling me I was too slow, said, looking at some Negro girls who were still slower than I, "Perhaps you'd like to stay and break Yes, break my neck for 6 cents a dress, like hell. Three Negro girls got up with me and walked out, refusing to work for such "slave" fees. But what is done? When we go to seven operators and two finishers, myself and a Negro girl. I am paid 20 cents for 24 buttons on sleeves which are very difficult to sew on because of narrow width, snaps on waistline, one hook, two snaps on sleeves, two hard large woven loops for belt, three inches long, two buttons hand made. It takes three-quarters of an hour to complete such a dress.

The Negro girl did not complete 10 dresses the whole day. That makes $1.20. Would you call that a living wage, with the high prices? The boss spoke to the Negro girl privately and scared her into taking 20 cents for so much work. But I told her I would not work for such slave wages. He will either pay me 50 cents a dress for this work or I shall leave.

I lost my job in one place when the boss taught the examiner to make buttons on the machine. She holds two jobs but gets paid for one. I do not belong to the International Union because I can't spare $10 to get a book. Hell, those so-called union shops give non-union wages anyway Write me and tell me what to do.

Editor's Note: This letter was sen Editor's Note: This letter was sent to the Needle Trades Workers' Industrial Union, 131 W. 28th St., with instructions to get in tou3ch with this worker. This worker should also get in touch with the union, to get advice. Also, immediate action can be started if this worker speaks personally with others in the short personally with others in the shop about the grievances most vital to all the workers, and organizes a grievance committee to start a struggle, first on one important but small grievance, and then gradually expand as a small victory gains prestige for the committee among the rest of the workers.

A Unit in Cleveland "At Work"-- After Open Letter

Lack of Guidance by Section and District Leadership Criticized; Concentration Point Is Fisher Body Company

By M. A. CLEVELAND, O.—Unit No. 24 of Section 2, in Cleveland is dying, dying from lack of the right kind of Party nourishment, competent leadership, and those comrades who once in a while attend a unit meeting, wave their hands flutteringly in the air, and moan, "What can I do, I am doing all Comrade M. A.: —"The district should be alarmed at the moribun condition of unit. Should have check ed up on the organizational work car ried on at Fisher Body and investi gated the physical condition of unit. Unit can still survive over its present illness if the right kind of leadership be given to unit.'

Comrades, I am a "raw recruit" into the Party, and it is true that my un-derstanding of Party line is wobbly. but I am terribly concerned over the lack of work carried on by our unit. Times like these, Open Letter, or not, should educate Party members into doing spirited organizational work. We cannot moan, or flutter our hands in Unit No. 24. We demand that the district give us the political guidance necessary in order to reawaken our unconscious Unit. Fisher Body must be organized!

Here is an example on how some of the units are functioning after the discussion on the Open Letter in the District Conference in Cleveland, after the section conference and the discussions in the units. Still the old dry mechanical life; still no attempt to apply concretely the line of the Open Letter to the tasks of the units. Why? Because of the lack of leadership by the of the lack of leadership by the Section Committee and the District Committee. This is one example that illustrates the situation of many of the Party units, where because of the low grade of initiative the section leadership and district leadership has to step in. The problem of Unit 24, section

2 is to study and concretize a program of action on how to organize the workers in the Fisher Body. Does this unit get guidance from the Section which has in its plan as the major task, the concentration on the Fisher Body? Does the Section guide the units along this task? What happened with the program of work?

The comrade from Unit 24 who raised the problem "Fisher Body Must be organized," should bring this problem into a discussion of the unit, the unit shall bring it to the section; the unit shall not wait for everything from above, but when they feel the necessity of being assisted in their work, they must demand the assistance, exercise pressure upon the leading committees to give the guidance.

Sorrows of a Labor Faker

PD COLLINS is one of the big shots in the United Mine Workers' Union. an organizer who has had his feet and snout in the miners' treasury for decades. You know the type; they get to look like each other, these labor babbitts. They are usually big as elephants across the beam, from years of sitting down. They have big jowls, bellies padded out like expense accounts, and deep bellowing voices filled with righteous indignation.

