

OTTO WINS FROM ERNE ON POINTS

By A. W. COLLIER. There was a large crowd present at the Roman Athletic Club last night. Young Otto, of New York, met Young Erne, of Philadelphia, in the final bout of six rounds. It was a tame affair. Both seemed to have a brotherly feeling for each other, judging by the hugging and clinching tactics indulged in. The only action to cause any one to enthuse occurred in the fourth round, when Otto opened up a gash in the Gaker's right eyebrow, which caused that organ to assume the aspect of a sunset. Erne was fat and not in good condition, but carried the fight to his opponent in every round. The famous Otto knockout left him been put in cold storage or left in the wild and woolly West, as it was not in evidence last night. Otto being as careful in fighting as a hen would be with a brood of chickens. If he had been as aggressive in the first five rounds as he was in this sixth there might have been a semblance to a fight. As it was he won on points. In the preliminaries Young Ely beat Tommy Stone in four rounds. George Farland had been signed. Tent to a draw. Harry Mansfield knocked out Sam Brooks in the second round and "Kid" Block drew with Young Harris. In an extra bout Lew Turner made Eddie Daley quit in the first round. John O'Leary, the champion of the world's champion banishment, was an interested spectator. He was accompanied by Coulton, the pater.

THE AFTERMATH. It was given out last night that Tommy Murphy and "Packy" MacFarland had been signed. The date has not as yet been decided on. There will be "goings" at the Roman Athletic Club next Monday night, November 2, when Johnny Coulton, the 165-pound champion, will "Young O'Leary" in the final. These two bantams should put up a fight worth going to see.

SOMETHING GOING TO-NIGHT.

The star bout at Brown's Gymnasium to-night between Billy Glover, the Boston lightweight, and Jack Bonner, of Summit Hill, Pa., promises to be interesting. These boys met in a twelve round bout at the Armory A. C., Boston, recently and Bonner was awarded the decision. Glover, however, has trained hard for his coming co and declares the result will be different. In the semi-wildup Sam Newman, the Australian middleweight, will be given a chance to show what he can do when he clashes with "Kid" Williams, of Philadelphia, for six rounds. In the other bout of six rounds Jim Quigley of this city will box John Katz. There will be two four round preliminaries. A wrestling bout will take place between Alex. Swanson and Max Muller.

LEAGUE ELECTS OFFICERS.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Oct. 27.—At the annual meeting of the Connecticut Baseball League here yesterday afternoon the following officers were elected: President, W. J. Tracy, of Bristol, Conn.; vice president, A. E. Taylor, of Cheshire; secretary and treasurer, James H. O'Rourke, of Bridgeport, Conn.; supervisor of umpires, John E. Kennedy, of Bristol, Conn. In recognition of President Tracy's efficient services his election was for a term of one year and the pennant was formally awarded to Springfield.

MUTTERINGS OF A MUT.

By M. B. C. Robertson has won the Vanderbilt Cup. Where was Elsie Janis? A fight trust is the latest. The question is—how are they going to prevent street corner competition? The Navy tied Harvard on Saturday. Not in a knot—in the score. Leon Rosen has won a two-week's chess match. That's longer than a six-day race though not as exciting from a danger standpoint.

TEAM OFF TO CUBA.

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 27.—Thirteen members of the Cincinnati baseball club left here yesterday for Cuba, where they will play the leading club of the Cuban League. The expedition is in charge of Frank C. Bancroft, business manager of the Cincinnati club. The following players are in the party: McLean, Pearce, Spade, Dubec, Campbell, Hobbles, Huggins, Lobert, Hulswitt and Kane.

WILL WRESTLE WILLIAMS.

George Bothner, the lightweight champion wrestler, and Bartley Williams, of Genoa, Ohio, will wrestle to a "finish" to-morrow night at the Columbia Theater in Boston. Johnny Dunn says that Bothner will meet Yusef Mahmoud, if the latter will agree to give him the same handicap that Jennings and Gatch did. Dunn is willing to bet that the Bulgarian cannot gain a fall from Bothner within fifteen minutes.

PLAY A TIE.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Georgetown University and the University of North Carolina battled on the gridiron here yesterday to a draw. At the end of the game the score was 6 to 6. The teams were to have played on Saturday, but because of the rain it was postponed until this afternoon.

"GENTLEMAN JACK" ARRIVES HERE TO-DAY

"Gentleman Jack" O'Brien will arrive in New York to-day to finish his training for his six-round match at the National A. C. next Friday night with Sam Langford. O'Brien, judging from a telegram he sent yesterday to his manager, Harry Pollok, proposes to introduce a new idea in training. The telegram follows: "Will arrive Tuesday at 10:15, 23d street ferry of Pennsylvania, with valet and Mr. Eagan. Engage me a suite at first-class hotel, preferably the Plaza. Want to do my road work in Central Park."

Several years ago O'Brien registered at the Hotel Netherlands under his right name, Hagan, after he had failed to obtain quarters at the Waldorf-Astoria. He was requested to leave the Netherlands, but evidently he has not lost his nerve. "Why not the Plaza?" he asked Pollok over the telephone when the bewildered manager called him up at Philadelphia to learn if the telegram was a joke. "I am a gentleman," declared O'Brien, "and I am entitled to the best on the market. I want a comfortable place, and the best is not too good for me."

Manager Pollok declared he would meet O'Brien at the train to-day and discuss the question of quarters with the fighter. Sam Langford has been working at Boston. For the first time in several years Langford has really gotten down to hard work. He realizes that O'Brien will be a hard nut to crack, and he match will be the most important fought in New York since the McFarland-Cross game, and the fans are worked up to a high pitch of excitement. The members of the National Club, 3,000 in number, are already making applications for tickets.

GRIDIRON GOSSIP. The Lafayette players contend that Brown is stronger than Princeton. The Providence eleven scored a touchdown against them on straight football, which the Tigers were unable to do. Too much deliberation is still spoiling the effect of West Point's attack. The soldiers are slow in the running track because of a semblance of jabs in their play. The seating capacity of Franklin Field, Pennsylvania's battle ground, will be increased six thousand seats by placing portable stands on the running track between the old seats and the field. Before the Carlisle-Penn game Little Boy, the Indian mascot, said: "We beat Penn sure. They blow up when Indian come to town. You see, Indian win sure." After the contest Little Boy added: "Ugh!" "Humany!" "Honey!" Princeton's centre in the ranks of officials. Both Walter Camp and "Tad" Jones did their part in scolding Syracuse the Princeton coaches say that the Villanova eleven plays about the roughest game of any of the smaller teams. Capt. Horr, of Syracuse, is playing with a broken rib, according to report. Steve Crosby, end at Harvard nearly twenty years ago, has attended all the games at Cambridge and says that not in many years has the coaching there seemed so businesslike. If Harvard can arrange to become eligible for the Harvard Varsity, Coach Houghton will get a powerful reinforced team. In two of Carlisle's games this season Thorne has scored all her points. He has made six goals from placement. Jack Carey, Yale's former end, is helping out Annapolis again this fall. He is in business in Washington.

