There is trouble in the hearts of the Taft campaign managers, and likewise in those of the gentlemen who are orgenizing enthusiasm for Bryan. genizing enthusiasm for Bryan. Two billion, seven hundred and with Socialist Introduce, good litera. Ten million lithographic por three million minety-four thousand ture, thorough literature, pamphlets books, leaflets.

Bryan have been ordered, and now the campaign committees find burn to their horror that not one of the shops capable of turning out such large orders in time is entitled to the union label.

The neum is same out over the country with an "explanation" by perhaps intended to pave the manufacturing industrose of the "United States" in the year 1821—

The facts this correspondent states are true, so far as they go; but they do not go far enough. What he fails to see is that Mr. Debs has moved forward since 1896; while Mr. Bryan has moved backward.

Even on the one question of injunctions, the Democratic party

Debs has moved forward since 1896, while Mr. Bryan has moved backward.

Even on the one question of injunctions, the Democratic party was much more outspoken and radical twelve years ago than it is now. Moreover, times have changed since 1896. Even the same labor plank which Mr. Bryan stood for then (and which he does not dare to stand for to-day), a plank which was more or less radical and up-to-date then, would not fill the bill in 1908. Even on the injunction question, the declaration of Mr. Bryan's party his year is lamentably weak. But the injunction is not the only question for Labor now, nor even the leading question, as it may have been a dozen years ago. There are other labor issues even more pressing this year, upon which Mr. Bryan's party has not a word to say. Nor has any other party a word to say upon them, except only the Socialist party.

That is why Mr. Debs is to-day, and has been for more than ten years, cnilisted in the Socialist movement. While Mr. Bryan has been going beckward, step by step, and making his peace with the approximate to the labor movement toward the final emancipation of the working class.

There is said to be a possibility that the so-called Independence party will have difficulty in getting its ticket upon the official ballot in this State. Small as is our respect for that party or for its proprietor, we should be sorry to see it kept off the ballot by any legal quirks or quibbles. We Socialists have ourselves had too much care.

in this State. Small as is our respect for that party or for its proprietor, we should be sorry to see it kept off the ballot by any legal quirks or quibbles. We Socialists have ourselves had too much experience of this sort of thing to wish to see it practised on anyone else—notwithstanding the fact that Hearst was always willing to give his support, passive or active, to all sorts of dirty tricks for checking and hampering the Socialists on the political field.

Alex. J. Burrowes is of this sort. We tence in that may simply contradict some of the meat of the S positive misstatements of what So-the reve cialism is.

Socialists do not say that "the present system must be destroyed before the new can be introduced." The destruction of capitalism and the building of the Socialist commonwealth are but two phases of the same process. Annd the capitalists are themselves helping in that work, in the destructive even more than in the constructive part.

Editor of The Call.

I have read the New York Evening Journal for several years and thought it was the real thing as a workingman's paper. But since taking The Call I have changed my mind. Mr. Brisbane points out the evil results of the capitalist system, but offers no solution. The Call holds up the remedy every day. The Call for mine.
