POLICE DESCRIBE SCAB VIOLENCE

Free Press Defense Opens and Prosecution's "Star" Testimony Riddled.

By JACK BRITT GEARITY. (Special to The Call.) NEW CASTLE, Pa., Sept. 24.—Immediately after the prosecution in the Free Press seditious libel case closed this morning, witnesses for the defense began riddling holes in the contention of "Granny" Gardner. The most effective witnesses for the defense were the members of the local police force.

Opening the case for the defense, Attorney A. W. Gardner told the jury that the defense would prove that the Steel Trust and not Chief of Police Gilmore is the real prosecutor in the case. Costs, in the event that the defendants are acquitted, should be charged to the Steel Trust. He pointed out that Sheriff Waddington acted under the direction of the manager of the tin mills when naming deputies. The defense would prove that the disturbances were due to armed thugs in the employ of the trust. The articles complained of, he insisted, were not seditious in any way.

Evans Evans, a striker, was placed on the stand as the first witness for the defense. The attorney asked him who took the first pool of men in the tin mills on the question of striking. This was for the purpose of showing that a vote was taken and tabulated in the book by Manager David Pyle personally. But "Granny" Gardner objected and Judge Porter sustained him and the move was blocked. Alexander Corder described State "Cossacks" riding into the crowd of women and children gathered on the sidewalk in the mill district. One of the women, he said, was holding a baby about six months old, when a Cossack on horseback rode into the group and knocked the baby from her arms to the ground. He described the march of scabs through the main streets of the mill neighborhood armed with clubs and revolvers.

A hot clash occurred between Attorney Gardner of the defense and "Granny" Gardner, while Edward Agnew, a druggist, was on the stand. Agnew testified to having seen two armed scabs beat a man named Blishton. Blishton brought action against the scabs, but the case was thrown out by the Grand Jury. He was then jailed in default of payment of costs, amounting to $27. Agnew said he was subpoenaed to appear before the Grand Jury, but when he reached court he was told to go home. Objection by the prosecution was upheld by Judge Porter, but it "rot" to the jury. B. Young testified that "Big Liz" Sweeney, one of the most brutal trust thugs, drew a gun on him and threatened to kill him. He also testified that in company with two other scabs, "Big Liz" had shot Policeman McConaghy. "Granny" Gardner objected to the testimony of the witness because it dealt with an occurrence later than the articles named in the indictment, but Attorney Gardner "squashed" him with the retort that the prosecution had copies of the Free Press bearing a still later date. Officer Young also testified that on another occasion three scabs, including the McNamara, had covered three policemen at the mill gate with revolvers. He and two other cops rescued their fellow officers, and Lieutenant Weddel permitted the scabs to go free when they put their guns away. Another man said he chased a scab named Wolfe, who drew his gun on him. The scab stumbled on crossing the railroad tracks, dropped the gun and one of the company police grabbed it and refused to give it to the deputy sheriff. The mill gate refused to permit him to enter the mill after Wolfe. Policeman Augustine testified that one night "Big Egan," one of the scabs when asked where he was going for the murder. The detectives didn't know whether or not to believe Weiss's story, but they held him as a vagrant for the time being. Another man has been detained by the Jersey City police on suspicion. This man, who says his name is James Morley, a Brooklyn bricklayer out of a job, answers to the description of one of several men who were seen with the stranger Tuesday evening in saloons near the railroad yards, where the body was concealed after the murder.

Newark detectives kept secret until this afternoon the fact that there was found in a pocket of the clothing of the murdered man a membership card issued by Local No. 304 of Jersey City of the International Machinists' Union. The card was made out to John Lawson. The clew is being investigated. The dead man was wearing a stolen suit of clothes when he was killed. The suit was stolen on July 1, 1910, from Louis Hoffman, a waiter, who was living in a furnished room at 796 Second avenue. Hoffman's name was on a tag sewed in the trousers of the suit, together with the name of the tailor, Sanford, 40 Park row. This fact led to the tracing of the suit. Hoffman says the man who stole the suit left an old coat behind. In the pocket of the coat was found a skeleton key such as is used by house-breakers. Although the suit presents no clew, the fact that it was stolen has prompted Deputy Police Commissioner Dougherty to go over the Rogues' Gallery. He is comparing the photographs listed there with that of the victim of the freight car tragedy.