Immediately following the trial of C. W. Morse, the banker and "Ice King," in New York the case of F. Augustus Heinze, known as the "Copper King," will be taken up by the Federal Court. Following the panic at last fall Heinze was indicted on a charge of overcertifying checks for $400,000 in the Mercantile National Bank. Heinze's many legal battles which won control of gigantic copper properties are remembered throughout the West. His banking operations in New York were on an equally large scale until the panic overtook him.

EAST SIDE STIRRED BY SOCIALISTS

On Saturday night last the Socialist campaign on the lower East Side completely covered the district and dwarfed the agitation of the other parties into insignificance. An automobile, named the "East Side Red Special," invaded the 6th Assembly District, where Robert Hunter is candidate for Assembly, and after a big meeting had been held on the corner of Seventh street and Avenue B, the car returned to the 4th and 5th Assembly districts. Meetings were held at the corners of Pitt and Grand streets, Pike and Madison streets, Pike street and East Broadway and on Rutgers Square.

As the car traversed the district it was greeted with cheers by crowds that lined the sidewalks and that fell in behind the car after it had passed. As a result the streets became jammed with people who followed the car, cheering for the Socialist party and all its candidates. Each meeting held was bigger than the preceding one, until it was impossible for the speakers to be heard by all who gathered to listen. At Rutgers Square the Democrats had pre-empted the place intended for the Socialists, and although many people were waiting for the Socialist speakers, the latter did not go to the Square until after the Democrats had gone.

It was nearly midnight when the Socialists reached Rutgers Square and Meyer London and Morris Hillquit, candidate for Congress, closed the night's campaigning with eloquent speeches to a mass of people that filled the Square to the utmost. During the tour of the "Red Special" meetings were being held from twenty trucks throughout the district. It was the most successful night's agitation that has yet been held by the Socialists this year on the East Side. If the reception accorded the Socialists on all sides counts for anything a sweeping victory on election day is assured.

Those that spoke from the "East Side Red Special" during the night were Morris Hillquit, candidate for Congress; Jacob Panken, candidate for Senator in the 11th District; William Malley, Max Pine and J. G. Phelps Stokes, candidates in the 2d, 4th and 5th Assembly districts, and Rose Pastor Stokes. Henry Havedon acted as chairman throughout. On Sunday afternoon a very successful meeting was held in Clinton Hall, 151 Clinton street, at which Morris Hillquit, J. G. Phelps Stokes, Meyer London, M. Winchevsky and G. C. Streeter were the speakers. N. Stupniker acted as chairman.

WILL NOT MEET SOCIALIST.

That the old party candidates are not anxious to meet the candidates of the Socialist party upon the public platform was again shown when Isaac Seargeant, Republican candidate in the 23d Assembly district of Kings County, refused to accept the challenge of H. D. Smith, his Socialist opponent, to debate the relative merits of the two parties. Mr. Seargeant replied to Mr. Smith's challenge by a letter in which he tried to reduce the broad and bitter question to a side issue and talked about not being ruled by a boss, etc. Mr. Smith considers this letter good campaign material and is reading it at his meetings for the edification of the audience.

"SCRAP" IS POSTPONED.

The fight between Bert Keyes and Jack Goodman, scheduled to be held at the Olympic A. C. to-night, has been postponed until November 10.

SOCIALISTS BEAT JERSEY JUDGE

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 27.—With the setting aside by Judge Davis, of the Court of Common Pleas, yesterday, of his illegal conviction of several Socialists and union men, Judge Herr, chairman of the Executive Committee of the Democratic party in Essex County, received a severe slap in the face, and the labor men are highly elated thereat.

It appears that on the evening of the 7th inst. W. R. Killingsbeck, State secretary, and Morris Klein, County Organizer of the Socialist party, were arrested for public speaking, put in jail and left there until G. H. Strobel bailed them out. The next morning they were charged with loitering, but moved for the dismissal of the complaint on the ground that loitering in the street was not a crime.

Police Captain Vogel said he had sent the officer there to arrest them, but they could not find their meeting on the other side of the street. Judge Herr, of the Second Criminal Court, refused to dismiss the complaint, but found them guilty and then suspended sentence.

Two weeks ago the campaign committee of the Socialist party appealed to the Court of Common Pleas with the result stated above. Now the party proposes to sue Vogel and the two officers for false arrest and the accompanying damages.

Cigarmakers' Union No. 138 also appealed the case of "Ike" Cohen, who was arrested during the strike for asking his sister not to go to work.

A policeman in citizens' clothes, one of several sent out by Vogel with strict instructions to watch for anyone that talked to the Lewis Co.'s girls that morning. The complainant was the same as in the case of Killingsbeck & Klein, and that conviction was also set aside yesterday.

NO SUFFRAGE IN MINNESOTA

The co-eds at the University of Minnesota have been forbidden to yell at football games. Dean A. L. Comstock says such conduct is "highly improper." Besides, President Northrop has come to the fore with the following announcement regarding the large going to the Minnesota-Maroon game in Chicago on Saturday: "I hold that no lady who is in attendance at this university will go to Chicago with the big excursion next Saturday. They should not be seen in that wild crowd and the accompanying jam and hubbub. There is no possible way for a girl to get to Chicago in that fashion and not get smirched. It is not so easy for the boys to get smirched, and they can go if they want to."

REPUBLICAN SPEAKERS FEARED.

The corner of Willis avenue and 138th street last Saturday night was the scene of a large gathering of Republicans. A large automobile with four Republican speakers played "the comic relief" much to the amusement of an intelligent Socialist audience.

On the southeast corner of the same place the Socialist party was holding a big meeting. The Socialist orators had stopped speaking and the crowd turned its attention to the automobile. The four speakers were divided into as many groups and were busy answering and dodging Socialist questions. At last they grew tired and ordered the chauffeur to run off. Not until the car had become completely and burst into a loud, triumphant jolt.

SUFFRAGETTES TO VISIT MAYOR.

The Suffragettes will march upon City Hall to-morrow at noon and hold a meeting on the steps. The purpose is to start from the headquarters at No. 122 East Twenty-third street at 11:30 A. M. some 1,000 women. The leader of the band will be Helen Murray, but one of the names will be Miss Trizzie Frizana, the dress.

GOOD PHILADELPHIA MEETING.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 27.—Standing room was at a premium at the Labor Lyceum Sunday night for the Socialist party meeting addressed by John Spargo, of New York. Long before the doors opened a good crowd gathered about Sixth and Broad streets.

INJUNCTION THE WORD.

There was no police interference at the Roman A. C. fight last night due to the fact that the club had an injunction restraining the Police Department from making arrests. The injunction was secured by the Socialist party.

KINGS COUNTY COMMITTEE.

