Organize CWA Workers' Fight!

ONE of the chief tasks of the campaign for the National Convention Against Unemployment in Washington, D. C., on Feb. 3, 4 and 5, is the fight for the demands of the workers on C. W. A. projects. This struggle has not yet been organized on a mass basis

Spontaneous demonstrations, protests and marches of C. W. A. workers have been carried on in many cities. In almost every locality the C. W. A. workers have raised demands on their C. W. A. officials-for back pay, fires on the job, better wages, against discrimination, etc. In many cases these demands have been won.

But job committees, Relief Councils and Unions, have not been organized except here and there, and in some cases where they have been organized they have remained skeletons. In the short time remaining before the national Unemployed Convention, these spontaneous protests of the C. W. A. workers should be organized. The fight for the Workers Unemployment Insurance Bill must be brought forward among the C. W. A. workers.

Organize job committees among the C. W. A. workers! Lead the struggle for the every day demands of the C. W. A. workers! Fight for the passage of the Workers Unemployment Insurance Bill! Elect delegates for the National Unemployed Convention!

Anthracite Union Heads Block Call For Strike Action

Men for Action at Once But Leaders Call in NRA Labor Board

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Jan. 3 .- So strong was the demand for strike at the convention of the United Anthracite Miners of Pennsylvania which closed here yesterday that union of-ficials were able only to postpone the date to January 15 instead of permitting it to begin immediately.

Thomas Maloney, president of the union, pleaded with the miners not to strike, telding them "it would be suicide to strike now."

To defeat the immediate call for strike, the union officials called in Monsignor Curran, strikebreaking Taxi Drivers Still Out; priest; Major Moore, N. R. A. mediator, Col. Smith, newspaper editor, and a host of others.

None of them could get the miners to give up their strike demand. Instead, however, the officials worked out a proposal that an appeal be milk dr made to the National Labor Board to broken. take up the grievances by January 13, to work today and submit grievances and act on them. If no action took to the Regional Labor Board for arplace at that time, the strike would bitration.

Loyal Membership Provides Funds for Immediate Bail

NEW YORK .- Bail agregating $54,-000 was placed on the 28 leaders and members of the Needle Trades Workers' Industrial Union when they were arraigned before Federal Judge Cnox at the Federal District Court vesterday, on framed up charges.

Although federal prosecutor Aiman pleaded for higher bail equal to that placed on the fur bosses and the A. F. of L. officials, Judge Knox was ompelled to deny the prosecutor's plea after hearing the argument of ouis Boudin attorney for the Industrial Union.

Boudin showed that it was due to the Industrial Union's exposure of racketeering in the fur industry that bosses and the A. F. of L. officials were handed down and, he argued all members of the Industrial Union facing these false charges are shop workers, not highly paid bosses or A. F. of L. officials.

Men Forced To Work in Sub-Zero Weather

BOSTON, Jan. 3.—Five workers rom one gang of C. W. A. workers died from exposure during the cold spell here last Wednesday. This was reported in the local newspapers in an obscure corner without headlines On the next day, Thursday, ten workers on city welfare jobs shovelling snow were taken sick and re-moved to a hospital. As a result, other workers refused to work, and all work was suspended for the day low zero. One worker said, "It was so cold that the workers' faces looked as though the blood would burst

During the cold spell and the snowstorm, the local papers hailed the "efficiency" of the relief agencies and the C. W. A. Several thousand sand workers were given work shovelling snow, but no provision was made to see that they had sufficient

Strike Threat Forces Brooklyn Laundry to Rehire Negro Worker

NEW YORK. - Workers of the Westboro Laundry compelled the re-hiring of a Negro worker whom the boss had fired when they threatened a walk out. The workers had or-ganized a united front in the shop. When the boss had failed to turn the union in the shop into a company union, he tried to destroy it by laying off workers, speeding up the others. He fired Lewis, a leading Negro worker of the shop, believing that he had weakened the union sufficiently to crush resistance. The threat to strike forced him to yield. The workers were led by the Laundry Workers' Industrial Union.

County Relief

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Jan. 3.—After series of struggles, the Cleveland Steel and Metal Workers' Industrial Jobless Member Union has succeeded in reversing a ruling of the County Relief Associa YOUNGSTOWN, O., Jan. 3.-The tion that strikers are not eligible for unemployment relief.