I've seen many of the stripe, and I am sure I am describing Ed accurately Will somebody tell me if Ed Collins has his callouses not on his hands where they would be from labor, but on his elbows, from leaning on the bars of saloons?

Does he wear a big watchchain across his padded gut? Does his wife live in a fashionable suburb? Is she now accepted in the best scciety, by the wives of bankers, police captains and high class gangsters? Do his kids go to the best private schools? Is his oldest boy the pride of Harvard, maybe, and drive his own Cadillac bought him by his fond papa with miners' blood-money? If I'm wrong, tell me.

When Ed comes from a big six-course meal at some conference in a hotel with the coal bosses, and is all puffed up with roast duck, cocktails, Corona cigar-smoke, and his own self-satisfaction, does he look in on some starving, pale miner with six hungry kids, and say patronizingly, "Well, Jim, it's a little tough now, but we all gotta stick together?"

Saved by Nira

ED was on the skids just before Nira came in. The miners had begun to see through him at last. In his district they'd been hungry for years, and it finally got on their nerves to see his beefy smiling face around. Nobody had ever seen Ed organize anything. Nobody had ever heard of his missing a meal. Where did he get that swell car and those diamond rings? And why was the union shot all to hell? No, Ed was surely on

And John L. Lewis, his boss, was on the skids, too, and all his thugs and jobholders couldn't help him. Ed had begun to worry about the future and to wonder whether he oughtn't open a beer garden or even go to work somewhere. Then Nira came along and saved the whole racketeering crew!. John L. Lewis was given the coal mining concession by his chief, General Hughie (Conscription) Johnson, The word went down along the line, and all the big, corn-fed organizers made whoopee. Ed Collins was so delighted he bought his wife a diamond wrist watch and gave his henchmen a three-day booze party with some dizzy blondes in the William Penn Hotel. Easy come, easy go, had always been his motto.

The Strike

OUT Nira didn't make good. It was true it got Ed back his check-off assessments. No miner could work without having deducted from his pay check a rakeoff for Ed Collins and his family. Ed Collins had no further worries, but the miners had. To begin with, they had really gotten a wage cut after all the ballyhoo died down. They figured it out and went on strike; demanding that the other codes be lived up to.

It dooked bad in the district run by Ed Collins. Some 50,000 men were out and it got into all the papers. President Roosevelt heard of it, and one of his secretaries told him how to handle it.

It was done with a technique first invented by the Prince of Wales. The President got Ed Collins on long-distance from Washington, and said with a smile:

"This is the President of the United States." "Yes. Mr. President." Ed stuttered.

"Ed." said the President. "I've heard about you from General Johnson, and I know you are with me. Ed, I am putting it all in one word:

stop that strike!" "Ifr. President, I promise you I'll stop it at once."

And Ed called a meeting for that very night. He was thrilled to the core. This was making history, all right; the President of the United States telephoning to a union organizer, a man who'd worked with pick and shovel and climbed from the ranks. Not only telephoning, but calling him by his first name, like a buddy.

"And he said to me, said the President, 'Ed, you must stop the strike'," the red-faced sweaty hero bellowed to the miners' meeting. He paused and expected something which didn't come. The hall was silent. "And so men, there is nothing else to do but call it off, is there?"

It was then Ed got the shock of his life. He had always managed with the help of police, his own private thugs, labor spies and other assistants, to keep the miners quiet in the vestpocket where he carried them for delivery to whoever paid the price. But now they started to boo. They whistled and razzed him, and yelled, "You skunk, you sold us out in 1922 and you can't do it again."

"But the President, the President-" the lardy racketeer pleaded. But the meeting broke up in confusion, after a unanimous vote to carry on with the strike.

So Ed went home to bawl out his wife and to think up other ways and means of selling out the miners. Nira wasn't doing all that was expected of it, Ed reflected. Even though the President phoned and called him, "Ed," those dumb miners insisted on more than that. They seemed to want real groceries!