At last Saturday's meeting of the Central Committee of the Socialist party of Kings County it was reported that the profits on the Debs meetings are about $500. Distant organizers were asked to come to County Organizer Gerber's office next Saturday to get the watchers' supplies. Preparations have been made for a gala night at the Labor Temple Nov. 3. Election reports will be received from all parts of the county. Assistant Organizer Lindgren has resigned. Twenty-five dollars was advanced to the committee in charge of the Forum lectures that will begin next Sunday, and the committee members were requested to be at Hart's Hall by 2 P. M. Sunday.

REPUBLICAN BUMS WORSTED.

That the Republicans are ready to adopt Tammany tactics upon the slightest provocation was well illustrated Saturday night when a gang of Republican toughs attacked a crowd of Socialists who had stopped at a meeting being addressed by Mr. Robson, the Republican candidate of the 6th Assembly District. The Socialists were returning to their headquarters after holding very successful series of truck and automobile meetings along Avenue C and D, and Houston and Suffolk streets. Attracted by Mr. Robson's attack on Robert Hunter, their candidate, the Socialists started in to questions, but were at once set upon by a bunch of plug-uglies and a street fight ensued, only ending when the police appeared. No arrests were made, but it is reported that several of the Republican hoodlums were badly used up.

URNS AT CENTRAL PALACE, NOV. 3

monster reunion of the Socialist party to be held on election night at Grand Central Palace, 454 street Lexington avenue, will be a huge affair.

The committee of arrangements has secured assurances from local and State branches of the Socialist party of every ward that special dispatches will be immediately forwarded on election night as soon as the official figures are reported to them by their watchers and other officers designated to do that work.

Call has also arranged for carrying reports of the Socialist vote through special service. The committee therefore can assure all the place to hear the most complete and best returns of the Socialist vote other parties will be at Grand Central Palace.

The Karl Sahn Orchestra will furnish a number of selections as well as a number of dances.

An elaborate program is being composed and the Russian ladies interested in the Call will have a Russian tea booth with all kinds of dainties.

The following speakers have been requested to make short addresses to start the ball a-rolling for the campaign:

Rev. Edith Wilson, John D. Long, Alexander Irvine, John S. Spargo, William Hillquit, J. G. Phelps Stokes, Rose Pastor Stokes, W. J. Ghent, Robert Hunter, Alexander Jonas, Guy Miller, Emma Wanhope, Algoner Lee and others.

This entertainment is for the benefit of the Call Socialist and funds are urged to make a note of the affair and are requested to come and bring their friends, for a corking good time is assured. Don't forget the time, the place and the cause.

Admission is now on sale at the office of the Call, the "Daily Forward" and the "Volkszeitung" and all headquarters of the Socialist party in New York and Brooklyn.

CANADIAN SOCIALISTS HAD GOOD CAMPAIGN

By HERMAN REICH. Special to The New York Evening Call. MONTREAL, Canada, Oct. 25.—In this country like in the United States the temperature is now near the boiling point, both industrially and politically speaking.

The strike of the Canadian Pacific Railroad is at an end. The empty stomachs against well filled pockets; the wage slaves against the masters; the helpless, unarmed union men against a powerful government, controlled by the Canadian Pacific Railroad; the union against the Thiel Detective Agency and the policemen's clubs—these powers being all on the side of the Canadian Pacific Railroad against its striking employes. There was no chance to

The company was pleading lack of funds as an excuse for cutting down men's pay. But just a few days prior to the day the men left their tools and went on strike. The Canadian Pacific Railroad directors held their annual meeting, declared dividends of 8 per cent, on common and 4 per cent, on preferred stock and added six million dollars to the reserve.

During the strike the Socialist party in numerous occasions told the workers to carry their strike to the ballot box, and from what can be seen they will do so and once for all capture at least one seat at Ottawa.

The political pot is boiling and will boil at white heat. The Socialist party was first in the field, depositing $100,000, and thus filing the nomination of its candidate, Albert Saint Martin, a court stenographer. He was born in this city, attended school here and is well known among the people in the city as well as in the courts. He speaks both English and French. He challenged the Liberal and Conservative to appear at the Socialist meeting, but up to this day they showed their heads were level by not appearing.

The local Socialists confidently look for a large vote to-morrow. It is the first time they have entered the political arena, and the speakers are all local men who address the citizens in English, French and German. The lectures and business meetings are held at the Labor Temple, owned by the Bricklayers' Union.

THIS IS THE Official Emblem of the Socialist Party Upon the Ballot in New York State.

A vote under this emblem is a vote for the Socialist Party

SOCIALISTS FILL STAR CASINO

A rousing meeting of the Socialist party was held Sunday afternoon at the Star Casino. The hall was crowded to the doors.

Chairman J. T. Britt Gearity, candidate for Assembly in the 26th District, introduced Rose Pastor Stokes, who said in part:

"It is not right that there should be so much poverty in a country like the United States, where there is plenty. The poor are those who have created the wealth. If it takes a thousand years for us to accomplish justice and right, wrong still will keep up the battle. When we shall have established industrial democracy we shall be able to work out our own salvation."

"The cause of the wage earners will be bettered only through Socialism. Year in and year out wage slavery is being multiplied. The Socialist party if in power would immediately change the present order of things. The capitalist class stands for industrial despotism, while the Socialist party stands for industrial democracy."

Edward Morgan, of Denver, Col., said: "The working class will be freed from slavery as soon as capitalism is abolished. The cunning parasites suck the life blood out of the toilers. The Socialist party is the only party that has the nerve to go out in the open to fight the battle for liberty."

Joshua Wanhope, candidate for Governor, said in an interesting address in which he contrasted Taft and Bryan and told of the evils of capitalism. He said: "A few years ago a politician would come to you before election and tell you he called the issues of the day. It would be either silver, imperialism or some other 'ism' that he might think of."

"The Republicans and Democrats seem to have run out of issues at the present time and appear to have evolved an idea of asking and answering questions. The ablest politician is the one who asks a lot of questions and the other won't answer."

"Governor Hughes is not lacking in nerve when he tells the people of New York that the only question that effects them is gambling. "So long as you are down on your knees to the capitalists they will be satisfied in telling you 'God knows' as to how you'll live. You may be surprised by getting a worse answer after November 3."

TRAINING SPEAKERS TO FIGHT SOCIALISM

A school of oratory to train speakers how to argue against Socialism has been opened in London by the Anti-Socialist Union of Great Britain, an organization formed as the result of a conference of various societies engaged in combating Socialism.

At this school, which is held at the union's headquarters in Victoria St., anti-Socialist speakers are being trained for the coming campaign. Speakers will be sent to take part in all by-elections at which Socialist candidates stand and oppose and expound their doctrines.

The new school provides facts and figures for this purpose and gives instruction in heckling cross-examination and contradiction. Monthly reunions will be held at which leading writers, speakers and Members of Parliament on the anti-Socialist side will meet and exchange views and suggestions.

