G SOCIALIST GAINS IN WESTERN STATES

Oklahoma, Washington and Idaho Come Up Strong.

Pennsylvania Seems to Be Banner Socialist State in the East—Tennessee, Missouri and Other Agricultural States Surprise with Increased Socialist Vote—Returns Coming in Slowly.

Returns of the Socialist vote in the West are still slow in coming in. The far western states are just beginning to be heard from. They indicate a great gain for the socialist party, especially in Oklahoma, Washington and Idaho. It further reports from the West that the party is making gains in the West and that a doubling of the Socialist vote in the nation would be expected.

STEADY INCREASE IN VOTE UP STATE

OLEAN, N. Y., Nov. 5.—Corrected returns show total for Debs, 600; Gilman, 2. Socialist vote in 1904 was 10, last year, 28; total Socialist vote Cattaraugus County will probably exceed 500.

KINGSTON, N. Y., Nov. 5.—Ulster County gives Debs 107; Gilman, 27.

cents two years ago. The same ratio of gain through the county would give Wilson 2,800 votes in the county as against 870 in 1906, and 8,000 votes in the district as against 2,900 two years ago. Returns from the State are insufficient for an estimate, but indicate large gains.

Who Is in Trouble with the Kaiser and the German People Because He Inadvertently Put His O. K. on an Indiscreet Interview of His August Majesty.

Returns from the State are meager, but a good increase is expected. Sunday riot racket was worked desperately in workmen's and brewery wards.

SOCIALISTS GAIN IN WASHINGTON

Despite Attempts at Disfranchisement of Workers, a Big Vote Was Rolled Up.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 5.—Despite the infamous primary law decision that practically disfranchised thousands of Socialist voters by compelling them to use stickers for the State and local tickets, a heavy Socialist gain is reported from all over the State.

In many towns and counties Debs ran neck and neck with Taft and Bryan and in several places the Debs vote was the highest.

Salkum elects a Socialist Justice of the Peace and gives Debs 23. Taft 26, Bryan 15.

Aberdeen gives Debs 190, beating Bryan in three of the seven wards. Elma gives Debs 121 out of 508.

All indications point to a total Socialist vote in the State of over 15,000, a gain of 50 per cent.

MINISTER HAS 'BOOZE' Keeps It in Cellar—Two Servants Poisoned.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 5.—With the inquest over the bodies of Ed. and Laura Davis, the negro servant found dead in the new home of Dr. Carter Helm Jones, the White-Temple pastor, postponed until Monday pending the analysis of the wines and whisky which is supposed to have caused their death, the whole case is at a standstill.

County Attorney Reardon says the investigation into the deaths of the two negroes is being pushed, and that chemical analyses are being made by City Chemist Shinkle. Mr. Shinkle says he is submitting the wine and whisky to a test, but that he is doing nothing with the internal organs of the negroes, except to keep them packed on ice in a refrigerator, pending the decision of Reardon. Shinkle says he has not been ordered to analyze the organs, and that he will not undertake the task until so ordered.

Dr. Jones is very indignant over the reports that poison was placed in the wine and whisky for the purpose of getting revenge on him. The wine was shipped to him and his family by his brother-in-law as a present, but how the whisky got in the Jones home is still a mystery. The pastor spent his morning hours at home and did not show any special anxiety to discuss the latest phase of the case. "I do not take any stock in the non-sensical going the rounds," he said.

Rev. Carter Helm Jones, D. D., is perhaps the highest salaried pastor in the Southwest. He was recently called to the White Temple, or First Baptist Church, of this city from Lynchburg, Va., where he was pastor for a number of years. He is an eloquent orator, and a man of pleasing personality. His recent wedding was his second venture on the high seas of matrimony.

His first wife was formerly Mrs. Elsie H. Christian, of Lynchburg. She is the cousin of Mrs. C. D. Gibson, wife of the famous American artist.

The bodies of the negroes were buried yesterday.

BRYAN OUT NOW FOR ANOTHER OFFICE

Thinks He Would Look Well in Role of United States Senator—So Says Mack.

"William J. Bryan will, in my judgment, be the next United States Senator from Nebraska and will never run for President again. Bryan will lead the Democratic National Committee, upon receipt of which, in regard to certain information that the Democrats will control the new Nebraska Legislature."

This prophecy was uttered yesterday by Chairman Norman E. Mack of the Democratic National Committee, upon receipt of which, in regard to certain information that the Democrats will control the new Nebraska Legislature.

Chairman Mack evidently was unaware that the next United States Senator from Nebraska will not be chosen until early in 1911, unless Senator Burkett or Brown should die or should become physically incapacitated.

LABOR CANDIDATES GAIN IN PORTO RICO

SAN JUAN, Nov. 4.—Julio Larrinaga, the present Porto Rican Commissioner at Washington, was re-elected Tuesday.

The Unionists, of which party Larrinaga is a member, carried all the districts by increased majorities.

The vote of the Free Federation of Labor increased heavily over the vote cast in 1906.

Danteo Iglesias, an organizer of the A. F. of L. was Free Federation candidate for Commissioner and he gained largely at the expense of the Republican candidate.

GAINS IN SPRINGFIELD, O. SPRINGFIELD, Ohio, Nov. 4.—This city gives Debs this year 218, a big gain, as it is practically 10 per cent. of the total vote.

22,750 IN OKLAHOMA Gives Debs Increase of 500 Per Cent. Over 1904.

OKLAHOMA, Okla., Nov. 5.—Eugene V. Debs polled 22,750 votes in this State according to the latest returns from all parts of the State received this morning. Bryan has carried the State by 122,475 votes. Taft was second with 106,450, Debs third with 2,750, Hagen 225 and Watson 100. Br. 'n's plurality is 10,025.

In four years the Socialist vote has jumped from 4,443 for Lendenmille in 1904, to the present figure, which are just five times as that. Not all counties have been heard from as yet, and it is believed that complete returns will bring the total up to 25,000.