RESERVE DECISION IN MARBLE STRIKE CASE

Justice Pendleton, in the Supreme Court, yesterday, reserved decision in the application to make permanent the injunction of Walter W. Kieber, in behalf of the Marble Industry Employers' Association against the striking marble workers. Papers had been submitted by both the employers and the unions. There was no change in the strike situation yesterday. It was reported that the shops were still tied up and the strikebreakers secured were an incompetent lot. A man who gave his name as S. Laker also said he was a helper in ceramic mosaics and marble, called by The Call office yesterday and denied that he has granted the demands of the strikers or that he intended to. At the strike headquarters it was insisted that Luckey Brothers, of the same address on 114th street, had granted the demands and that their plant is being operated under union conditions.

MORE TAILORS GRANTED DEMANDS

Eighty-five Employers Sign Agreements and 800 Men Return to Work.

Sixty-five individual employers and twenty more employers members of the Merchants' Society of Ladies' Tailors and Dress Makers, employing about 800 men and women, yesterday signed agreements with the Ladies' Tailors and Dress Makers' Union, Local 38, granting all the conditions that were conceded by the employers' association. Other employers have applied for settlements, and it is believed that agreements will be reached with them by today. Among the large firms that granted the demands yesterday are the Lichtenstein Millinery Company, 338 Fifth avenue; Madame Simcox, 335 Fifth avenue; A. Lust, 783 Fifth avenue; Madame Blanche Joslin, 20 West 45th street; Misses Van Smith, 123 East 45th street; J. Golowitz, 2637 Broadway, and H. Gershtuck, 37 West 38th street. Great enthusiasm was displayed by the strikers over the victory they have won, and the meetings the strikers held were interrupted every minute with applause when more victories were reported. Sol. Rosman, organizer of the union, said yesterday that most of the men who have returned to work have received an average increase of $2 per week above the union scale of wages. While most of the people employed in Fifth avenue and the larger dress-making establishments were returning to work under union conditions, the union has taken up the strike against the bosses that did not grant the demands of the strikers. Pickets were stationed near all the establishments affected. The union has engaged Astoria Hall, 122 East Fourth street, for the unemployed tailors, and the union will take care of them. Mass meetings of strikers have been called for this afternoon at Astoria Hall, 122 East Fourth street, and at the East 100th street, and at the Capitol Hall, 10 Manhattan avenue, Brooklyn. Organizer Rosman will address all the meetings and give a report of the standing of the strike. The Strike Committee appeals to all strikers to appear at their respective halls, as important matters will be discussed.

TEXTILE WORKERS OUT FOR McNAMARA

Philadelphia District Council Issues Call for Huge Protest in October.

(Special to The Call.) PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 21.—The District Council of the Textile Workers has sent out the following circular: "To Officers and Members: 'I have been instructed by the District Council of Textile Workers to invite every Textile Workers' organization to send delegates to co-operate with us in making a successful McNamara protest. 'October 11 is the date set for the trial to begin, and if the rest of the proceedings in this case are to be similar to the methods so far adopted the McNamaras will be sentenced to death. 'What we demand is a fair trial. So far, the Burns so-called detectives and police officials have kidnaped the McNamaras out of the State, burglarized the Iron Workers' headquarters, deprived them of their constitutional rights, and violated all laws of justice by throwing them into a prison without the opportunity of a hearing with counsel. 'If this proceeding is sanctioned, are we not all in the same peril? Is this a short cut to destroy labor unions? Can we expect justice for the McNamaras in Los Angeles when our men are being put in prison for demanding justice for them and persons said to have evidence that would convict the real criminals, are, according to circumstantial evidence, being murdered? 'The letters conclude with a request for delegates to arrange details of the protest, and is signed by Secretary John Whitehead.