The organization includes a publication department, which is actively at work producing and distributing the principal Socialist booklets. Socialism in England has never been fought before on anything like the scale promised by the new organization.

CHRISTIAN SOCIALISTS HEAR MORGAN

The Socialist crusade conducted by the Christian Socialist Fellowship every Sunday afternoon at Berkeley Theater was favored yesterday by an unexpected speaker, Mr. J. Edward Morgan, of Colorado, who is now traveling under the auspices of the National Headquarters of the Socialist party.

The speaker had his son with him, a child of ten years old, whom the father is training in Socialist propaganda. The little orator is making Socialist speeches and is skillful in answering questions.

The speaker of the day was Mrs. Rose Pastor Stokes, who spoke on "The Church and Its Attitude to the Movement." She told of the antagonism of the "pillars of the church and the risk clergymen ran in advocating Socialism. She gave the names of those who lost their positions for the boldness of expressing their true beliefs. She congratulated the members of the Christian Socialist Fellowship for carrying the light where it is most needed into the church.

Mr. John A. Will, Dr. John D. Long and Dr. A. L. Wilson made enthusiastic speeches and Mrs. Gates sang several selections.

GETTING READY IN HARLEM.

At the last meeting of the Harlem Agitation Committee of the Socialist party it was decided to call for volunteers to act as watchers at the polls on election day. Robert Raphael was placed in charge of the assignment of watchers, and all those willing to serve were asked to send their names to him at 210 West 125th street.

The Harlem headquarters will be open all day November 3 and a lawyer will be available should any Socialist require his services. Telephone connection will also be installed.

MR. GOLDFOGLE MAKES STARTLING CHARGES

Henry M. Goldfogle, Democratic candidate for re-election to Congress from the 9th District, spoke at a rally in Rutgers Square on Saturday night.

Mr. Goldfogle made some startling charges against the Socialists, particularly Morris Hillquit, the Socialist candidate for Congress.

One of these charges was to the effect that Mr. Hillquit had two telephones—one at his office, and the other at his home. "Think of it," exclaimed Mr. Goldfogle, "Mr. Hillquit actually has two telephones, while you have only one. How can you vote for such a man as Hillquit?"

Mr. Goldfogle also asked the crowd why, if he insisted on voting the Socialist ticket, they did not vote for Daniel DeLeon. "Mr. DeLeon," said he, "is a good man and those who want to vote for Socialism could well afford to vote for him."

Mr. Goldfogle also hinted that the Republican leaders in the district would come to his aid to defeat Hillquit, if necessary.

1,500,000 FOR DEBS WHITE HOUSE FIGURES

The New York "Sun" of Sunday published a dispatch dated from Washington, October 24, which stated: "From a source close to the President, has been obtained the largest estimate of the Socialist vote in the coming election that has yet been made by any competent authority. It appears to be the White House view that the Socialist party will poll something like 15 per cent. of the total vote on November 2, or about 1,500,000 votes. Other estimates have placed the number at from 800,000 to 1,000,000."

The returns from the nominating conventions compiled by the Republican National Committee show that Socialist candidates for Congress have been nominated this year in 162 districts. Of these 76 are in the Northern and Eastern States and two in the Southern States. Socialist candidates have been nominated in nearly every district in the populous States of New York and Illinois.

PATROLMAN 6849 TO FACE CHARGES

J. G. Phelps Stokes, Socialist candidate in the 8th Assembly District, has filed a complaint with Commissioner Bingham against policeman No. 6849 for attempting to break up a peaceable Socialist meeting held at the corner of Grand and Ludlow streets last Friday night.

Mr. Stokes states that he was called to the meeting to aid in having the meeting maintained. When he arrived he saw a policeman standing at the side door of a saloon talking familiarly with a man and heard the officer say, "I'll break it up," following this up with turning on the crowd and ordering it in a very abusive manner to "move on."

Mr. Stokes inquired what was the matter. The officer replied, "Well, they've got to move on, that's all." Mr. Stokes said the people were assembled there lawfully, that the Socialist party, being a duly organized political party, and that the instructions of the Police Department were that such meetings were not to be molested.

Officer is Insolent. Mr. Stokes' statement continues: "The officer replied in a very insolent manner. 'Well, my instructions are not to allow this meeting here, and they've got to move on.' Whereupon he threatened the crowd with his club and ordered them again to move on. I said to him, 'Now, see here, officer, I have a right to be here, and they've got to move on, and I must take your number and report this matter to your superiors. From whom did you receive your instructions to break up this meeting?'"

"After a moment's pause he replied, 'Well, got my instructions from the Board of Education, and this crowd has got to move on. If they don't I will lock them up. No meetings can be held within 200 feet of a school house.'"

"I stated to him that the Board of Education had no more authority to give him orders than I had, and asked him from what member of that board his instructions had been received. He ignored the question and said that his efforts to compelling the crowd to disband."

The speaker's platform had already been removed, the policeman having declared prior to my arrival that he would arrest anyone who attempted to speak from it. I reiterated my question: 'Officer, from what member of the Board of Education did you receive instructions to prevent from being held?' He replied very surlily: 'From the janitor of the school house,' pointing to Public School, No. 17, across the way."

Officer Assaults Crowd. The policeman thereupon grabbed his club with both hands, one hand at each end, and with very great violence, assaulted numerous persons with the club so held. Many were forced violently toward anyone who attempted to speak from it. I reiterated my question: 'Officer, from what member of the Board of Education did you receive instructions to prevent from being held?' He replied very surlily: 'From the janitor of the school house,' pointing to Public School, No. 17, across the way."

In order to avoid, if possible, further violence from the policeman I called out to the crowd asking them to step across to the other side of Grand street, which they did. There the platform was erected and an orderly meeting held throughout the remainder of the evening."

Mr. Stokes concludes by offering to testify in affidavits in support of his statement from a number of witnesses whose names he gives.

MUSICAL ECHOES.

In two solo—Faure's "Elegie" and "Am Springbrunnen"—Miss May Mülle, an English violinist, appeared at the fourth of the German Society's Sunday afternoon concerts last Sunday afternoon at the New German Theater. The young artist appeared also as the solo member of the Maud Powell Trio in the rendition of Mme. Cecilia Chaminade's A minor trio for pianoforte and strings and of "Two Walzermaerchen," a new suite composed by Eduard Schuett for the same instrumental combination.

Following her delivery of the two numbers aforementioned, Miss Mülle was greeted with such animated and prolonged applause upon the part of the crowded house as left no doubt in the minds of her hearers that she had scored a decided triumph. Nor was the success achieved by her at all out of proportion to the merit of her performance as soloist or as an ensemble player. She had not executed more than six or seven bars of the Faure composition ere it came apparent that she was a virtuoso of uncommon powers of comprehension and expression. Her fingerboard work was clean and incisive; her bowing of the sort that produces its inevitable nobility and finish. And in the Chaminade and Schuett trios the cantabile quality of her music distinguished her playing.

