INSURANCE STRIKE STILL CONTINUES

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., April 19.—The 104 agents of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company of the Wilkes-Barre and Scranton districts who declared a strike August 8, 1910, have voted to continue same until all demands are granted.

Planned to Have May Day Parade Even Bigger Than Triangle Procession

The May Day parade, now only eleven days off, promises to attain unexpected proportions. Great as was the Triangle demonstration, it is predicted that May 1, International Labor Day, will witness an even longer line of marchers, as many organizations did not have the time necessary to join in the protest a few weeks ago.

And it is fitting that New York should lead. Here the contrasts, wealth and want, are most striking. Here are the pillagers of nations; here the devastated homes of the toilers. Here the workers make the most; here their life is cheapest.

Flags, banners and signs together with the many bands of music, will produce such an inspiring and impressive sight, that it will be long remembered.

SEA CAPTAIN AND CONSUL, IN FRIGHT, PAY OFF FIREMEN

The Call has secured a clean-cut victory over a big steamship corporation and compelled the captain of a freight steamer of the Munson Line to pay in full the seven African firemen brought here aboard the vessel after they had been put in irons and imprisoned during a long voyage which ended in this port last Saturday.

The American House of Representatives (made of Roosevelt's men) got Mack on the telephone yesterday and wished to express its deep sympathy for the unfortunate seamen, who now had something like $25 apiece in their possession.

INCOME TAX LIKELY TO PASS AT ALBANY

ALBANY, April 19.—The income tax resolution debate was opened in the Senate today by Senator Wagner, who read his speech. The announcement by Senators Wainwright, Hillman, Loomis and Roosevelt that they had not made up their minds which way they would vote, but would be guided by the arguments advanced during the debate, lent more interest to the speaker than is generally the case when any Senator has already made up his mind on the subject.

And only a couple of days ago the seven firemen were engaged by the British Shipping Federation, the ship owners' organization, at Cardiff, Wales, and put aboard the Munson liner Amans at Fowey, England. The Call has already related the story of the abuses they underwent during the voyage to Philadelphia, thence to Newport News, to Mexico, to Cuba and then to New York.

Bakers Determined to Win Demands---To Probe Insanitary Shops.

Bakers' Union, Local 100, the strongest organization of bakers in the Greater City, notified the employers yesterday that unless they granted the demand submitted to them by 5 o'clock on the afternoon of April 20, a strike would be called to enforce the conditions.

The notification of the union was in reply to a letter received by them from the attorneys of the Independent Master Bakers' Association, which comprises most of the East Side bakeries.

The union also sent out letters to a list of shops controlled by the association, and asking these departments to investigate the shops, as they are determined to refuse to sign agreements with bosses running unsafe and insanitary plants.

It was said that the union would not negotiate with employers whose shops are suspected of having insanitary conditions.

A mass meeting has been arranged for April 20 at Clinton Hall, 151 Clinton street, where a strike vote will be taken in case no agreement is reached by that date.

STRIKE SITUATION ON PA. R. R. CRITICAL

PITTSBURG, April 19.—Officers of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company frankly admit that a critical situation is presented in the continued controversy with the Shippens' union.

According to T. H. Flynn, an organizer of the American Federation of Labor, fully 95 per cent. of all the union employes of the company have voted to strike unless an amicable settlement of the differences between the railroad and its employes is speedily made.

The question at issue is a recognition of the union. This the railroad officers have so far refused to give, and they have also declined to grant a conference.

The entire matter has been laid before the general manager, S. C. Long, but Flynn is not confident that Long will make any concessions.

Labor News of the World

FILTHY BAKESHOPS ARE ALL NON-UNION

Loathsome Conditions Pointed to in Commissioner Fosdick's Report.

Charles Ifland, general organizer of the Bakery and Confectionery Workers' International Union, differs from some of the statements in regard to the report submitted to the Mayor Tuesday by Commissioner of Accounts Fosdick on the foul conditions existing in the bakeries of this city.

While Ifland did not deny the fact that conditions do exist in the small bakeries as reported by the commissioner, he objected to the statement which says: "Excluding the so-called factory bakeries, a great majority of the city's bakeries are located in basements and cellars."

As to this Ifland said yesterday: "Quite a number of the bakeries called factories are located in basements, and conditions there are far worse than in so-called small bakeries. Conditions in bakeries like Rockefeller's, Drost's, Fieleschmann's, Hildebrand's, Hirschman's and Bleier's, Shultz's and other big plants are far worse than in the small bakeries. While some of them are located in cellars and part of the business is on the ground floor the men are working there under worse conditions than in the small shops."

"There the men are driven by machines, working long hours for small starvation wages, while in the small bakeries the men work less hours for more wages."

In regard to that part of the report saying that sickly looking men are employed, Ifland pointed out that the union does not admit sick or diseased men, and therefore these sickly men are all in the unorganized shops.

When a man is making application for membership in the union he must pass a medical examination. A union member can always go to a doctor, which the union provides free. Sick men are not permitted to work in union shops, the union paying a weekly benefit to those unable to work.

While men have often died from overwork in non-union factory bakeries, such as the Shultz Trust Company's plant, and other big shops, cases like these do not happen in large union bakeries, such as the Adler & Eckstein shops on 75th street and East End avenue; Gottfried & Steckler, 72d street and East End avenue; Appman & Meyers, and the Rostman bakery, at Ridgewood, said Ifland.

In the union bakeries the men work eight and a half hours for higher wages than the men employed in the "factory" bakeries set for a twelve to fourteen hour day.

The Bakers' Union has always fought, and will continue to fight, for the abolition of insanitary bakeries, and is protesting its members from working in pest holes.

"While the city officials are just beginning a campaign to abolish cellar bakeries, the unions have for years been waging a fight for the elimination of cellar bakeries. This is one of the demands put up to the employer at the renewal of the agreements every year," continued Ifland.

That the union is carrying on a campaign for sanitary shops is evidenced by the fact that it has succeeded in abolishing those pest holes, the shops located on the lower East Side, since the men employed in those shops have been organized.

The bakeries on the East Side were an menace to the public health until about three years ago, when the men organized, but now cleanliness prevails there, and a healthier looking body of workmen would be hard to find, although conditions could be made much better if the bosses would allow.

While union bench hands get from $17 to $20 a week for an eight and a half hour day, men employed in the street bakeries get only $12 to $14 a week for an eleven to twelve hour day, and fourteen to sixteen hours on Saturday.

In regard to the statement that animals are being kept in the cellars, Ifland said that he has also seen cats and dogs kept in the large bakeries.

Fosdick's report, prepared with the help of the Consumers' League, contains practically everything The Call said last year during the bakers' strike about the loathsome and inhuman conditions forced on the workers by the boss bakers.

The facts as to cellars, foul rooms and stinky men were all brought out by The Call last summer, but no attention was paid to them by the authorities.