Other Nira Notes

DRESIDENT GREEN of the A. F. of L. has been forced to warn Washington that the workers will not be pleased by inflation, which is really nothing but a national wage-cut.

The workers are also beginning to dislike this price-raising orgy that goes on amongst the profiteers. Under the proud flag of the Blue Eagle the respectable pirates have begun to rob millions of babies of milk, their proletarian mothers and fathers of food and clothing.

And Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, of Columbia University, has taken his accustomed place and now stands behind the President. In a speech the other day, Mr. Butler concedes that it is "heart-breaking" to see vast quantities of foodstuffs being destroyed while "human beings are crying aloud for them," yet we shall not be able to recover from the depression until our system of distribution is balanced. "Restore confidence," he declared, "and give us a balance between production and consumption and the deed is done." If Nira does not succeed, warned this educator, America will be forced into a dictatorship... "Make no mistake about it, my fellow-Americans, we have been at a crossings of the ways, and the whole world has been there with us." He then cited the examples of Russia, which turned to Communism, and Germany and Italy, which turned to Fascism.

But Roosevelt, General Johnson and old Nickie Butler have never been accused of any sympathies for Communism. We are really being warned in advance of what may happen if Nira doesn't go across-

But the liberal World Telegram is very indignant over the strike wave. 'Ardent in its desire for justice for labor, this newspaper can yet hold no brief for those groups which will not let people work when they want to. The present strike chaos is sabotage of recovery."

Spoken like a thoughtful and idealistic scab! We would advise this editorial writer to read his own financial columns. One item last week reported that real wages had gone down almost two percent during the tracted a more than capacity audience of colored and white people to auditorium of the Y.W.C.A. on 138th St., last Sunday evening. There was an atmosphere of wholehearted interest as the audience laid down their programs which an-nounced, first, a group of dances by Winfield, and his group, to a radio broadcast called "Red Lacquer and Jade"; second, Black and White Solidarity Dance by two members of the Workers Dance League, and, third, a forum on the question, "What Shall the Negro Dance About?" Seven dances were presented by Winfield, assisted by his Negro Ballet. There was imagination and fan-tasy, emotional lucidity and restraint showing a fine feeling for the music. He always succeeded in projecting a definite mood. The second part of the program was a Black and White Solidarity Dance by two members of the Workers Dance League. The social theme struck a contrasting realistic note. With sure performance the Negro and white workers went through rhythmic movements depicting work, speed-up, racial antagonism, then realization of class solidarity. dance reached a dramatic climax when Negro and white workers join hands in a red front salute.

The forum discussion on "What Shall the Negro Dance About?" was opened by Winfield, who expressed the opinion that all races, no matter what color, had fundamental human feelings and ideas to express in move-

"The Negro has primitive African material that he should never lose.
The Negro has his work songs of the South which he alone can express. It's hard for me to say what the Negro should dance about. What has anyone to dance about?"

After the cordial applause for Win field, Add Bates, Negro member of the Workers Dance League, said that, 'A young Negro should dance about the things that are vital to him. There should be a militant direction

There should be a minitally direction, there. There should be some fights."
The floor was thrown open to discussion and some very interesting contributions were made by members of the audience, many of whom agreed on one point: "We have come to a newer type of dance," said a representative young Negro girl, "a dance that has social significance. Since we recognized the Negro as an exploited race, our dance should express the strivings of the new Negro t should express our struggle for social, economic and political equality and our part in the struggle against

Winfield, who had been listening very intently to each speaker, in summing up the forum, said:

The Red Press Bazaar

THE RED PRESS BAZAAR, opening today at 4 p.m., at Madison Square Garden, gives every worker a chance to put our revolutionary press on a more solid footing. The proceeds will go for the upkeep of the Daily Worker, Morning Freiheit, and Young Worker.