Applause for String Trios. It is such a work as the Chaminade trio that affords an opportunity to the public to estimate the dimensions of the ability of the eminent French woman as a composer—an opportunity which the array of light program music presented by Miss Chaminade and her assisting artists at Carnegie Music Hall on Saturday afternoon but partly allowed. Artistic in the true sense of the word is the gracious contrast effected by the varied shades of the first movement—allegro moderato—against the "chaste, yet somber, spirituality of the second—lento. And this contrast was well exemplified by the work of the violinists, Miss Maud Powell, the cellist and the pianist, Miss Anne Ford, who compose the trio. The Schuett "Walzermaerchen" proved to be a composition of bold, free style, strong in thematic material and partaking in its second part of the quality of the music of the Russians. The instrumentalists gave it a scholarly presentation.

Miss Maud Powell was heard as soloist in two dance compositions—the "Slav" of Maurice Strakosky and the "Hungarian" of Johannes Brahms. These she rendered with skill and agreeable effect.

Vocal Duets Score. Miss Elizabeth Dodge and Mr. Francis Rogers sang in duet a score from Mozart's "Le Nozze di Figaro" and "It Was a Lover and His Lass" by Richard Walthew, their finished rendition of the former lyric in Italian, winning applause in plenty. Halts by Franz Schubert, Claude Debussy, Victor Harris, Isidore Luckatsky and Sidney Homer were Mr. Rogers' solo and the highly colored aria "Jauchset Gott in allen Landen" of Johann Sebastian Bach, and songs by Frank La Forge and Lenox A. Brady were sung by Miss Dodge, Mr. Max Liebman was the accompanist.

Maurice Levy and his band presented the third Sunday night concert of the series at the Colonial Theater before an audience which filled that spacious auditorium and encouraged the players by continued applause.

The ensemble program, which consisted wholly of popular numbers was supplemented by several solos capably rendered by Herbert Clark Cornetist, late with Sousa's Band.

"Of general interest to all the musical world," according to Miss A. L. Nalle, the manager of the People's Symphony Concerts, will be the opening number of the first concert to be given by the orchestra at the season of 1908-'09, the following notes which doubtless will be of interest to music lovers of moderate means is quoted: "The value of Mr. Arensky's symphonic analysis of the great composition cannot be too highly rated as an educational factor tending toward a better appreciation and understanding of the composers and their works. As seen by the low rates of admission, this is not a commercial scheme, but a purely educational and philanthropic one, the large deficit necessarily resultant from these low rates, as opposed to the heavy disbursement for hall, a big orchestra, etc., being covered by voluntary subscriptions from our public-spirited patrons who are interested in this admirable movement." Tickets for the concert are on sale at the office of the People's Symphony Concerts, 23 Union Square East, and at the People's Institute, 313 East 15th Street.

At the American Institute of Applied Music, 212 West 55th Street, between Broadway and Seventh Avenue, Friday evening, a violin recital will be given by the pupils of Herwegh von Wald, of the Synthetic School of Music, which is a department of the Institute, assisted by Miss Margery Morrison, pianist, Besthoven and Dvorak concerti and the Bach concerto, with pianoforte accompaniment by Robert Schumann, are the offerings.

"Gottedammerung," last of the Nibelungen cycle of music dramas by Richard Wagner, is the title of a lecture which will be delivered by Rubin Goldmark, conductor of the St. Bartholomew's Lyceum Hall, in 42nd Street, just east of Third Avenue.

Second of a series of discourses which Thomas Sweeney is devoting to the symphonic production of Ludwig van Beethoven at the Young Men's Hebrew Association, Lexington Avenue and 92d Street, on Wednesday evening, will be an analysis of Beethoven's Second Symphony, to be given this evening at the institution named.

In Corkville Clarence DeVaux is treating in a lecture course, the composer of the great musical nations of the world. "Composers and Music of Norway and Sweden" is the subject of the talk announced by him for this evening at Public School No. 24, 224 East 54th Street.

NOTE TO NEW SOCIALISTS READ SOCIALIST BOOKS. The "Question of the Hour" will be the subject of a lecture given by the New York Socialist Party on Wednesday evening, October 29th, at 11th Street and 1st Avenue.

THE THEATRES

Mr. Percy G. Williams offers at the Alhambra for this week a bill of exceptional strength at the head of which are Frank Moulton and Maud Lillian Bert, late stars of "The Sultan of Sulu," who will present a laughable one act skit "The Hair and the Heftrem." Among the other headliners are Mr. Winsor McKay, the cartoonist and creator of "Little Nemo," who will demonstrate his skill by drawing lightning caricatures; Roble-dilla, the Mexican expert slack wire and tight rope walker, will be seen for the first time in Harlem; Carrie De Mar in her dainty singing specialty will tell us of the humorous woes of "Lonesome Flossie," while Tom Nawn and his company will add to the fun with "Pat and the Genie"; the Sharp Bros. in their new specialty will give their songs and clever clog dances with the assistance of their six Dusky Belles. Howard's Ponies, a most attractive animal act, is another contribution to a strong program.

Julius Steger and company in "The Fifth Commandment," and Rock and Fulton will be the headline attractions at the 125th Street Theater this week. La Petite Adelaide and Girls in a bill and will give a number of new songs and imitations. Miss Mayne will retain her big song hit "Strolling in the Park," with which she scored so decidedly last week. Carlin and Otto will be heard in their new comedy production, "The Battle of Bay Rum." Matthews and Ashley have a new act entitled "Heid Up." Harry Tighe and company are on the bill with a one act comedy entitled "Books." John and Bertha Gleason will present their ingenious dancing specialty, the Belleclair Brothers will exhibit their skill and strength with a number of herculean feats, and the Vitagraph display will contain entirely novel views.

Alice Lloyd, the dainty English comedienne, will play her last week in vaudeville before venturing into musical comedy at the Fifth Avenue Theater this week. The Naughtons, those clever English comedians, are another feature. Marcell's Living Pictures are an attractive novelty. Wormwood's Animals, one of the funniest animal acts on the stage, will be another feature act. Others are Nita Allen and company in a sketch, "State-room 1, Car 2." Harry Alister, impersonations; Geiger and Walton, "the street musicians;" and Carbery Brothers, singers and dancers.

"The Other Side" is the title of a play by one of the authors of "A Gentleman from Mississippi," Harrison Rhodes, which William A. Brady will produce. It deals with the question of international marriage from the point of view of the European nobility, which Mr. Rhodes seeks to place in a sympathetic light.

THE ZANCIGS. World renowned mind readers who will appear at the Colonial Theater, Nov. 6th to 12th.

series of charming dances are also featured. The Ellis-Mowila-Troupe offer an acrobatic pantomime, "Night at the Circus." Other acts are Hill and Whittaker, banjoists; Sammie Watson's Farmyard, Billy Beard, black-face comedian, and Conlin and Steele in a comedy singing and dancing act.