ACTRESS TO WED

Goodrich to Marry "Chin" Goodwin.

The attentions of Nat C. Goodwin, singer, mining promoter and publisher, to Miss Edna Goodrich, at one time his leading woman, have become so marked that their friends recently accepted a report yesterday that the two were to be married on Saturday.

It was even said that Mr. Goodwin purchased the wedding ring yesterday at Kirkpatrick's, No. 334 Fifth avenue, and that Miss Goodrich would wear the news of her betrothal to-day.

Mr. Goodwin would make neither denial nor affirmation last night at the Plaza, and in the afternoon is busy rehearsing at Wallack's "Cameo Kirby." Seen shortly after he had left the theatre, he said: "Nothing to say now. If I did, everybody would know it."

On the preceding evening the pair attended the performance of "Samson" at the Criterion Theatre, afterwards dining at the Knickerbocker Hotel.

The triumph of the comedian in winning the former Florodora singer in the climax of a romance more complicated than any which he ever depicted on the stage. His leading lady is said to have come from European capital to another, then from the Atlantic and to the shores of the Pacific.

At times the thread of the plot becomes irrevocably snarled by rivalry, one of whom at one time is reported to have completely ousted Goodwin from the cast. This was Harry McMillan, the Goldfield millionaire.

The report that McMillan was to marry Miss Goodrich was especially strengthened by her admissions that the magnificent gowns which she ordered by the trunkful in London and Paris were purchased by McMillan for her troupe. Then it was that she was said to have exclaimed, when asked if she had forgotten all about her comedian admirer: "Why, how could anybody marry a man with a couple of chins?"

CORNER OF "SCAB IS A HERO" RESIGNS

BOSTON, Nov. 4.—President Chas. W. Elliot, of Harvard University, has resigned. His resignation was "respectfully accepted" at a meeting of President and Fellows of Harvard College, to become effective May, 1909.

Announcement of resignation was made to-day at a special meeting of the Board of Overseers. The resignation is dated October 19 and the acceptance by the Fellows October 24.

No suggestion was made in the letter as to the reason for the resignation. The letter came to the corporation last month without previous notice on his part, and he was accepted until two weeks of conference after its receipt. It was stated to-day that the board with the utmost difficulty arrived at the conclusion that a proper regard for the President's wishes required them to relieve him of arduous duties of his office.

President Elliot's letter of resignation was as follows:

To the President and Fellows of Harvard College:

Gentlemen—I hereby resign the office of President of Harvard University, the resignation to take effect at your convenience, but not later than May 19, 1909.

The President's intimate association with the other members of corporation in common service to the university is one of the most privileged of his life. For this association with the friends who are dead and the living who are living I shall always be profoundly grateful.

MAYOR OF KEARNY MAKES A BREAK

KEARNY, N. J., Nov. 5.—At Tuesday's election the old method of party ballots and tickers was used, the voting machine having been thrown out by the old party politicians. "Too clean a vote," they said.

In the 3d and 4th Wards the Socialist machines were used, but for their immediate and emphatic protest the entire Socialist vote would have been invalidated.

Wm. H. Leffingwell, a well known Socialist, was approached by a voter about a block away from the polls and asked for information about the Socialist party. Leffingwell began to explain and in five minutes had an audience of about 100 voters. The members of the other parties went out of business at once and a delegation was sent at once to the Mayor, who sent a policeman to break up the "political meeting."

The voters urged Leffingwell to proceed to be admitted the meeting to the barber shop of John Costello, a Socialist. More than fifty people accompanied the speaker, and a meeting lasting an hour and a half was held. H. B. Kearny, Central and Leffingwell spoke. Five applications for membership were received and thirty names of interested voters were taken.

SAY WOMAN WAS LEADER

Of Night Riders in Tennessee -- Will Confess.

UNION CITY, Tenn., Oct. 5.—When a woman, heavily guarded by troops, was brought here from the outlying forests yesterday and held to give testimony before the Grand Jury, it became known that the night riders who lynched Captain Rankin two weeks ago, were so well organized that they even employed a secretary and bookkeeper to record their plots and keep their funds.

This woman is Mrs. Ella Priddy, thirty years old, an original member of the night riders' clan at Reelfoot Lake, but she was almost fatally beaten by the men of the band a week ago when they found she was about to betray the slayers of Rankin.

The authorities learned that Mrs. Priddy had previously accompanied the night riders on many of their raids. She is expected to make extraordinary revelations regarding their atrocities.

Dressed in male attire, she was accustomed to ride upon a horse at the head of the band, and was recognized as one of its leaders.

When no raids were on, it was the woman's part to remain at one of the riders' numerous camps and, acting as secretary and bookkeeper of the band, to keep record of their plans and count and divide the plunder they had gathered in their raids on the country side.

But after the Rankin lynching and the hanging of Esquire Reese the fierce life of the band palled on the woman, and she decided to betray them.

She will tell her whole story tomorrow, when sixty night riders are brought before the Grand Jury on the charge of having slain Captain Rankin at Reelfoot Lake.

SOUTHERN SOLDIERS GUARD NEGRO

RALEIGH, Nov. 4.—The sensational spectacle is witnessed in Raleigh today of a full company of the State guard troops acting as "escort" to protect the life of a Guerrilla negro who was taken from the penitentiary here to-day by a deputy sheriff from Cabarrus County, and taken to Concord by rail to stand trial for his life.

October 13 this young negro, named Will Graham, assaulted a young white girl in Cabarrus County after deceiving her away from the farm house by a fake story that her father had sent for her. The next day a mob of two thousand lynchmen came near getting him, and he was finally brought to the State penitentiary here secretly for safe keeping.

The case comes up in Superior Court at Concord this evening, and as threats have been renewed to lynch him without trial for the crime, he has confessed, the Governor has sent military companies to the scene to preserve order and uphold the law. Dispatch from Concord states that it is feared the mob and troops may come to bloodshed there tonight, as it is probable the mob will make another effort to get the rapist despite the presence of troops.

