"SQUARE DEAL" cialist Party in France, and Briand, permitted Socialists to take part in with his individualistic temperament did not view with sympathy, the ef-ordinary circumstances. It was not SOCIALISM

By Arthur Jensen

M. Aristide Briand, the new Premier of France, has already given an indication of what the Working Class may expect from this former "anti-political-action," "Revolutionary" Socialist.

He has framed a new law concerning the promotions, emoluments, ; sions and discipline of government employes. The disciplinary part of this law places them, in principle at least, on the same footing with regard to striking as soldiers and sailors occupy; that is to say, it practically denies them the right to strike.

The law has two principal sanctions. "In the case of a collective or concerted cessation or work all disciplinary penalties may be inflicted without the intervention of the 'Councils of discipline,' or the observance of the various formalities designed for the protection of employees."

Briand, in the preamble, states that this provision is meant to "enable the government when the public interest is threatened by a coalition of private interests, to adopt, without a moment's delay, the measures required by the situation and to proceed at once to replace the truants with a view to re-establishing the service."

The other sanction concerns "Associations or Unions" among the employees. They are still permitted to combine and even to federate, but Article 33 declares that "associations or unions are forbidden to incite functionaries to a simultaneous cessation of work." "The directors or administrators of the union" will be liable to "a fine of from 100 to 300 francs and if the offense is repeated, to a doubled fine and imprisonment for a period of not less than six days or more than one year. Moreover, the courts may order the dissolution of any union at the request of the minister." Considerable penalties are provided for any attempt to reconstitute a union thus suppressed.

C. W. Post, in commenting on this law in the "Square Deal," National organ of the Open Shop movement and of which he is the editor, says that M. Briand "may if he pleases, and no doubt he does, justify this law as a

Finally, then, a kind of Socialism has been found which even Scabherder Post and his ilk can embrace.

We have at last found a "Socialism" for every class in society. The name "Socialist Party" no longer necessarily signifies the political weapon of the Proletariat. Since the introduction of this latest "Socialist" measure in France, there is nothing to hinder C. W. Post of Battle Creek from being

The word "Socialist" can be construed very broadly and is so construed by many of our altruistic Middle Class friends. It seems as though it might be necessary for the political party of the Proletariat to adopt a name with a narrower meaning, a name which can not be construed to mean the inclusion of any but Proletarians. Such a name would be "Wage Workers' Party" or "Wage Labor Party." No employer of Labor, no small business man, no lawyer, no preacher even, would feel very much inclined to join such a party, and the members composing it would be no more apt to include such men in their organization than are the men and women of the Laber Unions of today.

But to return to M. Briand. When he was an active Socialist he emphasized the General Strike as the weapon with which the Working Class would strike the blow for freedom. He studied Labor's industrial organizations. Now he knows what laws to pass in order to strengthen the chains of Labor. The Capitalist Class of France undoubtedly made an excellent selection when M. Briand, the former firebrand Socialist and General Strike agitator, was chosen to fill the first political office in the land.

Let us briefly sum up what Briand's new "Socialist" law means: 1st. It makes a strike of government employees illegal.

2nd. It gives the courts the power arbitrarily to dissolve any union

3rd. It makes it criminal to reorganize any union thus suppre 4th. It provides for heavy penalties in cases of disobedience of this

5th. It provides for the speedy punishment of strikers, without the intervention of the ordinary formalities.

6th. It provides for the immediate replacing of strikers by scabs.

Surely, this is a fine "Socialist" measure!

And it forecasts what the Working Class may expect from "Public Ownership Socialism"!

SOCIALIST PARTY AND

The following is the address to or-ganized labor drafted by the com-mittee and adopted by the Socialist National Convention:

"The movement of organized labor is a natural result of the antagonism between the interests of employers and wage-carners under the capitalist and wage-carners under the capitalist system. Its activity in the daily struggle over wages, hours, and other conditions of labor is absolutely neccessary te counteract the evil effects of competition among the working people and to save them from Ling reduced to material and moral degradation. It is equally valuable as a the world.

To unite the workers of the nation and their allies and sympathizers of all other classes to this end, is the mission of the Socialist Party. In this battle for freedom the Socialist Party does not strive to substitute working class rule for capitalist class rule, but by working class victory, to free all humanity from class-rule and to realize the international protherhood of dation. It is equally valuable as force for the social, economic an political education of the workers.

IT DOES NOT DICTATE

"The Socialist party does not seek to dictate to organized labor in matters of internal organization and union policy. It recognizes the necessary autonomy of the union movement on the economic field, as it insists on maintaining as well astronomy on the political field. It is confident that in the school of experience organized labor will as rapidly as possible develop the most effective forms of organization and methods of action. "In the history of the recent Moyer-Haywood protest, participated in by unions of all sorts and by the Socialist Party, it finds reason to hope for closer solidarity on the economic field and for more effective co-operation between organized labor and the Socialist Party, the twe wings of the movement for working-class emandipation.

on the exploitation of the wage work er, we have followed the Marxian method most certainly. Why did Marx follow the method he did? Why did he first outline the great fundamental fact of Surplus Value, the Wage Ex pleitation, and leave to subse volumes, the subdivision and varia-tions? Was it not because he realized the supreme need of laying first that economic foundation upon which the Class Struggle is based, acquaintanc with which was then and is now, es pecially in the United States, the pre requisite to intelligent and efficient action by the Proletariat for their own Emancipation?