The Gaiety Theater still continues to be the laugh emporium due to the fact that "The Traveling Salesman," James Forbes' laughable comedy, is still there, where it is playing to crowded houses. "Unquestionably this play is due for a long run as is evident by the packed list of dates at the theatergoers in this city."

Arrangements were effected last week whereby Louis Mann will remain the attraction in the Circle Theater until April 1st, at least, and William A. Brady's production of the musical play called "Her Duke and Her Duets," which was to have been given there about February 15, will be held until next season. This is an adaptation of the French vaudeville called "Mlle. Euphrasie," brought from Paris last summer by Frank Worthing. "The Man Who Stood Still" will remain Mr. Mann's vehicle while in the Circle, and will, on September 7th, be staged in Chicago for a run of fourteen weeks. Mr. Mann's appearance as Shylock will not be made until after the Christmas holidays, and will be at a series of matinees, with a special cast.

The return to vaudeville of Arnold Daly in Mark Twain's play, "Becoming an Editor" is the most important announcement on the program at the Colonial for this week. Mr. Daly will be assisted by a company specially engaged for the presentation of the farce by the famous humorist. Charlie Mayne, the English "Clash Janis," who met with such success in "The Man Who Stood Still," at the Circle Theater.

MRS. HAINES DENIES CONFESSION

A bulky letter reached us from Washington the other day, and upon being opened a beautiful view of a $20 check appeared before our eyes.

Likewise 46 names and addresses. All these from Comrade Pollock, who gets $4 worth of Kerr books as a premium.

Our candidate for Lieutenant Governor of New York State, Comrade Street, writes us an interesting letter of the meetings he is holding and incidentally explains that the $2 enclosed are to cover four subscriptions.

S. Slavke of Bethlehem, Pa., sends $5 for cards. We understand he is intending donating a Socialist library to the workers of his town in rivalry with Carnegie.

"Enclosed herewith please find one subscription and money covering ten cards."—Hans Toft.

The total number of names added to our list since the last report (Oct. 16), excluding post-card subscriptions, is $66.

More than one: P. J. Auman, Johnstown, Pa.; J. Bornstein, Brockton, Mass.; J. A. Bourdieu, Pawtucket, R. I.; J. Bartholomew, Green Lane, Pa.; E. P. Brande, Newburg, N. Y.; A. CHINA AND OPIUM.

Assuming that the abolition of opium is to be brought within the range of practical politics it remains to be said that the reform will prove of little real value to the Chinese people if the pipe is to be replaced by the injection or the consumption of morphine...

THE NEW WOMAN IN PERSIA.

In the present movement among the women of Persia Islam, education has but a small part. Though intelligent, Persian women are still few exceptions ignorant. Reading, writing, with little arithmetic, and the relation of the sciences to the constitution the basis of her instruction from the moment that the young Persian is old enough to join the ranks of the "caches," she usually finds no other employment than that of assisting her mother in the care of the younger children.

HOW THEY WERE FREED.

When the trolley cars first appeared down south, the nigger said: "They're great people, dese Yanks; fust dey comes down here and fress de nigger; den dey comes down here and fress de mule."

SOCIALISTS AT WORK.

Mrs. Liebknecht, widow of the great Socialist leader, Wilhelm Liebknecht (and whose son, Dr. Karl Liebknecht is now undergoing a term of imprisonment for his anti-militarist writings), writes from Germany to say she considers Robert Hunter's "Socialists at Work" to be a remarkable achievement.

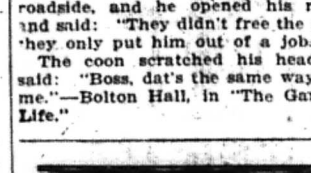

WHICH DO YOU CHOOSE?

Blessed is even now our privilege to have our choice of two roads: the road of life and the road of death. We are slaves who will not choose hatred, and we are slaves who will not choose love. We are slaves who will not choose the mountain top, as it were, and we are slaves who will not choose the valley below. I deem it worth our crucifixion to win for my memory as a Socialist a fraction of the adoring love which millions of the no least men have felt for Christ.—Lawrence Gronlund.

SLAVES IN SOUL.

They are slaves who fear to speak for the fallen and the weak. They are slaves who will not choose hatred, and we are slaves who will not choose love. We are slaves who will not choose the mountain top, as it were, and we are slaves who will not choose the valley below. I deem it worth our crucifixion to win for my memory as a Socialist a fraction of the adoring love which millions of the no least men have felt for Christ.—Lawrence Gronlund.

Bryan was confined to an exposure of the Democratic candidate's shifty and crawling policy and of the corruptness of the Democratic party organization and its domination by the most reactionary elements in the party, it was possible for guileless persons to believe that the attack was a sincere one, even though the trustful followers of Mr. Hearst might well wish that he would attack the Republican party of capitalism with the same vigor that he displayed in criticizing its Democratic twin.

HEARST, BRYAN, AND TAFT.

But last Saturday's editorial in the New York "American" ought to disabuse the minds of even the most unsophisticated of any doubt that Mr. Hearst's agitation is simply an annex of the Republican campaign.

"The Business World Fears Mr. Bryan" is the title of the editorial. It closes with these words:

The election of Mr. Bryan would mean injury to the West. And in spell a woundy loss of commercial confidence. Certainly it would on the side of Western merchants. Loss of confidence in the commercial West would be of putting in a Bryan vote.

This is exactly the same sort of stuff as the Republican and Gold Democrats used against Mr. Bryan in the days when he really was something of a radical, twelve years ago. Mr. Hearst stoops pretty low when he digs up this sort of thing and, in defense of the interest of the great capitalist class and especially of the Republican politicians of that class, warns the workers against voting for Mr. Bryan lest they be punished by the business men.

It is well known that we Socialists have no confidence in Mr. Bryan and no friendship for the Democratic party. We have attacked it persistently and consistently throughout the present campaign, just as we have before this campaign began. We shall continue to exist as a party of the propertied classes.

But, unlike Mr. Hearst and his party, we have not made a one-sided attack on Bryan and the Democracy, leaving Taft and the Republican party unscathed. We have carried on a campaign AGAINST both old parties and their candidates and principles, but a positive and constructive campaign FOR the candidates, the principles, and the policies of the Socialist party, the party of the future, the party of the working class.

And we cannot let this opportunity pass to expose Mr. Hearst as a defender of capitalism, equally with Mr. Bryan and Mr. Taft and as a political ally of the Republican gang.

"We care not who makes the laws of the country, so long as we have men on the job to declare them unconstitutional if we don't like them," is the way the capitalists paraphrase Napoleon's famous saying. In the state of New York, for instance, they keep up the sham battle between their Republican and Democratic party so far as the national ticket and the legislative and executive portions of the state ticket are concerned. But when it comes to choosing candidates for the Court of Appeals, the court which has the final voice in keeping laws on the statute books or wiping them out, the capitalists see to it that their two parties nominate the same man and cinch his election. Men who wish to see labor laws held constitutional will vote the straight Socialist ticket, if only for this one reason.