The company from Raleigh has orders to shoot real charges of powder and lead and not blank cartridges, and have been supplied to-day with one thousand rounds of ammunition.

IMPORTANT MEETING TO-MORROW NIGHT

A very important meeting of the Workmen's Co-Operative Publishing Association will be held at Pearl Hall, 475 Pearl street, Friday evening Nov. 6. Every member must be on hand and all proposed members must have their party membership cards with them. Many weighty matters will be discussed. All Socialist party members with cards will also be welcome.

GIRLS ON STRIKE.

The Women's Trade Union League is making an attempt to organize one hundred girls who have gone on strike against the introduction of the piece work system at the dressmaking establishment of M. Cohen, 32-109 Sixth avenue. The unorganized girls have been picketing the place and putting up a good fight. Their wages have been from $4 to $15 per week, which would, as usual, be materially reduced by the piece work plan.

PORTO RICANS WILL NOT LIE DOWN

Free Federation of Labor Wages Good Campaign Against Master Class.

By VICTOR G. CANDAMO.

Correspondence to The Call.

ARECIBO, Porto Rico, Oct. 29.—The big Socialist open air meeting in the Avenida de los Obreros addressed by Sr. Rafael Lopez Landron the judicial candidate of the Free Federation of Labor for this district and Sr. Santiago Iglesias Pantin, general organizer of the A. F. of L. was one of the most successful ever held in this city. The speeches delivered by Sr. Landron and Pantin were cheered to the echo by even the opponents of the Socialist movement.

Srs. Esteban Padilla, Emilio Pariza Nicomedes Rivera, Julio Correa and Jose Cruz Caballo also spoke and were well received. All the talks were along Socialist lines.

The Free Federation intends to push a very active campaign of industrial organization after the elections and every point of the island will be thoroughly organized. This will be the easier to accomplish, because of the faith in the efficacy of organization that has been inspired by the recent victory of the striking cigar-makers of Caguas.

There is absolutely no truth in the rumors that the Free Federation of Labor intends to fuse on the political field. On the contrary it will maintain its independence and continue to nominate its own candidates no matter what the election results may be.

Spanish Section.

Es completamente absurda la rare especie inventada por los periodicos unionistas suponiendo que la Federacion Libre es un partido politico republicano. Declaramos que lo sola palabra coleccion electoral nos crispas los nervios.

Representamos un estado de conciencia, un movimiento de todo el pueblo, que antecede a los representantes que podemos resolver nuestros problemas asi en el orden politico como en el economico, sin necesidad de tener que acudir a los partidos politicos que han sido siempre los mayores enemigos de nuestros libertades de nuestros derechos y de nuestras aspiraciones.

Por eso combatimos las coaliciones con los partidos politicos que son los representantes sostenedores del capitalismo y de la oligarquia burguesa, de los cuales debemos apartarnos ahora y para siempre.

FRENCH SOCIALISTS FIGHT MILITARISM

MARSEILLE, Nov. 5.—The general council of the department of the Bouches-du-Rhone has gone on record as opposed to military instruction, declaring that such instruction is not in accord with the best ideas of modern civilization. The following is the text of the resolution adopted by the council:

"The council general of the Bouches-du-Rhone, after acknowledging receipt of the communication of the military authorities asking for the best dates in which military exercises of twenty-eight and thirteen days each could be arranged for the two classes of reservists and territorial troops, has decided to call the benevolent attention of the Minister of War to the disastrous effects on labor and commerce, industry and agriculture, of the law requiring the reservists to report for these long periods, and that pending the entire suppression of military exercises this law should be modified in a way favorable to the working classes."

There are a large number of Socialists in the council and they are greatly elated over the success of their agitation against militarism.

NICHOLS IS DEFEATED.

Officer of United Mine Workers Not Re-elected.

SCRANTON, Pa., Nov. 5.—The election of the Republican ticket in Lackawanna County is indicated. Returns from forty districts are for Representative in Congress, John R. Farr, Republican; Thomas D. Nichols, Democrat, 2,400.

Nichols, the defeated Democratic candidate for Congress, now represents this district. He is president of District No. 1, United Mine Workers, and his defeat is taken to indicate that the general effort to deliver the labor vote in a block is a failure. John R. Farr, who has apparently beaten him, is a former Speaker of the State House of Representatives.

W. B. WILSON RE-ELECTED.

BLOSSBURG, Pa., Nov. 5.—William B. Wilson, Democratic Congressional candidate in the 15th District of Pennsylvania, and former National Secretary of the United Mine Workers of America, was re-elected by at least 1,500 majority. The 15th district has gone Democratic only twice in its history, and never before in a Presidential year.

ENGINEERS' NEW POLICY.

Local unions have received the following announcement regarding membership in the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers:

"The action of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers at its recent sessions at Columbus in regard to what the brotherhood termed the electrical problem was the most important taken in many years. Men will hereafter be admitted to full membership who are acting as motor-men on ordinary interurban electric roads, the only restriction being that the line on which they work shall operate more than twenty miles outside of an incorporated city and that the applicant shall have had six months' road experience."

"The report is even broader than that. It takes in almost every man running a train by motive power except motor-men on city surface street car lines. The convention took the broad ground that the motive power of the future will be electricity, and that if the brotherhood wishes to retain its standing it must be absolutely necessary for it to broaden."

NOTE FOR BIRD ANTWAY.

GLOVERSVILLE, N. J. There will be a regular business meeting of the local, Friday evening at 24 South Main st.

PENNSYLVANIA. Filled with enthusiasm by the big vote rolled up for Debs and Hanford and determined to organize all voters and sympathizers, the State office is sending out thousands of letters urging the necessity of joining the party, and great results are expected from this work. The letter reads in part as follows:

"Dear Comrade.—We address you as comrade because in some way you have been given to understand that you are a warm sympathizer or a Socialist.

