

Australia's Experience With Old Age Pensions.

AN INTERESTING AND HUMANE EXPERIMENT THAT THE WORKERS SHOULD KEEP TRACK OF.

The system of old age pensions, at present confined to New South Wales and Victoria, must be regarded in the light of an experiment, and its adoption by the commonwealth government will depend largely on the success of the working details and the means of obtaining the necessary funds, the latter necessary involving some form of additional taxation, through the federal customs, says a Sydney, N. S. W., letter to the New York Times.

There are a large number of persons who have been twenty-five years in Australia, but whose time has been spent in two or more states, and who therefore, would not under any state system likely to be put into operation be entitled to a state pension. These persons would be eligible under a federal system to receive pensions in virtue of their residence in Australia.

Some More Modern Instances.

By Rev. J. M. A. Spence, in The Vanguard.

What a horrid, cruel system is this in which we are constantly crowding one another to the wall, and scrambling for the man who is down, and ready to scuffle with the other fellow, fearing that to pause for a moment would mean our own destruction! Yet this is the order of things for which capitalism and capitalistic political parties stand.

Ex-mayor Seth Low of New York says: "Corporations have no votes, but they have money, and it is no exaggeration to say that the money of the corporations is often more influential in shaping legislation than the votes of the people."

Here is some more "Commercialized Christianity." In an interview quoted in the "Vanguard," a weekly organ of the American Board, which has just accepted the Rockefeller gift, the Hon. F. S. Stratton, of San Francisco, who has recently returned from a journey to the East, said: "I went out opposed to the missionary movement in China. I, however, have been converted by what I have seen. Commercially speaking, the missionaries are the advance agents for the American commercial enterprises."

Socialism Stands for Peace. Again have the Socialists in troubled times spoken the word that goes for peace.

At the outbreak of the Franco-Prussian war in 1871 the Socialists of Germany sent greeting to their comrades in France, protesting against the fratricidal strife and pledging their efforts for peace. The Socialists of France sent back a peace message.

Just a little game of starving the blood thirsty beast of capitalism into docility. The people of Sweden and the people of Norway are a more united people than they ever were before.

The Russian Social-Democratic society in New York has so far received and forwarded $3,278.49 in contributions to the revolutionary movement in Russia.

The Socialist editors who object to the national party utterance on the question of trade unions because it urges the workers to go into the organized labor movement because it is an "interference" in said movement, are straining at gnats.

The blind Socialist agitator, J. B. Osborn, was arrested for street speaking at Oakland, Cal., on July 5. This makes the twenty-second time the capitalist police have locked him up in different parts of the United States. As long as the working people cast their ballots for capitalist politicians there will be capitalist-serving chiefs of police.

"Father" Hagerty has gone over to anarchism. Berlin, July 6.—Chancellor von Bilow telegraphed to Prince Radolin, the German ambassador at Paris, today to inform M. Jaures, the French Socialist leader, that the German government thought it best to debar him from speaking in Berlin on July 9, as it had been announced he intended. Vorwärts is jubilant at this stupid blunder of the chancellor and hails him as a great Socialist-maker. A despatch from Paris reads as follows: "M. Jaures' secretary was seen tonight and said that the deputy was preparing to leave for Berlin. He said that M. Jaures knew nothing of the Von Bilow interdiction on his speech, but that if the report proved true he would go all the same and find a way of delivering a speech."

FREDERIC HEATE, Editor. VICTOR L. BERGER, Associate.

FOR OUR NEW READERS:

THIS COUNTRY is made up of working people, both industrial and agricultural, but is ruled by the capitalist class, which is numerically small.

Under the capitalist system the vast majority of mankind must sell themselves to the capitalist owners of the means of production and distribution in order to live—and to live miserably at that.

To bring this about the people—the workers—must get control of the political power. The Social-Democratic party (known as the Socialist party in some states, and nationally) is organized to bring this about—this and the abolition of capitalism.

- Program of International Social-Democracy: 1. Collective ownership of all industries in the hands of Trusts and Combinations, and of all public utilities.

EDITORIAL ETCHINGS.

While disagreeing with the idea advanced by Mr. Victor Berger that Socialists should be at liberty to vote for the old-party candidates when the Socialist party has no candidates of its own, yet it cannot be denied that, after all, the point at issue is merely a question of Socialist tactics and not Socialist economics, and that we may disagree and yet both be good Socialists.

The Socialist party in Europe certainly practices the policy that Mr. Berger has advocated, and that it should not do so in America is merely because, in my opinion as well as most other Socialists, such tactics tend to disrupt the American Socialist political organization.

That Mr. Berger should have been removed from the National Committee of the Socialist party on account of his advocacy of tactics that have never been specifically and officially condemned by the party in America, and are even endorsed by such leaders as Bebel, in Germany, seems to me entirely unwarranted.

The members of the Socialist party must learn to be tolerant if they expect to be a great political force.

While I myself disagree with Mr. Berger, not only in his tactics but also to an extent in his economics, yet I see in him a brother Socialist who is too strong, too honest and too fearless a comrade for us to lose from our national council board.

I hope to see Mr. Berger reinstated in his old seat.

The above from the pen of Wilshire, in his July issue, helps to show the common sense view in regard to the Berger case that will prevail, once the spell of heresy hunting is lifted and the younger Socialists can take the view that one seasoned in the movement naturally takes.

Some time ago the boot and shoe workers' union in Haverhill, Mass., succeeded in unionizing the shoe factory of Hazen B. Goodrich & Co. of that city and established a so-called "closed shop."

We take the above far-fetched criticism from Maily's sheet. We changed neither the letter nor the spirit of the article. There were certain mechanical reasons why we had to decrease the length of the Debs article, and we expressly acquainted the reader with the fact by beginning with these words: "Following is a generous portion of a letter, etc."