An Indiana judge has issued an injunction forbidding the national officers of the United Mine Workers to remove the district officers from their positions, as they are distinctly empowered to do by the provisions of the union constitution, which has been drawn up by the union conventions and ratified by the vote of the rank and file. This is one of the most striking instances of judicial usurpation, being as it is a direct blow at the principle of democratic self-government upon which the labor movement must rest if it is to have any vigor. Workingmen should resent it and declare against the repetition of such arbitrary acts by piling up a big vote for the Socialist party, which stands clearly committed against the injunction and against the extension of the judicial powers.

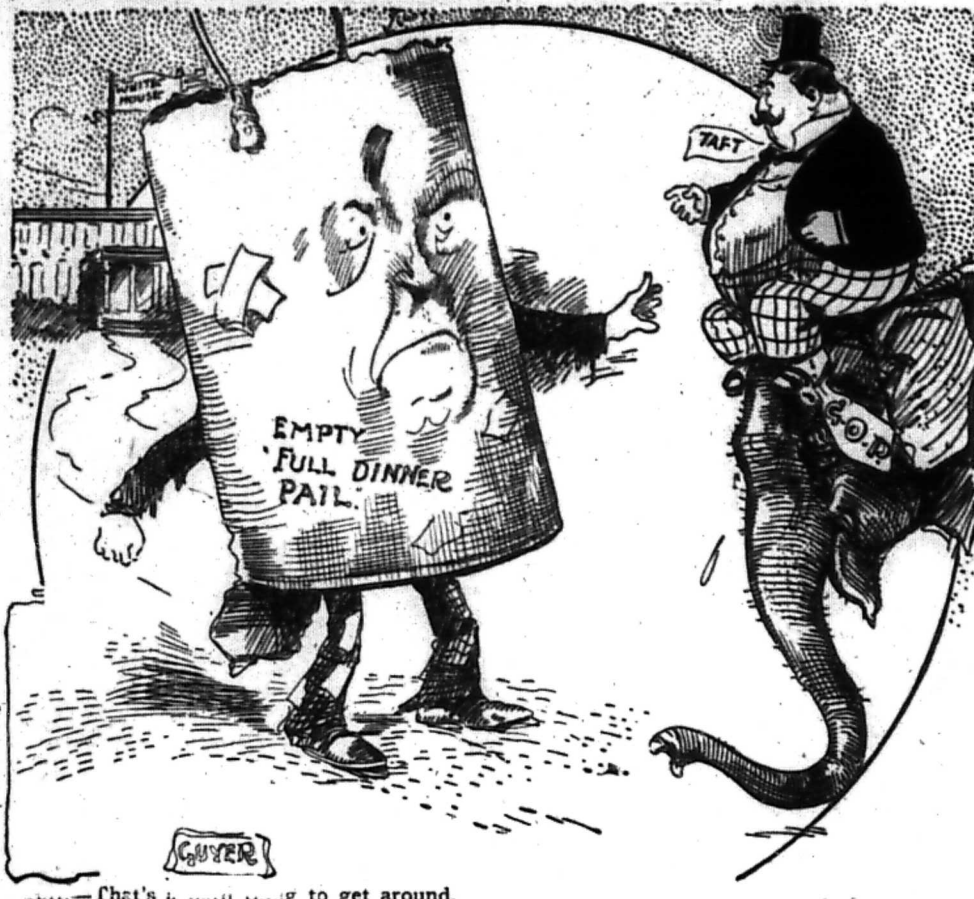

A Bellevue doctor says the hospitals have no difficulty in finding plenty of people willing to sell their blood for transfusion into the veins of patients. The only trouble, he says, is that people who are hungry enough to have to sell their blood haven't very good blood to sell.

The White House predicts fifteen hundred thousand votes for Debs and Hanford. For the first time in our lives, we hope that the White House utterances will be verified by the facts.

There are two things of equal importance to be done on Election Day—to cast Socialist votes and to get those votes counted and reported.

On the fourth day of November, so far as we Socialists are concerned, will begin the campaign of 1912.

A vote for Socialism is a vote against the need for bread-lines.

That's a coming to get around.

WHAT WE WANT.

By JAMES JEFFREY ROCHE.

We are the heavers and delvers who toil for another's gain; The common clod, and the rabble, stunted of brow and brain. What do we want, the gleaners, of the harvest we have reaped? What do we want, the neuters, of the honey we have heaped?

We want the drones to be driven away from our golden hoard; We want to share in the harvest, we want to sit at the board; We want what sword or suffrage has never yet won for man; The fruits of his toil God promised when the curse of toil began.

Ye have tried the sword and scythe, the cross and the sacred word, In all the years, and the kingdom is not yet here of the Lord. We are tired of useless waiting, we are tired of fruitless prayers. Soldier and churchman and lawyer—the failure, is it not theirs?

What gain is it to the people that a God laid down his life. If twenty centuries after his world be a world of strife? If the serried ranks be facing each other with ruthless eyes, And steel in their hands, what profits a Savior's sacrifice?

Ye have tried, and failed to rule us; in vain to direct have tried. Not wholly the fault of the ruler, not utterly blind the guide. Mayhap there needs not a ruler, mayhap we can find the way; At least ye have ruled to ruin; at least ye have led astray.

What matter if king or consul or president holds the rein. If crime and poverty ever be links in the bondsman's chain? What saith the burden bearer that Liberty packed his load? If hunger presses behind him with a sharp and ready goad?

There's a serf whose chains are of paper; there's a king with a parchment crown; There are robber knights and brigands in factory, field, and town. But the vassal pays his tribute to a lord of wage and rent; And the baron's toll is Shylock's with a flesh and blood per cent.

The seamstress bends to her labor all night in a narrow room; The child, defrauded of childhood, tipsos all day at the loom; The soul must starve for the body can barely on husks be fed; And the loaded dice of the gambler settles the price of bread.

Ye have shorn and bound the Samson, and robbed him of learning's light; But his sluggish brain is moving; his shears have all their might. Look well to your gates of Gaza, your privilege, pride, and caste. The giant is blind but thinking, and his locks are growing fast.

permitted nor are even public lectures allowed. The only possible discussion is in secret and unlawful meetings. The law does not provide for any tax-payers' hearings. There is nothing to prevent the City Council from hearing 'experts' but in practice this is never done, as it presupposes a public spirit which could not develop under the autocratic regime which prevails in Russia.

ARE YOU WILLING?

(Editorial from the Cleveland Press.)

Are you willing to help Russia torture people? United States Commissioner Shields of New York has made a decision that Jan Pouden, a Lettish peasant who took part in the recent attempted revolution in the Baltic provinces, shall be sent back to tortures worse than those of the awful devilities of the middle ages.