"These cellars," says the report, "have for the most part been converted from storerooms for coal, ashes and rubbish without surrendering the original purpose for which the cellars were planned. In order to secure sufficient light in these places, gas must be burned continuously. In many cases the only windows in the rooms were nailed and covered with boards or tin."

"More than half the bakeries visited had broken, dirty floors, side walls and ceilings. In more than 50 per cent of the cellar bakeries flour, lard, silt and other materials were stored apparently without regard for cleanliness. Foodstuffs were found

FURNITURE STRIKE ON IN MICHIGAN

6,500 Men Walk Out Orderly in Grand Rapids, Factories Crippled.

(Special to The Call.) GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., April 19.—Sixty-five hundred men leaving the factories with no more disorder than if they were going to their noonday meal is the beginning of the Grand Rapids big furniture strike.

Every large factory in the city is tied up, the non-union men not being able to work with the loss of so many men until some organization of the remaining force is developed.

There are about 300 non-union men, mostly unskilled, affected by the strike. The union men will hold a mass meeting in Ramona Pavilion tonight.

The national organization will levy extra weekly assessments to aid the workers here, and the married men will be paid $8.50 and the single men $6 per week.

The public and business men commend the orderly conduct of the men, while the Mayor has issued this proclamation:

"To the public: The strike is on. Arbitration should have avoided it, but there is no fear of disorder on the part of our workmen. In strikes, disorder generally comes from non-residents imported under the pretense of preserving order. We want no armed men on our streets, whether they pose as strikebreakers or otherwise."

"Strict order must and will be preserved and all property protected. Let us hope just judgment will prevail and the strike will be of short duration."

"GEORGE E. ELLIS, Mayor." The Mayor has enlisted the sympathy of the Governor, who has volunteered his aid, coming here as a private citizen, if necessary.

The strike came to a head today as the result of the manufacturers' refusal, in a communication to the Citizens' Committee of Inquiry, to grant any concessions to the men. The men ask 10 per cent increase in wages, a nine-hour day and the abolition of piecework.

The manufacturers declare they will continue to treat with their men individually, but refuse an increase in wages, basing their refusal on trade conditions.

The strike directly concerns 30,000 people and a factory valuation of approximately $12,000,000.

BOSSES INSTIGATED "RIOT" IN MUSCATINE

(Special Correspondence.) CHICAGO, April 17.—Additional aid for the locked out button workers of Muscatine, is looked for as a result of the meeting of the Chicago Federation of Labor.

News that the Governor of Iowa had sent militia to the strikebanded city caused indignation. Fresh efforts will be made to procure more funds to help the strikers.

The Women's Trade Union League headquarters the story of the plans for the labor demonstration was told. For several weeks it had been decided that on Thursday night there should be a big labor demonstration.

The trade unions of the city had made ample provisions for an orderly parade of protest against the lockout of the 2,500 button workers.

The button manufacturers met in Chicago shortly before the day set for the parade. Thursday afternoon as the arrival of twenty armed thugs from Chicago in Muscatine.

These thugs were marched to the button factory district. There were crowds of strikers about, naturally, and the thugs soon "started something."

Then with their blackjacks they attacked the crowd. Men, women, and girls were severely beaten, and a small child was knocked against the fence by one of the thugs.

ORGANIZING CLOTHING SHOP MACHINISTS

A mass meeting for the purpose of organizing the machinists employed to attend the machines in clock, watch, neckwear and other shops has been called for tonight at Clinton Hall, 155 Clinton street. This will be the third meeting since the workers have been organized. The membership has increased at every meeting.

The repair machine men have organized into a local of the International Association of Machinists and the United Hebrew Trades is assisting in the formation of a union. The initiation fee will be $2 for a short time, but it soon will be raised.

A call to all union and non-union men to attend this meeting has been issued and a good attendance is expected. Addresses will be made in German, English and Jewish, and those desiring to better their conditions and increase their wages are invited to attend.

JERSEY CITY BED MAKERS STRIKE.

Because the Morrison Metal Bed Company, 212-214 Johnston avenue, Jersey City, discriminated against union men all the bed makers in the employ of this firm went on strike yesterday. The men are all members of the Iron Bedstead Makers' Union and the organization has indicated their strike. They request all bed makers to stay away from the plant until the firm recognizes the union and runs its plant under union conditions.

MILK DRIVERS STRIKE.

PHILADELPHIA, April 19.—More than 100 milk wagon drivers, members of the Milk Wagon Drivers' Union, went on strike at 7 o'clock this morning as a result of one of their number being discharged. Officers of the union declare that the employees cannot get sufficient men to drive the wagons and carry the milk, and that they are determined to continue until the discharged man is taken back.

MACHINISTS WINNING IN EIGHT-HOUR FIGHT. That the employers are already beginning to feel the agitation carried on by the International Association of Machinists for an eight-hour day was evident yesterday when the American Tobacco Company notified the union that it would grant its 300 machinists a fifty-hour week. This union-crushing trust would not grant its men a shorter work week without cutting their wages, so they notified the union that it would cut the wages down to fifty-two hours.

Japanese Emperor Becomes Subscriber to The Call. THE EMPEROR OF JAPAN HAS SUBSCRIBED TO THE CALL. THE MIKADO MUST HAVE THE CALL. CONSULATE GENERAL OF JAPAN, 60 WALL STREET, NEW YORK CITY, N. Y., APRIL 18, 1911.

THE CALL, NEW YORK CITY: GENTLEMEN—BY REQUEST OF OUR EMBASSY WASHINGTON, I BEG TO ASK THAT YOU WILL THAT EMBASSY ON YOUR MAILING LIST AS A SUBSCRIBER, AND HEREAFTER SEND THE PAPER DIRECT TO THE ADDRESS UNDERMENTIONED. THEY WILL REMIT THE AMOUNT UPON RECEIPT OF YOUR NOTICE. VERY TRULY YOURS, T. OHTA, VICE CONSUL GENERAL OF JAPAN, IMPERIAL JAPANESE EMBASSY, 1310 N STREET, WASHINGTON, D. C.

THE ABOVE IS A COPY OF THE MIKADO'S RESOLUTION TO THE POLICY OF THE CALL. The Japanese Ambassador at Washington is the personal representative of the Mikado. When he speaks the Mikado speaks. He subscribes to a newspaper the Mikado subscribes. His Imperial Highness is welcome to The Call. We should see his name attached to the pledge fund. Perhaps he this year's subscription, about ten cents a week, is all he can spare which is keeping him awake o' nights. He is doing his best to get it out, but it won't stamp.