Last week the Social-Democratic Herald reprinted Debs' article from the Socialist, but not in full. The following important paragraph was omitted: "Victor L. Berger was wrong, flagrantly wrong, in my judgment; but in permitting the extremely expatriating indignities of a capitalist candidate upon the Socialist party to sting him into preference for a rival capitalist candidate, his motive was pure and will not

The Progressive Rescue of the Wage Slaves—By H. M. Hyndman

H. M. Hyndman in London Justice: The idea which seems to have grown up of late among some genuine Socialists in this country that all palliatives are useless and that trade unions ought not only to be shown to the world as incompetent and feeble instruments of class warfare, but should be bitterly opposed on all occasions, will not bear examination even from the point of view of pure theory.

and the Anarchists who were against all political action and balked at non-political trade unions on that ground; it was Bakounine and the Anarchists, I say, not Marx and his followers (whatever mistakes he and they may have made) who were all for constructing a new heaven and a new earth without reference to historical development or social surroundings.

Consequently, revolutionists as we Social-Democrats are and must be, we have no alternative policy. We cannot avoid going into politics, we cannot help working for palliatives. But we need not be any the less vigorous and determined on that account. On the other hand, mere impatient refusal to recognize how matters stand may easily weaken the government.

development of capitalism in its transition to Socialism. The constructive application of Socialist principles to governmental functions will be a task that will call for the highest ability and ripest culture in our ranks.

Wishing success to the Wisconsin movement with its sane and practical program, I remain, Yours for the Revolution, ERNEST BURNS.

We take the following from a letter written by Comrade Richard Elmsner, who is travelling in Germany:

"I met Comrade Sparr, secretary of the Social-Democratic party of the Grand Dukedom of Hessen, and I was surprised by the prompt, concise and decisive answers he gave to all my questions.

"He stated to me, among other things, that the same or similar questions are agitating the party in Germany, resulting in practically two wings of the party, the radicals and moderates, without interfering with, or disrupting, in any way, the corps of our party in Germany; and that the rules and tactics, not to speak of principles, prevailing in Hessen are the same all over Germany, our party having twenty-six man, Maily, who played the traitor in 1901—and we always wish Debs to appear from his best side, for he is a noble, warm-hearted fellow, while the paragraph Maily quotes makes him a narrow bigot who is ignorant of international tactics.

Our readers can readily see that Maily falsifies when he says we misrepresented Debs' position on the Berger case, but then, Maily's speciality is falsification and knocking the party. And if he does not falsify for the mere love of it because he is a born falsifier, who pays the freight?

"Beware the Greeks when they come bearing gifts," is an old saying. The sudden friendliness of a De Leon, with foxy admissions that perhaps he (who has always proclaimed himself cock-sure) had himself made mistakes in the past, should have put those on their guard against whom he has uttered torrents of the most miserable slander, but it didn't seem to. They brought their present discomfiture on their own heads, however.

All Ready for the Big Socialist-Making Tournament!

One of the prizes for the big three months' contest for new subscribers which commenced July 1st is an Edison Standard Phonograph with flower horn and crane, value $28.00, from and exhibited at Geo. H. Eichholz, 1340 Fond du Lac Ave. Milwaukee.

It was our intention to give full details and mention of prizes for three months contests for new subscribers which will be inaugurated. Pressure of other affairs this week have prevented us from doing so.

Here is the plan, as far as worked out: Every yearly subscription will count five points, every six months subscription three points, and every ten weeks subscription one point. The person receiving the greatest number of points will get first prize, the next largest, second prize, and the next, the third prize.

It is nearly as easy to get a yearly subscription as one for a shorter period. But this contest is arranged not only to get subscriptions, but what is of vastly more importance, to make Socialists. And this cannot be done with ten weeks or six months subscription. Any workman, however, who reads fifty-two issues of the Herald is almost sure to become converted. Therefore, it was thought best to encourage the yearly subscriptions.

For five subscriptions, $2.00: One copy of "Socialism Made Plain," handsomely bound in cloth, gilt-lettered $0.50

For ten subscriptions, $4.00: One copy of "Socialism Made Plain," handsomely bound in cloth, gilt-lettered $0.50

For fifteen subscriptions, $6.00: One copy of "Socialism Made Plain," handsomely bound in cloth, gilt-lettered $0.50

Now, comrades, let every one get busy. This is your opportunity to reduce—even eliminate—our deficit. Once this is accomplished, the local organization will get all the profits from picnics, etc.

country organizations in the several kingdoms, dukedoms, etc., making twenty-six such countries. As to our point at issue he stated, in the main, the following:

"First: If there is a Social-Democratic candidate in the field, comrades voting for a candidate of any other party will be expelled.

"Second: If our party sees fit not to put up a candidate, a compromise is usually affected with some party that stands nearest to ours, under the respective circumstances and conditions arising locally, on the principle, as Sparr stated, that an egg-shell with something in it is preferable to an entirely empty one.

"Third: If the respective organization of our party cannot agree on a candidate of another party, the comrades can vote, at their free will, for such candidate that stands nearest to our party, for instance the "Freisinnige Party, Liberal Party," etc., but not for a reactionary one."

On the School Board at Dowagiac. To the Editor: At the largest annual school meeting ever held in this city, the Socialists succeeded in breaking into the city school board that has been solidly machine Republican for the last twenty years.

The Republican machine here begins to realize it is up against the real thing that the late Mark Hanna warned them of with almost his last breath.

In 1900 Debs received two votes in this city. Last year he got 99. Now we elect a member of the school board. Growing some? Guess so.