During the recent strike wave the County Relief Association co-operated with the employers to discour threats that strikers would not be given relief either while on strike or anytime afterwards. On the basis of this policy the South Side Branch of the County Relief Association re-fused relief to Irene Tesser, militan striker of the Arrow Manufacturing Co. strike. NEW YORK.—The resolution by the New York District of the Communist Party estimating the results and lessons of the last city election campaign (November, 1932 elections), as published below, is of particular interest to all revolutionary workers. 1. The results of the last election campaign in New York, while showing an increase in the Party vote from pproximately 27,000 to 30,000 over ast year, cannot be regarded as satisfactory in any way, and does not represent by far, the increase in votes the Party could have gained. The fact that of all minor parties, our Party was the only one to show heavily (the Socialist Party losing 175,000 votes) shows the growing inimprovement and advance in our election work. Nevertheless, this growth indicates what could have been accomplished with better ortivity on the part of the Party. While the election of LaGuardia further consolidates the control of fusion by the Socialist Party struggle in this period bears such a finance capital over the city admin-leaders and the very slight difference lear political character, and because istration (La Guardia being the candidate of the most powerful finance interests such as the Chase National Bank, the traction interests, etc.) the sweeping LaGuardia victory and the defeat of Tammany Hall for the first time in 16 years, are unmistakable signs of the deep and widespread mood of the masses. The tremendous interest of the masses in the election (approximate increase of the total vote by 250,000) was clearly due to the widespread discontent with the Tammanybankers program and a desire to get rid of the Tammany administration.

Negro Vet Driven to Militant But Individual Action

(By a Worker Correspondent) NEW ORLEANS, La.—This inci-ent occurred on the day of the reopening of the trial of the Scotts-boro boys, Nov. 27.

The hero in this is a northern-born Negro who has been in New Orleans over three years. On account of disabilities incurred in the World War he had to spend three years in the Marine Hospital here, having been discharged early in 1933. Since he left the hospital, he has not been able to find work. Neither has he been able to pay rent since April, 1933.

In March, 1933, Roosevelt's new deal for the vets cut this Negro off the list of those receiving compensation from the government

Gravel Haulers

By a Farmer Correspondent

OWEN, Wis .- Gravel haulers on a W. A. project in Beaver township and a half yards to a trip and had to make three trips a day, which required about nine hours, for which they only got paid for six hours work, Tom Mooney has spent 17 years still would require six hours to make behind bars, so a hundred days is the trip.

Two and a quarter yards is too much of a load, for team and wagon, and those who had made their boxes bigger were soon kicking, along with those who were still hauling 1 1-2 yards, but had to make three trips. The United League stepped into the picture and called the farmers in meeting, where the following demands were formulated:

1. That they would only haul 1 1-2 yards to a load.

2. That they would only make two trips a day, which would be within the six hour day. 3. That in the event it took longer than six hours to make a trip on longer hauls, they would not work longer than 30 hours a week. 4. That every hauler would go back to work after Christmas with the

the demands.

The next day the committee got the signatures, and then went to Mr. Township to present the demands. When he saw the demands he hit on the table with his fist till it jumped off the floor, and said he wouldn't listen to them. But the committee was not to be bluffed and the boss had to listen and he had to accept them.

The result was the farmers went to work the morning after Christmas with the 1 1-2 yard box and made only two trips a day, thereby winning their demands. This is another example of what a real dirt farmers' organization and mass action can

Housewives and Their Husbands

TRED STANLEY, a Chicago worker, feels very deeply about the home problem of the Communist worker in America. The man becomes radicalized, but the woman does not, and a devastating conflict sets in, which often affects the children and even breaks up the home.

Part of the misunderstanding often comes from the fact that the woman has no contacts with the outside world. She is locked like a prisoner in the home by her many duties and cares. Hers is an intensely emotional but narrow world. She fights for her little brood and family with the same primitive fierceness and ignorance as did the wives of

But the man is out in a factory. He is in contact with other workers and, through a trade union, has learned that only in co-operative effort can these problems be met. He has also met many forms of agitation; soapboxers have hammered at him from street corners, he has read newspapers and pamphlets, he has had also to learn something about the

He cannot escape the modern currents. But a housewife can, and often becomes real tragedy—this gap between a man who has been going forward in development, while the wife he loves has stood still.