He murdered Dr. Kotoku, his wife and a number of these panions, because they were engaged in spreading the doctrine of universal brotherhood among the yellow men by the Japan Sea. Mikado's ax hangs over every man and woman in his domain that utters a word in favor of Socialism. Yet the old despot subscribes to The Call. He knows this paper is the fighting organ of International Socialism. By reading it he can learn what American Socialism is doing. He can peruse the news we print regarding the Socialism in Japan and perhaps trace to its source our information. By reading The Call he will get a line on the writers and workers in the movement and have time to sharpen up his ax if these stray near his shores.

At about the same time the Mikado's subscription came. Call had another visitor. It was Lucien Sanial, a veteran Socialist of fifty years' age, a man 75 years old. Comrade Sanial came in to subscribe to The Call Pledge. For half a century he has been fighting capitalism and he expects to see the red flag triumph before he passes on. He is full of fight and wants a newspaper that is full of fight. That is why he is going to give some money to The Call for another year. Surely you are going to do as much. You are not going to send in your pledge a day longer. The patronage of our enemies places a final "O. K." on The Call. The Call is fighting the Mikado of Japan and everything for and that stands for him. He wants The Call. Lucien is fighting the system which breeds misery, crime and ignorance. He wants The Call. These men, Lucien Sanial and the Mikado of Japan, in The Call, they justify its existence and policy. They have spoken. The Call management can add nothing more. You are the masters of our fate. What is your wish? THE BOARD OF MANAGEMENT, Of the Workingmen's Co-operative Publishing Association.

EL PASO, April 19.—The fortification of Ciudad Juarez is complete. Insurrectos will have no easy time in gaining access to the center of the city, although they can easily approach under cover at night to the outskirts and procure protection among the straggling settlements. The guns commanding this important portion of town throw shells instead of balls, and if it is operated with terrific accuracy, and perhaps destroy property, and perhaps destroy lives. The formation of breast works across the Mexico Northwestern Railway tracks between Cowboy Park and the Ketselson and Degatua building is completed, and similar fortifications extend across the National Railway right of way.

Fortifying Juarez. The breast work is constructed of heavy bridge timbers 14 inches thick and calculated to stop any rifle fire. Sand sacks are placed along the top of the wall. These thick wooden barriers is as high as the soldiers' noses, and from behind it riflemen will command the whole railway yards, stripped of equipment, and a barren waste of track over which it is supposed the rebels will charge if they gain access to the town. Hook to El Paso. Residents are particularly worried over the preparations. They continue to flock into El Paso, bag, baggage and babies. The rifle holes cut through the walls of Cowboy Park, inclosure front a number of homes in the best residence district of the town, and fire from the port holes would be directed at the front doors of dwelling houses. El Paso roofs are covered with people with field glasses watching for the approach of the rebels. The ban has been placed on vehicle traffic between the two towns and persons wishing to go to Juarez have to take the street car.

FASTS FOR TWO WEEKS. ASBURY PARK, N. J., April 19.—After a fourteen days' fast J. G. Warner, of Asbury Park, closed out the food embargo last night, and took his first bite, which he appeared to enjoy. Warner, who is a large man, managed to dispose of twenty-two pounds of needless and cumbersome avoirdupois tissue during his self-arranged fast, and feels very much stronger and better in health, he says, as a result of the experiment, which was a fast-reducing test. During the fast he drank three glasses of unfermented grape juice every day, but nothing more substantial passed his lips.

TO ATTACK WOMEN'S LAW. SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., April 19.—The Pacific Coast Employers Association has been formed for the purpose of destroying the eight-hour law by action in the courts. Labor men in San Francisco are practically of the unanimous opinion that one of the most spectacular anti-bitter wars against labor that the employers of the Pacific Coast have ever planned will be fought out over this new law, which threatens their present main supply of cheap labor, namely, women workers.

SOPHIE HIRSCH, DRIVEN MAD, IS SHIPPED HOME

After Being Held Eleven Weeks, Roumanian Girl Is Deported as Prostitute on Sole Testimony of Policeman—Law Recklessly Violated.

By CARRIE W. ALLEN.

The immigration officials at Ellis Island have done their work. Sophie Hirsch, stripped of her reason, after three months' imprisonment at Ellis Island, has been deported.

When the steamer Rotterdam, of the Holland-American Line, sailed on Tuesday, Sophie Hirsch was carried away from our shores a hospital patient, and will be handed to her aged parents in Roumania as a demented prostitute.

Once before the Ellis Island officials had placed this girl aboard a steamer bound for Rotterdam. On April 11, Attorney Sufirin, who had sued out a writ in the United States Circuit Court, went to the steamer Noordland, accompanied by the brother of Miss Hirsch and a Call reporter, and brought the girl ashore.

Attorney Sufirin was very hopeful, and Miss Hirsch consented to return to Ellis Island for a few more days in the hope of finally regaining her freedom.

A few hours in her company convinced the attorney that the girl was so unstrung that it would be impossible to take so irresponsible a person into court.

Several times Miss Hirsch said to the Call reporters: "Every day they tell me I am crazy, but I am not. It is enough to make me crazy when they tell me so."

When the case was called in the United States Circuit Court on April 14, Attorney Sufirin appeared before the court and moved for the dismissal of the writ.

Law Laughter At. Much regret has been expressed by persons following the case of Sophie Hirsch that it could not be fought out in court.

On January 23 Sophie Hirsch was arrested on the streets of New York by Policeman Ring, and in the Night Court for Women, on the testimony of this officer, sentenced to five days in the workhouse for soliciting.

On January 27 she was taken to Ellis Island and locked up. A few days later, she was taken before Tedesco, put under oath, and examined.

From this hearing she was taken to the hospital in a highly hysterical condition. Her brother was not allowed to see her.

On February 9, armed with a writ which the Ellis Island officials begged him not to serve, Attorney Sufirin succeeded in seeing his client.

February 16 a formal hearing was held, Policeman Ring appearing as the only witness against the girl, and the case went up in Washington.

The Call printed the story, and the case was sent back from Washington for a rehearing.

Following up a clue which Miss Hirsch herself had given him, Inspector Tedesco went to the house where she had lodged for three weeks previous to her arrest, and obtained signatures to affidavits which he himself constructed.

At the rehearing, Attorney Sufirin punctured the "evidence" contained in these affidavits, signed by ignorant foreigners, who, from my own observation, I should say had been terrorized by the official eye.

Again the case went up to Washington and Secretary Nagle sent back an opinion, which proves that he knew the government had made out a very flimsy case.

On February 19, the conviction is forced upon one that it is impossible for an official hundreds of miles away to intelligently pass upon a case with which he has had no personal touch.

Law Itself Is Evil. It is not a question of Sophie Hirsch. It is a question of an evil immigration law. The law says, "upon presentation of evidence" a warrant for the arrest of a person may be issued.

The law demands that the person arrested shall be informed of his constitutional right not to give evidence against himself, and of his right to engage counsel.

Giants Make It Four Straight.