The value of these organs to the workers does not have to be stressed too much. Revolutionary workers especially know that without the continued publication of our newspapers the task of reaching our fellow workers is practically a hopeless one. And it is only the workers who will support our publications, which attack every day the evils of capitalism, which utter the clarion call to workers to rise against our oppres-

TOM MANN, veteran of the class struggle, who offered to come to the opening of the Bazaar to address the workers, was at one time an editor of a revolutionary publication. He knows the important role our publications play in the class struggle. He is coming to the Bazaar, probably the biggest affair of its kind, to do his part to help our revolutionary press. He is today, at 77, one of the most eloquent of revolutionary

We are not minimizing the relaxation and enjoyment that the Bazaar will afford to the workers, their families and friends.

This Giant Red Press Bazaar is the more significant at the present time, because its success will mean that our Red Press can continue to function mightily on the revolutionary battle front of the proletariat, at a time when all our weapons must be sharpened, intensified, to defeat the rising tide of fascism in the

We urge you not only to come, but also that you bring your friends and your fellow shop workers who at such an affair can help us in our struggle and be drawn closer to our revolutionary movement

Murderous Charity

CLANKED by Catholic priests at a Charity Conference, Roosevelt yesterday flung down to the 17,000,000 jobless workers and their starving families his relief program for the coming winter.

In dozens of pre-election speeches, Roosevelt cautiously dangled before the workers the bait of "unemployment insurance." The democratic platform specifically mentions some form of State unemployment

Where are all these promises?

Yesterday, Roosevelt told the millions of hungry workers that they must look to the bitter crumbs of charity for relief. He said:

"The Federal government cannot and does not ntend to take care of the whole job of relief. Every State and community must do its share."

This was the Hoover program. It is the Roosevelt program. It is the program of harsh, granite resistance to the most crying need of the American working class at the present moment-Unemployment Insurance at the expense of the Federal government and the em-

The Hoover and Roosevelt program of State and local relief has been such a ghastly failure that even Roosavelt's own Relief Administrator Hopkins, had to admit yesterday that for over 15,000,000 workers' families the coming winter will be the blackest, the most tragic yet seen during the economic crisis.

Unless something is done, Hopkins admitted, thousands of workers' children will feel agonies of starva-

And, yet, both he and his master, Roosevelt, set their jaws and doom the workers to the criminally inadequate local charities. Roosevelt's utterance yesterday was nothing more nor less than a sentence of doom to literally millions of working class families all over the country.

WITH heartless cynicism, Roosevelt preached "a spirit of sacrifice" to the starving, jobless workers. But, within the last six months, Roosevelt has given $600,000,000 to the Army and Navy as part of the regu-

In addition, he has given them another $325,000,000 from the so-called public works fund.

He has paid out or promised to the Wall Street bankers over $725,000,000 in interest and loan pay-

His agent in the R.F.C. has given hundreds of millions of dollars to the rich railroads and banks, with still another billion promised.

And in the face of this brazen squandering for war and the banks, Roosevelt dares to come before the starving millions with the hypocrisy of "self-sacrifice!" This is a brutal crime against the workers and Roosevelt's speech yesterday proven him to be an outspoken agent of the pitiless ruling capitalist class that rules from Wall Street.

This is a challenge to the working class! It must be answered. Roosevelt's starvation decree must and can be destroyed! The families of the workers cannot be left to the savage mercies of the Roosevelt charity program.

Organization-action-can do it. In every union, factory, mine, breadline, relief station, neighborhood, the cry must be raised for immediate Federal Unemployment Insurance to be paid by the government!

Turn all war funds over for relief funds! Stop all its to the Wall Street bankers! This must be

A Socialist Invitation

VESTERDAY Franklin D. Roosevelt, President of the United States, was invited to join the Socialist

It may sound incredible. But it actually happened. Over ten thousand New York workers heard Abraham Cahan, one of the oldest leaders of the Socialist Party, and editor of the Socialist paper, the "Forward," invite him in. Here are his actual words, set down for

"The N.R.A. has been handled in a democratic way, and the President has earned the gratitude of every thinking man in the country...on the basis of his work so far he really should be a Socialist."