But public opinion may still force action over the head of Commissioner Shields to save the obscure Jan Pouden from a fate worse than hell and the United States from deserting her mission of shelterer of political exiles.

Jan Pouden is a simple Lettish peasant. Two or three years ago his village went mad at the agony of Russian oppression, and revolted. Every reader of this felt his heart go out to these revolutionists; but sympathy and mad agony could not win against conscripts, and the revolution was suppressed.

And then began things too horrible to think of. A commission with authority to kill political offenders without trial subjected newly arrested persons to the most atrocious tortures. They were beaten with clubs and whips until senseless, and roused by cold water to new tortures. Officers caved in prisoners' chests with their boots. Men's legs were pounded until the flesh dropped off. Eyes were gouged out with fingers and pencils. The bones of the living feet were crushed. Pools of blood ran over the floor of the torture chamber from bodies cut with wiry whips. Nails were torn out, hair was pulled out and bones broken. When the flesh turned to an open wound, the torturer laid a wet rag over it to replace the skin, or rubbed salt in it, and went on with the torments. Clearly these offenses were the acts of a soldier serving his revolutionary cause. We have always refused to extradite political offenders. Irishmen have been protected by this nation when accused of crimes of violence in the land of troubles, because the troubles were political. But Commissioner Shields has decided that Jan Pouden shall be sent back to the tortures, the horrors, the unthinkable savageries of the Russian government.

SHALL JAN POUDEEN BE TORN FROM THE ALTAR OF FREEDOM—OUR ALTAR—AND SENT BACK TO SHALL THIS CEASE TO BE AN ALTAR OF FREEDOM—SHALL WE BECOME FUGITIVE SLAVE HUNTERS FOR THE CZAR?

NO! A MILLION TIMES NO! Were Jan Pouden a thousand times a murderer we ought not to send him back to such a fate.

Write to the Poudeen Defense Conference, 220 Broadway, New York, and find out how to help save America from this disgrace.

When one "confessed," those named by him were tortured. When he refused, he was taken out after torture and shot, while attempting to "escape." Oh, it was hell, simply hell!

Jan Poudeen got out of Russia and came to New York. Russia followed, hired the best lawyers and asked his extradition for burglary, arson and murder. Clearly these offenses were the acts of a soldier serving his revolutionary cause. We have always refused to extradite political offenders. Irishmen have been protected by this nation when accused of crimes of violence in the land of troubles, because the troubles were political. THE LILY OF THE BOG.

SYNOPSIS.

Juristics, an aristocratic young man, engaged to Adele, the daughter of a Jewish conventional professor becomes interested in Jessi, a beautiful flower girl. His friend in the meantime lost heavily at cards and Juristics' father's name to a note covering that debt.

The dark-haired girl looked at the clock, then walked over to the corner, and soon reappeared in a large fur coat, accompanied by two other shop girls and a servant.

Two or three doors below she turned into a gate and disappeared. Juristics remained in the empty street alone. He walked up and down a couple of times in a state of confusion and indecision; then he, too, entered the house and ascended the stairs.

When Jessi left the store, Juristics retreated to the other side of the street. The lights in the store were put out and the doors locked.

The shop girls turned to the right, Jessi and the servant girl to the left. Juristics followed Jessi, but from the opposite side of the street.

REVERENCE.

By ROBERT HUNTER.

Some time ago the New York "Evening Post" printed an editorial on "The Reign of Lawlessness." It was very much approved of apparently by the readers of that paper.

A gentleman who signs himself A. B. H. writes a letter to express his approval, and incidentally to say that "the basic trouble with the American people of to-day is that for the past five or six years all sorts of strange influences and ideas entirely foreign to our system of government have been forced upon them, which without doubt have impaired the reverence for the courts which in years past they enjoyed."

Reverence for the courts! What do you think of that? The lack of reverence for the courts he thinks is due to strange foreign influences and ideas. These influences and ideas, these political institutions, these moral and their origin; these holy places of the holy—what a sacrilege that they should be undermined by irreverence!

We must reverence courts, not justice. We must reverence dogma, not truth. We must reverse the constitution, not liberty. We must reverse "Tim" Sullivan and "Hinky Dink," not Democracy. We must reverse Cannon and Aldrich, not Republicanism. We must reverse prosperity and poverty, wage slavery and industry, must reverse everything that IS, and turn our faces from everything that OUGHT TO BE.

Reverence. That is a big, big word. And reverence does not come from a feeling of awe, like love and hate, it comes and goes of its own free will.

Does anyone think that strange foreign influences and ideas undermined the reverence for kings, undermined the reverence for feudalism, undermined the reverence for the Czar, undermined the reverence for monarchy?

The heart of man yearns for reverence. There is nothing in this wide world so noble to him. It is food for his soul. Nothing but the rudest shock, nothing but the most violent betrayal, nothing but the vilest treachery undermines man's reverence. Ideas are about as impalpable tide against the rocky shores of Connecticut. It is lying and falsehood and rottenness and injustice that creates irreverence.

If there were justice in the courts do you think that ideas would turn the scales against reverence for the courts? Do you suppose if there were honesty and high purpose and noble behavior in our political life that the people would turn from it in disgust? Do you suppose if our present social order offered us nothing but peace and comfort, fair dealing and decent livelihood, that ideas could make the people wish to destroy that social order?

Rever the courts? Did you ever see some shrewd, lily, intellectual lawyer who, by teaching corporations how to swindle, has made a fortune? Do you think that man would do anything criminal without being technically a criminal? Did you ever see these foxlike masters of the legal rules of the game advising and cautioning great corporations and wealthy manufacturers and powerful trust magnates how to evade every law and yet technically escape breaking any law? And then have you seen these men taken to the capitals of our States or to Washington to be placed upon our SUPREME benches?

THEY are our courts; men like ourselves; no different, no more to be revered; men as likely to lie and steal and cheat; men as subservient to the powerful and as merciless to the weak. Our courts are not divine. They are not sanctified, erected mechanisms. THEY ARE SIMPLY HUMAN BEINGS WHO RULE.

Rever the courts? Nonsense! We will reverse nothing short of justice. Every revolt against lawlessness is signaled as lawlessness. Every revolt against irreverence is signaled as irreverence. Every revolt against despotism is signaled as despotism. Every revolt against falsehood is signaled as falsehood.

But if we are to have nothing in the past and will avail nothing in the future. Man's soul must have reverence. His inner life can no more exist without reverence than his body can exist without food and drink.

But he will not reverse. False prophets of justice, false prophets of reverence for his reverence that which is worthy of his reverence. And of his own life and energy, out of his own revolt and passion, out of his own love and sacrifice and labor, he will create that truth, that reverence that social order, to which his reverence is due.

THEY are our courts; men like ourselves; no different, no more to be revered; men as likely to lie and steal and cheat; men as subservient to the powerful and as merciless to the weak. Our courts are not divine. They are not sanctified, erected mechanisms. THEY ARE SIMPLY HUMAN BEINGS WHO RULE.