"If you have been interested in our movement for any length of time you know that our campaign never ends and never will until the banners of the co-operative commonwealth float triumphantly in the breeze; and the world, the whole world, is won from the vanguard hordes that have seized upon it through the operation of class made, class interpreted and class executed law.

"Interest in Socialism is growing steadily favorable to it is increasing and, best of all, groups of Socialists in unorganized towns are uniting to form branches of the party. Socialist sentiment is years ahead of Socialist organization; and were sentiment favoring Socialism unanimous we never could have it until those that favored it united in a political party. Unity is power, power is essential to victory and victory means emancipation.

"If you are a Socialist and want Socialism to come, and want it to come soon, do you realize that the more there are working for it the sooner it will come? Do you know that you can work most effectively in the house of your party? Reading Socialist papers, talking Socialism and voting the Socialist ticket does not make a Socialist of you; because without members there could be no party, and without a party there would be no Socialism. Party members would not be the power it is. Therefore, until you become a party member you are not a fully matured, militant Socialist.

"To carry the gospel to workers as yet untaught to reach the unorganized Socialists throughout the State and organize them into locals and branches the State Committee will endeavor to keep at least one organizer steadily in the field.

"When you write in response to this circular, address either:

"Organizer Thomas F. Kennedy, 726 Frederick street, McKees Rocks, Pa., or State Secretary Robert H. Ringler, 412 Walnut street, Reading, Pa."

WHY DO MEN OUT OF WORK KILL THEMSELVES? "GOD KNOWS"—SO DO WE.

As the old women in Dickens' "Two Cities" kept count of the heads which fell from the guillotine into the blood drenched baskets, so a reader of The Call has made notes for a few months past of some of the lives offered up in this modern Babylon on the altars of Capitalism.

His observations do not deal with the hundreds crushed and mangled to death in the performance of their duties as wage slaves, but with the hapless victims of the most cruel and inhuman system of torture ever devised; a system which arrogates to itself the employment of the workers and then deliberately starves and drives them to suicide when it suits its purpose.

Every item in the following record is from the files of capitalist newspapers and the language quoted is their own, so that we cannot be accused of garbling or distorting the facts.

On the morning of July 4 "a poorly dressed man" was seen kneeling in prayer on the pier at the foot of Beach street. A few moments later he was heard to utter a loud wailing cry and was found to have another tenant.

Next day an unidentified man jumped from High Bridge over the Harlem River and was instantly killed. "His pockets were empty," we are told.

Later in the month, on July 28, this heading appeared: "Two old workmen, a suicide. Nobody would have William Patton because he was sixty-seven. Neither would anybody think of voting him an old-age pension. It was better to send him to his death and save the money for our plutocrats."

"Dependent because of his inability to find employment Henry Michaels, 413 E. 113th street, Brooklyn, attempted to end his life by inhaling illuminating gas." On July 30. He was hurried to the hospital, and the newspapers did not think it worth while to say next day whether he had recovered or whether he had found the chance which he craved—to earn an honest living.

"Broken hearted because she saw her once wealthy parents almost penniless, Mrs. Charles Shimer, of Colchester, N. Y., shot herself through the heart. This was the report on July 30.

"Services No Longer Required." Mute Charles Gaudau, arrested for theft, pleaded, "I have been out of work for a long time," and Harry Bergman, a "starving man," "invaded Waldorf and was arrested," and Mrs. Lang, "nearly starved herself," yet protested while her "infant is taken to the hospital to die."

"Patrick O'Lane, a homeless youth," lost his job as a subway guard when the hard times came, and was found in a lot in the Bronx, "dead from starvation that he was unable to brush off the insects which were devouring him." Among these insects, although he did not know it was August Belmont.

AN AMAZED BOARD OF DIRECTORS.

By ERNEST POOLE.

There is nothing made up about this yarn. It was given me by a man who saw it happen. In New York is a certain big educational institution for Jews. It is on the lower East Side. It is free—supported by a group of rich Jewish men from uptown. Efficient men, they have spent both time and money in plenty to make the place efficient. And they have succeeded. It is known as one of the best of its kind. But the directors live uptown.

Some years ago one of them prevailed upon Mr. Andrew Carnegie to come down and address the people. The board was delighted. At their meeting that month they told the superintendent of the place to send out "to the best and most solid people" in the tenements nearby enough invitations to fill the small auditorium. It was to be a great, an impressive event.

A month passed. They met again. The superintendent gave his report. "How many invitations did you send?" "Twelve hundred." "Up rose the board of directors. The silence was intense. "My friend," said one of them, grimly, "are you aware of the fact that the hall seats just five hundred—at a pinch?"

"Well, can't you see what a hole you've put us in? Seven hundred people, the very ones we depend upon to spread our work, invited guests, all here to see the superintendent. Gentlemen," said the superintendent, coolly, "I've lived down here for about ten years, I think I know these school functions are based altogether upon the needs of the wage earning class, the class of doers as against the class of owners. The concluding words are worth reprinting, and all interested in the schools of our country, whether as teachers or as citizens, or as workers, would do well to study the book:

"The hope of a nation lies in the masses. If they are weaklings of degenerate stock, inferior to the old-fashioned type should lead to industry. To ideals which emphasize doing rather than being served, to the apotheosis of work rather than of leisure, to higher aims than that of mere wealth accumulation. To which we may expect all honest men to say 'Amen.'"

A SONG OF THE "RED SPECIAL."

By BARDONICUS.

Lo, I am the visible sign of a nation's new revolt. Bounding across the land like a hidden thunderbolt. I, the "Red Special," leap with a warlike message for all. Betwixt the continent with my flaming tocsin, call.

First from the Middle West to the farthest West I fly. Then from the West to the East, like a trailing meteor I. Finally gliding my way in the mad Atlantic wave, Gathering my forces, to the Middle West I rave—Home to my starting point, panting with all my might. Covered with ashes and smoke and the glory of the fight.