Comrade Stanley has no solution to offer, since he finds that it is almost impossible for the class-conscious husband to educate his wife. She resists too much, takes everything, too personally. This is true; the man cannot do the job alone. Somehow he must find ways to expose his wife to the same influences that changed him. He ought to urge her to go to mass meetings; when he is on strike he ought to bring her out on the picket line, to see boss-brutality at first hand; he ought argue her into joining one of the Women's Councils.

In the Soviet Union this problem is being solved by these collective methods. Housewives are organized in trade unions, like their husbands; they also participate in child welfare work, and co-operative societies for food distribution, and similar types of organization closely linked up with their daily life. They also elect members to each local Sowiet, to represent the interests of the housewives.

Can Hitler Defeat the Women? No!

BUT, of course, we are not yet near anything like that in America. There are women's councils in some of the big cities, and many of the left wing unions have learned from Communist teachers that you can't really win a strike without the complete enthusiasm of the women,

One of the basic platforms of Communism is the demands for the treedom of women. Fascism, on the other hand, believes that women should be nothing but breeding machines to produce dumb and obedient cannon-fodder for the wars of capitalist imperialism

Hitler has deprived women of every one of their hard-won political rights. They cannot vote or hold office, they are being pushed out of the professions and factories; they are told that thinking is a man's job, and their role in life is to uphold the three Ks-Kirche, Kinder und Kuchewhich means church, children and kitchen.

But women have advanced too far even in the bourgeois world to go back a thousand years. Women have brains and courage. Great masses of them today are fighting side by side with their husbands in the great world revolution that will free men, women and children from the prisonhouse of capitalism.

If one wanted at least one definite sign that Hitler cannot survive, it is this attempt of his to re-enslave the women. It can't be done. The clock of history cannot be turned back in this manner, even by the bloody hand

AND now I shall give some excerpts from Comrade Stanley's fine letter, and I trust a few of the women will sit down and tell him and the st of us what can be done about the matter.

"It is well known that the pressure on many Party members from their there the wives took their children away and deserted the man, because wives is sometimes unbearable. I have seen in my own neighborhood cases

"Consider the environment of the American housewife. The radio all day filling her mind with poison. Salesmen calling at the door with a phoney talk of prosperity. The kids coming from school and bringing her ore capitalsit propaganda and lies. Movies occasionally, sometimes a tabloid paper, nearly always the church.

"The result is: she becomes a being that reacts to every emotion without plan, object or reason. She accuses her husband of all sorts of things. His love has cooled. He is going to the bad because he neglects going to church. She can't understand him any longer, thinks he is crazy when he talks enthusiastically about the Soviet Union. She cries and prays and man like her husband can no longer believe in President Roosevelt and the Nira.

"Why does he worry so much about the state of the country? Why not wait until things are bad for his own family? After all, it is not their kids who are dying of hunger, and the landlord hasn't evicted them yet.

"And as for militant action, the workers taking the world in their own hands, that terrible. For she can't believe that he worker-husband may have as good brains as some of the fat grafters who run the government.

'No, she prefers to drift and live in those rosy dreams that are made in Hollywood to drug the minds of the working class. Many of these women would die for their husbands and children in any great struggle. but they take the easy road of dreams in every day life. Meanwhile the little family drifts toward destruction as the capitalist octopus reaches out toward them. Why can't the housewives see that the only way to love your working class husband and children today is to fight for their freedom? When and how can we make these women see, that literally, they have nothing to lose but their chains?"

Clara Zetkin's Reminiscences of Lenin Re-Issued

Communist leader who died recentwrote her reminiscences of Lenin immediately after his death. Her "Reminiscences of Lenin" have just been reissued by International Publishers for the Tenth Memorial Anniversary of Lenin's death.

Clara Zetkin tells of meetings and long conversations with Leren. while her impressions are still fresh. She gives an intimate picture of Lenin, the leader and man, tells of Lenin, the leader and man, tells of his reaction to the numerous problems facing the Soviet Republic and the international working class. Of The tasks of the first plan and has another section on the work in the rural districts.

This comprehensive book of 490 given in Spanish, in order to meet pages covers every phase of Soviet the demands of those Spanish development and supplies the latest who do not understand English as with us.