The Brooklyn team took the lead yesterday in the ninth inning on a hit by Daubert, a base on balls to Hummel, Coulson's two-bagger and a wild throw by Devlin.

This was how New York won the game: Ames showed great steadiness at the start, getting out of a close call in the second inning.

An error by Knetsner on Doyle's bunt scored Devore with the first run of the game in the sixth.

Ames made Burch, who batted for Knetsner in the eighth, his ninth strike out victim.

Merkle singled. Devlin got a base on balls. Meyers' hit scored Merkle, tying the score. Becker batted for Ames.

Fletcher ran for Devlin and scored on Devore's run.

Beats Longboat's Marathon Record. BOSTON, April 19.—Clarence H. Demar, of the North Dorchester A. A., tore a big chunk of time from the record made by Tom Longboat, the Indian, four years ago.

Demar, who finished second in the contest last year, and consequently was one of the favorites for today's run, covered the twenty-five miles between the railroad station at Ashland and the Boston Athletic Association clubhouse on Exeter street, this city, in 2 hours, 21 minutes and 29.3 seconds.

Some Fistic Feats. Though half the week has passed there still remains a good quantity and quality of fistic events to excite the attention of the sporting element in this burg.

The Whirling Athletic Club, over in Brooklyn, will also have their weekly boxing collation this evening.

The club holds forth at the Clermont Rink, at Vanderbilt and Myrtle avenues. Jack Goodman, the former West Side idol, will try his best to outshort the steady victories of Young Ahearn, the nimble Brooklyn lightweight.

Tom McMahon and Sailor Burke claim to be ready and in the best of fighting condition for their meet tomorrow night at the St. Nicholas Rink, at Columbus avenue and 66th street.

MORE INDICTMENTS IN CARNEGIE TRUST PROBE

Additional indictments will be found against directors of the Carnegie Trust Company today, according to information from the Grand Jury, which has completed its data into the scandalous operations of the defunct company.

At least two directors are involved. If William J. Cummins receives a message to report at the Criminal Courts Building it will mean that he has been indicted again.

The Carnegie Trust failure Grand Jury has not completed its investigation of the deposits made by City Chamberlain Hyde in banks from which Cummins and his associates borrowed money.

FUNCTION TIES PATTERNMAKERS

Workers Are Ordered to Stop Nearly Everything but Existing.

The preliminary injunction, couched in the most sweeping language, has handed down against sixty patternmakers and machinists who are striking against the Henry R. Worthington Hydraulic works of Harrison, N. Jersey, in the Chancery court yesterday.

The injunction, which is returnable on Friday, April 25, comes as a climax to a five weeks' struggle between the strikers and the Worthington Hydraulic Company.

The employees of the Worthington works have for some time been trying to get better conditions in the shop and higher wages and shorter hours.

Six weeks ago they turned the matter over to their trade organization, the Pattern Makers' Association.

When the head of the Worthington Hydraulic Company learned that representatives from the union were about to take up the demands of the strikers, he called in the employees, about sixty in number, were locked out.

The patternmakers and machinists declared a strike and began picketing the shop. They were given their present work so effectively that the concern had to run to the courts for assistance and the preliminary injunction was granted.

The injunction in which the union and others acting in its behalf are named "do-complaints," forbids the strikers not only from picketing the shop but from collecting on the streets and from approaching any of the strikebreakers for the purpose of persuading them not to work on the premises.

The injunction further enjoins the strikers from "using money of the Pattern Makers' Association of New York and vicinity, or other means, to restrain the complainant or his agent or employees in the free and undisturbed control of his business."

In other words the injunction, as granted by the Chancery Court, orders the strikers to give up their struggle against the corporation by making it illegal for them to picket the shop.

DEMOCRATS REPORT ON TARIFF REDUCTION

tration of the injurious effects of the extreme protective policy which has so long been imposed upon the country, and is an effort to mitigate its effects."

But the Canadian reciprocity pact, the majority report asserts, cannot give the American people all the relief from high prices that is needed.

Trusts Control All. The classified list of articles included in the free list bill is discussed in detail in the majority report.

Cultural implements are controlled by trusts and combinations, according to the report, and have been sold in foreign countries at lower prices than at home, resulting in the building up of the trade of this particular trust from $2,859,184 in 1890 to $28,124,032 in 1910.

Duties on bagging and baling material, which are essential in the transportation of agricultural products, "have annoyed and burdened the farmers to add to the profits of exacting trusts and combinations."

"Expose" Other Combines. The Beef Trust is roughly handled in the report. The existing duties on meats and meat products are declared to be "for the advantage of this combination, that controls the markets both in buying and selling."

The result is a substantial addition to the high cost of living from which the people suffer.

For the reason that the public believes "no artificial shelter shall be maintained to protect abnormally high prices on food articles in any form," the measure places wheat flour, semolina, rice flour, buckwheat flour, corn meal and all prepared cereal foods, biscuits, bread and similar articles not sweetened, not on the free list.

The ownership of the lumber in this country is now a monopoly, according to the report.

DEATH AVENUE UP AGAIN AT ALBANY

ALBANY, April 19.—The Eleventh avenue track removal proposition is again to be fought out in the Legislature.

The Senate Railroads Committee today favorably reported the bill which provides in amended form that if by November 1 next the New York Central fails to reach an amicable agreement with the New York City authorities as to the relocation of tracks, the railroad company will forfeit its right to have the track remain longer on the avenue.

It is left to the discretion of the company to determine whether the tracks are to be elevated or put under ground.

BILLS PASSED BY MINN. LEGISLATURE

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 19.—The thirty-seventh session of the Minnesota Legislature ended at noon today. Important bills passed include:

One mill tax for good roads; enlarging highway commission; general forestry bill; prohibiting sale of malt drinks; limiting any county to seven senators; popular election of Senators; abolition of capital punishment.

Some of the measures that failed to pass were: Reapportionment; tonnage tax; county option; 5 per cent gross earnings tax; initiative and referendum; the recall statewide primary; workmen's compensation act.

O'REILLY GETS IN DEEPER.

Superseding Indictment Against Lawyer in Theft Charge. To make the charge more specific, a superseding indictment against Daniel J. O'Reilly, formerly connected with the District Attorney's office, for complicity in the $25,000 Bancroft bond robbery, was filed by the Grand Jury yesterday.

The new indictment specifies the number and amounts of the missing bonds. Frank J. Plass, who confessed to his part in the affair, is included in the new bill.

O'Reilly appeared before Justice Davis in the criminal branch of the Supreme Court yesterday afternoon to plead, but this formality was postponed until tomorrow. His lawyer, Abraham Levy, will ask leave to inspect the Grand Jury minutes.

KILL INSURANCE PROBE. HARTFORD, Conn., April 19.—The State House of Representatives today killed a resolution for a probe of fire insurance rates by a vote of 136 to 28. The State Senate favored the investigation.