What is it all about, this protechnic show? What is it all about, you ask, as you shall know. For he is under my heels, provoked by my sturdy crew. And the strength of a thousand lions frets me through and through; Impatient am I to leap, with my steaming, pent-up tide. When my driver gives the word and opens the throttle wide. Hurray! We are finally off, with a scream the like of which had never before in the world of the poor and rich—In the ears of the poor and rich, in the ears of the rich and poor—For years and years they will tell of my journey, I am sure: How I carried the master-mind, the Chief of the newest Rebs. The glory of his kind, the fighter known as Debs.

Talk of your man who rode with his news to Aix from Ghent: Talk of your Paul Revere, and your Sheridan's ride hell-bent: Talk of all former rides, till your voice in a whisper ebb; Then list to the rides of rides—it was I who carried Debs!

And what was the message borne on the wings of the Special Red? And how did we hear it, as it passed through the land we sped? The panoramic scene, laughing and whirling by: The mountains capped with snow, cloud-kissing in the sky; The oceans full of foam and storm and majesty; And Nature, everywhere, untrammeled, wild and free. And man, creating a new world, how far from the happy plan? Was he, like nature, too, built on the happy plan?

Ah, answer this, ye kings, high-seated on the backs Of those who toil and toil urged by your whip that cracks. Some eighty million slaves—some twenty thousand kings—Speak, up, speak up, and say, ye parasitic things!

As once the Prophet by the River Chebar said Upon the very wheels, all winged and armed, So shall these slaves behold this sign of their revolt. Which bounds across the land like a hidden thunderbolt. This sign shall tell them, when they rise, what they shall do: And trample under foot these parasitic things.

THE EVENING CALL PATTERN.

Paris Pattern No. 2595 BOYS' RUSSIAN SUIT. All Seams Allowed.

More-colored broadcloth has been used for the development of this jaunty little Russian suit, which is a distinctly new model that will no doubt prove very popular. The left front is made with a large revers and laps over the right front for the fastening; pieces of wide braid and brass buttons giving the effect of a clover. The revers, collar and cuffs are also trimmed with the braid, and a belt of the material gives a long-waisted effect. The knickerbockers are gathered into the knees by elastic run through wide bands. The pattern is in 4 sizes—2 to 5 years. For a boy of 4 years the suit requires 3 1/4 yards of material 27 inches wide, 3 1/2 yards 30 inches wide, or 3 1/2 yard 34 inches wide; 2 1/4 yards of braid. Price of pattern, 10 cents.

EVENING CALL PATTERN COUPON.

No. 2595. Nov. 5. Name Street and No. City State Size Desired (Size must be put on coupon.) To obtain the pattern above, fill out this coupon and enclose ten cents in stamps or coin. Address: Pattern Department, New York Evening Call, 442 Pearl St., New York City.

FITS THEM ALL.

Once when Rudyard Kipling was a boy he ran out on the yardarm of a ship. "Mr. Kipling," yelled a scared sailor, "your boy is on a yardarm, and if he lets go he'll drown!" "Ah!" responded Mr. Kipling, with a yawn; "but he won't let go." This incident also happened to Jim Fluke, Horace Walpole, Napoleon Bonaparte, Dick Turpin, Julius Caesar and the poet Byron.—Washington Herald.

THE CAUSE OF HARD TIMES.

The working class of the United States cannot expect any remedy for its wrongs from the present ruling class or from the dominant parties. So long as a small number of individuals are permitted to control the sources of the nation's wealth for their private profit in competition with each other and for the exploitation of their fellowmen, industrial depressions are bound to occur at certain intervals. —From the Socialist Platform.

Socialist election returns always come in slowly. The reports of the Republican and Democratic vote, and even of the minor capitalist parties, are promptly reported over the wires, while the news of the vote cast against capitalism in all its forms must be painfully gathered up, piece by piece, by the volunteer reporters of the Socialist press and transmitted by the slower agency of the mail.

THE RESULTS AND OUR PROBLEMS.

That the Socialist vote has increased is certain. How much it has grown is still almost entirely problematical. The estimate made in our news columns, that the final count will show from seven to eight hundred thousand votes for Debs and Hanford this year, as against four hundred thousand in 1904, while apparently justified by the facts so far as they are known, is yet frankly no more than a sober guess.

It goes without saying that we are not satisfied. We Socialists are not an easily satisfiable lot. We are given to wanting the earth and the fullness thereof, and wanting it quick. Probably if the result of the election had exceeded all reasonable expectation—if, for instance, it had run over a million—we should still have said that it ought to have been more. If the total reaches eight hundred thousand, practically doubling the record of 1904, we shall, on sober second thought, realize that we have every reason to congratulate ourselves and the working class. Only sixteen years ago the voting Socialists of this country were a mere handful, numbering 21,000. To multiply the figure by forty in four successive national elections is a record such as no so-called minority party in the history of the United States ever achieved, and not inferior to that accomplished by our own party in other countries where it has eventually become a great power in politics.

In view of the whole result, not only with regard to the Socialist vote, but also to that of the other parties, a few pertinent questions suggest themselves. Will the men who voted for Bryan because they thought he "had a chance to win" and because they thought he was perhaps just a shade more progressive than Taft—will they at last realize that they have been throwing their votes away in the most reckless fashion? And will they, as Colonel Watterson sadly predicted, turn to the Socialist party, the one really radical and progressive party and the one party that steadily grows in numbers as it carries on its aggressive campaigns? And President Gompers, who stakes his all upon the immediate success of the Democratic party, who abandoned his long cherished policy of political neutrality and tried to lead the union men of the land on a mad chase after the will o' the wisp of Democratic "reform" promises—where does Mr. Gompers come out? We do not expect him to admit that his fantastic scheme of "rewarding friends and punishing enemies" by making the labor movement a tail to a capitalist political kite has proven an ignominious failure.