Possibly our emphasis of this "theo retical" foundation has occasion following of Impossibilists and has led even so intelligent an observer as yourself to confound the Washington novement with a belated De Leonism but we would even prefer that extrem because of its educational advantages at this stage, to the Milwaukee pro cess of securing Proletarian support for Bourgeois measures.

We in Washington are now rinced, by experience not theory, that the Wage Class is big enough to go it alone; that economic develops has so multiplied and levelled and po litically prepared the members of the Wage Class; that the Marxian analysis of Society is so rapidly becoming known throughout that class, thanks to our continuous campaigning, so that finally the time is ripe for a Wage Labor Party, composed primarily and into which Business Men and Farmers and Professional men will enter only as Assistants.

We have heard so much about "ma jority rule" from some of those who attended the Everett Convention (and some have gone so far as to uphole majority gag rule) that it was quite a shock to our confidence in their sin cerity to have to appeal to the courts to force these same "majority" sup porters to recognize the rights of the majority on the State Committee.

Yes, all this trouble and exper over the question of who is State Secretary is because the majority howlers at the Everett Convention refuse to recognize the majority on the State Committee.

Consistency, thou art a jewel

The "gag" rule adopted at the Ev erett convention is not only a viola tion of our constitution, but a viola tion of our Platform, viz. (par. 10 h). we advocate and demand "absolute dom of press and speech."

It is now definitely claimed that it was the intention of those who controlled the convention on Rules of Or der to use the gag rule to prevent dis cussion. The reason given was that some of the delegates wanted to go home, and they were afraid the Titus bunch would out-stay the rest. That almost looks as if the majority were afraid of the minority.

When any "Socialist" is afraid of discussion for any reason whatsoever, where vital issues are at stake, there EDMOND PELUSOFrench and Italian Translator is a nigger in the woodpile somewhere So we who had gone to Jail and had forced a Capitalist Majority to give us our right of Free Speech in the streets of Seattle lived to see the day when we were denied that right in a Socialist Convention!

A FEW INCON-SISTENCIES WISCONSIN CUTS OUT THE CLASS STRUGGLE

Compare the Two Pledges

Printed herewith is the fac simile photographic reproduction of the application blank used in Wisconsin for admission to the State Organization of the National Socialist Party, known in that State as the Social-Democratic Party. It contains no reference to the Class Struggle.

Yet Section 5 of Article 2 of the National Constitution, adopted at the National Convention in May, 1908, and subsequently confirmed by Referendum of all the States, reads as follows:

"All persons joining the Socialist Party shall sign the following pledge:
"I, THE UNDERSIGNED, RECOGNIZING THE CLASS STRUGGLE BE-TWEEN THE CAPITALIST CLASS AND THE WORKING CLASS AND THE NECESSITY OF THE WORKING CLASS CONSTITUTING THEM-SELVES INTO A POLITICAL PARTY DISTINCT FROM AND OPPOSED TO ALL PARTIES FORMED BY THE PROPERTIED CLASSES. HERE-BY DECLARE THAT I HAVE SEVERED MY RELATIONS WITH ALL OTHER PARTIES, THAT I ENDORSE THE PLATFORM AND CONSTITU-TION OF THE SOCIALIST PARTY, INCLUDING THE PRINCIPLE OF PO-LITICAL ACTION, AND HEREBY APPLY FOR ADMISSION TO SAID PARTY."

Compare that with the pledge used in Wisconsin, of which we give an exact reproduction below. In the discussion in the Convention, Gaylord, of Wisconsin, asked "whether the adoption of this would compel the Social Democratic Party of Wisconsin to use this form. What would we do? The name of our Party is the Social Democratic Party." And Wagenknecht, of Washington, who had introduced the constitutional amendment embedying this pledge, replied to Gaylord in these words: "Use the pledge with 'Social-Democratic' in it." But Wisconsin does not use that pledge and thus the members of the Party in Wisconsin are not constitutionally inside the national organization, not having fulfilled the explicit provisions required by

But the point we wish to make is even more important than the anarchistic disregard of the National Constitution. The significant thing is this, that the Wisconsin Party does not care to include any reference to the Class Struggle in its piedge. The fact is, the Class Struggle is not emphasized in that State. The Social Democratic Party of Wisconsin is composed largely of the Milwaukee Proletariat, but, for all that, the Class Struggle in which they are exploited out of all they produce above a mere subsistence, is not made the main pillar of their platforms nor the central feature of their pro-

They are so "respectable" in Milwaukee they will not hold street meetings because the party would lose prestige, would lower itself to the methods of the Salvationists and street fakers and be unable to hold the respect of

The revolutionary spirit which Marxian economics inspires in the Prole tariat, the Class Struggle based on the extraction of Unpaid Labor, the very things Socialism has always stood for since Marx and Engels analyzed Modern Capitalist production, these are concealed from the Wisconsin Proletariat by those so-called Socialists who substitute Reform Measures calculated to secure Middle Class support. Imagine the Social Democrats of Milwaukee adopting the name, "Wage Labor Party," and you will scarcely be able to imagine what a loss in votes would follow. Why? Because it is not a Wage Labor Party, except for purposes of votes and Bourgeois Reforms. The Class Struggle Pledge is omitted for the very good reason that the Socialists of Wisconsin don't want it.

And we are strongly of the impression that the Party as organized in most of the states would be more consistent with their real principles, if their pledge was modeled after this Wisconsin form.