Victim Offers $10 an Inch for Cuticle to Cover Burns.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., April 19.—Up to date $230 is the sum expended by Henry Prough, of Larrange, who is offering $10 a square inch for human cuticle to be drafted on his own body to repair injuries suffered in an accident two weeks ago, when he was burned about the body and legs.

Surgeons from this city who are attending the case, say the end of Prough's purchases is not in sight, for a good many additional inches of skin will be necessary to cover the burned portions of his body.

Two men have already yielded up a total of twenty-three inches of skin to Prough at the $10 rate, and are in the market for considerably more at the same rate.

ROAD TO DIX'S MILL OUT OF HIGHWAY BILL

ALBANY, April 19.—Rival interests back of the Albany to Rouse's Point "expedited" highway bill reached an agreement today by which the provision for a $200,000 appropriation for road building from Utica to McKeever, where Governor Dix has a mill, will be stricken from the bill.

Senator Ferris, of Oneida County, who, with Governor Dix, has been interested in the McKeever extension, will try to effect the passage of a separate act directing the State Highway Commission to expedite the construction of the road, which has been termed "the western gateway to the Adirondacks."

STEAMER IS WRECKED. EIGHT LIVES LOST

CAPE TOWN, Union of South Africa, April 19.—The Portuguese mail steamer Lusitania is piled up on Bellows Rock, two miles southwest of the Cape of Good Hope, and is a total loss.

Eight persons were drowned during the transfer of 800 passengers and crew to the British warship Forte and a government tug.

Those lost were four men, two women, and two children, occupants of two small boats, which capsized.

OHIO CAPITALISTS BEGIN CAMPAIGN TO STAY ADVANCE OF SOCIALISM

Dan Hanna's "Cleveland Leader" Prints Malicious Lies About Milwaukee and Money Masters—Distribute It Throughout the State—Big Jump in Socialist Vote Alarms Masters Who Recall "Mark's" Prophecy.

(Special to The Call.) MANSFIELD, Ohio, April 19.—On Monday of this week the Cleveland Leader, owned by Dan Hanna, son of the late Mark Hanna, fired the opening gun of a general campaign which the capitalists of Ohio rely upon to check the advance of Socialism in this State.

survey of the city has shown that there are about 7,000 men idle. Needless to say, again, the Leader does not mention the number of idle men in Cleveland and other cities of the country nor the fact that there is a tremendous industrial depression prevailing all over the land which such newspapers as the Leader make it their duty to ignore and conceal.

GAMBLERS LET OFF EASY BY ROSALSKY Judge Threatens Them With Condemnation if Caught Again.

NORTH VERNON, Ind., April 19.—Ephraim Tyler, 30 years old, was the victim of a brutal outrage at the hands of neighbors, early this morning.

Deputy Police Commissioner Flynn's spectacular raids upon gamblers and their dens by the means of his "hydraulic jack" of which press agents of City Hall have given due notice, ended in a complete fizzle yesterday.

Early this morning a mob of twenty or twenty-five persons went to the home, broke into the house, and as Tyler awoke he saw a half dozen revolvers pointed at his head. He was immediately tied hand and foot, and was taken from the house on the shoulders of two men, one carrying the legs and the other his head and shoulders.

The judge suspended sentence and directed Sargent to report to Flynn as often as the Deputy Commissioner might direct. Sargent also agreed to have his picture taken at Police Headquarters for purposes of identification.

CALL ADVERTISERS' DIRECTORY MACFADDEN'S Physical Culture Restaurants

It is entirely fitting that the newspaper owned by Dan Hanna, son of the prophet, should have been selected by the masters as their initial mouthpiece in the campaign of foul calumny and lying misrepresentation upon which they rely to deceive the people they have always found it so easy to bamboozle.

Speaking of the office of Health Commissioner the Leader says Dr. Corby Rucker, of the U. S. Marine Corps, was first appointed by the Socialists, "but he served a very short time."

Every one remembers that the panic of 1907 was a shakedown by means of which J. Pierpont Morgan grabbed the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company and a dozen big banks which he "helped" to pull through, and threw a scare into Theodore Roosevelt from which Humpty Dumpty has never recovered.

Capitalist Sincerity. The Leader does not say it was because the capitalists of Milwaukee called his appointment illegal, because he was not a resident of the city, and had the courts out him.

Does that action on their part indicate a great solicitude for the health of their fellow citizens? But the big charge against the Socialists made by the Leader is that because of their terrible attacks on the courts of the land and the "danger" of a raise in the tax rate the big employers of the city have shut down their plants and thrown many workmen out of employment.

It was stated by the officials that the main fan which supplies air to the workings is undergoing repairs. This in itself would make it impossible to venture into the "tunnel of death" but as a second excuse, the officials point to a splintered tower at the head of the main shaft.

MORRIST TRIAL MAY BE HALTED

That Informer Will Confess Complicity in Assassination.

ROME, Italy, April 19.—The Camorrista may be halted in his investigation into the murder of Giuseppe Cuocolo and his wife on the ground that the informant, Abbatemaggio, was an accomplice in the crime.

The possibility depends on the report circulated on the morning of the case today. The report is that if the evidence State appears insufficient to Abbatemaggio will confess complicity in the assassination of Cuocolo.

It is said that he will swear that he was not one of those who shot the death blow, he witnessed the murder as a picket posted to warn Cuocolo and to help them to escape.

The confession is made the trial stopped, as a new inquiry into the facts of the crime will be necessary.

Their Holy Week respite the Camorrista again faced their accusers in the Court of the Assizes, in person, physically and in better spirits. The head of the Camorra, was arrested for interrogation. It is charged that in 1905 Alfano decided the high court in the band, that of head of the Camorra, his creature Fucoli, that he should keep in the background and in the foreground.

Today said he was neither the nominal head of the organization, and even denied that he was a member at all. Said he: "I would indeed be most strange if I were to choose for its head a man like myself. Why should my life have been sacrificed but once, and then to only a few months in prison, because I had been in a row, during which I was kept in a cell."

It is true that I attended a banquet with a party of friends at the Hotel in Bagnoli in the spring of 1906, but it is absurd to assume that Cuocolo was sentenced to death on that joyful occasion."

VARIED OPINIONS ON VARIED SUBJECTS

THE MAY DAY LINE OF MARCH.

Editor of The Call:

In answer to the letters that have appeared in The Call during the past week criticizing the efficiency and foresight of the Comrades in charge of the conference, regarding the line of parade I would like to say that the May Day Conference has been run on purely democratic lines; every question being decided by vote.

COFFIN THE SIGN OF DEATH AVENUE

Railroad Still Refuses to Stop Murdering Children.