But how about the mass of organized workingmen who have thought us too radical? Will they see the point? And then for ourselves there are questions still more serious. There are all the phases of the one big question: What are we going to do to take advantage of the opportunity presented to us, now that the Democratic party is more thoroughly beaten and broken than it ever was before, now that Hearstite "independence" has been unmasked as merely the ruse of a capitalist politician, what will we do and how will we do it, to rally around the Socialist standard the millions of men who to-day are feeling themselves politically homeless and hopeless—and to rally them, not only within the next four years, but within the next few months, before the political agents of capitalism have time to lay new plans for misleading them? The two most obvious phases of that question are the problem of swelling our party organization and of putting our party press on a firm basis. On both of them we shall have more to say within a few days.

The attempt of the New York City Board of Education to muzzle the thousands of teachers in its employ by passing a rule declaring any concerted effort on the part of teachers or members of the supervising staff to influence education an act of "gross misconduct and insubordination" ought to be made impossible by the protest of all liberty-loving people in the city.

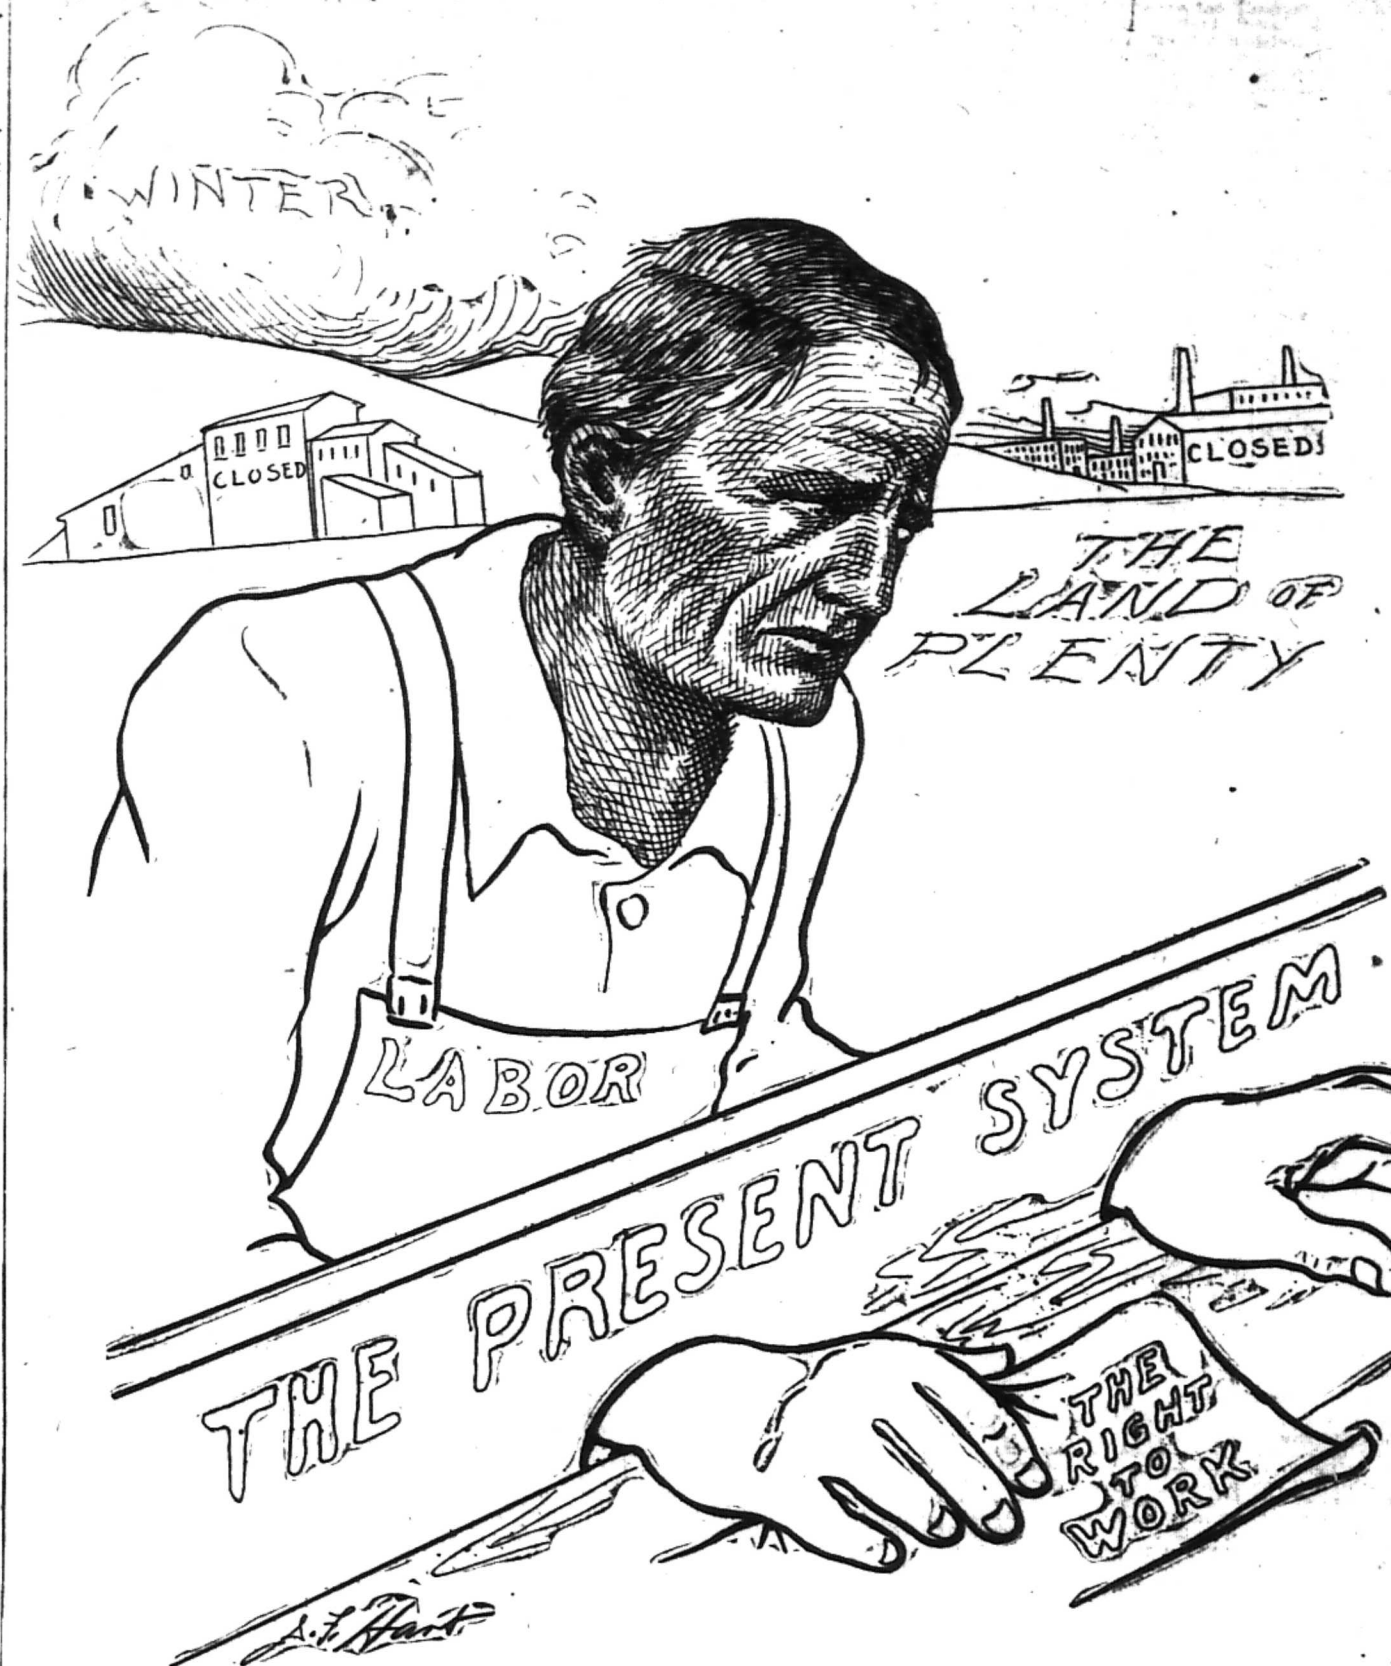

We emphatically object to any attempt on the part of private employers to dictate the political activity or inactivity of their employees, to compel them to give the show of support to parties or policies favored by the employers or to forbid them to give real support to other parties or policies. Even granting the rightness of the wage system, the employee sells only his services for a specific purpose and during a specified time. He does not and should not sell himself, body and soul, for twenty-four hours in the day and seven days in the week. And above all, he does not and should not sell his citizenship, his right and duty to think and speak freely on any and all public questions.

Just as emphatically do we object to the municipality or any other public corporation, in its capacity as an employer, assuming this power which it is contrary to public morality to concede to any private person. If an appointive body, such as the Board of Education, may forbid its twenty-thousand employees to act together on public questions, so may the other boards and commissions extend the rule to the still larger

TRYING TO MUZZLE NEW YORK TEACHERS.

WHO'LL DO THE DIRTY WORK. "Who will do the dirty work under Socialism?" Who does it now? Those who are forced to live in poverty. Do you think it is fair that the most productive workers should be the worst paid? Do you not think a democracy of workers could devise a juster plan than that which the bureaucracy now imposes on us?