DIX STEERING PRIMARY BILL

Confers With Blauvelt on Chances for Putting Measure Through the Senate. ALBANY, Sept. 21.—The Ferris-Blauvelt direct primary bill took on signs of life today when Governor Dix sent for Assemblyman Blauvelt, the sponsor for the bill in the Lower House, and discussed the possibility of the Senate passing the measure. It has already passed the Assembly. Governor Dix expressed himself as being particularly interested in the bill. He believes that it will pass. The bill provides for direct nominations for Aldermen, Assemblymen and Senators. The official ballot and the direct election of Committees are eliminated. In the Senate today Senator T. D. Sullivan introduced a bill providing for two additional Justices in the First Judicial District.

WRECK KILLS FIREMAN.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 21.—J. H. Shirts, Neckwear, Hats, Hosiery All at Money Saving Prices

And Don't Overlook Our Big Values in Clothing For 35 cts.—or 3 for $1.—You can get here the kind of scarfs which Broadway haberdashers regularly sell at 50 cts. and 55 cts. By February, perhaps, at clean-up sales, other stores will mark scarfs of this same grade down to 35 cts. and call them extra special bargains, but you'd have to look pretty hard to find another store where the usual 50 ct. grade is only 35 cts. right now at the beginning of the season. The well-known Mattawan brand of shirts—Pleated, stiff bosoms and soft—are probably about the biggest hundred-cents-worth you'll be able to get for a dollar any place in town. If you can use half a dozen, these shirts are 6 for $5.50. Mighty durable hose—Black and all colors—at 15 cts. a pair or 2 pairs for 25 cts. Silk Lisle hose at 25 cts. and 30 cts. a pair. We'll stack our hats—soft or stiff—against any hats in town, yet they're only $1.50, $2 and $3. The soft plush hat we are selling at $2—it's the newest thing— is making a big hit. STAYS SENTENCE FOR "MASHING"

"Insulted" Young Ladies, Alleged to Be Former Massage Parlor Employees—Right of Appeal Granted.

Judge Foster yesterday granted to David Solomon, through the latter's counsel, the right to appeal from the decision of Magistrate Krotel, who, Tuesday, gave Solomon a five-day sentence in the workhouse for "mashing." Solomon claims to be a furrier from Chicago and until recently was buying furs here. In sending Solomon away the magistrate strongly rebuked him for insulting two girls who were standing at Sixth avenue and 14th street. One of them, Pearl Turner, of 398 Summit avenue, Jersey City, said she was an operator for the New York Telephone Company, and the other, Evelyn Burns, told that she was on vacation. Solomon's lawyer, K. Henry Rosenberg, presented Judge Foster a letter from the manager of the telephone company saying they never had had an operator named Pearl Turner. Accompanying this was also an affidavit from Isaac Abraham, a masseur, of 180 Chrystie street, in which he declared he knew both the girls and that they were employed in Madame Esther's massage parlors, on the second floor of the private house at 404 Sixth avenue. Pearl Turner, the affidavit also said, had previously been employed at a parlor at Sixth avenue and 46th street that was run by Lillian Wallace until she had trouble with the police. With the consent of Assistant District Attorney Delahante, Solomon's bail was fixed at $200. If that is furnished this morning, he still has a chance to serve but half his sentence. His case will come up on appeal in General Sessions, where it will be argued whether Magistrate Krotel was justified on the evidence to send Solomon to the workhouse.

CARPENTERS' LOCAL MEETS.