The subjects covered in these conversations are the German situation at the time, which is of special interest in view of the present events; the question of the Polish War and the "Left Communists;" various questions of culture, edu-cation and art. Of special impor-tance is Clara Zetkin's report of a long conversation on the subject of omen, marriage, and sex and the problems of the youth movement.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 4, 1934

Betraval in Anthracite

ANTHRACITE miners who left the U.M.W.A. because they were sick and tired of Lewis's strikebreaking got a sample Tuesday of what little difference there is between their present leaders, Maloney and Capellini, and the ones they thought they got rid of when they joined the United Anthracite Miners of Penn-

Tuesday a convention of this union was held in Wilkes-Barre. The miners had only one thought strike! They had been bulldozed and stalled off on promises of negotiations around wages and conditions by the National Labor Board. Priest and press were hauled into the convention time and again to get the miners to see what a glorious man Roosevelt was and what an inspiring thing the N.R.A. was.

But the miners wanted none of it. They want action on their demands.

Monday, when Thomas Maloney, president of the union, saw that he could not stop a strike vote, he appealed to the men to wait until they heard from N.R.A. representatives. After listening to a whole row of fakers, including Monsignor Curran and Major Moore of the N.R.A. who helped break the Utah coal strike, and a list of others, the miners still could not be

In order to stall off the strike and give the coal operators time to prepare to act against the miners, Maloney was able to push through a resolution declaring that the miners would wait until January 13 for the National Labor Board to act. If by that time no action was forthcoming, they would strike on Janu-

THIS TRICKERY presents the anthracite miners with the fact that their leaders and their union under such leadership is not one whit different than Lewis and his strikebreaking gang running the U.M.W.A.

The miners are being turned over to the National Labor Board for the same type of betrayal Lewis handed the Fayette County miners. And the anthracite miners can expect no different treatment from the National Labor Board than the Weirton Steel workers, or the Budd and Philadelphia taxe drivers got.

As the situation now stands, the officials of the United Anthracite Miners of Pennsylvania turn the fate of the miners over to the National Labor Board (that is, in this case, directly to John L. Lewis). Meanwhile, the operators are tipped off and can prepare to meet the miners to the disadvantage of the men.

Such shameless betrayals are piling up more and my each day in the U.M.W.A., as well as in the and in the ranks of the Progressive Miners

EVERY ONE of the actions of the fakers in the various miners' unions run by Lewis, Maloney, or Pearcey, confirms the estimation made by the Communist Party leaders active in the mine fields, and published in the Daily Worker recently as the "Communist Program of Action in the Mine Fields."

That program pointed out that though the anthracite miners broke away from the U.M.W.A. because they realized the strikebreaking role of Lewis, their present leadership was basically no different.

The main goal, the Program pointed out, was for all Communists in the coal fields to penetrate all of these unions and to work for their unification into one national militant union of all miners freed from its strikebreaking officials.

On January 23 the U.M.W.A. International Convention opens in Indianapolis, and there is already sufficient news from all fields that Lewis will have to face an aroused rank and file calling him to account for his past strikebreaking deeds and demanding action for the miners in the future.

THE TIME is short for organizing the rank and file opposition delegates to this convention, but it must be done from now on at top speed.

It is well here to emphasize again and stress the basic point of the "Communist Program of Action in the coal fields," which declared

"The Communists must, on the basis of the development of the oppositions within the reformist miners unions, on the basis of strengthening and building the base of the N.M.U. among the unorganized, and its influence among the miners generally, lay the basis for the fight for one national militant miners union. We must reject the theory that only through the U. M. W. A. can the miners form one organization. The tens of thousands of miners who are organized in the various other unions do not wish to return to the domination of Lewis. To do so would be a big step backwards and a betrayal of the interests of the miners. Nor can any of the other reformist unions lay claim to being or being able to become, the united union of the miners. Even if this would be possible it would not be progress for the miners to be united under Pearcey or Cappelini any more than under Lewis." In the anthracite as well as in the bituminous field we have the task of exposing the strikebreaking role of the Capellinis, Maloneys, Lewises and Pearceys. On the central issue of supporting the operators slave eddes and the strikebreaking National Labor Board there is not the slightest difference between these

Anthracite miners, don't let Capellini and Maloney orepare a great betrayal for January 15. Organize for strike action by uniting the ranks of all anthracite miners regardless of organization.