WON'T FEAR CONFISCATION. In 1880 the farmers of the United States owned over 74 per cent. of the land they worked. In 1899 they owned less than 72 per cent. of it. In 1900 they owned less than 62 per cent. Even if this should be true, the farmers of the United States would still be the most landless class in the world.

STILL IN BONDAGE.

the national government impose silence upon the vastly greater numbers whose employment they control; and with the inevitable increase of public ownership, we shall have millions politically suppressed by the administration.

The proposition is in perfect accord with the ideals of a capitalist administration. The typical employer thinks in his heart that he has a divine right to rule the whole life of his employees, not only to direct them in the services they contract with him to perform. The capitalists as a whole—especially those who like to call themselves the tax-payers, and who might better be called the tax-dodgers—doubtless think that, through the public administration, which they regard as a business agency of their own, they have a right to dictate to all public employees what they may say and what they must not say. But we Socialists, who do not regard the state or the municipality as a business enterprise, but as an organization of human beings for the promotion of common human interests, refuse to take this view. At the same time that we seek to transform private capitalist property into social property and to establish public control over the great processes of production, we stand unalterably opposed to the limitations of individual liberty which are so characteristic of capitalism and of the capitalist state. The Socialist state, when it comes, will be the very antithesis of the existing state in this respect. And in the interim, while capitalism still prevails in industry and while capitalist agents still administer such functions as have been taken over by the public, we combat every effort to introduce the methods of the sweatshop, the prison, and the barrack into the educational system or any other department of the public service.

In the present case the attempted muzzling is especially obnoxious to the sense of fair play as well as to the general principle of liberty, inasmuch as the proposed rule is aimed particularly against the women teachers, who are already at a political disadvantage, having no votes, and at an economic disadvantage, being required to work for smaller pay than is given to men for the same service. It is worthy of the narrow and reactionary school authorities who have from time immemorial failed to provide adequate school buildings for the children of the people and who are horrified at the thought of providing food for pupils whom poverty sends to school hungry most of the time.

LABOR LEGISLATION IN DEMOCRATIC STATES.

By R. W. SELVIDGE.