Representative of Striking Button Workers Makes Address. At the last meeting of Local Union 478, United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, a circular letter sent by the Socialist party was referred to the next special meeting, at which time a speaker will be notified to address the meeting. An invitation from the Arbeiter Liederkrans to attend their coming concert and ball was received with thanks and all members that can attend will do so. Miss Pearl McGill, a representative of the Button Protective Union, of Muscatine, Iowa, was granted the floor and addressed the members in regard to supporting the strikers in Muscatine. She was greeted with applause and a donation of $10 was granted. One candidate was initiated. Members on sick list are: James Pidgeon, H. A. Grade, William Matrook, John Werner, A. Dilowki and Robert J. O'Connor.

INTERESTS, HAS QUIETLY RELEASED $75,000,000 WORTH OF STANDARD SECURITIES

On the scale-down, the greater portion of which has been absorbed by the Morgan interests. Would Take Roads. If the Steel Corporation is dissolved the steel industry is bound to undergo a drastic change. Harmony of interests, relations which have for their object the maintenance of reasonable prices will have to be abandoned, and various subsidiaries will have to go back to their original form. There are thirteen manufacturing concerns, namely: Carnegie Steel Company, Illinois Steel Company, Indiana Steel Company, Illinois Steel Warehouse Company, Lorain Steel Company, American Steel and Wire Company, National Tube Company, American Sheet and Tin Plate Company, American Bridge Company, Union Steel Company, Clairton Steel Company, Tennessee Coal and Iron Company and Universal Portland Cement Company. Besides these are the railroad, iron ore and other properties. The majority of the above subsidiaries are combinations in themselves, and under the Sherman Anti Trust Law might be forced to segregate the various plants of which they are composed. One of the main contentions of the Stanley committee is that the Steel Corporation should be forced to dispose of its railroads, which are charged with maintaining unreasonable freight rates on ore. As a result of the high rates independent steel companies are placed at a great disadvantage. If the railroads are divorced, and rates on ore reduced, the steel Corporation would suffer to the extent of perhaps $10,000,000 or more a year in net earnings. On the other hand, the independents would gain. Independent steel manufacturers figure that in the event of a dissolution of the Steel Corporation, there would be a sharp reduction in the earnings of the United States Steel Corporation. In other words, the margin of profit between the Steel Corporation and the independents would show a very pronounced contraction.

IRELAND AT STRIKERS' MERCY

DUBLIN, Sept. 21.—The Executive Board of the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants has issued a long statement, saying that they felt it would be dangerous to delay longer putting into execution the previous night's resolution, to "withdraw all labor from Irish railways," in other words, to proclaim a general strike on the Irish railways. Williams, the English secretary of the Executive Committee of the society, at the same time announced that the strike would not affect the English railways, and applies only to Ireland for the present.

MINERS SEE EFFORT TO BREAK UP UNION

FRANKLIN FURNACE, N. J., Sept. 21.—This place is under the rule of Sheriff George N. Harris's deputies, because of trouble that has been brewing over the discharge of eighteen employees of the New Jersey Zinc Company's mines here. The discharges were made last night, and today a committee from the ousted men held a conference with R. M. Catlin, the superintendent of the mines. What has been accomplished has not been made public as yet. Although the company officials are silent as to the cause of the discharges, it is believed that a movement to organize a union of the miners to be affiliated with the American Federation of Labor is the explanation. It is known that the miners have not asked for more money or shorter hours. Last Sunday the miners met in the old Catholic church building and, after hearing Herman Schlosser and A. M. Phillips on the necessity of organizing a union, some 200 of the men were enrolled. When the eighteen miners were dropped from the pay roll of the company last night they insisted that it was a move to break up the proposed union.

NEWARK MURDER HEARD BY TRAMP

Greco Weiss Treated by Freight Car Victim, Who Wore Stolen Clothing and Bore Machinists' Union Card.