One hundred or more residents of the West Side, most of them business and professional men, and all of them wearing buttons bearing the picture of a coffin and the inscription, "League to End Death Avenue," attended a hearing yesterday of the Board of Estimate on the majority report of that board recommending the removal of the New York Central Railroad's tracks from Eleventh avenue.

This majority report, which was made by John Purroy Mitchell, President of the Board of Aldermen; George McAneny, Borough President, and William A. Prendergast, Controller, provides for the elimination of the tracks on the avenue and Hudson street south of 30th street and a substitution of lighters to carry the freight; for the depression of the tracks from 30th street to 60th street, and from the last-named point to Spuyten Duyvil the report suggests roofing the tracks.

There was a hearing a week ago on the minority report, advocated by Calvin Tomkins, Dock Commissioner, which calls for an elevation of the tracks from 58th street to a point near the Battery. Representatives of the railroads had their first say at this second hearing. F. L. Sheppard, general superintendent of the Pennsylvania Railroad, said he was in favor of the majority report, but he could not speak finally on the subject.

CONTROLLER ISSUES BLAST TO GAYNOR

Replies to Mayor's Charges, Telling Him to Mind Own Business.

For the second time Controller Prendergast, yesterday called Mayor Gaynor a liar.

Resulting from the Mayor's letter to John C. McGuire, president of the Municipal Civil Service Commission, regarding the veto of the resolution putting ninety-seven offices in the Finance Department on the classified list, the Controller issued a long blast.

In a letter to the Mayor the Controller accused the Mayor of "recklessness of statement, calling people names, misrepresenting their positions, and browbeating them in general for private ends. He informed the Mayor that there were some men who would not tolerate these reprehensible and declared that he intended to hold the Mayor to "strict accountability for every untruthful statement" made with regard to the writer of the letter.

FURTHER SOCIALIST VICTORIES

Four towns in Illinois have turned to the Socialists, and this in spite of a vigorous anti-Socialist campaign. When Milwaukee elected a Socialist Mayor over a year ago, all the forces of reaction got to work and there has since then been a steady newspaper fight against the Socialists. Some news bureau, evidently well supplied with money, has been furnishing to the country papers and to the smaller city daily papers, long and bitter articles about the "Socialist failure in Milwaukee," "the increased cost of Socialist government," "the futility of the Socialist idea," etc. But in the election of November there was a general and solid increase in the Socialist vote of the nation, and for the first time a Socialist was sent to the House of Representatives.

This gave impetus to the anti-Socialist campaign, and every possible element has been enlisted in it. The spirit of religious hatred was invoked, and men everywhere were threatened with loss of work, with loss of bread, if Socialism was not checked. The answer to this came very forcibly in the municipal elections this spring. The Socialist vote is swelling, and the fight against Socialism has only resulted in spreading a knowledge of Socialism. It has created a desire to know what Socialism is, and that curiosity has led to many people joining the ranks.

It is especially encouraging that the Illinois towns have made such a magnificent showing, because they have had the full benefit of the inspired misrepresentation to which Socialism has been subjected. The busy anti-Socialist press bureau has furnished garbled and mendacious reports in plenty, but they have had an effect just the opposite of what was intended. Illinois, where vote-selling has been rampant, Illinois that produced Lorimer and that long gloried in its support of Cannonism, is redeeming itself in the only way that means anything.

The victories that have been won so far may seem small, but they show the temper of the people. Conditions are ripe for Socialism, and the Socialist party has its opportunity to carry on the necessary work of education. A nation wide agitation begun now and carried on unflinchingly will mean that the party can be a great factor in the Presidential election of 1912. The other parties are preparing for the struggle, and the Socialists have every incentive to prepare. The party is steadily increasing in membership and the necessary enthusiasm fills every heart. Organized effort will still further increase the membership and bring the enthusiasm up to a higher point. Then there will be an advance from smaller victories to greater ones and to the work of constructive Socialism.

There need be no fear of victory, nor fear of our own power. Every development within society shapes toward conditions in which the Socialist program can be initiated. It only remains for the party to take advantage of them.

Our enemies are doing their part. It is up to us to do our part. Their work is destructive and lying. Ours must be constructive, and must be true to the whole theory of Socialism.

THE CELLAR BAKERIES

Attention has been called frequently to the filthy, germ-laden places in which bread is baked. It has been shown that the men worked under conditions that made them easy prey to disease. Cellars, so foul that they are pestiferous, are used as bakeries. Yet while this has been common knowledge for years, nothing has been done to put an end to it. People seem to accept the idea that a place not good enough to house an animal is all right as a place in which to prepare human food.

Those who work in these places suffer from sickness and die young. The food product of such places is not fit to be used. Yet all protests have ended in nothing, except further investigations and in recommendations that are never heeded. The continuance of such disease-breeding establishments is more dangerous to human life than the continuance of the city fire traps. When a building burns and lives are lost the whole tragedy is plain. The tragedy of the cellar bakeries, of the cellar restaurants and of the filthy kitchens attached to other restaurants, results in more deaths, but because they are insidiously hidden from public view no notice is taken of them.

If there is one thing in New York that needs thorough overhauling, that needs being dragged into the light, it is this matter of the places where food is prepared. Thousands eat bread from places so unutterably vile that if the consumers knew them they would be revolted. People frequent restaurants whose kitchens are so slimy with filth that they smell to heaven. Equally bad are the places in which ice cream and confectionery are prepared. Every year when the warm season comes on there are numerous cases of poisoning. Children are stricken, and the city health authorities and the doctors issue warnings.

But no attempt is made to clean these places out. They flourish in all their nastiness and, unchecked, claim their many victims. An animal that draws a festering carcass to its cave and there devours it, does not feast under conditions that are much worse than those inflicted on human beings.

The present report of the Department of Health and the State Department of Labor does not indicate that any improvement has taken place since the last report. A few of the worst places may have been put out of business, but the others are so profitable to the owners that they have been permitted to remain. There is one thing that can be done, and should be done—no article intended for human consumption should be prepared below the level of the street. There may be nice, light, airy basements, but they are rare. Dragging the bakeries and confectioneries and kitchens out of the sewage of the cellar will help some.

It looks rather bad for the Carnegie Trust depositors. Several eminent financiers are fighting to come to its "rescue." In the language of modern money making this means that they are anxious to get at its assets.