Militarizing the Jobless

NEW scheme has already been put into operation A by Roosevelt, which imposes forced labor on another large section of the unemployed workers of this country. On Jan. 1 began the rounding up of all homeless unemployed, of all workers traveling on freights or hitchhiking. "Transient" (forced labor) camps are lready in operation and this month they are to be ridely extended. These forced labor camps, which are mposed on the homeless unemployed under threat of all sentences, pay a few cents a week wages. They affect all homeless unemployed, many of whom are ravelling looking for work. They set up a new supply of cheap, compulsory labor. They make it easy for the government to militarise these workers and train them as a reserve army for war.

At the same time, the C. C. C. camps are being widely extended. Assistant Secretary of War Woodring admits that the C. C. C. camps have already supplied the government with a reserve army "in case of war." These are to be extended to affect a total of close to a million men. The youth in the C. C. C. camps get army pay of one dollar a day, $25 of which is every month turned over to their families who have been removed from relief lists.

Woodring speaks of the plan of the Roosevelt Government to inaugurate vast "Civilian Labor Camps, where all single unemployed workers are to be put under the military discipline of the army. Woodring claims that the National Emergency Act, adopted during the world war, gives the government authority to enforce this militarized forced labor. He says that the plan is a part of the army mobilization plans.

The national convention against Unemployment, convening in Washington, D. C., on Feb. 3, 4 and 5, will discuse this problem as well as the organization of the workers on C. W. A. projects. The attempt to extend forced labor and militarize the unemployed raises sharply the demand of the unemployed for the enactment of the Workers Unemployment and Social Insurance Bill-the central problem around which the convention is called.

Organizing the Next War

DOOSEVELT made a pretty speech the other day about his eternal love and devotion to the cause of world peace.

But nothing could present a grimmer contrast to this official Rooseveltian pacifism than several news items which appear in today's papers.

Roosevelt's whip in the House, Democratic Speaker Rainey, in answer to a query from the Daily Worker Washington correspondent regarding the extent of "The whole world is preparing for war. Nobody wants it, but everybody is preparing for it. And the world always gets what it prepares for."

Roosevelt's war building, declared yesterday:

And at the present Congress, the huge Naval machine will ask (and probably get) another $516,000,000 on top of the $271,658,000 it has already been granted from the "public works fund" (in addition to the regular $350,000,000 from the regular budget).

At the same time, Mussolini's committee on the budget stated quite bluntly yesterday:

"During the useless discussions at Geneva the three major naval powers diligently worked to add new warships to their fleets.

"Almost all nations are preparing for the expiration of the present treaties with anything but intentions that would favor world peace."

These words are an excellent description of what goes on at the much-touted "disarmament confer-

HERE is revealed what the Communist Party has al-ways proclaimed, that the "disarmament conferences" of Roosevelt are nothing but places where each imperialist power tries to beat down the military and naval strength of its rivals, the better to increase its own! And in this game, the Roosevelt government has played an exceedingly aggressive role. The Roosevelt government has launched a true Wilsonian flood of pacifist piety-while its preparations for war outtop anything that has ever been seen in this country!

It is not only in the record construction of warships that the Roosevelt government bares its war plans. The whole N.R.A. program of Roosevelt, with its trustification of Wall Street industry, its centralization of the country's munitions and heavy industry, its practical militarization of the railroads through a Federal "Co-ordinator," its steps toward the unification of the telegraph, telephone and radio systems, all point to a huge, comprehensive drive toward imperial-of America and the other powers are preparing to send the millions of starving, exploited workers to butcher one another in the battlefields of another world war. There can be no doubt but that the advance of the world crisis of capitalism is aggravating to the bursting point the fierce imperialist fight for markets, a fight that leads inexorably toward war, a war in which the masses will experience frightful suffering to provide new profits for the capitalist rulers.

IN THESE ceaseless moves toward war, the Soviet Union stands alone as the sole bulwark of peace. It alone offers to the imperialist nations the proposal for the immediate scrapping of all armies and navies! It alone has no wish for one inch of foreign soil, or the slightest "influence" in the colonial world of Africa,

The masses do not want war. It is they who pay for it in bloody and terrible sacrifices.