A ragged youth sat in the Newark Police Headquarters yesterday afternoon telling the detectives that he had heard, but not seen, the murder of a man whose body was found Wednesday in a box car in the Waverley yards of the Pennsylvania Railroad, at the Plank road crossing. They had gone to sleep in the empty car late last Tuesday night, after many rounds of drinks. Somebody came to the car and shot his companion. He ran away after wiping the dead man's face. That, he said, was all he knew. The boy told of having met the man on the Plank road Tuesday afternoon. He observed that his companion was well provided with money. Weiss saw a roll of bills. Along the road the stranger gave out that his name was Dick and that he lived in the Bronx, somewhere in 180th street, as Weiss remembered. They had wine, whiskey and beer, and by 11 o'clock Tuesday night were just able to "tack" to the Pennsylvania Railroad yards. They went to sleep at once, Weiss said. Some time later, it might have been 1 o'clock in the morning, Weiss was awakened by a shot. He sat up scared, seeing nothing in the pitch dark. He climbed out of the car and shouted for help. Nobody answered. He waited a while, afraid to go back to the car. Presently he crept back, crawled in, struck a match and looked at his companion. The man was dead. Weiss found a rag and wiped the blood from the dead man's face. He was greatly frightened then, fearing that he would be accused of the murder, so he left the car, threw the rag into the Morris Canal and waited around until daylight. He didn't tell the police what he had seen, because he was still afraid he would be arrested for the murder. The detectives didn't know whether or not to believe Weiss's story, but they held him as a vagrant for the time being. Another man has been detained by the Jersey City police on suspicion. This man, who says his name is James Morley, a Brooklyn bricklayer out of a job, answers to the description of one of several men who were seen with the stranger Tuesday evening in saloons near the railroad yards, where the body was concealed after the murder.

GIANTS BREAK EVEN

After Wiping Ten Games Straight, New Yorks Lose Second Battle of Double Header With Cardinals.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Sept. 21.—A break in the Giants' long string of victories took place this afternoon when, after winning the first game of a double header from the Cardinals, they stubbed their toes in the second. The score of the second game didn't sit heavily on the New Yorks, for the score board showed that the Cubs had lost again to the Phillies and, furthermore, the Giants, one and all, from manager to mascot, do not think there is anything but the smallest chance for them to be overtaken in the sprint to the finish mark.

YANKS WELL BEATEN

Naps Hit the Ball Hard, Field With an Error, and Have No Trouble Winning.

Mitchell, a left hander, pitched first class ball for the Cleveland at American League Park yesterday and at no stage of the proceedings were the Highlanders dangerous. The Naps showed real championship caliber. They hit the ball cleanly and hard, knocking Quinn out of the box in the sixth inning, and in the field they accepted everything without an error.

DODGERS DIVIDE UP

Win and Lose in Cincinnati, Reds Taking First, but Being Shut Out in Second.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 21.—An even break was the best the Dodgers could get today, although they came near taking both games of the double header with the Reds. The first game was a close fifteen inning contest, the result being in doubt until the very last. Score 4 to 3 in favor of Cincinnati. In the second battle, the Reds were shut out, 4 to 0. The scores:

LEO HOUCK EASILY OUTCLASSES MANTELL

Another serious contender for the title of middleweight champion was thrown in the discard last night in the person of Frank Mantell. The party who stopped him in his rosy path was Leo Houck, of Lancaster, Pa., fighter, who gave him a decisive beating and thereby easily earned the laurels in a ten-round go at the National Sporting Club.

RESULTS OF OTHER GAMES.

National League. At Pittsburgh—R. H. E. Boston 0 0 1 1 1 0 0 0—5 8 2. Pittsburgh 0 2 0 0 0 0 2 4—9 9 0. Batteries—Connelly and Kluge; Camnitz and Simon.

CUBS WIN AND LOSE.

Shut Out in First Game With Phillies, but Take Second.

CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—The Cubs and Phillies broke even in their double header today. Alexander was the master of the Cubs all the way in the first battle and the Philadelphia won, 4 to 0. Reulbach was the victim. The Cubs then turned and gave three Philadelphia pitchers an awful whaling, winning the second battle 9 to 2. Not until the last session did the Phillies put a man over the plate, and then Charlie Smith secured from the New York club, eased up a bit and allowed the Phillies to hit.