The Democratic party has been making a special plea for the votes of workingmen. In its platform it placed some vague promises of favorable legislation. In connection with such promises it is well to look into the labor legislation of some of the Southern States, where the Democratic party has been in undisputed control for a third of a century. It is in these States that penance is legalized. This is often denied, but I quote from the statutes of Louisiana, Act No. 54, Session of 1904 (omitting title): "Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Louisiana, that whoever shall willfully violate a hire, tenant, or share contract, conditioned on the cultivation of land in this State, upon the faith of which contract money or goods have been advanced, by leaving the employ of the person or abandoning the land, the subject of the contract, without first tendering to the person by whom the said money or goods was advanced, the amount of money or the value of the goods obtained, shall be guilty of misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in a sum not less than ten ($10) dollars nor more than two hundred ($200) dollars, and in default of the payment of the fine shall be imprisoned in the parish jail for not more than ninety days at the discretion of the court.

"Section 2. Be it further enacted, etc.: That whoever shall willfully interfere with, entice away, intimidate, or induce a hired person, tenant, or share-hand to leave the service of his employer or to abandon the land the subject of the contract, or who shall knowingly take into his employ any such person before the expiration of the contract, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined in a sum not less than ten ($10) dollars nor more than two hundred ($200) dollars for each offense, and shall be liable in a civil action for damages to double the amount of any debt due by said hired person, tenant, or share-hand to the person who made the advance."

THE SWEATSHOP. Low ceilings, moldered with the reeking damp. The walls hung thick with ill-sorted clothes. Small window-panes with frames that rax and cramp. Small, guttering gas lights, bracketed in rows. The noisy whirr of wheels and leather bands. That turn incessantly. The snap of shears. Wielded by large, rough-knuckled, grimy hands. And through the door, in straining, eager gaze. The hum of traffic and the huckster's cry— And all about, packed almost back to back. Best farms and houses, and pulled the

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

MR. MARTIN'S MISTAKE.

Editor of The Call: I append herewith a communication I sent to the New York Times. That day the "Times" published a letter by John Martin wherein he disparaged the value and usefulness of the Socialist party's participation in political campaigns. He maintains that for practical purposes in alleviating present misery the social worker who is found fighting for large appropriations for charitable institutions at the public hearings for next year's budget is far superior to the Socialist. Mr. Martin is entitled to his opinion. I thought it right to present my view of the case. And the "Times" I consider the right one to publish what it considers not "fit to print," as it had done once before with my answer to their venomous attack on the Christian Socialists. "Editor of the New York Times: "Allow me to make a few remarks concerning Mr. John Martin's letter in to-day's Times." "Mr. Martin fails to see the usefulness of the Socialist party's campaign activity, and from his premises he may conclude that the only way the Socialist serves the charitable workers at all, since the charitable workers here already, making good in caring for 'God's poor' by so actively engaging himself in wresting appropriations from the reluctant taxpayer. "But it is Mr. Martin's own fault that he cannot so readily grasp how differently would the echo resound in the House of Congress and Legislature and City Hall, had even but a few seats been occupied by Hillgrove, Stokes and Hunters, pledged to Socialism and elected to office by the Socialist party, which is responsible to the workingman and not to the rate collecting and wage paying class. The humanitarian reforms which Mr. Martin underlines as the chief credit of the Socialist asks no alms, but demands justice: the right to work at 100 cents for each dollar's worth of labor. To this cry the intelligent workingman and the upright citizen, who constitute the bulk of our people, will and must, ere long, respond. M. CHARIN, 57 East 102d St., New York, Nov. 4, 1908.

ORPHAN CHILD LABOR.

Editor of The Call: You Socialist talk about child slaves in mills, mines and factories, so be me or I will say, I am a Catholic. When quite young I was sent to an orphan asylum on Staten Island. In that place I saw child slaves too. Those slaves in orphan asylums, especially Catholic ones, are clubbed, underfed, and made into criminals and idiots by the drunkards, hypocrites and degenerates who call themselves brothers, sisters, priests, fathers and Christians. After I left Staten Island I came to New York City and stayed at the Father Damien Catholic Orphan Asylum for Industrious Boys, at Lafayette street, corner of Great Jones street. Go around to that place and see the graduates from the Staten Island Orphan Asylum and you will be stunned, unshocked, happy there would welcome a bath with open arms because the vermin are eating them alive. A few are clean and sensible, but they are fellows who never were in an orphan asylum; they are those more fortunate who merely go to the Father Damien Catholic Orphan Asylum to pay for board and lodging and is not difficult to distinguish them from the kind the asylums turn out. Now, do you wonder why children from orphan asylums are so illiterate and uneducated? Well, if they get wise don't you know it would be a bad thing for the religious tracts and degenerates who conduct these asylums. Oh, God, if there is one way He help me and others who know what it is to be an orphan, slave child slave, so that we may have a chance to be able to put an end to all child slavery. Yours for success in the battle for the emancipation of child slaves. JAMES GILLIAM, New York, Oct. 22, 1908.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

S. Charin.—There is no provision in the naturalization law which requires a declaration of intention or, as you call it, "the first papers," can be amended. The practice in the Naturalization Bureau is to require the applicant to make a new declaration, and to set forth the facts concerning the same. It is necessary to wait two years after making the second declaration before final papers can be procured. A. Haberman.—You can judge the trustworthiness of that provision "Socialist Student" by the fact that some Socialists of standing, and not the men who will anonymously write such stuff in the back which will gain an advantage or gratify a spite by doing—in a word, is an article of the "Professor."

FOR THE MUNICIPAL TREASURER.

If a theater were organized on behalf of local government, it would be the best of institutions. So vast has been the progress in the last forty years, I will venture to say that in a lesser time you will have the great city a municipal theater, built and owned for the benefit of the people. For the preservation of the theater and preserving of a municipal theater to encourage thought and action for conscious and organized effort for the cultivation of the intellect, the theater would be a most timely and necessary opportunity of a business profession. Some depending on the complaint that the stage now has no claim of respect. I don't see what the matter with the theater is, with the theater, the stage is a most timely and necessary opportunity of a business profession. Some depending on the complaint that the stage now has no claim of respect.