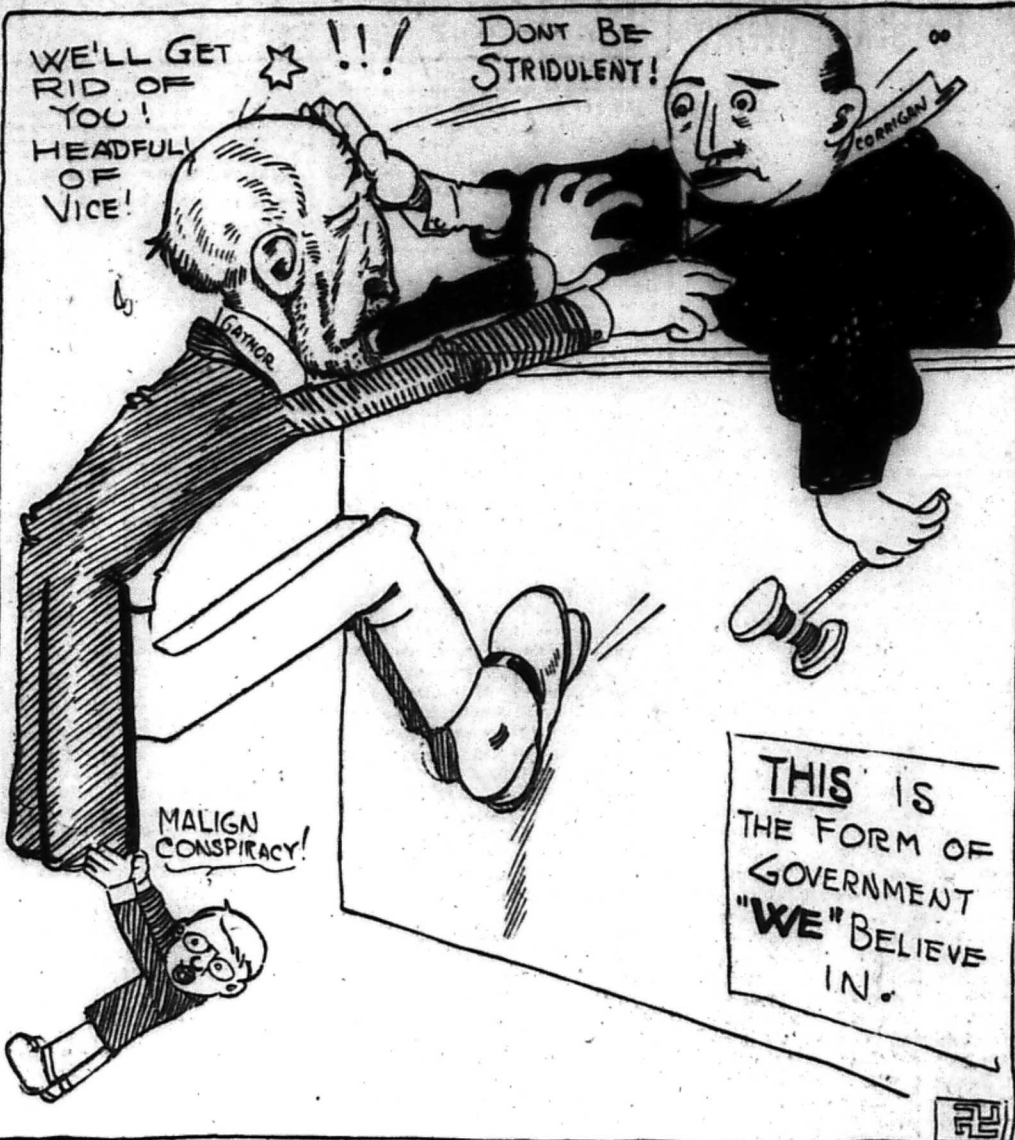

There was little war news yesterday from Mexico. But City Hall compensated. As very forcibly shown in today's cartoon there was a hot interchange of invective. Each contestant retired with several stinging adjectives sticking in his hide.

Old Chaunc. Depew has been up in Albany talking to the lawmakers there. If there is anything devious (which is merely a polite way of putting it) that they do not know they can consult him.

New York's biggest and most costly church has been successfully consecrated. But the wave of crime continues to gain in volume.

If it is true that drink prevented an insurrecto victory at Agua Prieta it is a great pity. A few members of the New York Old Guard, had they been present, would easily have removed the means.

A FEW WELL CHOSEN WORDS

OR, LOOKING OUT FOR THE PEOPLE'S INTERESTS.

THE INEVITABILITY OF SOCIALISM.

By JESSE FALES.
 One of the most popular Socialist reformers to the arguments of the opponents of Socialism is that "Socialism is inevitable." Yet, notwithstanding the popularity of this reply, it is very rarely understood by those who make it, and never understood by those to whom it is made.

The difficulty is not with the substance of the reply, because its inherent truth is secure, but it is with the language in which the substance is expressed. The word "inevitable" has come to be understood as indicating a condition of absoluteness or absolutism; which is the same as saying, when applied to Socialism, that the final victory of Socialism is absolute. Of course, this is wrong. In the vernacular of philosophy there is no such word; in the science of the universe there is no such concept. To be absolute is to be without hindrance of any kind; to be subject to no conditions or possibilities whatever.

The "inevitability of Socialism" would therefore, imply the ultimate supremacy of Socialism, regardless of any possible intervention, which would be lifting it entirely out of the course of human events and placing it in direct defiance of all natural law. Can this be what we mean? If so, I will immediately stock myself with cigars, get me a nice soft armchair; order The Call; and then lie back and wait. Unfortunately, however, I do not believe that is what we mean. Mr. Shaw once said: "Socialism will come in spite of Socialists;" but note particularly that he said Socialism will come, thus carefully avoiding the use of the word, inevitable.

What we do mean, however, when we say "Socialism is inevitable" is just this: In chemistry we have certain inevitable laws. When we combine certain chemicals a certain result is inevitable; that is to say, whenever the same chemicals are compounded, all other things being equal, the same result is inevitable. But it is a result dependent upon certain precedents. Just as the victory of Socialism is dependent upon certain precedents. Socialism will come as the inevitable result of agitation, education and hearty rebellion. Mark the distinction, because it is important. Socialism is not inevitable! When agitation ceases Socialism is deferred; when education is suppressed Socialism meets further delay; and when rebellion is squashed Socialism is hopelessly protracted. Bear in mind, therefore, that Socialism will come, to be sure, but only as the inevitable result of agitation, education and rebellion; and, moreover, only in so far as these three forces are the inevitable results of social and economic oppression.

PITHY POINTS TO PONDER

By W. R. SHIER.
 "A woman's sphere, like a man's sphere, should not be determined by the accident of sex, but by her capabilities and inclinations."—May Wood Simons.

"Minorities should never be despised. Though weak today, they may be strong tomorrow. A turn of fortune's wheel may throw them unexpectedly into power."—Lord Roseberry.

"The only proper attitude to assume toward the various doctrines existing among men is the attitude of perfect willingness to investigate. The great majority of men, however, are intellectual solids—unable to move, and unwilling to think."—Prof. W. H. Moore, author of "The Universal Kinship."

"The time has now come when no person deserves to be called intelligent who neglects to inform himself about the Socialist movement."—Prof. Goldwin Smith.