On one side of Cahan sat Norman Thomas. On the other sat the Tammany Police Chief and notorious thug organizer—the unspeakable Grover Whalen. This was the setting for the invitation to Roosevelt to join the party of Eugene Victor Debs.

Thomas seconded the invitation-with the typical Thomas reservations. Thus the Thomas "left wing" and the Hillquit-Cahan "right wing" of the Socialist Party joined hands.

Cahan's invitation is only the logical culmination of the congratulatory visit that Thomas and Hillquit paid Roosevelt at the White House in April.

The socialist leaders have looked Roosevelt over. And they find him good.

J. P. Morgan and John D. Rockefeller also find Maybe they are next in line for an invitation from Cahan, Hillquit and Thomas, to become members of the party of Debs. Roosevelt, says Abraham Cahan, "has administered the N.R.A. democratically." What do the 100,000 coal miners think of that? What do the two steel workers who yesterday had their sides ripped away by dum-dum bullets from deputy sheriffs' rifles think of that? What do the farmers who faced tear gas and machine guns, the New Mexico and Pennsylvania miners who were met with bullets, think of the "democratic methods of

In Germany the socialist leaders accepted the Kaiser's butcher, Von Hindenburg, as their candidate for President of Germany. They hailed him as their leader, as a great "democrat."

In this country, the Socialist leaders hail Roosevelt in exactly the same way, as a great "socialist." The part they are playing here is the same as the part their Social-Democratic fellow traitors played in

SOCIALIST workers! You who have felt the teeth of the N.R.A., the Roosevelt rising costs of living, the hunger, the suffering. You who see Roosevelt preparing for the greatest imperialist world slaughter in history, who see him building bombing planes, poison gas, tanks-what do you think of Thomas' and Cahan's praise for Roosevelt? When we, Communists, call your leaders socialfascists, it is not abusive names that we are using, It is not "slanders" and lies that we are flinging, as

We call your leaders social-fascists because they cover up fascist deeds with socialist phrases.

When Abraham Cahan calls the capitalist agent Roosevelt, a "socialist," he is playing the typical role of the social-fascist.

Cahan sees in Roosevelt a fellow-socialist. He is

They are both socialists-of the same calibre. Of the calibre of Hindenburg, the fascist butcher.

A Vatican Echo

THERE was an ominous note sounded in Roosevelt's charity speech last night.

Unbosoming himself before a gathering of high Catholic priests, Roosevelt, darling of the "liberals," echoed in an unmistakable manner Soviet intervention propaganda that comes from the Pope at the Vatican. In a thinly veiled reference to the Soviet Union.

Roosevelt said: "Those people in other lands—I say this advisedly—who have sought by edict or by law to eliminate the right of mankind to believe in God...have discovered that they are...tilting in vain against an inherent quality...an undying necessity of the human race." What is this if not a watered down version of the Pope's Holy Crusade against the Soviet Union as "the land of the godless"?

Roosevelt lies when he says that the proletarian dictatorship of the Soviet Union forbids religion by

The Soviet Union by education, by scientific enlightenment, by cooperative Socialist work for all, is doing away with the need for religion by abolishing the fear, the uncertainty, and the poverty of workers' life under capitalism.

Actually, there is more religious liberty in the Soviet Union than anywhere in the world. But, in the Soviet Union, while the State permits freedom in religion, it fights with the weapon of science against the stupifying effect of all religions on the masses, an effect which is being consciously utilized by capitalist governments all over the world.

Roosevelt's veiled threat against the Soviet Union as a land where the "undving necessity of religion" is being crushed, is an ominous sympton of the fact that the "liberal" Roosevelt, is using religious hysteria to blind the workers to their misery under capitalism, and to prepare them for military intervention against the country where the workers have abolished unemployment, wage slavery, and are building a Socialist

A Mind Cure

A COUPLE of ministers have announced the formation of a new philanthropy—a mental hygiene clinic for the unemployed. Out of their Christian charity, they will examine jobless workers for whom the hideous insecurity of modern life has become an unbearable mental strain. And then, says the announcement, the unfortunate workers will be recommended to hospitals.