Against the Wall Street organization for the coming war, we, the toiling masses, with the Communist Party at the head, must relentlessly oppose our anti-war organization. Every war move of the Roosevelt government must be exposed before the workers in the factories, shops, unions. Every subtle lie of the capitalist press as to how war "will bring back prosperity" must be patiently and thoroughly analyzed and torn to pieces. All the war propaganda about the "danger of attack" from other countries must be examined and explained to the workers everywhere, pointing out how, who attacks and just what Wall Street profits the workers in this country are called

The whole Leninist tactic of struggle against war, of the stopping of munitions' shipments, of the turning of imperialist war into class civil war for the overthrow of the capitalist war makers, must become the subject of discussion and organization in the Party units, and mass organizations.

The Resolution on War passed by the Sixth Congress of the Communist International in 1928 must be given the widest distribution and study. It is the basis of our whole anti-war struggles.

Above all, the United Front must become a powerful weapon in the hands of the Party members for the drawing in of A. F. of L. workers, Socialist Party workers, pacifists, professionals, intellectuals, etc., into a broad organized struggle against the Roosevelt war preparations, against the Wall Street plans to hurl the American masses into bloody slaughter to defend the profits and investments of Wall Street.

The defense of the Soviet Union as the world's most powerful bulwark of peace, as the only true fighter for disarmament, is part of our anti-war fight. Against imperialist war! For the defense of the Soviet Union! Stop war shipments! For United Front struggles against the shipment of munitions, against war preparations!

SAN PEDRO, Calif., Jan. 3.-Under conditions of strictest wartime sec-recy, a U.S. fleet of 100 fighting ships steamed out into the Pacific today for three days battle exercises, as U. S. imperialism continues to sharpen its existent weapons and rush new naval construction for war. The com-manders of all the vessels had sealed orders as they left their bases here and at San Diego.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.-The U. S. Navy laid the keels for four additional new warships at Fore River, Mass., today, under a program calling for immediate construction of eight warships at an estimated cost of $4,000,000 each. The Vincennes, one of the vessels on which construction was begun today, will cost $11,-720,000, and is the 17th heavy cruiser, constructed or begun, in a program of 18 heavy cruisers adopted by the Roosevelt administration.

LONDON, Jan. 3.—"Jane's Fighting Ships," 1933 edition, rated as the most complete and authoritative handbook of navies in the world, says that the U. Mass Arrests in Chile and Uruguay In New Revolt Plots

MONTEVIDEO, Jan. 3.-With reports from Argentine indicating the rapid spread of the armed uprising led by the Irogyen party, two other South American governments today announced discovery of plots al-legedly aimed at their overthrow.

The Uruguayan government or-dered a court martial of 16 army officers, 10 sergeants and 40 privates, charged with supporting a plot for an uprising and aiding civilian groups to obtain arms. Many soldiers and civilians have been arrested.

The Chilean government claims to have nipped a similar plot, with the arrest yesterday of 100 persons. The plot was headed by former Preside Carlos Ibanez. It was supported, is said, by Colonel Grove and oth petty-bourgeois leaders of last year's revolts, which were signalized by rapid overthrow of various Chilean governments and the projection on the scene of the Chilean proletarist as an independent force, under the leadership of the Chilean Communist Party, in the increasingly bitter Phila. Pen & Hammer oscilla and economic struggles growing out of the severe world capitalist crisis, which affects the semi-colonial Anniversary Number South American countries with particular severity.

In Argentine, the rebels are in control of Corrientes Province, where they have set up a government. From Corrientes they are sending an expedition down the Uruguay River in an attemp to retake Paso de los Libres, captured several days ago by Federal troops Severe fighting between rebels and Federals is also taking place in four other provinces. Meantime hostilities are expected to be resumed by Jan. 6 in the twoyear Chaco war between Paraguay and Bolivia, while Colombia and Peru are rushing preparations for war over the disputed Leticia region. The new round of wars and revolutions in South America reflect the rising struggles of the impoverished workers and peasants, as well as Anglo-American rivalries, tremendously sharpened by the maneuvers of U.S. imperialism in the recent Pan-American conference; and the growing split in the bourgeois-land-lord camps in the various countries, as the deepening agrarian crisis inten-sifies the struggles of the various cliques for state power, emolume