"The progress of Socialism is steady, rapid, irresistible. A large number of the principal cities in America, and some of the most important countries of Europe, will be completely governed by Socialists within the next ten years."—Prof. Charles Zeublin, University of Chicago.

"Socialism is undoubtedly spreading. It is, therefore, right and expedient that its teachings, its aims, its tendencies, its accusations, and its promises should be honestly and seriously examined."—Professor Flint, University of Edinburgh.

"A surprisingly large number of the foremost artists, writers, scientists, poets, orators, and humanitarians of Europe and America are avowed Socialists. The list includes Victor Hugo, Alfred Russell Wallace, Edwin Markham, George Bernard Shaw, Francis Willard, Rev. R. J. Campbell, Sidney Webb, Jack London, H. G. Wells, Edward Ferris, Upton Sinclair, Charles Edward Russell, Emilie Vandervelde, and many other distinguished persons."—Cotton's Weekly.

SOME OPPONENTS OF CONSERVATION.

By JOHN M. WORK.
 Says Abraham Lincoln, in his inaugural address, "This country, with its institutions, belongs to the people who inhabit it. Whenever they shall grow weary of the existing government they can exercise their constitutional right of amending it, or their revolutionary right to dismember or overthrow it."

Says John Greenleaf Whittier: "The outworn rite, the old abuse, the pious fraud transparent frown, the good held captive in the use of Wrong alone—

These wait their doom, from that great law Which makes the past time serve today; And fresher life the world shall draw From their decay."

Says the Declaration of Independence: "We hold these truths to be self-evident: that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their creator with certain inalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness; that, to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed; that, whenever any form of government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or abolish it, and to institute a new government, laying its foundation on such principles, and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their safety and happiness."

Says William Cullen Bryant: "Weep not that the world changes—did it keep A stable, changeless state, 'twere cause indeed to weep."

Says Robert Southey: "It is not for man to rest in absolute contentment. He is born to hopes and aspirations as the sparks fly upwards, unless he be benighted by nature, and quenched the spirit of immortality which is his portion."

Says Henry Drummond: "Progress can only start by one or two individuals shooting ahead of their species."

Says Max Muller: "It is the duty of scholars and philosophers not to shrink from holding and expressing what men of the world call Quixotic opinions, for, if I read the history of the world rightly, the victory of reason over unreason, and the whole progress of our race, has generally been achieved by fools rushing in where angels fear to tread, till after a time the track becomes beaten and even angels are not afraid."

THEM WAS THE HAPPY DAYS.

By D. S. WEBSTER.
 Remember them happy days when Taft was elected, and joy and hope, and free beer, and campaign cigars filled our cups till they runneth over? And say, do you remember how he was going to start right in as soon as the whistle blew at 7 in the morning on March 4 and restore confidence to the timid business interests, and timid jobs to confiding workers? Can you notice it? Not so you can.

Taft was a great man in them happy, hopeful days—Lord knows he's still great—I'm not a Shylock and wouldn't take an ounce of flesh from any man. But he was the real goods once. Roosevelt vouched for every square inch of the man—some vouching that. Morgan said he'd better vote for him or else he'd shut up shop, which convinced us more than anything else that Taft was a great man. The boss gave you a tip that if you didn't vote for Taft you needn't come around next Monday, and this was a clincher; Taft's greatness nearly overwhelmed you.

Every one believed in Taft in them happy days. Now he sits up nights thinking up reasons why he sent the troops to Mexico and no one believes him.

Remember how we all thought what a calm, judicial sort of a jackass he was. And now we have stopped thinking about Taft—we know he's a jackass without trimmings.

But, say, wasn't them the happy days when we were the jackass and he was calm and judicial?

Remember Roosevelt? Surely you do? Remember that loud-mouthed fellow, who went rampaging and tearing up and down the universe? Remember the fellow who steeled the sun, and advised God, and—yes, that's him—Roosevelt. Wasn't them the happy, boisterous days, when Roosevelt saved the country every half by the clock, while you threw your 50-cent derby in the air and cheered yourself into fits? Of course, you was a fool, but them was happy days just the same. Remember all the trusts he busted? They are here just the same, pursuing business with considerable success, nevertheless. But that doesn't matter. You had one grand time watching the fireworks.

Roosevelt is still around somewhere, shooting off his mouth, and you don't care, neither do I. But, Gee! wasn't them the happy days?

Remember that country cut-up, Bryan, who tried, and tried, and tried

Remember that country cut-up, Bryan, who tried, and tried, and tried

Remember Roosevelt? Surely you do? Remember that loud-mouthed fellow, who went rampaging and tearing up and down the universe? Remember the fellow who steeled the sun, and advised God, and—yes, that's him—Roosevelt. Wasn't them the happy, boisterous days, when Roosevelt saved the country every half by the clock, while you threw your 50-cent derby in the air and cheered yourself into fits? Of course, you was a fool, but them was happy days just the same. Remember all the trusts he busted? They are here just the same, pursuing business with considerable success, nevertheless. But that doesn't matter. You had one grand time watching the fireworks.

Roosevelt is still around somewhere, shooting off his mouth, and you don't care, neither do I. But, Gee! wasn't them the happy days?

THE SUNDAY CALL, APRIL 23

It is a number that will be of especial importance in view of the opening of the out-of-door campaign. It is filled with material that can be effectively used, and all of it is put in the most interesting form. There is everything from the serious study of Socialism to the story with a good point to it. As a leader there is The Paris Commune, by Lucien Sanial. Comrade Sanial thrilled tens of thousands with his dramatic recital of the Paris Commune. In this article he has brought within several limits what is undoubtedly the best study of the historic episode led up to the Commune, and this is followed by a picture of what really happened. It is invaluable as a study and it is stirring literature. Moreover, it is the truest recital that has yet appeared. Everything that is presented is founded in fact.

The Industrial Union, a highly important statement from the Machinists' Journal.

Success in Socialist Propaganda, a study of the best methods of getting at the people we wish to reach. It is one of the soundest statements that has appeared in a long while.

Class War at New Castle, by Jack Britt Garity. Garity has been in the field and he knows what is happening. It is of the utmost moment, and it is here set forth so that we understand the great fight our Pennsylvania Comrades are waging.

The Home Coming, a beautiful story translated from the by George Allan England.

Woman's Sphere will contain "May's Debut Into Society" by John Shlonsky, and "The Maneuvers of Jane" (Part I), by M. Parsons.

Patriotism, by Charles Solomon.

Tales of a Landlord Capitalist, by Mason Dixon.

Marxian Socialism, by Leo Weinstein.

These are but part of the good things listed for next Sunday. Of course there will be the Gordon Nye cartoon, and other studies and stories.

The Sunday is growing better all the time. There is one way to make it still better, and that is to increase its circulation. At the price it is the biggest and best Socialist publication anywhere.