Now isn't that nice? It has never occurred to the ministers that a jobless worker whose mind is tortured by the terror of joblessness, whose mind is harrowed by the sufferings of his children, can be miraculously cured by giving him a good, secure job.

Has it ever occurred to these charitable people that thousands of workers suffering from the effects of joblessness, could have been saved from their sufferings by the security of Federal Unemployment Insurance paid by the government and the employers?

It is a fact that the nightmare of unemployment has aggravated the mental sufferings of thousands of workers, has driven many of them to suicide and insanity. That is part of the ghastly toll that capitalism takes from the working class.

But the cure for it is not to confine these workers to bleak city hospitals. The cure is to make it possible for them to employ their normal energies in useful work. But this will be possible only if the working class drives the capitalist class out of the ruling position in society and opens the factories again.

This is a cure that is so obvious that we are sure that it will never occur to the ministerial gentlemen

1,000 Delegates Take Solemn Pledge to Fight War; French Soldiers Greet Congress With Red Front Salute

NEW YORK .- The American delegation to the World Youth Congress Against War and Fascism, held in Paris, Sept. 22-24, returned yesterday bringing with them the pledge solemnly adopted by the Congress delegates on the battlefield of Complegne. The pledge reads:

Congress Pledge Against War.
"We, the youth of the world, of every continent, of every race, of every calling—workers, young women, peasants, students and intellectuals—declare our united de-termination to fight against war, to smash fascism, to fight under the Red Flag of Socialism.

"Remembering the millions of war dead, in the teeth of terror, famine and slavery—the fruits of capitalism—we take this solemn pledge to play our part, to carry out the Charter of the World Youth Congress, to keep fighting day after day against the preparations for imperialist war in all its forms, and to defend the Soviet Union.

"If in spite of our efforts, imper-ialist war should break out, we undertake to strangle it by universal fraternization of the young men and women of all the countries in

"We shall never submit to pour ing out our blood for the profit of the rich. "We are sounding the rallying cry for the youth of the world. We shall avenge the dead. We appeal to the living."

"We never before witnessed such enthusiasm, such militancy, as at the Paris World Congress," declared Thomas Joyce of the Marine Workers' Industrial Union, delegated by New York and Brooklyn youth or-

Lonnie Williams, young Negro worker from the Ford River Rouge plant in Detroit, added that many of the 1,025 delegates came to the Congress at the risk of their lives, especially those from Fascist and colonial countries. There were 40 delegates from Germany, while nine

The militant taxi drivers union of Paris placed nearly 200 cabs at the disposal of the Congress for the trip. In front of the "peare monument" on the battlefield the delegates took the pledge printed above.

Soldiers Give Red Front Salute

The delegates turned the trip back to Paris into an anti-war demonstration, passing several towns with army barracks, where many soldiers gave the Congress delegates the raised clenched fist "Red Front" salute.

Paris Police Arrest 15 German Delegates

The Paris police broke up the parade when it reached the city, aresting 22 German delegates for "anti-militarist propaganda among the armed forces." French Communist deputies intervened and forced their release.

The honorary presidium of the Congress included Barbusse, Romain Rolland, Maxim Gorki, Andre Gide and several world-famous French professors. Ernst Thaelmann, Ernst Torgler, Dimitroff, Popoff and Taneff, as well as Bruno Tesch, heroid young German Communist executed by the Nazi headsmen in Altona, were also elected to the presidium.

Delegates attended from practically every country in Europe, and from South America, Cuba, Morocco, Al-geria, China, Japan, Canada and the United States.

The other American delegates were Toijo Oja, young Finnish furniture worker of Gardner, Mass.; Phil Rosengarten, shoe worker of Brooklyn representing the I.W.O.; and Cleme Strauss, of Waterbury, Conn., of the National Lithuanian Youth Federa-

The delegation was greeted when the steamship Lafayette docked by groups from the Marine Workers Industrial Union and various national youth organizations.
